THE 1926 BUDGET

Mayor Childs Recommends An Increase of Over Half a Million Over 1925 Figures

The budget recommendations of Mayor Childs were submitted to the aldermen Monday night. In accordance with the usual custom he recommends that all items for serial bonds, interest and sinking fund requirements on the water debt, and for the maintenance of the water department be omitted from the annual appropriation order, and provided for in a supplementary order. Last year the expenditures were kept down to almost the same figure as 1924; in 1925 $3,215,176 was expended; in 1926 $3,236,255.16. This year the recommendations of the department heads total $3,838,203.11; the Mayor reduced this total somewhat. His recommendations total $2,886,013.11. This is $526,823 more than was appropriated last year for running the city and $649,758 more than was expended last year.

Most of the city officials seem to think they are not receiving as much compensation as they should. Many of them who obtained salary increases last year, are requesting another increase this year. The City Veterinarian and Inspector of Animals asks that his salary be increased from $550 to $650. He received no raise last year. The Mayor recommends that the salary of his secretary be increased from $1450 to $1600. She was appointed to this position last year. Daniel White, Comptroller of Accounts, who received a $150 increase last year, asks for no further increase; the Mayor recommends that his salary be increased from $4500 to $4800. City Treasurer Newhall, whose salary was raised from $4500 to $4800 last year, wants another increase of $200. The Mayor recommends it. Henry Baily, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, asks that his salary be increased from $3750 to $4000. He received a $250 raise last year. The Mayor approves his request. His two fellow assessors, John W. Murphy and J. R. Prescott, who now receive $2600, are recommended for salary increases of $200. The Mayor recommends these increases.

City Solicitor Bartlett, who receives special mention from the Mayor at his inaugural each year, asks for no increase. He received an $800 raise last year. City Clerk Grant, whose salary was jumped from $3600 to $3900 last year, asks for $4100. The Mayor recommends that he be given $4000. Lucian Davis, City Messenger, had his salary given a mezzanine raise of $60 last year. Lucian now receives $1800. He asks that his pay be elevated to $2400. The Mayor meets Lucian more than half way. He recommends that Mr. Davis get $2250. City Engineer Moore asks for an increase from $4000 to $4500. The Mayor recommends $4250. Building Commissioner Chadwick not only believes in putting one's best foot forward, but also in taking long strides. Last year his salary was increased from $3500 to $4000. He asks for another increase of $500. The Mayor thinks Mr. Chadwick is worth all he demands. He approved of this requested raise. One thing can be said in Mr. Chadwick's favor. He is not selfish. Whenever he asks for an increase for himself, he also asks for raises for his subordinates. He recommends that the salary of the plumbing inspector be raised from $2500 to $2700. This salary was increased from $2100 to $2500 last year. He recommends that the salaries of two building inspectors be jumped from $2400 to $2700. In 1924 their salaries were $2100. An additional plumbing inspector is also asked for. As evidence of the esteem in which Mayor Childs holds Mr. Chadwick, is the fact that every recommendation he made, is approved by Mr. Childs. Chief of Police Burke and Fire Chief Randall both ask increases from $3250 to $4000. Neither received an increase last year. The Mayor recommends that they be given salaries of $3750. Chief Burke asks for 12 additional patrolmen, a Cadillac ambulance and free overcoats for the police. The Mayor approves all three recommendations. Chief Randall asks for 5 additional firemen, a personal aide with the rank of Lieutenant, and a new aerial ladder truck to cost $15,000. The Mayor concurs with him. Andrew Prior, Sealer of Weights and Measures, asks that his salary go from $2200 to $2500. The Mayor recommends that he be given $2400. Mr. Prior obtained a $100 raise last year. Chairman Curtis, of the Board of Health, requests that his salary be raised from $2000 to $3600. In 1924 he received $1900. The Mayor recommends $2600. Overseer of the Poor Fitzgerald asks for no increase in salary. City Physician Lowe requests the modest increase of $100. He received a raise of $100 last year. The salary. City Physician Lowe requests is $4000; the same as received by his predecessor. An increase of approximately $100,000 is asked for school teachers' salaries. Superintendent of Playgrounds Hermann, who received a raise of $500 last year, asks that his salary go from $2700 to $3000. Street Commissioner Stuart requests a raise of $200. His salary was increased from $4500 to $4800 last year. He also requests substantial raises for his foremen and clerks. The largest increase asked for in Mr. Stuart's department is for resurfacing streets. In 1925 $52,000 was appropriated for this purpose. He asks for $100,000 for 1926. The Mayor recommends $85,000. At least enough should be appropriated to permit the wash board surfaces on main streets such as Washington and Centre to be replaced with flat tops. Most of the damage to the street surfaces can be laid to heavy auto trucks. Especially heavy auto trucks using chains on their tires.

Water Commissioner Whitney, as has always been his wont, does not

KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis Club of Newton became a reality Monday night when a group of representative business and professional men of the city gathered at dinner at the Newton Club to adopt the by-laws of the Kiwanis International, elect officers and directors, and transact the preliminary business customary to the organization of local clubs. The extension of Kiwanis into Newton was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Brookline, which requested Walter C. Humpton, field representative of Kiwanis International of Chicago to make a survey some weeks ago. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Humpton and brief addresses were made by Major Robert E. Green, one of seven Lieutenant governors of the New England Kiwanis district, Dr. Frederick Hayes and Almon Foster, president and district trustee respectively of the Kiwanis Club of Brookline. The Rev. Earl E. Harper of the Methodist Church of Abundant conducted the singing of several popular and Kiwanian songs which livened up the meeting considerably. Everyone present was enthusiastic over the project and the Kiwanis Club of Newton should be entirely successful according to present indications.

Within the next six or eight weeks a Charter Night will be held under the direction of the Kiwanis Club of Brookline at which time the charter from the Kiwanis International will be received. This affair will be a red letter night in the history of Newton as many men, Kiwanians, who stand high not only in Kiwanis but in public and private life will be present to welcome the local organization into the fold.

A "get-acquainted" roll call was held. Each member giving his name, his business, his pet name, and a short sentence about his business. The presiding officer called upon J. Edward Callanan to read the by-laws which were adopted. The election of officers and directors was held. Frank L. Wilcox, vice-president of the Basely Lumber Company, was elected president; C. Clement Colburn, vice-president; Frank M. Grant, secretary, and William M. Cahill, treasurer. Frank H. Pope was elected district trustee and the directors include the following: William Skelton, Fred A. Cahill, Walter Moore, Raymond C. Williams, Rev. Earl E. Harper, Mark V. Croker, and Charles Barrows. It was voted to hold weekly meetings Tuesdays at 12.15 at a place to be determined upon by the board of directors.

Walter Humpton, "daddy" of the Kiwanis Club of Newton and of one of every twelve of over 1400 similar organizations throughout the United States and Canada discussed the by-laws and explained Kiwanis. Kiwanis has for its objects: to give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than the material values of life; to encourage the daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships; to promote the adoption and the application of higher social, business, and professional standards; to develop by precept and example, a more intelligent, aggressive, and serviceable citizenship; to provide practical means to form enduring friendships, to render altruistic service, and to build a better community; and to co-operate in creating and maintaining that sound public opinion and high idealism which make possible the increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism, and good will.

Membership is primarily active but under certain conditions reserve, privileged, and honorary memberships are held without the power of voting or holding office. The active membership is confined to representative business, agricultural, institutional, and professional men who actively devote at least sixty per cent of their occupational time within the territorial limits of the local club and is limited to two men with the same classification. Membership is also by invitation with the approval of the membership committee and a two-thirds vote of the Board of Directors. Politics and assessments, other than membership fees and annual dues, have no place within the club.

The word Kiwanis is coined from the Chippewa Indian phrase "Nun Kee Wan Is" and as a coined word has no literal meaning. It has, however, come to mean "We Build," which is the slogan of the organization. The first Kiwanis club was instituted in 1915 in Detroit, Michigan, and the movement has grown rapidly in the past few years. During the World War there was very little extension. Kiwanis itself is an intangible thing, Mr. Humpton said, and as such is difficult to define in words. The best definition yet expressed, to his mind, is taken from the poem, "Out Where the West Begins," which was written by a newspaper reporter in Denver a few years ago. Mr. Humpton has paraphrased this poem and applied it to Kiwanis:

"Go where the handclasp is a little stronger,

HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC

This article has been written in response to several requests from Newton citizens who, interested in the pipe organ plans, wish to know more about the work in music in our high school. There are at present four large choruses of mixed voices, one large boys' chorus, a girls' glee club and a boys' glee club. Each of these groups meet once a week. The total enrollment in singing is nearly one thousand.

In three years the number of pupils participating in instrumental work has grown from about thirty to nearly one hundred and fifty. There are now five orchestras (four class orchestras and a varsity orchestra of about fifty members) and a 25 piece band. The varsity lacks but two instruments needed for a full instrumentation. These instruments, oboe and bassoon, we hope to add in the near future.

The high school music committee is assisting pupils to purchase instruments by securing discounts and financing time payments. Further assistance is given by securing excellent instruction at moderate rates. The Newton Music School has been of valuable help in this respect.

Efforts are being made to stimulate interest in instrumental music in the Junior high school grades, and to raise funds with which to purchase instruments for their use.

A concert, given recently by the High School Varsity orchestra in the Junior high school building, was enthusiastically supported, the receipts enabling the purchasing of three instruments which will be loaned to Junior high school pupils.

During the past two years the varsity orchestra, assisted by glee clubs and band, has been giving a series of afternoon concerts for pupils of both high and grammar schools. The program (Continued on Page 6)

"Go where the sun shines a little brighter,

Where the snow that falls is a trifle whiter,

And the birds of home are a wee bit tighter,

That's where Kiwanis is.

"Go where the world is in the making,

Where fewer hearts with despair are aching,

That's where Kiwanis is.

Where there's more of laughing and less of sighing,

There's more of giving and less of selling,

And the MAN makes friends without half trying,

That's where Kiwanis is."

CHURCHMEN'S CLUB

One of the most important activities this Winter among churchmen's clubs was the organization at a meeting last Monday night of the Newton Churchmen's Union. It is composed of the men's clubs of the five Protestant churches of Newton (Wards 1 and 7) and the Y. M. C. A.

Each of the clubs forming the union will retain its identity and continue its separate programs. The union, however, will hold several meetings in the course of a year and will also participate in matters of community interest. Definite plans will be made public in due time.

At the meeting Monday night Carl J. Thurnquist, representing Elliot Congregational Church, was chosen president; Leverett D. G. Bentley, representing Grace Episcopal Church, vice-president, and H. W. Bascom, general secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., secretary and treasurer.

The following, together with the above named, constitute the executive committee: J. W. Blaisdell and Clarence V. Moore, representing Immanuel Baptist Church; Dr. L. A. Russell and Frank E. Wing, representing the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church; Grosvenor Calkins, representing Grace Church; Walter H. Barker, representing Elliot Church, and Stephen Palmer and John T. Alden, representing Channing Unitarian Church.

Messrs. Moore and Wing were appointed a committee to complete the draft of the constitution and by-laws. The next meeting will be a session of the executive committee and will be held Monday evening, March 22, at the Y. M. C. A.

ARTHUR P. FRIEND

Arthur P. Friend of 85 Prince street, West Newton, died suddenly Saturday while playing golf at Florence Villa, Florida. He had lived for many years in West Newton and was in the ship brokerage business on State street, Boston. He was a member of the Brae Burn and Neighborhood clubs and formerly was one of the leading bowlers in this state.

Mr. Friend was born in Gloucester 65 years ago. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Harold B. Sherman of Newtonville and Mrs. Phillips Mitchell of Providence. His funeral services were held at his late residence Thursday afternoon, Rev. Paul S. Phalen officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

ALDERMANIC MEETING

Miss Fitzgerald Unanimously Confirmed As Overseer of the Poor. 1926 Budget Submitted

The regular meeting of the aldermen was called to order on Monday evening at 8 o'clock by President Pratt. The absentees were Aldermen Favinager and Norman Pratt. No persons appeared to object to the petitions of the Edison Company and the Telephone Company for pole locations on Brookdale road, Evergreen avenue, Exeter and Grove streets. Neither were any objections voiced on the hearing announced regarding the taking of land for school purposes near the corner of Ward street and Waverley avenue; the laying out of a public footway from Ward street to Mandaly road, and the relocating of the corner at Waverley avenue and Ward street. In connection with the proposed taking of land at this place, a letter was received from Fred H. Chamberlain, F. A. Mason and Abraham Gordon, as a matter of entry to protect their rights in the taking of this land. President Pratt told of conferences which have been held between the School Committee, City Engineer, City Solicitor and the Mayor concerning this contemplated school site; he asked City Solicitor Bartlett as to the next step in the negotiations with the owners of the land which will be taken. Mr. Bartlett replied that there will be no negotiations; the land will be taken by right of eminent domain.

The Mayor submitted the appointments of Henry F. Warren of Newton Centre and Antonio Tedesco of Newton, as assistant assessors. The following were drawn to serve as jurors: at Criminal session of Superior Court in Cambridge, April 5: Paul Sykes, 19 George street; Carl Nutter, 1174 Boylston street; Hugh Devine, 31 Gilbert street; at Criminal session in Cambridge, April 12: Thomas J. O'Brien, 209 Adams street; William P. Eustis, 24 Bowdoin street; George W. Reynolds, 14 Bowdoin street; at Civil Session, Lowell, April 12: John Kemp, 14 Bacon road; W. S. Burkhardt, 5 Jennison street; at Civil Session, Lowell, April 12: Sidney Porter, 18 Tarleton road; William Fitzgerald, 18 Lincoln road.

David Kligman of Watertown street once again applied for a license to collect junk. David has been refused this license so many times that the aldermen chuckle whenever he repeats his petition. But, it is no joke to David. He has been defeated many times in his quest, but he is not yet conquered. Mrs. Rose O'Donnell again entered a petition to have her property at the corner of Washington and Crafts street, changed from general residence to business zone. Fred M. Lowe petitions that land on Margaret street, near Elliot, be changed from general residence to manufacturing district. George Bourmon asked for a common victualler's license at 1276 Washington street; D. B. Hyde petitions for the laying out of Randall park under the betterment law. George Linthwaite gave notice of a collision with a truck belonging to the Water Department and asks for damages; Eugene Edwards asks for $15 damages to his auto, caused by a collision with a Street Department truck; Mrs. Alice H. Smith claims $150 damages for injuries received in the tunnel at the Abundant station. Katherine Herlihy and others entered a protest against the petition of Thomas Mathews, Jr., who asks for a gasoline selling station on Watertown street.

George A. Haynes petitions for a gasoline selling station at the corner of Thornton and Washington streets. It is proposed to tear down the two tenements of the wooden dwelling block located at this point, and to establish a gasoline station on this very much traveled corner. Thomas M. Dillon of Holyoke, petitions for a gasoline selling station at the corner of Woodward and Boylston streets. Albert T. Stuart asks for a permit for a public garage on Commonwealth avenue near Woodbine street, on the property formerly known as the Elite Garage.

Permits for private garages were granted to the following: Ralph F. Alvord, 193 Ward street, Ward 6, 1-car. Neil M. Forsyth, 47 Fenno road, Ward 6, 1-car. Herbert L. Ray, 45 Walter street, Ward 6, 1-car. William Regan, 32 Somerset road, Ward 3, 1-car. Augustus Rossi, 289 Woodward street, Ward 5, 1-car. Augustus Rossi, 158 Upland road, Ward 5, 1-car. Otto A. Theurer, 6-8 Colonial avenue, Ward 2, 2-car. Arthur T. Whiting, 209-211 Jackson road, Ward 1, 2-car. Alexander Marvin, 25-27 Bennington street, Ward 1, 2-car. Alexander Marvin, 29-31 Bennington street, Ward 1, 2-car. E. F. Henley, 179 Allen avenue, Ward 5, 1-car. (Continued on Page 5)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON PLAYS TONIGHT

The Newton High School Hockey team will play Cambridge High and Latin school tonight at the Boston Arena. If Captain Guy Holbrook and his teammates win the orange and black sestet will be the possessor of the interscholastic championship. A tie game would also give the same result. If the Cantabs should outscore the local six it would place Newton and Melrose in a tie for the honor and a play-off game would probably be scheduled to settle the championship. Newton has defeated the Cambridge team on an outdoor rink in a preliminary round contest and should find little difficulty in annexing a win. The Cantabs have proved themselves to have a first class defence however as they held the Melrose team to a 1 to 0 game on Washington's birthday afternoon in the first round of the championship series. The Garden City outfit however has far more class in its forward line and Holbrook, Spain, and Stubbs should penetrate the opposing net enough times to bring home the bacon.

SPORT NOTES

Coach Allie Dickinson was elected vice-president of the Massachusetts Coaches' Association at its annual meeting last Saturday morning.

Harold C. Weeks, a former captain of the Newton high school track team ran in the 300-yard dash for Cornell at the triangular meet last Saturday night at Somerville. The first team lost 22 to 37, while the seconds lost out by one point 15 to 16. The first team now has won eight games and lost nine, with the seconds a little ahead with eight wins and seven defeats. Newton "Y" has three more league games to play: Boston at Boston, March 6th; Everett at Newton, March 10th, and Worcester at Newton, March 24th.

In the schoolboy relay races at the triangular college meet last Saturday night the best the Newton high school quartet could do was finish third in its heat with Brockton and Boston Latin, with the former showing the way to the tape. In the final Brockton placed second to Boston College high with Brookline third.

Once more Newton boys aided Harvard to win a championship. Last Saturday night in New York the Harvard hockey team shut out Yale 2 to 0, thereby winning the Big Three and intercollegiate hockey title for the season. Larry Pratt, a former County Day school star scored the second goal for Harvard in the final period just before the whistle blew. Bill Ellison, Clem Coady, and Ted Gross, who all came from Newton, played excellent hockey while they were in the game.

Ferguson, centre ice on the Yale sestet, and a Newton Centre youth, web eshes fyall--c.c.e....n-a...yu was the best Yale man on the ice. His skating and stickwork were beautiful but without the co-operation of his teammates the Blue centre could not score. He alone managed the Crimson net time and time again but he could not get the puck past the Harvard captain and goalie.

Bill Phelps won third place in the 40-yard dash for the Williams college swimming team last Saturday in a dual meet with Wesleyan.

Wilson Crosby of West Newton, right wing on the Harvard freshman sestet, scored one of his team's goals in its game with the Yale yearlings. Harvard easily won from the Blue first year men 10 to 3.

Tom Clausen, running for Holy Cross college, won first place in the 1000-yard run at the Brockton American Legion games last Friday night. He also ran on the relay team which defeated an All-Eastern college quartet. The former Newton boy, running third, was given a lead of 20 yards which he increased to about 40 before he handed over the baton to his anchor man.

Charlie Phelps, in writing to a friend, states that it is not he who has been swimming on the Williams Varsity Team, as stated in this column recently, but his brother "Bill," N. H. S. '23, and who won the Bowker Cup for swimming at Williams in his freshman year. Charlie is a freshman at Williams, and as such was not eligible to the Varsity team until after mid-years. He is out for swimming, but since midyears has been prevented from practice by an infected hand.

Bill Ellison will try for a second "H" in baseball at Harvard this spring and if successful will be the possessor of four major sport insignias. He has two letters in hockey and one in baseball. Next fall he may join the select group of three letter athletes by making the football team. A Big Three ruling spoiled his chances on the gridiron last fall although he was one of the punters on the squad.

The Allen-Chalmers basketball team swamped Wesleyan Wednesday on the West Newton Court, 37 to 8. Nute, the star forward and center on the local private school five was the leading scorer with eight baskets from the floor and five from free throws. Geldert, his teammate, caged four from the floor.

It is unfortunate that the Brookline high school track team must forfeit its claim to the B. A. A. and Huntington championships because of the ineligibility of its captain, Andrew Murray. Murray was found to be over twenty years of age, having reached that age last June. On the school record his birth was recorded as in June, 1906, but it was ascertained that he was born in Newton in June, 1905. Coach Tom Hine exploded the bomb Wednesday afternoon and it has practically ruined Brookline's chances of coralling the State Meet tomorrow.

The Newton Y basketball team takes on Boston tomorrow night on the Boston court. The Hub team got off to a rather poor start but has been going along at a fast pace lately and a good game should result. Next Wednesday the local five entertains Everett on the Newton court.

John Bryant of West Newton, a freshman at Dartmouth, is making quite a name for himself on the Dartmouth varsity swimming team. Last Saturday in the Brown meet he won first places in the 50- and 100-yard swims. The first race was the best of the day, the West Newton boy finishing a hair ahead of his rival after a race which was neck and neck all the way.

The Newton A. C. ice hockey team defeated Abbot A. A. 2 to 0 at Forge Village, Westford, Sunday afternoon. Cawley and Leary caged the two goals.

BASKETBALL

In the Two-State Basketball League the Newton Y. M. C. A. first and second teams lost to Somerville last Saturday night at Somerville. The first team lost 22 to 37, while the seconds lost out by one point 15 to 16. The first team now has won eight games and lost nine, with the seconds a little ahead with eight wins and seven defeats. Newton "Y" has three more league games to play: Boston at Boston, March 6th; Everett at Newton, March 10th, and Worcester at Newton, March 24th.

CHURCH LEAGUE

With the final games of the Sunday School basketball league being played at the Newton Y. M. C. A. this Friday evening, when Newton Baptist meets Trinity, and Watertown Baptist plays Needham Congregational, Eliot Congregational is leading with five wins and no defeats. Scores of the last games played are: Eliot Congregational, 48; Needham, 18; Watertown Baptist, 18; Newtonville Methodist, 12; and Needham, 31; Newton Baptist, 21.

1000-POINT ATHLETIC CONTEST

The standing broad jump, the eighth event in the all-around athletic contest being conducted in the boys' gymnasium classes of the Newton Y. M. C. A. has been run off. Following are the five best records in each weight class:

Class A (under 110 lbs.)—E. Clark, 7 ft. 7 in.; E. Webster, 7 ft. 7 in.; R. Buzzelle, 7 ft. 5 1/2 in.; F. Lane, 7 ft. 5 1/2 in.; N. Walker, 7 ft. 2 in.

Class B (110 lbs. and over)—G. Gatchell, 8 ft. 4 1/2 in.; G. Dyer, 8 ft. 1 1/2 in.; H. Stoney, 7 ft. 9 in.; W. Pearce, 7 ft. 8 1/2 in.; G. Moonjy, 7 ft. 7 in.

Y. M. C. A.

On January 28th the membership of the Newton Y. M. C. A. consisted of 763 men and 366 boys. In the men's department 175 were between the ages of 18 and 21, 138 between 22 and 25, 13 between 26 and 30, 84 between 31 and 35, 41 between 36 and 40, and 22 40 years and over. In the boys' department 265 members attend the graded schools, 85 the high school, and 16 are employed boys.

In the men's department 588 are active participants in the physical program of the Association. In the boys' department 330 out of 366 members are participants in the physical department program.

The Association membership comes from thirty-eight different towns and cities. The division is as follows: Newton, 266 men, 121 boys; Newtonville, 68 men, 48 boys; West Newton, 59 men, 21 boys; Newton Centre, 32 men, 20 boys; Auburndale, 21 men, 12 boys; Newton Highlands, 10 men, 6 boys; Newton Upper Falls, 6 men, 2 boys; Newton Lower Falls, 8 men, 12 men and 31 boys, and 88 men and 58 boys from Watertown. The members are scattered all the way from Waverley and Belmont to Needham.

It will be of interest to many friends and citizens who are supporting the Newton Y. M. C. A. to know that so many men and boys are enough interested in its program to become members. In addition to those who have actually taken out membership are hundreds of men and boys who in one way or another are benefited by the community program of the Association.

Don't be continually rushing about your business or your pleasure. The man who does so reaches the grave several years sooner than the man who does not.

Hurry, lack of exercise, improper eating, and insufficient rest imperil your chances of living long and well, according to Robert D. Laughner, writing in Denver Young Men's News. The breakneck rush of competition in business, mental strain, the use of labor-saving devices which result in a loss of exercise, the increasing use of the automobile and street cars instead of legs as means of locomotion, the quick lunch, overeating, overweight—these things tend to bring on what Mr. Laughner calls "the tragedy of dying five years ahead of your time."

To avoid this tragedy, exercise of a few hours a week in the gymnasium and swimming pool under competent direction is recommended; likewise deep breathing, "eating properly of well-chosen foods to suit your needs," and avoidance of draughts and poor ventilation.

"As a race, we are lazy in doing things for ourselves, or, I should say, to benefit our health," says Mr. Laughner. "I am sure if we were to give the same thought to proper living and health habits as we give to the efficiency and economic operation of our autos, we would easily add five years of efficient living to the average business man's life."

ABOUT TOWN

Although we wear a larger size hat than the Mayor, we realize it is because our cranium is much thicker than his. So, it may appear presumptuous for us to criticize him on any of his budget recommendations. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, we can't praise his attitude, when he readily approves of generous increases in salaries asked for by city officials already receiving substantial wages; and cuts the increase recommended by Dr. Curtis of the Board of Health for Inspector Jackson from $250 to $100. Leonard Jackson, a capable employee of the Health Department, has served the city faithfully for a number of years. He is now seriously ill at the Newton Hospital. He is married and an ex-service man. Last year his salary was advanced from $1600 to the princely sum of $1750. The Chairman of the Board of Health recommended that Mr. Jackson receive $2000; a salary the same or less than paid to a large number of city employees with much less responsible positions than that filled by Mr. Jackson. The Mayor recommends that Mr. Jackson's salary be raised to but $1850.

If all autoists would adopt the plan used by a truck driver who passed through Nonantum Square the other day, the campaign of the student body of the Newton High School to abolish the practice of "ride begging," would be assured of success. This driver had placed on the front of his truck a sign bearing these words—"No Stops."

A citizen has commented to us on something he observed after the recent blizzard. Two elderly employees of the city were engaged in the task of levelling the snow on one of our streets. Standing by them, supervising their work, as it were, was another employee of the city, much younger and much more rugged than the two men whom he was "bossing." The citizen informed us that he knows the two men who were shovelling to be veteran employees, of intelligence and proven industry, so he was at a loss to understand whether levelling snow on a street is such an intricate task that it necessitates expert supervision when performed by a force of two, or whether the non-laboring individual was merely doing some "heavy looking on?"

Perhaps this citizen does not realize that there are certain employees who are sort of "first class privates," so to speak. Their usual duties are of a somewhat less menial a nature than the ordinary city laborers. So, when seasonal conditions cause them to be deprived of their regular duties, they are assigned to odd jobs. While these men, physically, are more capable of wielding a shovel than are many of the regular shovellers, they probably think that to engage in such a humble task, would injure their social standing. Hence, the spectacle of a husky man superintending two other less husky men, engaged in such a complicated job as shovelling snow.

There, perhaps, is a good and sufficient reason why the lower step on railroad cars is so high off the ground. An elderly friend, who is infirm, asked us to make a comment on the height of it. He stated that it is with great difficulty he gets on or off a steam railroad car. Pullman porters are porters to place a stool on the ground at way stations to assist passengers in boarding or alighting. It would seem that a sliding step could be devised for cars on day coaches, which could be operated automatically as are the steps on street cars. Such a convenience would be of great assistance to old and infirm persons using cars on the steam railroads.

Some of the operators on the new buses of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway, have developed a tendency to "step on the gas" and drive the buses at speeds of 25 or even 30 miles an hour. This is too fast, and if the practice of going at such speeds is persisted in, eventually a bad accident will occur. These buses should not travel faster than 20 miles an hour; and, at this speed the schedule can be maintained.

Leonard Jackson, Inspector of the Health Department, is gaining in health at the Newton Hospital. After going to the hospital with encephalitis, he developed a severe case of yellow jaundice, and for several days was in a very serious condition. Mr. Jackson, who is an intelligent, faithful employee of the city, receives a salary of $1700, considerably less than is received by many employees of the city whose duties are less onerous and less responsible than are those of Mr. Jackson. It is not that the other employees receive too much; Mr. Jackson receives too little, considering the nature of the work he performs.

CITY HALL

Buildings Commissioner Chadwick reports 48 permits issued during February for buildings valued at $272,235 of which 13 were small dwellings valued at $165,500. This is quite a drop from last year, when the first two months showed 133 permits valued at $944,945 and 1926 where there were 113 permits valued at $650,265.

CHARITY WHIST

Court Genoa, C. D. of A. held a whist party on Monday evening at Dennison hall, Newtonville, for the benefit of a fund to provide an Easter dinner for the boys at the Working Boys' Home, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Mary O'Connell of West Newton was in charge.

CITY FIGHTING RATS

The rat population in the imposing City Hall at West Newton has so increased as to seriously interfere with the conduct of business in that seat of government. The fair young clerks and stenographers who are employed in the various offices there, have become so nervous over the growing boldness of the rats, which meander through the building at all hours of the day, that their efficiency has become impaired. A couple of weeks ago, James B. Newell, Supervisor of Public Buildings, started determined warfare on the rats, but to date, his campaign has met with little success.

First, Mr. Newell scattered throughout the building, food mixed with barium-carbonate. This was done on the suggestion of Agent Fred Russell of the Board of Health. Several years ago, when the Fire Department Headquarters at Newton Centre was infested with rats, Mr. Russell used barium-carbonate there and the following day 43 dead rats were found in that building. Last year, when the old stable of the Street Department, which adjoined Fire Department Headquarters, was razed, scores of mummified rodents were found. One desirable feature of the use of barium-carbonate is the fact that rodents killed from eating it, dry up and create no odor. But, the City Hall rats did not fall for the barium-carbonated grub so generously distributed by Mr. Newell. They must have been tipped off against it. Observing that the rats were wise to this poison, Mr. Newell next purchased a supply of "Rat Biskit," a poisonous rat exterminator with a national reputation. According to the manufacturers of "Rat Biskit," the animals simply go wild over this food. The City Hall rats must be quite sophisticated creatures. They would not even nibble on the "Rat Biskit," which Mr. Newell so lavishly offered them. So, up to the present time, the rats are giving the h-a-ha to Mr. Newell, and continue to promenade about the Hall, disconcerting the young ladies working there. Dr. Arthur Hudson, bacteriologist for the city, suggests that azoa be used. This chemical causes the rodents to become sickly and die. Rats, being cannibalistic, eat their dead, so the use of azoa, rapidly exterminates the pests, without disagreeable results, except to the rats.

The present plague of rats at City Hall, is not the first. About ten years past, they were present there in large numbers. At that time, there worked on the Street Department of Newton, an elderly gentleman who hailed from the Emerald Isle. He was a kindly old soul, and, like that other Celt, Robert Burns, he possessed compassion for all creatures. This man ate his lunch noontimes in a room in the basement of City Hall, and, when some half-past five, he would retire to his room, and appear again there, having crept into this room one day, he tossed some scraps of food to them. The rats eagerly devoured the scraps, and the next noon returned for more, which they received. Other rodents in the building soon became wise to the benefices bestowed in the basement room, and before long the kindly laborer was host almost every noon to numerous rats. The rats were becoming so plentiful through the building, however, that the kindly attitude displayed toward them by even old benevolent, could not be imitated by others. Orders were given to rid City Hall of the species, and Chief Janitor "Dick" Dalton was assigned the task.

It seemed that fate ordained that just at this time to send to City Hall a handsomely marked tiger cat. Dalton immediately cultivated a friendship with the feline visitor, and named him "Tim." He really named him "Tammany" because of his tiger-like appearance, but called him "Tim" for short. He was a rare type of cat—quite like a dog in demeanor and loyalty, and Dick rapidly became quite fond of him. The cat would follow his master around the building and attempt to converse in the meow language. He speedily became a great favorite at City Hall: one of his principle admirers was City Physician Lowe. "Tim" was a demon after rats. If he did not kill at least three a day he was not running true to form. Such a terror did he become to the rat population in that building, that the surviving rodents, to a large degree, quit the structure. Unfortunately "Tim" became ill. Dick Dalton summoned Dr. Boutelle, the City Veterinarian, and that official gave the sad verdict that "Tim" was afflicted with distemper and would have to be put out of suffering. "Tim's" master was so grieved that it was only after much persuasion that he was induced to assist the following morning at the merciful execution of the only cat ever allowed on the payroll by former City Comptroller Daboll.

To assuage Dalton's grief on the loss of his friend, Dr. Boutelle presented Dick with a handsome black cat named "Nero." This feline was of an amiable disposition and at once became a great pet of the girls in the offices. But Mr. Dalton had not obtained "Nero" to function as a pampered pet, but to succeed "Tim" as the official ratcatcher of City Hall. The test of "Nero's" ability as a ratter was soon to come. One morning Dick went into a store-room in the basement of City Hall and stuck his hand into a keg which contained washing soda. He withdrew the hand with rapidity, jumped about ten feet and gave vent to ejaculation which was anything but pious. For Dick had grabbed a large rat, which happened at that time to be in the keg. The animal, which was more frightened than Dick, remained cowering in the keg; this afforded Mr. Dalton a chance to place a board over the keg. Then he hurriedly sought "Nero," and having found him, carried the cat to the room where the rat was imprisoned. "Now Nero," said Dick, "Here is where you show your stuff." Placing "Nero" in the room, Dalton shook the rat out of the keg and expectantly awaited the slaughter. But no slaughter occurred. Instead of leaping at the rat and shaking the life out of it, as "Tim" would have done, "Nero" started playing with the rodent. This is a trait common to many of the cat family. Tigers, leopards, and all of the different species of felines are apt to play with their prey before killing it. But Mr. Dalton was not conversant with this phase of cat psychology and his disgust at "Nero," was unbounded. He would think of resorting to firearms, even though this country had not, at the time, entered the European strife. Accordingly, Frank Grant, City Clerk, Harold Young, his assistant, and And Prior, Sealer of Weights and Measures, organized to fight the rats. These three young men were all experienced hunters. At least, they had hunted licenses. They obtained Flobert rifles, attached silencers to them, and almost every noon hunted the rodents in the room in the basement, which the rat had come to regard as a sanctuary. Many hits were scored and an appreciable diminution ensued in the rat population in the building.

Others employed in the building emulated the activity of the "three musketeers" and took shots at the rats. Among these were Janitor Dalton and Joe Edwards, Assistant Custodian of City Hall. Dick and Joe were no such good marksmen as Grant, Young and Prior but they hunted nevertheless. One Saturday afternoon as Dick was working in the main corridor, Joe had come to regard as a sanctuary. Many hits were scored and an appreciable diminution ensued in the rat population in the building.

NEWTON POLICE AWARDED DAMAGES

The suits brought against Joseph Beraldi by Benjamin Thomas, Jr., and John J. Sartwell and Thomas Whelan, for injuries received when the Newton police patrol wagon collided with a truck owned by Beraldi, were decided in favor of the plaintiffs at a recent session of the Middlesex Superior Court. Sartwell and Whelan, who are members of the Newton police force, received awards of $1,125 and $415 respectively. Thomas, who was formerly a member of the local police department, was awarded $480.

On November 5, 1923, the police wagon was called to Newton Corner to take to the Newton Hospital a woman who had collapsed. Sartwell was driving the auto and Whelan was in the wagon. Thomas, who at that time was not on duty, went along as a volunteer. The patient was placed in the wagon and a West Newton woman who had been attending to her, pending the arrival of the wagon, also entered the ambulance to render assistance on the trip to the hospital. As the police wagon was approaching the intersection of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue, it approached a large grave truck owned by Joseph Beraldi which was coming from the opposite direction. The driver of this truck, who had received his license but a short time previous, became confused as he saw the rapidly approaching ambulance and drove in front of it.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

(From last week)

The Legislature is making rapid progress and there is some hope that it may adjourn as early as it did last year, that is around May first.

There were many important hearings this week. Probably the most important was that on the proposed taking of the Ware and Swift river water sheds for the future water supply of Worcester and the Metropolitan district. It is meeting with strenuous opposition, of course,—no one wants to have property taken away in this fashion, but we have sufficient confidence in the judgment of Mr. Charles R. Gow, the head of the commission which has studied the matter for some years, to believe that the commission has acted wisely.

An interesting incident this week was the appearance of President William Green of the American Federation of Labor in favor of radical changes in our laws on workmen's compensation. The interest was not in Mr. Green's appearance however, as it was on his refusal to be interviewed or photographed by newspapermen who were not members of the union.

The usual bills to extend and to curtail the matter of compulsory vaccination were heard this week, and for some reason or other did not excite the usual interest. Former Representative Leland Powers and Mr. William Lloyd Garrison were among the speakers in the anti-vaccination side.

The state budget amounting to nearly fifty millions of dollars has been passed by the House and is now before the Senate with predictions that it will soon be laid before the governor without many changes. Credit for this bill is largely due to Henry L. Shattuck, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Charles B. Floyd of Auburn-dale, treasurer of the Bird Clubs of New England, was before the Committee on Conservation this week on a bill seeking to establish a bird sanctuary in the Commonwealth.

Mr. Wilbur E. Trussell of Newtonville, who has always taken a deep interest in the treatment of cancer, was before the Committee on Public Health this week favoring the establishment of a camp for persons afflicted with this terrible disease.

Next week there will be a perfunctory hearing before the special committee appointed to consider the matter of redistricting the state into congressional, councillor and senatorial districts. This work was practically done by a recess commission last summer and with the new committee composed of practically the same men who decided the matter last summer, no one expects a change will be made. Newton, as we have quoted before, is shabbily treated in the senatorial redistricting. For twenty years we have had a senatorial district with Newton and Weston in the Metropolitan area and seven towns outside that area. In consequence we have had but few interests in common. The new senatorial district is even worse. We lose Natick, Ashland, Sherborn, Holliston and Hopkinton and take on Wayland and Marlboro, making a district which extends from the Boston to the county of Worcester line. The proverbial shoe string hasn't anything on the proposed first Middlesex district.

For the first time since the great war, if our memory is right, a favorable report has been made on the bill to make Armistice Day a legal holiday. A motion to postpone action to next Tuesday took a roll call, the Democrats seizing this opportunity to obtain one of the two roll calls which they endeavor to make each legislative day.

MAUDE ADAMS

"The One I Knew Least of All"

Once upon a time, in a traveling company touring the small towns of California, was a "leading lady" of fifteen — and her mother.

The leading lady was very, very small, and very, very frightened, and the one thing in the whole world she longed for was to become a great tragédienne.

So she worked and she struggled—oh so hard! But it just wouldn't work out right.

For there was a pert little tilt to her head, and a tiny, haunting throb in her voice, and a hint of a brave, elfin smile that peeked out through her eyes even when she drove it away from her lips.

And so at last she simply had to give up trying to make people weep, and turn around and make the world a happier place to live in by giving us her lovely "Babbie" and her deathless "Peter Pan."

The greatest American actress of our generation, the best-loved woman our stage has ever known, at last has consented to break her long silence to give us this wonderful story of her life and her work.

Written as only Miss Adams herself could do it, these pages will bring back to those of us fortunate enough to have seen her plays a host of happy memories—and to every reader, young or old, they will convey that subtle loveliness, that charm, which set her apart and above all rivalry in the hearts of her public. Begins in the March issue, now on sale, ten cents.

52 SPRING FASHION FEATURES

With Easter only a month away what can be more interesting than The New Paris Hats for Spring? And here they are, the smartest, most up-to-the-minute showing imaginable by Reboux, Thénault, Suzanne Talbot, Rose Descat, and all the other great modistes.

Princess Cantacuzène tells the true whys and wherefores of Paris, the Arbiter of Fashion and indicates just how far the dictates of Paris are binding upon the rest of the world. Then there is a wealth of most charming and practical costumes which reflect the very best of the Paris mode of the moment as it applies to the well-dressed American woman of every age. And, of course, The Journal's own unrivaled pattern service.

YOU MUST NOT MISS A SINGLE ISSUE OF MAUDE ADAMS' WONDERFUL STORY OF HER LIFE AND WORK

AND THE ONLY WAY TO MAKE SURE IS TO SUBSCRIBE—THERE'S A COUPON BELOW FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE.

Five women write five splendid stories in the March issue of The Journal—Emma Lindsay Squier gives us her colorful romance of China in Two Women of Han; Sophie Kerr begins a most significant and important novel, Nancy Davin; Elsie Singmaster paints another of her unforgettable characters in Mrs. Eveland, the woman who dominated a whole town, even after her death; Dorothy Black's Salvage is one of the prettiest love stories you have ever read; and Lois Seyster Montross' Love in a Mist carries a bit of a lesson for all of us, young or old.

But the women don't have everything to themselves with The Journal's fiction. Five most distinguished gentlemen prepare for your entertainment their finest wares—Booth Tarkington presents The Travelers, a play in one act especially fitted for amateur production; Albert Payson Terhune has a new Gray Dawn story for you, Outlaw; Robert Hichens' remarkable novel, The Unearthly, reaches its most dramatic climax; Zane Grey's Forlorn River fairly crackles with excitement and adventure; and Ellis

Parker Butler will rock you with laughter with his newest story, The Crisis. And don't forget the most fascinating and practical articles on Needlework and Better Housekeeping—eleven of them, all by recognized experts—and Ethel Davis Seal's remarkable suggestions for interior decorations, entitled Fresh Inspirations From the American Wing.

Then, in the American Painting series, there are three pictures by Winslow Homer which we know will prove most popular—especially the famous painting, The Gulf Stream, with its stark drama and its awful sense of isolation.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Elizabeth Voorhees Robinson late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by E. Arthur Robinson who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1926, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six.

ABOUT TOWN

A representative of the Boston Elevated Railway Company called on us last week regarding some items printed in this column recently. In these items, we stated that the present management of the "Elevated," in its efforts to economize, has permitted the cars to become sadly out of repair. The company's representative, while admitting that on some cars signal buttons may be out of order, windows not as clean as they should be, and other minor defects, asserted that such circumstances do not exist with the knowledge of the management, nor do the Public Trustees of the "Elevated" desire that the cars be in other than good condition. He said "that the road is now under public management, conducted for public welfare and not for profit."

In justice to the management of the "Elevated," our readers should be acquainted with the fact that the Public Trustees of the big transportation system want it known that they are not indifferent to the safety and comfort of those who must ride on the cars of this company. We would suggest that the "Elevated" management, in line with this profession on its part, equip without delay, those cars running from Watertown to Cambridge, which are not provided with window shades. Persons' eyes are quite as much harmed today, when exposed to the glaring rays of the sun, as they were in years past.

Many favorable comments are being made by merchants around Nonantum square on the efficient work being performed by John Miskella, patrolman at Newton Corner for the Street Department.

Owners of heavy trucks contend that they already pay enough taxes to the state in the form of heavy registration fees on their vehicles. Many persons think that goodly portion of the money thus received by the state should be returned to cities and towns to help pay for the damages done to streets by the cross chains on truck tires in the winter months.

Some weeks ago we criticized the "Boston Elevated" for not providing proper shelter for passengers awaiting cars at the Watertown car terminal. Attention was called to the small, poorly ventilated waiting room in the yard there. This waiting room is being doubled in size. Whether, or not, the criticism in having this improvement made, is a question, but credit should be given to the "El" management for heeding some complaint.

Patrons of the Middlesex & Boston who use the Cross Town line, complain that they cannot read the papers while travelling in the buses. This is true. But, at least, since the snow came, the buses got them home in good time. They were not held up frequently because of autos stalled on the car tracks as the electric cars have been.

During his argument for setbacks on all garages which may be built along Washington street in the future, Alderman Madden of Ward 1 remarked "that more persons travel along the sidewalk of Washington street between Newton Corner and Adams street, than on any sidewalk this side of Boston." This statement may not be accurate, but it is certain that thousands of persons use this sidewalk daily. With one exception, no property owner along Washington street between Nonantum square and Adams street, has much length of sidewalk to shovel. Notwithstanding, some of them made little or no pretence at shovelling their sidewalks after either of the two recent storms. It is bad enough to have sidewalks on side streets not shovelled, but, the walks along our principal streets should at least be kept free from ice and slush.

Last week we walked up Centre street from Newton to Newton Centre. One can make this trip more quickly by walking than by travelling via the M. & B. cars. Possibly if the M. & B. refused to run a bus line along Centre street, the aldermen may grant a license to some other person or company to provide this much needed convenience. Anyhow, we walked up, or down, Centre street, from Newton to Newton Centre. Usually we enjoy this walk. But not on that day. Nearly the entire distance, the sidewalk was icy. It was icy because the sidewalk, except in a few places, had been shoveled. It may be that persons who can't afford to use a motor car, or can't afford to rack the car they own under such travelling conditions as exist at present, are of such small consequence, that it matters little in what condition the sidewalks are. Either the present ordinance requiring sidewalks to be shoveled after snow-storms, is a good ordinance, or a poor one. If it is a good ordinance, created for the benefit of the public at large, at the expense of some expenditure of money or muscle on the part of persons owning or renting real estate in this city, it should be enforced. If, because of the transition from foot travel to auto travel, since this ordinance was passed, most persons of standing in this community, are riding, and the hearts and limbs of those who still resort to "shank's mare" are not of enough value to society to rate protection, this ordinance is obsolete, and should be revoked. More than one leg or arm has been broken in this city by falls on icy sidewalks. More than one old person (and some persons not so old) has died from fatigue induced by plodding along sidewalks covered with snow or ice.

Chief Randlett of the Fire Department took precautions against impassable conditions of streets in certain parts of the city after the heavy snowfall. He obtained pungs and horses and stationed them at Hose 6, Engine 3 and Hose 7. He also had a large percentage of his force busily engaged for several days in shovelling out hydrants all over the city.

After residing on Washington street for 30 years, John Flood has moved temporarily to Thornton street. Mr. Flood has been a resident of Newton for three score years, and is one of the few remaining old-timers. If you want information on happenings in this city for the past 60 winters or summers, Mr. Flood will be about as likely to "wash" to "twice up" as any person in this burg. He has a remarkable memory.

The other afternoon a person drove up near the Community Theatre in an auto just as the audience was leaving following the afternoon performance. The policeman on traffic duty in front of the theatre, as is the custom when the theatre is being emptied, stopped the driver of the car from parking directly in front of the building. The owner of the car became highly indignant. He loudly protested against such an infringement of his rights as a sovereign American citizen. Any explanation that such a rule is enforced during a few minutes of the day to assure the safety of the many children and the grown-ups who are crossing Washington street after leaving the theatre, was all "blah," so far as this gentleman was concerned. Some folks are strong on "Omnia per Uno." But they are quite agin "Uno per Omnia."

We have yapped so much about persons who do not shovel sidewalks, that it is not amiss to give due credit to one gentleman who sees to it that the walks surrounding his property are promptly and properly cleared of snow. This person is Mr. James E. Clark of Claremont street, Newton.

When lessons were laid away on the shelf last Friday a very busy week was brought to a close for all the Stearns School attendants. On Wednesday afternoon a large number of the children attended an entertainment in the assembly hall "Our Indians of Today" presented by Miss Irene Beatrice Barrington. Miss Barrington, dressed in white, was assisted by Penelope-queeda-doke, a member of Passamaquoddy tribe living in northern Maine, and by Mr. Ardon Cornwall at the piano. Pictures of the many Indian tribes which Miss Barrington has visited were shown and a program of native songs and dances was given. Perhaps of chief interest was a demonstration of the Indian Sign Language.

On Friday two programs were presented by representatives of the various classes. The morning program was as follows. Singing "America The Beautiful," Recitation and Drill "Flag of Freedom" by Mrs. Goddard's class, "Lafayette The Friend of America" by Miss Walker's class. Recitation "The Young George Washington" by Miss Stewart's class, Singing "America," "Flag Drill" by Miss Parker's class, Recitation, "Abraham Lincoln" by Miss Stoddard's class, Singing "The Star Spangled Banner" at the Afternoon Assembly the numbers were "The True Patriot" by Miss Eden's class, Singing "America," The Minuet by a group of boys and girls trained by Mrs. Hogarth of the Playground Dept., "A Great General's Lesson" and "The Making of the First Flag" by Miss Anderson's class, Flag Drill by Miss Parker's class and Tableau by Miss Eden's class. The dancers who paced the stately measures of the minuet were costumed in colonial dress, the girls with powdered wigs and panniered gowns while the boys wore long black coats, cockade hats and jabots of lace. The effect was altogether charming and did much to give the atmosphere of the day and generation of the "Father of His Country."

A tour of inspection of the building showed many evidences of the patriotic celebrations in honor of Lincoln and Washington. A group of three sand-tables in Mrs. Goddard's room was typical of the kind of work displayed. On small tables on either side were the homes of Abraham Lincoln with the crude log cabin in Kentucky while opposite was the expansive structure of Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington. The larger table in the center contained a representation of Nonantum of present day appearance. The streets were all carefully labeled, trolley tracks, Stearns School, the fire station and other familiar points were easily distinguished.

In the weekly savings account contest Mr. Lewis' room led with the remarkable record of 100 per cent, every one of his 23 pupils having added to his savings account during the week. The honor roll leaders for the week were Mr. Lewis, Miss Eden and Miss Winters.

A Play, "The Making of the First Flag," Miss Higgins' Class, Grade II
Salute to the Flag By the School
The Star-Spangled Banner By the School

The play, "The Making of the First Flag," was written by Miss Higgins and was admirably presented by children from her class. Emily Young made a charming Betsy Ross. The part of her demure little helper was delightfully taken by Betty Tobey. Frank Gerity as George Washington and Francis Scofield as Robert Morris were most dignified and impressive even if a bit diminutive. Albert Thomas, George Schrafft and William Rathgeber acted as flag-bearers. At its conclusion the audience felt that it had indeed been present at a real play.

Lasell Seminary

The representatives of the Freshman Class were the winners in the swimming meet held on Tuesday afternoon.

All who had the privilege of hearing Frederick Vining Fisher on Friday evening and seeing his beautiful pictures of scenes in America, feel that they were especially favored.

Lucia Ames Mead will deliver her second lecture on International questions, in Bragdon Hall on Friday evening.

The games in the basketball class league to be played on Saturday, will be between the Junior-Freshman and the Senior-Sophomore teams.

The speaker at Vespers on Sunday, February 28, will be Rev. Raymond Lang of the Grace Episcopal Church of Newton. The service will be held at four o'clock.

FASHION SHOW

A unique fashion show was presented a short time ago in the High School assembly hall by the girls of the household arts classes of the school, for nearly 250 mothers of members of the graduating class, in order that the parents might learn the cost of graduation dresses, styles and fabrics, and also secure an insight into the work being done by the arts classes. Representatives from women's clothing stores of Boston displayed ready-made gowns, with 17 members of the senior class as models. Members of the clothing class of the school presented examples of their workmanship.

Girls taking the classical course at the school do not have the opportunity to avail themselves of sewing instruction, so both ready-made dresses and homemade gowns were displayed for the benefit of the mothers. Those who desired were given patterns, figures, fabric samples and the names of stores where goods might be purchased, so that they might make the graduation dresses at home if they felt so inclined.

It was stated that as a general rule skirts should be 14 inches from the floor, depending on the height of the girl. Canton crepe and crepe de chine were the favored fabrics. The clothing classes displayed dresses which the girls had made in school, and which could be duplicated at home at costs varying between $6.80 and $10.36. Ready-made dresses were priced between $16.75 and $29.50.

The fashion show has been in the process of formation for many weeks, under the general direction of Miss E. B. Kenrick, head of the household arts department, assisted by Miss Mary Owens, Miss Alice Alden, and Miss Catherine Murray, teachers in the clothing classes. The mothers of the girls graduating in June were invited to attend the show as guests of the graduating class. The meeting was presided over by Miss Jean MacDonald, vice president of the senior class.

Addresses were delivered by members of the household arts classes on style, fabric, costs, patterns, etc. Music was furnished by the varsity orchestra as the 17 models stepped to the stage and displayed the various gowns. Representatives of Jordan and Marsh, Slaters, Chandler's, R. H. Stearns and Beattie and McGuire were present to tell of the gowns they had in stock, for parents who did not desire to make the dresses or whose daughters are not members of the arts classes. Eight different styles of dress were shown by members of the classes, which were made at the high school.

Each mother was presented a small booklet, printed by the vocational classes, under direction of Morris Brown. The booklets explained the styles of gowns, and contained samples of fabrics provided by the department stores. The samples were collected by the textile classes under direction of Miss Maud Shippey and the dresses were illustrated with drawings by Miss Marjorie Wheaton in the class presided over by Miss Margaret Ellis. The booklets contained a list of the stores where the fabrics and patterns could be purchased and gave directions as to how the dresses should be made. Miss Margaret Kenderdine, a student, spoke on "Proper Style." Miss Alice Goodnow, also a senior, gave a talk on "Fabrics." Miss Rita Hemenway described the features of ready-made and home-made gowns. Fabrics which might be dyed any color, after graduation, were advocated, and white dresses in the clothing classes which had been dyed various colors, were shown on the models. Simplicity was stressed in all of the talks, but no uniformity advised. The purpose of the meeting was not to strike some uniform style, but to give the mothers an opportunity to see all styles and fabrics and make their own choice of cloth, design and price.

The models who displayed the gowns were loudly applauded, and after the show was completed, instead of going to their homes, most of the mothers stayed to discuss the gowns with the pupils, teachers and store representatives. The same method was followed in a small scale last year, but this is the first big fashion show ever produced in this manner in a school, as far as is known. After the success of the meeting this morning, it was decided to make the show an annual affair, and there is also a probability that the program will be repeated.

Members of the Boys' Division of the "Y" are finding good things to do for their education and entertainment. Our clubs are making steady progress among both the Friendly Indians and Pioneers. In the Friendly Indians we have Norman Stoney for leader of the Pawnee Club. They elected Duncan Cotting for Tom-Tom Beater, William Quinan for Indian Runner, Dick Frazer as Medicine Man and Ted Johnson as Wampum Bearer. Their meeting time is at 4:30 each Tuesday.

The Mohican Band have Ralph Feola as leader, and Cliff Kretzger as Indian Runner. Erney Lucas as Wampum Bearer, and Leonard Martin as Tom-Tom Beater.

The Black Foot Band are led by Fred Becker. Their Tom-Tom Beater is Ed Reuter, the Wampum Bearer is Joe Griffin, Indian Runner, V. Tommasson and Medicine Man, James Gowing.

Each of these clubs have their turn on a Fire-place Social in the Boys' Library, where they can have a hot-dog or marshmallow roast, with games and stories.

Each of the four Pioneer Clubs are organized with proper club officers, and Pioneer Club constitutions. The Whirlwinds have Howard Stoney for leader, and for officers, Chief Ranger, Elmer Clark; Deputy Ranger, George Van Buskirk; Recorder, Robert Buzzelle; Treasurer, Gerald Zoehler; Test Examiners, Paul Ross and George Van Buskirk. They meet at 5:30 each Thursday.

Bill Pearce is leader for the Army Club. Don Plouff is President; Bussie Earle, Vice-president; Gilbert Jenkins, Secretary; and Paul Crowlde is Treasurer. Their meeting time is Saturday, 11:45.

The leader for the Pirates is John Graham. Mike Lane officiates as President; John Simonds as Secretary; and George Simonds as Treasurer. They meet on Wednesday at 5:30.

SCHOOL NOTES

Some one recently admitted that if offered an opportunity to procure a college education at the age of twenty-five, they would leave no stone unturned to obtain it but having been offered the same at the age of seventeen when the zest of actual earning seemed so much more vital than books, he refused with very little hesitancy. He was anxious to "get started."

And it is largely true that a genuine thirst for knowledge comes to most of us after our schooling is over. It is quite enough for the average school child and college student that he pass the necessary requirements and then proceed to forget all that he may have learned in the process. Each study indeed seems like a step of a great staircase of rather irksome climbing, and once the step has been trod upon its service is ended. It is not so very long however before it is discovered that each subject was indeed like a step on a great staircase but once trod upon, it should have been considered a mighty possession, not simply a means to a temporary end. Each subject, as we reflect our own experience, stood alone—liked or disliked as the case happened—isolated and unimportant to any other. And now how tantalizing to be able to remember only smatterings of this or that and to be obliged to begin studying all over again in order to piece together these fragments into complete wholes. And alas! to do this we must be magicians, able to make extra time.

Many great minds of our modern civilization have awakened to the waste thus evident in education and have of course found newer ways of making school subjects more vitally interesting to the students—more pertinent in their possession. But what progress can they make unless each and every one of those who have suffered that thirst after knowledge perhaps a little too late, awaken those, now climbing the steps, to the connection that each and everything they learn in school has with their lives. Without this—they too will waste their time.

All Newton Music School, Inc.

A pupils' recital will be held at the Peirce School, West Newton, on Friday evening, March 12th, at 7.30 o'clock. There will be violin, piano, cello and vocal numbers by the pupils, as well as selections by the Mrs. Morgan's orchestra. A Mozart Quartette for piano and strings will be played by members of the faculty, including Miss West of the piano department, Miss Forte, Miss Masters and Miss Pucciarelli. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A series of Morning Musicales is being given for the benefit of the Music School on Wednesday mornings, the 10th of March, the 31st of March and the 21st of April, at the home of Mrs. Wm. L. Garrison, Jr., 65 Sterling street, West Newton, at 10.30 o'clock. A quartette of members of the faculty of the School will play and will include Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, the director, Miss West, Miss Masters, Miss Forte and Miss Pucciarelli.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Miss Seale and Mrs. Slattery are substituting for Miss Armstrong and Miss Hackett.

Beginning Wednesday a health work exhibition will be held until Tuesday, March 9, in the assembly hall. Pupils will be present to explain the many posters and charts on display. Snapshots of I.P.F. depicting posture have been arranged by Claire Buswell and Lois Stafford for the bulletin board. Carolyn Somers has an interesting poster entitled, "The Ten Commandments of Health" also posted on the board.

Members of the Arlington West Junior High School have sent a very commendable report of their visit to the F. A. Day Junior High School. This letter may be seen on the lower corridor bulletin board on display. Each room has been equipped recently with name card holders for the doors. These holders and the name cards are the work of the boys in the practical arts classes, who have put them up.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

On Monday afternoon the Industrial Film Service Company showed four reels of moving pictures in the Hall to the pupils of grades 4 to 8. A single reel on the "Canadian Rockies," a single reel on "Shredded Wheat," and a double reel on "Sugar" made up the full program.

On Wednesday morning at the Assembly the school orchestra played two selections, "Marche Militaire" and "Valse." The orchestra consists of seven pieces as follows: first violins, Frank Gudaitis and Arnold Seligman; second violins, Joseph Gustowski, Joseph Marchand, Louis Blisk, and Helen Warren; piano, Evelyn Fisher.

Mrs. Frank Fanning made a valentine gift of $5 to the school in the name of "Mary Redcross." A total of more than $100 has been received by the school in this way since this famous doll began her wide charities. Mrs. Fanning gave also printed cards to the children of several classes.

Honor Rolls in grades six, seven, and eight for the attainment of a highest scholarship is a recent new feature. The lists are exhibited in new frames for each of these grades. The following names are already listed:

Grade 8: first quarter, Walter Billings, and Mary Simoni; second quarter, Walter Billings, Mary Simoni, and Cecelia Romaszkievicz.

Grade 6: first quarter, Priscilla Sawyer and Harvey Preble; second quarter, Mary Herlihy, William Mordo, and John Morgan.

At the end of the first twenty weeks of the school year the following pupils were found to have had perfect attendance.

Grade 2: Otto Hartwick, Bronia Crochunos, Ruth Wildman, George Adcock, Walter Gustowski, Eugene Kerrigan, Stanley Khorey, Ernest Savignano, John Shklarevich.

Grade 3: Charles Adcock, Mary Shlarevich, Christina Wood, Helen Daniels, Ella Hunting, Dorothy Curtis, James Maloney, Samuel Wilson, Burton McMillin, Walter Voydatch.

Grade 4: John Balkus, Mary Collins, Bronislaw Jacobs, Dorothea Evans, Francis Meehan, Stella Roklan.

Grade 5: Lilly Cartier, Eda Hartwick, Norma Robertson, Henry Simoni, Paul Wassuck, Ashla Boghosian, William Girvalis, Florence Holtz, John Savignano, Monika Skarpas.

Grade 6: Ad Daniels, Joseph Gustowski, Annie Roklan, Mary Madanjan, Albinus Gaisunas, Kenneth Johnson, Julia Chiro, Annie De Michele, Helen Gustowski, Catherine Wood.

Grade 7: Bronislaw Balkus, Edward Cooper, Bernard Meehan, Harold Strombom, Margaret Burns, Lillian Frost, Ada Pacelt, Josephine Simoni, Stella Yurick.

Grade 8: Mildred Spear, Mary Simoni, Sophie Jacobs, Margaret Bridget, John Shaughnessy, Ulderico Schiavone, Joseph Picariello, Bartlof Kasroffian, Anthony Khorey, Frank Gudaitis.

Mason School

During the past week the upper grades of the Mason School have been to the Branch Library for lessons on the "Use of the Library." The librarian in charge not only told the children how to use the reference books but gave each child an opportunity to actually look up three references, using the "World Almanac," the encyclopedia, or the "Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature."

The value of such lessons cannot be overestimated and the interest shown by the pupils indicates that the new library will be fully appreciated by them.

The children in the third, fourth, and fifth grades in the Mason School district enjoyed a distinct treat last Monday afternoon.

Most of them hastened over to the Woman's Club after school for the weekly story hour given there by Mrs. Cronin.

Many of the story telling periods are to be given for five or six weeks more and we feel very sure that no child who went last Monday will be absent next week, and those who didn't go are looking forward with pleasure to the good time ahead.

The basketball game between the Freshman and Junior Classes on Saturday, February 27, resulted in a victory to the Freshman Class and in the swimming meet on Tuesday, March 2nd, between the Seniors and Freshmen, the Freshmen were the winners.

The second concert of the season was given by the students of the music department on Wednesday evening, March 3rd, when the following program was presented:

The French Club has issued invitations to a French song recital to be given by Ethel Keach Ferrin on Friday evening, March 5th, in the Chapel.

SCHOOL SIGNALS

Dear Editor:
The question of school signals having come up again, it would be well to remember that it was only as an experiment that the signal was abolished—just as an experiment.

Now the experiment having been tried and found very unsatisfactory, the problem still remains, and it is a serious one. Shall the child go to school in a storm?

The mother finds herself in a most troublesome position. She is, of course, anxious that her children shall be in school regularly. Also, if there are several children in the family, it is much easier for her to let them go to school on a stormy day than to have them around the house. But she knows that if her child goes out in the storm, he may take a serious illness, while if she stays home he probably will not. She has to balance the risks he takes, and after deciding it in her own mind she has to convince the child, which is not so easy, especially when he quotes, "The Teacher said—"

It is very possible that the mothers do not understand that it is their privilege to keep their children at home in bad weather and that this would be sufficient excuse for his absence if the child said, "My mother thought it was too stormy for me to come to school." Even with the school signals, it often happens that the day is too dangerous for the individual child or the distance too great.

It has been said that the children would be out of doors anyway and that they might as well go to school; but the difference is that while they may play out and get soaked, when they do come in they find dry clothing and a warm house and warm food; while at school they must sit in their damp garments, and the teacher, however willing, can do nothing for them.

If there should be trouble about hearing the signal, there are many ways to prevent this, and in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., they have a very good way. The whistle blows, as we have it, and they also announce it on the Radio. What a splendid idea! There are Radios in every neighborhood all over the city, and there would be no trouble. In our variable New England weather, often the morning is rainy, but it clears away by noon. The Radio could then be used to call the children of the grades to come to school for the afternoon so as not to lose a whole day, and in using the Radio for such an announcement we are falling into line with the latest invention and the Radio will prove itself more than ever before a true friend of the family.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers held their annual meeting and party on Monday night, March first, in the dining room of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The annual business meeting came first. Officers for the coming year are the same as last year. Mr. G. Crandon Woolley, 63 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, the re-elected secretary-treasurer, will furnish information concerning archery at any time.

At about 6.30 nearly fifty people gathered around the tables for supper. After the supper the old fashioned dances were enjoyed, ending with the Virginia Reel. These were especially picturesque because of the costumes worn, which were of the period of 1850 or 1860. Especially striking costumes were worn by Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Smith, Miss Smith, and Miss Brewer of Newton Centre. Mrs. Woolley, Mr. G. Crandon Woolley, and Miss Garth of Newton Highlands, Mrs. True of Waban, Mrs. Frenz of Melrose. Musicians were a violinist and pianist, who entertained throughout the evening.

Archery moving pictures of the Eastern and National Tournaments came next on the program. Mr. Worcester of Worcester who took them, coming down especially for the showing.

The evening ended with a grand sugaring off party. Pans filled with snow, with the luscious sugar on top, and two forks sticking up, were passed to all. The evening was a great success.

The principal guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hermann of Tyler Terrace, Newton Centre. Miss Jane Hermann, who has started archery, was also there.

When "unfinished business" was reached, President Pratt announced the matter of consideration of confirming the appointment of Miss Florence S. Fitzgerald as Overseer of the Poor. Miss Fitzgerald was appointed to this position in 1925 by the Mayor, but the aldermen refused to confirm her. The Mayor then designated her as Acting Overseer and again presented her appointment this year. The aldermen, at the meeting of February 1st, laid on the table the matter of taking action on confirming this appointment: some of them desired to confer with the Mayor on this question. When this "business" was announced Monday night by President Pratt, Aldermen Gallagher and Heathcote both started to rise. Mr. Heathcote was recognized by the chair and started to speak in favor of the confirmation of Miss Fitzgerald. He said he understood that the report of the committee which conferred with Mayor Childs regarding this appointment would be favorable. This committee consisted of Aldermen Baker, Pitts and Gallagher. Mr. Heathcote stated that "the Mayor takes a great deal of care in selecting the right parties for positions to which he makes appointments. The Overseer of the Poor should have an understanding of human nature, should have moved among the poor, and should possess tact. Miss Fitzgerald possesses these qualifications, knows the heads of the other departments with whom her duties bring her in contact, and has run the department successfully during the year she has been in charge. Her expenses have been less than those of her predecessor in this office."

Mr. Heathcote, having concluded, Aldermen Gallagher took the floor. He said: "I do not always agree with the alderman from Ward 4, but on this matter I do. This is the third time we have been asked to confirm this appointment; many of us thought a woman could not fill this position properly, but Miss Fitzgerald has proved she can. All her expenditures have been carefully checked up by the Mayor. The committee which consulted with the Mayor on this appointment, discussed the situation from every angle. The position was first offered to another woman, Miss Hull, and has long experience in this work and should be unanimously confirmed." The vote was then taken by ballot. All nineteen aldermen present voted to confirm the appointment.

Appropriations

At 8.45 President Pratt called a short recess to allow the Finance and Public Works committees to confer. The short recess ended at 10.10 and the business of making appropriations started. To complete the work of laying out Hawthorn street, $1479 was appropriated; because of the additional expenses entailed by the snow, $2000 extra was given to the Street Department to defray the cost of collecting ashes and paper in February. Despite the fact that at the last aldermanic meeting, $40,000 additional was appropriated for the removal of snow and ice, another $8000 had to be appropriated on Monday night to meet the expenses incurred last month in making the streets passable for automobiles. This made the total amount expended by the Street Department during February, $32,000. The Public Works Committee is to confer with the Street Commissioner regarding improvements in equipment and method for removing snow, in an endeavor to lessen the cost of this work next winter.

To pay for rent on the quarters occupied by the American Legion, $500 was appropriated; to provide a pension for Edward A. Jones of Hose 7, retired on the age limit, $1000; to complete the 20-in water main on Commonwealth avenue, $52,640; to provide furnishings and equipment for the new High School $40,551.10. In addition to this last amount, the Building Department asks $50,000 for the new High School. Alderman Baker asked if this $50,000 was for the same purpose as the $40,551? He was informed it was for different items: $4500 for the auditorium stage, $9900 for the auditorium chairs, $15,000 for grading walks and drives, $15,000 for grading the girls' hockey field and $3000 additional for the architects' commission. The Building Department also asks $1500 to complete the building at Cabot Park playground. Chairman Ball of the special committee which is studying the question of the water supply, recommended the appropriation of $1500 to engage the services of an expert for consultation purposes. He stated that many suggestions are being received regarding the solving of the problem of Newton's water supply. It has not been decided whether the supply will be increased by sinking more wells on the reservation or by taking water from the Metropolitan Water System. A letter was received from the National Water Main Cleaning Company, submitting two plans for cleaning the water mains. Mayor Childs recommends that these proposals of this company be accepted, if the aldermen deem them feasible. The Mayor also recommended that the tunnel under Elm road be constructed. A letter was received from the Newton Centre School Association and various Women's Clubs urging that this tunnel be built at once, and that it be properly heated and lighted. Delegations of policemen, firemen, and city laborers were present in anticipation of some action on their various demands. The police are asking for overcoats to be provided by the city; the firemen are seeking the "two platoon system." The laborers are pleading for a living wage. No action was taken however, on any of these petitions; the Mayor's budget recommendations for the ensuing year were distributed in printed form. They are referred to in a separate article.

SEASCOUT NEWS

The Seascouts of Newton, Troop 13 of Norumbega Council, which was organized last November, have been particularly fortunate in their quest for sea lore, and the progress made by the boys in this work is very encouraging. Through the efforts of an exceptionally vigorous Ship Committee, under the able leadership of Mr. Philip W. Carter of West Newton, and of Portmaster Richard H. Brown, the boys have been given the opportunity to learn something of the practical side of seamanship and boat building. This has been accomplished by a series of trips arranged for the Seascouts.

On two weekends the Seascouts have established headquarters at the cottage of Skipper Gilmore at Marshfield Hills. On these occasions the boys were given training in handling boats under oars and rules of the road adapted to such boats encountering motor, sail, or steam craft. In January, George Owen, Sr., Professor of Naval Architecture at the Mass. Institute of Technology, gave the boys an afternoon in the well equipped model room of that institution. Prof. Owen's talk on boat construction and boat evolution was illustrated with authentic models of sea craft from the Monitor down to the latest developments in the super-dreadnought class.

Another expedition, which contributed much to the practical side of the boys' knowledge, was taken Feb. 6th to Lawley's Ship Yard at Neponset. Here boats of all sizes and types were under construction and the guide in charge of the tour of inspection was pilled with many questions concerning types of rigs, position of masts, and amounts of sail used. That these trips have done much to furnish the necessary background of fundamentals of seamanship, was brought out convincingly in one of the meetings this month at the winter quarters of the Seascouts—the building formerly used by the Veteran Firemen's Assn. on Watertown street, West Newton. Mr. John Alden, well known yacht designer, devoted an evening to a blackboard talk on boat construction, and the advantages and disadvantages of certain rigs and hulls from a handling point of view. The intelligent type of questions asked by the boys won the praise of Mr. Alden for the excellent start they have made.

These trips and talks supplement the regular work carried on by the boys and officers in rope work, signaling, drilling and sea lore at their weekly meetings on Friday evenings. Visitors are welcome at any meetings and any outside contributions of nautical knowledge and financial aid is greatly appreciated by the boys and the staff.

FOR DRY CROSSINGS

Editor of the Graphic:
It would be a great help to the pedestrians who have to use Washington street, if something could be done to make the crossings at Bacon, Peabody, Channing, Thornton and Hovey streets dry. In stormy weather or when there is snow, they are generally fords with water nearly ankle deep, instead of being dry and passable. Seems as though it would not be difficult to make drains.

EDITORIAL

Retail merchants have a right to protest against the increasing abuse of peddling from house to house. These peddlers, operating without license and responsibility, are making inroads upon the business of established houses which pay taxes, stand behind the quality of their goods and contribute to the prosperity of the city. The peddlers sell inferior stuff and the buyer has no recourse. The peddling nuisance should be abated.

In meekly submitting to the dictum of the Mayor in regard to the appointment of an overseer of the poor, the board of aldermen have greatly lowered their dignity as a co-ordinating branch of the city government.

The mayor of one city cuts the 1925 appropriations over $346,000 while the mayor of another adds $525,000 to his budget. Guess which is Lynn and which is Newton.

The new Kiwanis club will be a notable addition to the various community service organizations of this city. "May it live long and prosper."

GIRL SCOUTS

"The Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" is the feature picture in the moving picture show which the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association is arranging, for the purpose of raising money to name the Newton Girl Scout hall in the Children's Hospital. Five years ago the Newton Girl Scouts were asked if they would like to name a bed in this well known hospital. Of course they wanted to have a Newton Girl Scout bed and they worked hard to raise the money to make this possible. They made it possible and have done so each year since then, and they have been extremely interested in the child occupying the bed, often writing or sending flowers or books to that child.

Last year Mr. Sumner of the Community Theatre in Newton cooperated very generously in this part of our girls' work and gave us that nice, large, pleasant theatre for our entertainment. He is doing the same for us again this year and the entertainment will be held at the Community on Saturday morning, March 20, at 10 o'clock. Besides the feature picture, a Gang picture will be shown and also an Aesop Fable. The Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corp will play and there will be homemade candy for sale. Last year the entertainment was a splendid one and everyone who attended it enjoyed every minute of it. It is a picture that both the "young old" and the "old young" will enjoy as well as the children.

The Spring Rally is to be held on March 27 this year in the Gymnasium of the Newton High School. The girls are already preparing for the competitions which are always held at this Rally and which are looked forward to with keen interest. This year, because of the many scouts we have in Newton the competitive events will be divided as follows: Compass Game, Table setting relay and obstacle race for the Junior Troops while the Senior Troops will compete in Knot tying, Morse Code Signalling and an obstacle race. Merit Badges will be awarded and special medals given out.

FIRE RECORD

Sunday morning at 9:20 a still alarm brought the firemen to the residence of Thomas W. White at 1173 Boylston street, Upper Falls.

Saturday afternoon at 1:47, Box 117 was pulled for a brick blaze in the old frame building on Centre place occupied by Max Haase as an upholstery shop. The fire did considerable damage to the roof and upper part of the building.

Box 61 was pulled Monday afternoon for a fire in the building at 676 Boylston street, Newton Centre, occupied by Archibald McVicar. It was caused by a motor backfiring.

Tuesday morning at 1:15 a still alarm called the firemen to 791 Walnut street to extinguish a fire on the roof of the barn owned by the Newton Cemetery Corporation. Sparks from a chimney caused the blaze.

The two apartment house at 155 Aspen avenue was damaged by fire early last Friday morning. The families of Arthur Carver and Jackson Salter, who occupy the house, were obliged to make a rapid exit from the building.

Thursday afternoon Box 716 was for a fire in the cellar of the house at 707 Commonwealth avenue, occupied by Charles Rittenhouse. The cause was unknown. The blaze was confined to the cellar, but smoke damaged the furniture in the house.

D. R. MEETING

There will be a meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., at the home of Mrs. John C. Godding on Centre street, Newton, next Monday afternoon.

grams have been selected with a view of making them instructive as well as enjoyable. One feature at these concerts which has given much pleasure is a brief study of various operas. The story of the opera is told and the various themes of the selection to be placed by the orchestra are placed with the accompanying incidents.

Selections from operas, Tannhauser, Lohengrin, Aida, Il Trovatore, La Traviata, Faust, Carmen, Martha and The Bohemian Girl have been played, also selections from the best light operas such as Mlle. Modiste, Serenade, Sweethearts and others. Many compositions such as Rubenstein's Reve Angeline, Liszt's Liebestraume, Schubert's and Gounod's Ave Maria's, McDowell's Woodland Sketches, various characteristic and descriptive pieces, marches and overtures have also been played.

Many people who have heard the orchestra have expressed great surprise at the fine quality of their work.

It should be stated that all work in music in the high school is so conducted that it does not interfere in any way with the proscribed class room work.

The attitude of the pupils towards music can be shown in no more convincing manner than by their endeavors to promote it. During the last four years they have, by their own efforts, raised and contributed approximately $3,000.00 with which to purchase woodwind and string instruments which are loaned to pupils, and to provide free instruction in music for deserving high school students.

The prospect of a pipe organ in the auditorium of the new building is welcomed most enthusiastically by the pupils of the school. It is impossible to estimate its value and usefulness as a help in training our young people to love and appreciate fine music.

While we may justly feel proud of a splendid beginning in music in our schools, we must realize that Newton is far behind the majority of cities in this respect. This is due, in part, to lack of support and a tendency to underestimate the value of musical training in our schools. A glimpse of some of the benefits to be derived from these musical activities should prove that it is worthwhile.

Music affords a wholesome and inspiring source of pleasure, not only to the performers but to the whole student body. It endears the school to the pupils. Their lives are made happier because of it.

Our pupils are made more familiar with the best music and learn to love it. There is no more effective way of combating the cheap musical trash so prevalent today than by contrasting it with that which is beautiful and enduring.

Pupils studying various instruments are greatly benefited by practice in orchestra groups. The stimulation which they receive results in a much more rapid progress than when they study alone. Music teachers urge their pupils to join the orchestras and band.

Many pupils who for various reasons would drop their study of music are encouraged to persevere with it. By the time they graduate from the high school they have attained a degree of skill and accomplishment which insures a continuance of musical study, in after life.

Many pupils, inspired by the orchestra or band, are led to take up the study of some instrument. They strive hard and faithfully to qualify for the varsity organizations.

As a result of the musical accomplishment thus achieved the pupils' lives are made richer and happier, and they have a means of bringing happiness to others; they have acquired a valuable social asset; they are provided with a most worthwhile means of occupying their leisure hours; and, as has been shown in many cases, they find themselves equipped with a desirable and enjoyable means of earning an extra income.

Stearns School Center

A Rummage Sale will be held at the Stearns School, Saturday afternoon, March 6th, at 2 o'clock, by the Mothers' Club and Senior Girls' Club. All kinds of clothing will be on sale.

There is to be a Whist Party Monday evening, March 8th, at 8 o'clock at the school.

Monday, March 15th, is the St. Patrick's Day Costume Party at the Mothers' Club. After much discussion almost everyone agreed to appear in costume. Any who promised and fail to appear in costume must pay a fine of 10c. Any members wishing to bring a guest in costume may do so.

NEWTON CLUB CONCERT

The fourth in the series of Sunday afternoon concerts at the Newton Club at Newtonville will be given next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock. The program will be given by Raymond Simonds, tenor; Arv Duffer, violinist; with Lucy Chase Simonds at the piano.

LODGES

Newton Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold a whist party on Tuesday evening, March 9th, at 8 o'clock in Denison Hall, Newtonville. Some exceptional prizes will be given.

ANNUAL MEETING NEWTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

The annual meeting of the Newton Co-operative Bank was held at the banking rooms, 299 Walnut street, at 8 P. M., on Tuesday evening, March 2nd. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, James W. French; Vice-President, Frank H. Stuart; Treasurer and Clerk, J. Cheever Fuller; Directors, Charles R. Brown, William M. SOCIAL GIVEN BY THE NEWTON HEBREW LADIES' AUXILIARY

An enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent by all on Sunday, February 28 at a social given by the Newton Hebrew Ladies' Auxiliary at the Synagogue at Adams street, Newton. Mrs. Dora Goodman of Newtonville, presiding President of the Auxiliary, carried through events of the day, with the assistance of various committees of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Goodman delivered a very interesting talk, endeavoring to explain the work of the Auxiliary, which consists mostly of Charity.

The program was most interesting. A play was given by the Hebrew School children under the direction of Mr. M. Berman of Newton.

A recitation was given by Miss Lillian Stollow of Newtonville.

A recitation was given by Mr. Blomberg of the Men's Association.

Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Annie Richards of Dorchester, accompanied by Mr. Cirion of Newton.

A recitation was given by Miss Emily Stollow of Newtonville.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Jane Levine of Gardiner, Maine, accompanied by Mr. Melman of West Newton.

A dance was given by Miss Bram and Miss Cohen of Newton.

Refreshments were served. Donations were given liberally by all attending, which helps to increase the funds of the Auxiliary so that they may carry out their plans to the needy hands.

It was the first event of its kind held in Newton and was attended by a large audience and made a booming success.

POLICE NEWS

For some time past poor boxes in Catholic churches in this city and vicinity have been broken into and robbed. Tuesday evening, two youths were noticed acting suspiciously in the Corpus Christi Church at Auburndale. The police were notified and several officers hastened to the church, but when they arrived the two suspects had gone. The neighborhood was scoured and cars searched but no one was discovered answering the descriptions of the twin detected in the church.

Wednesday evening the same pair were again noticed in the same church and once more a telephone call was sent to Police Headquarters. Officers Doherty, Ed Hanlon and Tom Burke hastened to the church and caught "red-handed" two youths in the act of rifling a poor box. They were taken to police headquarters and after some grilling, admitted having robbed poor boxes in churches at Newton, West Newton, Waltham, Watertown and Oak Square. In court this morning, Joseph Farrell, 16, of 144 Chapel street was placed on probation. His companion, Louis Antonellis of 9 Dalby street, aged 15, was sentenced to the Industrial School for boys at Shirley.

Newton High School

The Women Teachers' Club of the High School, assisted by members of the Schoolmasters' Club will present "Captain Applejack" at Players' Hall, West Newton on the evenings of March 19 and March 20.

LOOK AT THE AIR-MAIL IT'S WONDERFUL HOW THEY GO IN ANY KIND OF WEATHER JUST AS WONDERFUL HOW WE GO IN ANY KIND OF WEATHER

If we weren't coal dealers ourselves—

We'd call your attention to the fact that the coal dealer—like the doctor, the postman, the policeman—any other man who serves the public, is expected to be on duty in any kind of weather.

To keep people supplied with life-giving heat is a big responsibility. We gladly shoulder.

You can depend on us for good coal and unfaltering service.

Mrs. Sarah Everts gave an interesting talk on the following work of the Judge Baker Foundation. Tea was then served by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mrs. Wales, Mrs. Harrington and Mrs. Wainwright.

—The lip reading class which has been so successful this winter at the evening school at Newtonville, was entertained by Mrs. Harrington on Elm street, on Wednesday evening. It was a very enjoyable occasion. Miss Ena C. Macnutt, who has been the teacher of the class for two seasons, was present, and during the evening she was presented with a very handsome writing tablet in gray alligator leather beautifully engraved. The presentation was made by Mr. Wm. G. Folsom, and it was a complete surprise to Miss Macnutt, who responded in her usual graceful manner. The members of the class welcomed this opportunity to meet each other outside of school hours, and to be able to compare notes upon their progress in the art of lip reading. Mrs. Harrington was ably assisted by her daughters and by Miss Marion Drew Bassett of Newtonville.

HOWARD HACKETT

Howard Hackett died at his home, 74 Highland avenue, on Sunday.

Mr. Hackett was born in Newtonville 46 years ago, the son of the late Horatio B. Hackett. He graduated from Harvard in 1901 and was a member of the Brae Burn and Newton Clubs. He was engaged in business with the firm of Wise, Hobbs & Arnold. His funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at his late residence, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. He is survived by a brother, William F. Hackett of New York, and two sisters, Miss Sarah B. Hackett and Miss Bertha Hackett of Newtonville.

MRS. ELIZABETH FEELEY

Mrs. Elizabeth Feeley, widow of James Feeley, died on February 25, at her late home, Cook street, Newton.

Her funeral services were held Monday at the Church of Our Lady; a solemn requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. Robert Mantle, assisted by Rev. Conrad Quirkbach and Rev. Russell Healy. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. She is survived by two daughters—Mrs. Elizabeth Quinlan and Miss Margaret Feeley, and four sons—James, John, Charles and Frank Feeley. The two latter are members of the Newton Police Department.

LODGES

There will be a public installation of the officers of Newton Chapter, Order of De Molay at the Masonic Temple, Newtonville, Saturday evening, March 13th. Bob Emory of WEEI has accepted an invitation to be present.

"THE CINDERELLA MAN"

"The Cinderella Man," a four act play by Edward Childs Carpenter, was given by the Village Players at the Unitarian Parish Playhouse, Newton Centre, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and there will be another performance this evening. This is the fourth season for these players, and eight most interesting and finished productions have been presented.

In "The Cinderella Man" all parts were well taken. Mr. Carlton W. Baxter as the wealthy father and Priscilla Pierce Stuart as his daughter were exceptionally fine. Ralph Stuart was as dreamy and temperamental as all poets and musicians and Katherine Wilkins as the Great She Bear was indeed a growing monster.

The stage setting for the first and fourth acts was most attractive and the attic room of Quintard in the second and third acts was well portrayed.

The production was under the direction of Mrs. Frank A. Mason and the cast included Carlton W. Baxter, Norman B. Powers, Douglas B. Francis, Priscilla Pierce Stuart, Sidney Woodward, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Charles Hyde, Ralph Stuart, Robert P. Holdsworth, and Katherine Wilkins.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The glee club and orchestra of the Massachusetts Agricultural College gave a delightful concert in the Auburndale Club House on Saturday evening of last week. The large audience was very enthusiastic and especially enjoyed the UPhone Duet by Grant and Hollingsworth, Mr. Grant being one of the Auburndale boys. Dancing followed the concert and refreshments were served. Many of the boys were entertained in the homes of Auburndale over the week-end.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

Our State Federation President, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, is taking the greeting of our State to the Florida State Federation of Women's Clubs, at Jacksonville, on March 23rd to 26th. During her absence, she informs club women, that her "place will be taken by her very able and efficient First Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter." Mrs. Potter has greatly endeared herself to her associates, and during the past year, especially, all have been given evidence of her clear thinking, her restraint and logic, her poise and her delightful friendliness toward the world. Mrs. Smith, in speaking of February as having been a month to tax the patience and strength of all, because of its severe storms, probably is looking forward to her trip to the southland, a much needed and deserved respite from her duties, and must be glad that she promised her husband a year ago to take a short trip with him this spring! Our good wishes for her pleasure and recuperation.

Do not forget that on Wednesday mornings from 11 to 11.30 o'clock there are Club talks over the radio, station WNAE.

Are you going to Atlantic City? Bookings should be made with Walter H. Woods, 80 Boylston Street, Boston. Request is made for a ten dollar deposit sent with such application for reservations.

Have you looked up the State Songs our delegates are to sing? The list is given on page 8 of the Federation Topics for March. Of course you take Topics! Each delegate and member who is planning to go to Atlantic City is asked to learn the first two verses of these songs. The reason? With so many splendid voices in Massachusetts, we know we can win the prize promised to the State sending the best singing delegation! And did you ever know anyone, or any group, that could show how wonderfully they could sing if they didn't know the words they were singing? Listen sometime to such an embarrassed group—watch their mouths that they are afraid to open, so just mumble! A word to the wise.

Last week in this column there was a splendid advertising of the Exhibition of Memorial Sculpture in Relation to its Setting, scheduled for the first two weeks in March. And after all that consideration on our part they have "gone and postponed the exhibition on us!" The reason as stated by Mrs. Frank H. Stever, Art Chairman, is that more time has been required to prepare original work, but we are sure that it is all due to the dreadful weather this last month. There is just one saving grace for that announcement. Clubwomen know that such a thing is in contemplation, so that when the Newton women go to Swampscott in May for the Annual Meeting they will not need to have explained to them what the model of the exhibition on display there is.

Mrs. Smith is calling attention of club women to their opportunity for being of service and to gain soul satisfaction through well-placed generosity, in remembering during spring cleaning the Morgan Memorial, which she says "is the nation's greatest institution for turning waste into profit, and liabilities into assets, both in materials and men."

RECENT EVENTS

Auburndale Review Club

About 150 members and guests assembled in the Congregational Church Tuesday evening, February 23rd, for the Auburndale Club's annual Guest Night.

The room was very attractive with its decorations of palms, ferns and flowers.

In the receiving line, besides the Officers, and the entertaining guests, were the honored guests, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, State Federation Director of the Twelfth District, and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., President of the Newton Federation.

Following the reception, Mrs. Congdon made a few remarks concerning the different lines of work being carried on by the clubs, and especially the Americanization work which is so interesting and so important. Mrs. Spear brought the greetings of the Newton Federation in her own bright and cheery manner.

The entertainment consisted of cello solos by Miss Esther Mayo Pierce, accompanied by Mrs. Franklin Leland, and of readings by Mrs. Marion T. Rudkin. The music was much enjoyed and appreciated, and Mrs. Rudkin was very happy in her readings, especially in those illustrative of the love of nature, and of family among the Italians, with whom she does Americanization work and of whom she is very fond.

The social hour with refreshments was not the least enjoyable feature of the successful evening, due in large part to the efforts of the Program Committee: Mrs. G. F. Howland, Mrs. G. W. St. Amant, and Miss Florence Bridgman.

Newton Community Club

On February 25th, while rain and sleet made going difficult, The Newton Community Club made merry in the warm shelter of Underwood Hall, where blithe song, and dainty refreshments, attractive decorations, and a most tempting Food Sale intrigued all brave comers. As has been the custom at this time of the year, the Club held its Annual Musicale, this year made doubly joyous because celebrated by the Club's own Choral Class. That they have been well trained, and enjoyed giving of their talent to their fellow members was evidenced by the splendid manner in which the entire program went off, and the Club is very, very proud of its singers.

The Chorus was assisted by Mrs. Earl Harper, Soprano, Arthur O. Welton, Tenor, James L. Houghton, Baritone, and Cleon Hopkins, Trumpeter, whose aid made the selections very lovely. The Conductor, Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale, has spent much time and thought in training the Chorus, and in arranging the program, which consisted of songs by the Chorus, solos by Mr. Houghton and Mr. Hopkins, and the Cantata, "Alice Brand." One of the most attractive selections was "The Gaiety Piper," whose music carried out the picture of the coming piper, with his merry lay calling for attention, of his presence in forceful, fascinating bewitching of hearts to sing and dance they swarmed about, and of his departure, until the last fading notes from the distance gave token of his lamented departure. The Cantata, "Alice Brand," of that ever popular type of Robin Hood story of the merrie greenwood, and the sadness mingled on account of the exile's escape from a beleaguered castle, and the happy outcome when the maiden's slain brother is brought back from the wicked power of "elves" by the bravery of the maiden, who has staid loyally by her exiled lover's side, was rendered with atmosphere and charm, and proved most entertaining. Mrs. R. LeRoy Schell, who has been a most indefatigable supporter, as Chairman of Music, was the accompanist, and the members of the Chorus are:

Mrs. John Alden, Mrs. Ernest Beaufort, Mrs. George Barber, Mrs. Everett W. Crawford, Mrs. H. B. Dwight, Mrs. Howard M. Fletcher, Mrs. George P. Flood, Mrs. F. S. Friend, Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn, Mrs. Ernest L. Foley, Mrs. Harry W. Gardner, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Miss Hattie H. Henry, Miss Kate R. Howard, Mrs. Ralph T. Laffie, Mrs. Fred A. Ober, Mrs. George Owen, Mrs. Watson B. Porter, Miss Dorothy Pray, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. George R. Strandberg, Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Frederick A. Wetherbee, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney.

The pleasure inaugurated last year of inviting as guests some of the foreign-born women of Newton, was repeated this year, with Mrs. Corabelle Francis, Chairman of Americanization, their special hostess. A speech of welcome was given by a young Syrian woman, who spoke first in her native tongue, then in English.

Enjoyment of tempting refreshments added to the festivity of the afternoon, and this display of home-made food upon a long table called so forcibly to all beholders, that hardly a crumb was left, except for a few brownies, not enough to sell—all of which state of affairs (for the good of Club finances) was most pleasing to the Home Economics Chairman, Mrs. Harold Moore, who has had charge of these Sales. The Social Committee, of which Mrs. Henry P. Curtis is Chairman, had the pleasure of serving the refreshments for the guests.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

March 12th is Junior Membership Day for the West Newton Women's Educational Club, at Players' Small Hall, West Newton. Miss Mildred Elder, an instructor in the Boston Y. W. C. A., will give a talk on "Whither Bound," a message for the mothers and daughters of the club and their friends.

Miss Dorothy Sharpe will entertain with piano solos, and Miss Leora H. Bacon, a soprano, will sing, with Clara Lane as accompanist. Tea will be served. The program is provided by the junior members, Mrs. Louie A. Bacon, Director.

The Travel Class will meet on Monday, the 8th, at the home of Mrs. Frank J. Chapin. Mrs. C. H. Brockway will give a paper on "Heroines of the Bible," and Mrs. Chapin a paper on "The Messianic Doctrine." Miss Dorothy Chapin will give a solo from the Cantata of Ruth. Mrs. H. B. Larned and Mrs. Chapin are to be hostesses.

Issues under Coming Events just before list of next meetings.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Gladys B. Jones, Chairman of Home Economics Teaching, spoke to the members of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, March 2nd, in the tea room of the Central Congregational Church. The meeting was held here to permit a Demonstration Tea later by Miss Margaret Weimer.

Mrs. Jones told of the rare opportunity presented to the members of women's clubs in Newton to enjoy the hospitality of the Priscilla Proving Plant on Commonwealth Avenue, during Home Beautiful Week. Besides displaying the newest and best in household decorating and equipment, lecturers will speak of floor and wall finishes, textiles, and, in fact, everything of interest in regard to the home. As the capacity of the hall is limited, it is necessary to admit by tickets, and it is requested that members send for them as soon as possible, in order to secure them.

Miss Weimer gave an interesting demonstration of home cookery. She dictated recipes, mixed materials and gave helpful suggestions, besides entertaining with amusing anecdotes, as she worked. A helpful committee, with Mrs. Frank R. Clark as Chairman, served her products.

Mrs. Royal T. Lapham, in charge of the music for the afternoon, was assisted by Miss Marjorie Mighill, a pupil of Miss Dorothy Curtis, who gave a piano solo and encore number. Miss Mighill is a member of the eighth grade of the Junior High School.

COMING EVENTS

Newton Federation

March 15th is the date for the Board Meeting of the Newton Federation, Newton Club, Newtonville, is the place of meeting, and 10.15 o'clock is the time. Delegates from the federated clubs should be present, and other interested club women are cordially invited. The success of any organization depends not alone upon the efficiency and ability of its Board and Officers, but upon the active interest and co-operation of all members. The year has seen many outstanding achievements and much progress, and reports upon these matters, as well as recommendations to be acted upon at this meeting will be of importance.

The Garden Course, under the Conservation Chairman, Mrs. Goodridge, will be announced as to dates and lecturers later, when the Chairman can arrange time and speakers to serve the best interests. For unforeseen reasons the meeting that was planned to open the Course for March 2nd, with Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb, had to be postponed.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Mrs. E. G. Swift is hostess for the C. L. S. C. on March 8th, when she opens her home at 25 Woodcliffe Rd., Newton Highlands. The study and discussion of Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra" draws to its conclusion at this meeting. Miss Mary E. Hyde, Miss Anna S. Thompson, Mrs. E. G. Swift and Mrs. Isaac Goddard have been the Committee in charge of this interesting and entertaining presentation of background and contest of the play.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

"Silk" with all its attendant beauty and possibilities, especially with the coming of spring and new frocks, and gay blossoming of fresh and attractive attire, is to be the appropriate and intriguing topic for the next meeting of the Monday Club. The meeting comes on Monday afternoon, March 8th, at the home of Mrs. Frank Frost, at 52 Erie Avenue. Mrs. George W. Barker, Mrs. W. R. K. Mick, and Mrs. H. J. Fewkes will read papers about the afternoon's subject, possibly make suggestions for their use in a spring wardrobe, and display samples.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday, March 9th, the Auburndale Review Club once more sets forth on its journey to South Africa. Fortnightly since Christmas, the trips being into the land as to country, as to achievements, as to history, as to geography, and as to records in fact and literature—a delightful way to visit a far country, while yet staying beside one's own hearthstone. The Club members will start upon their March 9th journey from the home of Miss Margaret Haskell, 5 Vista Avenue, under the personal conduct of three club members: Mrs. Ernest Drew will lead them into "History Since the Boer War," Miss Florence N. Bridgman into "Oliver Schreiner's 'Story of an African Farm,'" and Mrs. Frank F. (Continued on Page 11)

By virtue of and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by JOHN J. McGINNEY and M. GENEVIEVE McGINNEY, of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to SAMUEL E. WASSERMAN, of Boston, dated January 4, 1925, recorded with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 4954, Page 257, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage deed, on THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY OF MARCH, 1926, at 10:30 A. M. IN THE FORENOON, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in that part of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, called Newtonville and being numbered 38 and 40 Eddy Street and also being shown as lot numbered 5 on a plan of House Lots owned by F. R. and B. W. Vail, Newtonville, dated June 12, 1908, C. H. Gannett, Civil Engineer, recorded with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, at the end of book 3275, bounded and described as follows:—

WESTERLY by Eddy Street, fifty (50) feet;
NORTHERLY by lots numbered 2, 3 and 4 as shown on said plan, one hundred fifty-nine and 39/100 (159.39) feet;
EASTERLY by lot number 1 as shown on said plan, twenty (20) feet;
NORTHERLY again by lot numbered 1 as shown on said plan, fifteen (15) feet;
EASTERLY again by lot numbered 61 on said plan, twenty and 97/100 (20.97) feet;

SOUTHERLY by lot numbered 6 as shown on said plan, one hundred sixty-eight and 96/100 (168.96) feet, containing according to said plan about 7342 square feet of land more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Francis L. Buswell and Helen G. Buswell dated November 30, 1925 and duly recorded with the said Deeds.

This conveyance is made subject to a mortgage of $5700.00 to the Newton Savings Bank and to a second mortgage of $2400.00 to the Mortgage Investment Trust, dated November 30, 1925 respectively, and both duly recorded with the said registry of deeds.

The above described premises will be sold and conveyed subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles, and other municipal liens or assessments, if any there be, and also to the above mentioned mortgages and accrued interest if any.

Three Hundred ($300.00) dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale, at which time and place the other terms will be made known.

TEN PIVOTAL FIGURES IN HISTORY

"The University of the People," at your door, has added a new course to its curriculum, according to its director, Mr. Lucht. In other words, the Newton Free Library has received and is offering another reading course in the "Reading with a purpose" series being published by the American Library Association.

The new booklet is called "Ten Pivotal Figures of History," by Ambrose W. Vernon. This reading course sketches the lives of ten men who have profoundly influenced the course of world events, and tells the reader where to go for more about Alexander, Paul, Rousseau, Washington, and the others of the ten. "We promise," concludes the author, "that life will become both more intelligible and more mysterious, both more stirring and more baffling, more exhilarating and more sacred to all who make the intimate acquaintance of these dynamic characters of the human race."

"Biology," "English Literature" and "Some Great American Books" have also appeared in the series, and will be followed by others. The courses and the books they recommend may be borrowed at the Library. Paper-bound copies of the booklets may also be purchased or ordered at the said Library or at any of the Branch Libraries at a very reasonable price.

Waban

—Mr. William G. Brown has purchased the Hunt house on Pine Ridge road.

—Mr. Allen F. Jordan has bought the Argersinger property on Neshebe road.

—Mr. Harry Walker has recently returned from Bermuda and is spending the winter at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Newton Centre

—John H. Lesh has reopened his house at 955 Beacon street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harte of Chestnut Hill won the mixed doubles tennis championship recently at Palm Beach, Florida.

The illness of Mr. G. W. Reynolds has proved so serious that he has been obliged to give up his duties as Treasurer of the Congregational Church.

At the recent annual meeting of the Wesleyan Alumni Association of New England, Harold S. Travis, '20, was elected secretary and John Unleash and Frank W. Cawley were chosen as members of the executive committee. Judge Robert F. Raymond was one of the speakers.

In the campaign for a new Branch Library building at Newton Centre, it is interesting to note that the first contribution has come from the Newton Centre School Association, who have sent in their check for $100 towards the fund. No doubt other organizations, as well as individuals, will follow suit with contributions large or small, as their means permit, towards this project in which the entire community is vitally interested.

At the recent annual meeting of the First Church the following officers were elected: Deacons, C. Peter Clark, John J. Harman; Deaconesses, Mrs. C. S. Chapin, Mrs. W. D. Randall; clerk, John W. Duthie; treasurer, James H. Marsh; assistant treasurer, Matthew Skilton; auditor, Frederick C. Rising; standing committee, R. E. Anderson, Ernest W. Brigham; Prudential committee, Benjamin Adey, E. Farnum Rockwood, William J. Williams, and from the congregation, Fred L. Morgan, William H. Raye, Henry E. Whittemore; Music committee, S. W. Wilder, Ralph McLellan; committee on Missions, Herbert J. Kellaway, Rev. H. W. Cates, D. D. E. M. Noyes, Mrs. W. H. Greeley, G. Edwin Hill, Jr.

Auburndale

—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wells of Studio road have moved to Waban.

—Mr. Ernest L. Johnson of Ionia street is a director in the Boston Theatre Guild.

—Nelson M. Wells has closed his house at 35 Studio road for the rest of the winter.

—Mr. C. P. Rockwell of Aspen avenue has purchased the house on Studio road formerly owned by Mr. William Francis.

Newtonville

—Mr. Charles W. Leonard was re-elected a director at the recent annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers.

ARTICLE No. 19

A great many players seem to be in doubt as to whether or not they are justified in taking advantage of the personal element in auction. In other words, is it fair and within the ethics of the game to note and take advantage of the mannerisms or characteristics of your fellow players? The answer is simple. You are playing a game with three other people, your partner and two opponents, and it is not only allowable, but it is your duty to study them as carefully as you do your cards. The players in the game are just as important as the cards and should be studied and analyzed just as carefully. If you are playing with strangers, it is rather difficult to profit by such analysis, but when you are playing constantly with the same group you should take into account all of the characteristics of the different players, when bidding, playing the dummy or playing against the declarer. You can bid freely with one partner but must be conservative with another. You can take a chance against one opponent but must be very careful of being doubled with another. If one opponent does double, look out, for you are probably beaten; but if another doubles, figure on an extra trick or so. In the play of the hands, however, a little different point arises. It is not considered good form to hesitate or otherwise indicate by your method of play, that you do or do not hold certain cards. If a player becomes noted for doing this as a matter of habit, however, his opponents are certainly justified in taking due advantage. One player, for example, always gives a nervous cough when he holds the missing honor and the opponent leads through his hand. He has tried hard to cure himself of this habit but without success. As a result, his opponents play for this signal and nearly always get the necessary information. Another player has a habit of always redoubling when doubled. The word "double" seemed to call up in his mind the word "redouble" and he was helpless to refrain from saying it. Every player at the table has the same opportunity of drawing conclusions that you have, so be on the alert at all times for the human element. Bridge is a game of wits and the player who can best match his wits against the others is the winning player. On the other hand, always avoid unfair tactics, such as private conventions or signals. Unpremeditated slips or mannerisms should be taken advantage of but watch out for those that are made with the intention of deceiving. For example, if you have a singleton of the suit led, you should play it promptly and not hesitate. Hesitation in such a case would lead your opponent to believe that you have a choice of two or more cards and might influence his play to his disadvantage. Such tactics are not manners and are distinctly unfair. Play a game, man fashion, at all times.

One of the types of players that one meets very often is the player who always takes his partner's card and puts it into his hand.

that his partner has made a bad bid or he wouldn't have been doubled and that it is his duty to rescue him. Here are two hands that came up recently which are excellent examples of what not to do:

Hand No. 1
Hearts—7
Clubs—K, 8, 7, 5, 2
Diamonds—8, 3
Spades—Q, 10, 9, 5, 3

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid go-trump. A bid two hearts and Y doubled. B immediately got panicky and bid two spades which Z doubled. A now bid three hearts, Y doubled and all passed. A lost his contract by one trick so that if B had left the double alone, he and his partner would have won game and rubber. What B failed to consider was: First, that A must have a very strong hand to bid over one no-trump; and second, that if he wanted a spade bid, he would have doubled no-trump. Be on the look out for such hands and don't take your partner out of a bid just because it has been doubled. The following hand is an even worse example of what not to do:

Hand No. 2
Hearts—J, 10, 4, 3
Clubs—9, 7, 2
Diamonds—J, 10, 8, 7, 5, 3
Spades—none

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid three spades and A doubled. Y never hesitated a minute and promptly bid four diamonds. B doubled and defeated the contract 400 points while the three spade bid would have lost only 200 points less eight honors. This example is an extreme case perhaps, but is a fine illustration of what not to do.

Here is a peculiar hand, both in the bidding and play and an illustration of the great possibilities of apparently weak hands.

Y : Y B :
A : A B :
Z : Z B :

Hearts—9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 2
Clubs—7
Diamonds—K, J, 9, 7, 6, 4
Spades—none

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A bid one spade. Y passed and B bid two clubs. Z bid two hearts, A three clubs, Y three hearts and B four clubs. Z bid four hearts, A five clubs, Y doubled, B passed and Z bid five hearts, A doubled and all passed. A opened with the ace of clubs and then played the ace of spades which Z trumped. How should he play the play of the hand? An analysis of the play and the other three hands will be given in the next article.

To stop squeaks

Wherever a solid graphite surface lubricant is required, you'll find that Gulf Penetrating Oil "hits the spot."

To stop squeaks in your automobile body and springs, a few drops will work wonders. And it will not collect dust, or become sticky or gummy.

For loosening rusted nuts and bolts, couplings, valves, brakes, hinges or any other rusted mobile metal surfaces, Gulf Penetrating Oil is highly recommended.

Sold in pint, gallon and five gallon cans at hardware and auto accessory stores—also at service stations.

Davidson will gain them admittance into "Missions in South Africa." By way of further proof that they are experiencing the surroundings and customs of this distant continent, Mrs. Franklin Leland will play some African Melodies transcribed for the piano.

Social Science Club

On Wednesday morning the 10th, at 10 o'clock, the Social Science Club holds its regular weekly meeting at the Hunnewell Club parlors, when Mr. Frank R. Wright, Deputy Commissioner of Education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will be the speaker. His subject is to be "Democracy in Education." The program as given in the Year Book for the Club has had to be rearranged, so that members should not depend upon this for information, but consult the Club Column. Mrs. Merritt will give her paper later in the month, possibly on the 24th.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

The Boston Woman's Civics Club holds its next meeting at the town, also, at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, at 2.30 P. M. Mrs. S. L. Eaton, Vice President, will preside. Following the custom established by the President, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, of having at each meeting a Chairman of the State Federation to present the work of her department, so bringing the Club into closer touch with the Federation, Mrs. George L. Avery, of Framingham, the Public Health Chairman, will bring a message. In accordance with the request and proclamation of Governor Fuller that February 15th be observed as a tribute to Spanish War Veterans the Club had arranged a program that unfortunately had to be postponed at that time. This will be given at the next meeting. Patriotism will be combined with discussion of the World Court, and plans for world peace, which will be presented by Lucia Ames Mead, and a presentation of Military Training and its Advantages by Captain James J. Kelley, Military Instructor at the Brighton High School. The point debate will be more than an array of facts on each side of the case; it will be dignified to the height of tribute to valor and services of our men in the past. Mrs. Walter C. Dennison, Corresponding Secretary of the Club, and Mrs. S. L. Eaton are arranging the program, with Miss Emma D. Coolidge assisting, by reading a poem appropriate to the occasion.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Current Events is the topic for the enjoyment and information of Newton Centre Woman's Club members in their next gathering—March 11th, at 8.30 A. M. at their Club House. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole is conducting this Course, and there needs be no more said either by way of recommendation or by way of comment on the success and pleasure of the series.

The Art Room opens on the same date with an Exhibition of Paintings by Newton Artists, and another opportunity for pleasure and education in today's artistic methods is given to fortunate folk of Newton Centre by Mrs. John Bergeson, Art Chairman, who delights in securing for her fellow members such privileges. This Exhibit will remain for viewing for the week, from the 11th, through the 18th, inclusive.

On March 9th, "The Cotter's Saturday Night," given by professional players, is scheduled for presentation, at eight o'clock in the Club House. The story of the play is well-known, and this version is to be given by the Scottish Musical Comedy Company, composed of eminent Scottish players: Jeanne Hunter Kent, Contralto, Margaret Daniels, Soprano, Arthur Gould, Baritone, Daniel Ross, Bass, Victor Gilbert, and John E. Daniels, Tenors, and Alice Pillsbury Gilbert, Pianist. This entertainment for the edification of members and guests, and for improvement of the funds of the Club, in carrying forward their splendid business in their own Club House, is under the management of Mrs. E. H. Taylor as Chairman, and tickets may be secured from her. Tel. C. N. 1721-M.

Gardens are coming in for their attention, by wise and foresighted home lovers under the leadership of Robert Swan Sturtevant, for the first three Monday mornings of this month, the time being 10.30, at the Club House. "Planting in accordance with designs," is the special topic that will be stressed at the next class, on the 8th. For the one who is wondering what to plant in a special spot, or what will blend in to make a perfect whole for a corner of favorite grounds, this bit of advice will be eagerly awaited. Mr. Swan's first lecture took place on the first day of the month. Tickets for the course at a reasonable fee may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Wood Bond. Tel. C. N. 9323-M.

Newton Community Club

Whatever is best, or timely, or in proper vogue among the powers of clubdom, that will be found among the offerings of the Newton Community Club. Following the plans of the State Federation, and of that nearer home Federation, the Newton Civic Conservation Chairman, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, has arranged for a most attractive Garden Course. Those who have faith that spring is coming, and those who have determined to have this year at least a beginning of that garden of dreams, should obtain tickets at once for the Course. The opening lecture comes on the 12th, with others to follow on the 19th, and 26th of March, at Hunnewell Parlors, at 10.30 A. M. Lantern slides will add to the enjoyment, and stimulate ideas.

With all things planned for new flowering and blossoming without the home, there comes at the same opportunity moment plan for similar flowering in the way of "fine raiment" for club members themselves. Is there anything more fascinating to woman than the consideration and viewing of spring styles in all their colorful awakening, after cold, drab winter, that has left—for a space—such a bedraggled appearance to world and clothing? It is no wonder that with the awakening of the outer world's offerings, in their freshness, crispness, and beauty, that woman, too, delights to consider the freshening and newness of her own garments. And The Newton Community Club, being wise to this feminine characteristic, and wishing to be helpful to its members, has chosen for its next meeting to display to them a Fashion Show, which will be managed by Mrs. Prescott Warren. March 11th is the date, Underwood School Hall the place, and two-thirty the hour of this meeting. There will be ideas to be seized upon by some, examples to be coveted by many, and enjoyment to be derived by all, at this most popular of programs for a woman in the spring!

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

"Cymbeline" in what Acts II and III impart by way of drama, plot, beauty, characterization, basis of structure and use of situations and emotions, is the continued subject of the program for the Shakespeare Club at its next meeting, March 13th, Saturday. Mrs. F. S. Keith is in charge of the Quiz, and Mrs. A. L. Pratt, the Club President, opens her home at 67 Fisher Avenue for the meeting.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, A.M.D.D., at the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 26th, gave a very interesting talk on his subject: "Wonders of the Soul."

He said: "In the simple cottage in which I live with a Quaker family of Pennsylvania when a young minister, the flight of stairs I had to ascend to reach my room was dark, but after a few years when I returned for a visit to the cottage, I found that a window had been cut in the wall. The stairway was flooded with light because of the opening, and such a wonderful view of the outside was obtained." He likened our lives to four walls, and told of the possibilities to be gained by cutting windows in the blank four walls of our ignorance, so gaining knowledge of many things.

Through the south wall, culture, a vast amount of knowledge to be gained from the flowers, birds, rocks, the ocean, and the land.

Through the east could be obtained a glimpse of literature, the Romances of the Old World, English, French, and even our own American literature. Through the side wall, culture, institutions, schools, churches, and through the west wall, the arts, the glories of the setting sun, and all kinds of beauty, made to serve our needs.

The cottager who sits in this cottage of four blank walls may be one self content with just the small rays of light which come through the doorway, and one must fight against, and overcome apathy in one's life.

"Beyond our walls of ignorance are glorious vistas, ours for the taking, but above all there is to be obtained a glimpse of God, who is over all."

Mrs. Hugo Sharpe then sang most delightfully a group of three songs: "A Maiden Sings Alone," by Sibelius; "To the Son," by Curran; and "I Love a Little Cottage," by Geoffrey O'Hara. This last song was most appropriate to the occasion.

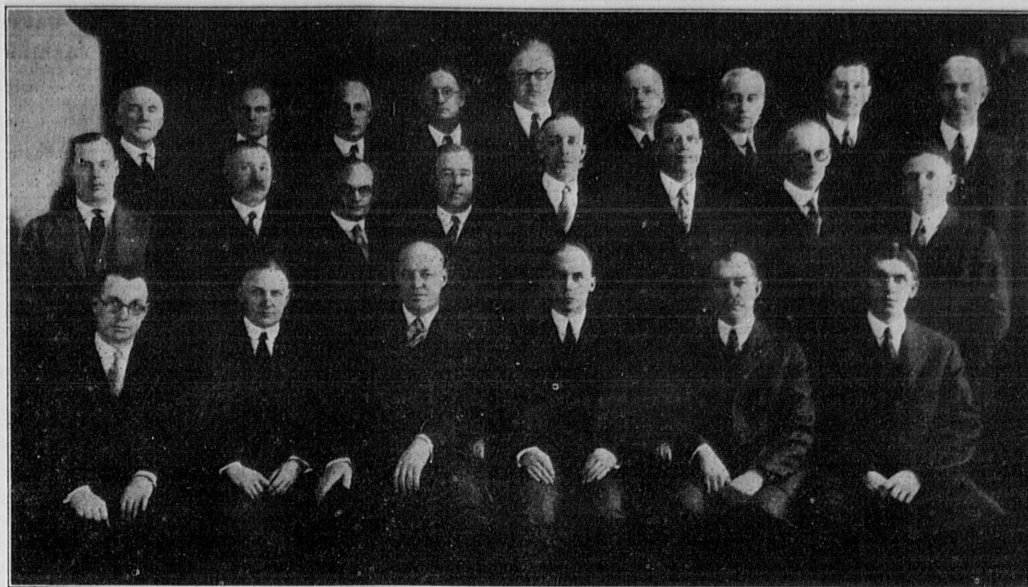

Newtonian Woman's Club

The annual meeting of the Newtonian Woman's Club has been postponed from April 20th to April 27th. Club members are requested to note this change of date.

Mrs. Sidney L. Sholley, Chairman of the Dramatics Committee, would like the names of members of the club, their husbands, sons, or daughters, who would take part in the spring play.

STATE SOCIETY D. R.

The Annual Meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, was held last Saturday, in the Augustus Gardner Auditorium, State House, Boston, where a most inspiring record of patriotic achievements and plans were unfolded. Many Newton women attended, in tribute to the honor that has come to their local Chapter, Sarah Hull, in selection for State service of several of their able members. There were about twenty who availed themselves of the privilege of casting their ballots for Mrs. Eva N. Fernald for State Regent, Mrs. Clara J. Gould for re-election as Treasurer, and for Mrs. Gertrude H. Whitney for Recording Secretary.

That Sarah Hull is marked as one of the leading Chapters, producing women of executive ability, parliamentary knowledge, and of logic, poise, and character, has been evidenced in this choice of three former officers of the local Chapter, on a list of thirteen names on this year's State ballot. In partial expression of admiration and pledged support, the Sarah Hull Chapter presented beautiful bouquets and baskets of flowers to the three women from their ranks. Mrs. Elmer Gibbs made the presentation speech.

An unfortunate and tragic circumstance was the inability of the State Regent, Mrs. Sarah G. Rowland of Everett, to preside at this the final day of her regime. Owing to the sudden death of Mr. Rowland on Friday evening, the Regent had to place in the hands of the Vice Regent the direction of the Annual Meeting. This happened to be the incoming Regent, and the sympathy and loyalty of all attending Daughters went out to her in the embarrassing position in which she was so unexpectedly placed. That Mrs. Fernald was equal to the emergency, and carried through the meeting with splendid presence of mind, and tact, need not be said. In the afternoon, therefore, after the report of the Chairman of Tellers, she had the unusual experience of announcing her own unanimous election. But it was to be regretted that she could not have had the introduction of the outgoing Regent and of receiving the tribute of flowers under more auspicious circumstances.

Reports of Officers. Communications from the State Council, Reports of Special Committees, and—in the afternoon—Reports of Regents proved most interesting and inspiring. Of note to Newton was the report of the activities of the Sarah Hull Chapter, written by its Regent, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, but read by the Vice Regent, Mrs. Edward Holliday Keach, owing to the absence of Mrs. Porter. Among the tellers chosen to serve were several Newton women, also, including Mrs. Pamela W. Agry, Mrs. Helen S. Ratcliffe, and Miss Emma D. Coolidge.

The members of Sarah Hull Chapter wish every good thing to come to the three women from their midst who, they know, will serve the State Society so able and loyally.

A GOOD MARKET

Despite the fact that New England began to buy automobiles more than twenty-five years ago and has been buying them steadily ever since, this part of the country continues to be one of the best markets in the United States. The people of the six New England states were among the first to adopt the motor vehicle, and in the early days a great many of the best cars were built here. Today some of the finest cars are of New England manufacture and the people own, according to the latest figures, a total of 1,292,488 motor vehicles. About half of these are in Massachusetts, which is credited with 651,203 cars and trucks. Connecticut is second with 247,900 and the other states, in order, are as follows: Maine, 140,134; Rhode Island, 102,476; New Hampshire, 81,222 and Vermont, 69,553.

New England possesses about 6 1/2 per cent of all the cars and trucks there are in the United States and, as a market, is holding its own against all other sections, although it has only about 2.2 of the area. The statisticians tell us that last year motor vehicles increased throughout the nation 13.3 per cent, ranging from a gain of over 35 per cent in Florida to under five per cent in Ohio, Utah and South Carolina. An examination of the figures for the New England states shows that their increase as a whole was almost exactly the national average, being between 13.2 and 13.3 percent. Thus as consumers of motor vehicles the Yankees are keeping up with the country.

There is no reason to believe that New England during the coming year will not continue to absorb as many motor vehicles relatively as in the past. No section of the country has better roads, in fact the entire territory of the six states is ribbed with first class highways. The people generally are prosperous and they have formed the habit of travelling by motor, which is the most flexible means of transportation that has yet been developed. The Boston Automobile Show will unquestionably again give the reassuring message that New England may be depended upon as one of the steadiest markets that exists for motor vehicles.

LARGE ESTATE SOLD

One of Newton's fine homes, located on 20 Beechcroft road, Newton, has been sold to P. J. Collins for Nancy P. Schafer. The property includes about 10,000 square feet of land and is valued at about $20,000. The purchaser will renovate and make it his home.

A new house and two-car garage located at 45 Walter street, Newton Centre, has been purchased by James R. Doherty from H. L. Ray. Mr. Doherty will occupy. The property is valued at about $12,000.

Four lots of land on Cedar road, Newton Centre, formerly owned by the Longyear Estate, have been transferred to the Sumner Real Estate Trust. This land adjoins the area purchased by the City of Newton for a new school site. The lots will be improved with two-family houses.

At 24 Chapin road, Newton Centre, a new Dutch Colonial of seven rooms and two baths has been sold for the Crescent Real Estate Trust to S. B. Holden. This property is not yet assessed but is valued at $15,000. The same property has recently been transferred from S. B. Holden to C. A. Hawthorn, who will occupy as a home. There is a fine lot which will be improved by a landscape architect.

E. H. Earnshaw, formerly of Hartford, Conn., has purchased a beautiful English type home at 227 Pleasant street, Newton Centre, belonging to Jess T. Melanson. This property, not yet assessed, is valued at about $18,000 and consists of seven rooms, two baths, two-car garage, and a large corner lot.

Alvord Bros. were the brokers in all the above transactions.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending February 20: Patients in hospital, 118; patients paying as much as cost of care or more, 56; patients paying less than cost of care, 33; free patients, including babies, 29; babies born, 9, boys 5, girls 4; patients treated by out patient department, 127; accident cases, 5; social service calls at hospital, 7; at homes, 4; patients transferred by social service car, 7.

Miss Bertha W. Allen, who is recovering from an operation, has been spending a few days with Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson, a graduate of the hospital training school, at her home on Brookside avenue in Newtonville.

Miss Allen has now gone to Atlantic City with a friend, where it is hoped the sea air and the absence of snow will bring about a complete recovery.

At Founders Washington's birthday was celebrated by the birth of a baby daughter to a mother who is a graduate of the hospital training school.

Through the thoughtfulness of one of the hospital's many friends five of the nurses enjoyed the musical festival at Symphony Hall Monday afternoon. Another friend sent to the children in the contagious ward two beautiful plants.

Last Friday evening the nurses and their friends enjoyed a dance at the Nurses' Home. The rooms were decorated with George Washington decorations.

There was an unexpected reunion at the hospital recently when three of the private patients discovered that as boys they had been friends and gone to school together up to the time they were fourteen years old. Since then they had not met until they discovered one another at the hospital. Their periods of convalescence were made shorter and more interesting by their reminiscences of the scrapes they had been in together in their boyhood days.

Twin boys were born at the hospital, on February 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tedesco of Auburndale.

Sunday night Miss Grahn and Miss Seelye who had been to the Northfield Conference of the Student Y. W. C. A., addressed the student body at the hospital and gave them a very interesting report of the conference.

NEWTON CENTRE LIBRARY

The following communication was received from Judge Elias B. Bishop by a member of the Newton Centre Library Committee:

I am glad to know that there is a movement on foot for the erection of a library building in Newton Centre, and we are fortunate that there are those who are willing to undertake the work of soliciting contributions, the selection of the site and the erection of a building.

Many years ago when the Branch Library was established on Pleasant street, it served the modest needs of a small village. Since then our population has more than trebled, the old quarters are cramped, and, as we look at things now-a-days, wholly unsuitable and extremely uncomfortable for study or for recreation.

One cannot enter the Boston Public Library, the Widener Library, at Cambridge, or the great New York Library on Forty-second Street without a reverence and a desire for the acquisition of knowledge, and this feeling comes to us in part because of the beauty of the buildings and their adaptability to the purposes for which they are designed.

Of course, such buildings would be out of place in Newton Centre, but we can and should have a building centrally located and adequate in its appointment for a modern library. Such a building would be a constant, urging invitation to enter and therein to seek the knowledge and the pleasure which comes from familiarity with our best literature.

Yours very truly,
ELIAS B. BISHOP.

SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Mr. Lucht, Librarian of the Newton Free Library, announces that another reading course in the series, "Reading with a Purpose," has been received at the local library. It gives an interesting survey of Sociology and Social Problems and recommends seven books covering the subject.

"The practical aspect of sociology," says the author, "is of great importance in the study of social problems, and in social work and social adjustment. The one social problem is, of course, that of people living well and happily together."

With this interpretation of the subject, scarcely anyone can deny an interest in it. Those in our community who covet a better understanding of this fascinating science and who want to know how to become what they want to be will profit from this reading course which the library has provided.

Other courses already mentioned and available at the library are "Biology," "Ears to Hear" (a guide to music lovers), "English Literature," "Ten Pivotal Figures of History" and "Some Great American Books." The courses are prepared by specialists in each field and published by the American Library Association, Chicago. Paper-bound copies of the booklets of each course may be purchased or ordered at the Main Library or at any of the Branch Libraries at a very reasonable price. There are also copies on file at the Libraries, which may be consulted there.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

The Annual Meeting and Dinner of the Newton Central Council will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, on Wednesday, March 10, at 6 P. M.

At eight o'clock, following the dinner, there will be an Open Meeting which the public is urged to attend. "First Things First in Our City's Program" will be the subject of informal talks by the Mayor and the President of the Board of Aldermen. There will be a practical discussion of matters which concern all Newton citizens into which all may enter by sending questions for the question box.

NEWTON LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

That living costs are increasing and will continue to increase because of the lack of consumers' consciousness was the contention of Mrs. Eva G. Osgood, Chairman of the Living Costs Committee of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters at a meeting of the Newton League of Women Voters held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. William H. Allen, 99 Kirkstall road, Newtonville.

"The manufacturers and the big interests have the feeling of the situation," said Mrs. Osgood. "Many of them are supporting fellowships in leading universities."

Mrs. Osgood predicted that soon the country would pay higher prices for butter because of the proposed higher tariff on butter.

The passing of the old time thrift Mrs. Osgood considers another of the causes of the higher cost of living.

Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, who represented the Newton League at a meeting of the Child Welfare Committee of the State League of Women Voters reported that each local league is urged to have a child welfare section.

Massachusetts is one of three states in the Union which do not have jury service for women, according to the report of Miss Lissette Henderson who represented the Newton League of Women Voters at the hearing before the Joint Judiciary Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The Blue Triangle Club enjoyed very much the Lenten talk given by Miss Leathers last Monday evening. Next Monday, the club is having an old fashioned dance, with Mr. Joseph Calvert, brother-in-law of Mr. Ford's dancing instructor, assisting with his violin and with Mrs. Calvert at the piano. The club feels very fortunate in having Mr. and Mrs. Calvert and is looking forward to this evening.

Miss Rosina C. Rathbone, of the Newton High School Staff, who has just become advisor of the High School Girl Reserves, will speak to them at their meeting tonight.

The monthly Board Meeting has been postponed from Wednesday, March 10th to Wednesday the 17th, because of the Finance Campaign, which is being held jointly with the Boston Young Women's Christian Association, from March 8th to 15th.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. D. R. Goodin and Mrs. A. E. Knight are the hostesses for the matinee auction bridge which the Commonwealth Country Club is giving on Monday, March 8, in behalf of the Fatherless Children of France. Mrs. Goodin and Mrs. Knight will be assisted by Meses. James F. Malone, F. H. Silliman, Frank C. Waterman, Jr., of Chestnut Hill; J. W. Lyman, H. H. Malven, Brighton; Fred L. Tompkins, Roger B. Tyler, Newton; and Misses Marie Bourneuf of Chestnut Hill, and Eleanor La Bonte, of Newton.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX

A representative of the Income Tax Division of the Internal Revenue Department will be at City Hall, West Newton, all day during office hours on March 11 and 12th to assist citizens in making out their tax returns and advising them regarding the new Federal tax law. Every single person with an income of $1500 or over and every married person with an income of $3500 or over and everyone having a gross income of over $5000 regardless of the net income, must file a return.

THE SALVATION ARMY

There will be an entertainment under the auspices of the Newton and West Newton W. C. T. U. in the Methodist Church at Newtonville on Tuesday evening, March 8th at 8.15 o'clock for the benefit of the Salvation Army. There will be a moving picture, four brass instruments and two musical prodigies.

POETRY MATINEE

Mrs. Henry L. Jewett, Miss Hope Ladd and Mr. Leighton Rollins are members of a committee which is arranging for a Poetry Matinee to be given next Friday afternoon at the Repertory Theatre, Boston.

SONG RECITAL

Eliot Church Auditorium was well filled on Wednesday evening, when a song recital under the auspices of the Woman's Association of the Eliot Congregational and the Newton Methodist Churches, was given by Mm.
Marie Sundelius, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co.

Madam Sundelius is a well-known opera singer of most pleasing personality. She was born in Sweden, but came to America in her youth and has received all of her musical education in this country. Marie Sundelius has a voice of rare loveliness both in the upper and lower range. Her selection of songs was most pleasing and included Italian, German, English and Swedish songs. It was in the latter group that she showed her mastery of the songs of her people and graciously responded to several en-cores which the large audience fervently called for. Mrs. Dudley T.

BRANCH LIBRARY

The residents of Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill have decided that they will no longer be satisfied with the inadequate facilities of their present library.

At a mass meeting held in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House last Monday evening enthusiastic approval was given of the plan presented by the Library Campaign Committee.

This plan contemplates the purchase of the large lot immediately adjoining the Woman's Club and the erection thereon of a beautiful brick and stone building thoroughly modern in every respect and fully equipped to adequately care for the needs of the community.

To cover the cost of the land and building, estimated at $60,000.00 a two weeks' drive is being launched on Monday, March 15th for subscriptions from the residents of Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill.

The enthusiastic support which the campaign committee is receiving indicates an early successful termination to the campaign.

The campaign is under the direction of the following committee: A. Oram Fulton, chairman; Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, vice-chairman; Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mr. Mahlon Bailey, Mr. Walter Worth, Mr. Ambrose Moriarty, Mr. Albert Scott, Mrs. George J. Murphy and Mr. Norman Pratt.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Newton Central Council and sent to the family of Mr. Angier.

Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, chairman of the Community Division, made a report in which she said, "Newton is not conspicuous for civic pride and spirit. Newton's school buildings are used but 10 per cent of the time; they should be used more by citizens for community purposes and the new junior high buildings should be constructed with consideration for such use."

Speaking for the Health Division of the Council, Dr. Murray P. Horwood said, "If people knew of the potentiality of the Central Council, it would receive their support to properly carry on its work."

Mrs. Palmer in telling of the work of the Welfare Division, related how the Council serves as a clearing house for charitable work, prevents duplication of donations and thus permits aid being rendered to more needy families. She referred briefly to different phases of the work done by the Welfare Division.

The members of the Council then adopted the new constitution of the organization which was substituted for the old constitution. The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer; Vice President, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell; Secretary, H. W. Bascom; Treasurer, John N. Eaton; Executive Committee, Grosvenor Calkins, Mrs. A. G. Hopkins, James Kingman, Gifford LeClear, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Mrs. Marcus Morton, Leon B. Rogers, Wickliffe J. Spaulding; Nominating Committee, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Mrs. Virginia Hutchinson, Albert M. Lyon, Dr. G. M. Winslow; Delegates, Mrs. Virginia Hutchinson, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow, Horace W. Orr, Dr. G. M. Winslow.

Mrs. Palmer in accepting the office, said, "The presidency of the Central Council is a man's job. I accept it simply as a tie-over work until a man can be found who has the time, interest and ability to take the position."

She explained that the Central Council makes little noise in accomplishing its work, and that it is very necessary in a city so scattered as is Newton.

Mr. Rogers then introduced the other officers of the Council, and prefatory to introducing the few aldermen present said, "Too few residents of Newton are acquainted with their aldermen. We elect them to serve us at City Hall, and then forget all about them."

He then introduced Aldermen Baker, Pitts, Heathcote and Bail. Alderman Hawkins, who had been present, had departed to attend a committee meeting at City Hall. Mr. Rogers remarked that invitations had been extended to all the aldermen to attend, but that few had the courage to show up.

Under the direction of Rev. Earl E. Harper, there was singing of a number of patriotic and oldtime melodies. Rev. Mr. Harper urged more community singing as a big factor in improving morale. He said that orchestras and choral societies are as necessary as factories and commercial establishments.

Mr. Rogers next announced that the annual meeting and dinner of the Newton Central Council was held on Wednesday evening at the Newton Centre Women's Club House. Following the dinner, President Leon B. Rogers called the annual meeting to order and the report of the previous meeting was read by Secretary Bascom.

Mr. Rogers paid a tribute to the late George M. Angier, saying, "He did more than any one man for welfare work in Newton." He was followed by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, who eulogized Mr. Angier, and who quoted his widow as saying "that the finest memorial to Mr. Angier will be the carrying on of the work of the Newton Central Council. Resolutions were read and adopted praising the assistance given to the Council by Mr. Angier, as follows:

Resolved, that in the death of Mr. George M. Angier the Newton Central Council has suffered an irreparable loss. It is to the far vision, the indomitable energy, and the steadfast purpose of Mr. Angier that the Newton Central Council is largely due, and in its counsels he will be sorely missed.

SOME OF OUR CIVIC PROBLEMS

Furnish Grounds for Lively and Interesting Discussion at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Central Council held at Newton Centre on Wednesday gathering would assume the character of a New England town meeting, which he termed the "Greatest Show on Earth."

He said "Newton is unfortunate in not having a daily paper to inform us what is going on at City Hall."

He urged those present to attend the aldermanic meetings at City Hall, which are open to the public. He said, "There are demands for playgrounds, pure water, schools on every corner and many other things. All these cost money. No one is better qualified to tell about them than Mayor Childs."

Mr. Rogers called upon the Mayor Childs said "I am pleased to speak to the members of the Newton Central Council, for I know I will find here people who ring true and who are perfectly sane."

He remarked that one would travel a long way to find a city with people of higher standards than in Newton. They demand service. He cited the case of one woman who asked the men on the ash truck to put the empty ash barrels back in the cellar of her house, and then requested them to clean the cellar stairs. Newton, according to the Mayor, always has got something for money expended, always has had honest governments, always has met problems arising and always will. He said, "What people demand, they are willing to pay for. Everyone who comes to City Hall, wants something. Newton does not indulge in extravagance. It demands $1 worth of service for every dollar spent."

Newton's problems are common to every municipality. Public needs should be promptly and properly met. We should maintain properly what we already have and meet new construction needs promptly. We are in good financial condition. Our outstanding need is more and better schools. Schools make better citizens and Americans. We need a better brand of citizenship. Every request from the School Board has been met. We should look ahead for 10 years in providing new schools; in addition to the new Junior High school at West Newton, another junior high must be built on the South Side and an elementary school at Chestnut Hill. From an educational viewpoint it is preferable to build the South Side Junior High first, but personally I think the school at Chestnut Hill should come first in fairness to the little children there. More accommodations are needed in the Nonantum district. Construction has existed there for years. Two portable schools have been in use there longer than in any section of the city. If such a condition existed in any other part of the city, the women's clubs would compel action. One class room is in the basement of the Stearns School. The people of Nonantum are long suffering, patient and kind; they are entitled to consideration. An addition should be built at once at the Stearns School."

The Mayor also mentioned conditions at the Lincoln, Hamilton, Oak Hill and Thompsonville schools and advocated equal treatment for all parts of the city. He predicted that at least five new schools must be erected during the next ten years. He alluded to the havoc being wrought on our streets by heavy auto trucks and told that the only permanent relief will be from laying permanent pavements which cost $50,000 a mile. He again advocated the use of the old quarry off Lowell avenue as a playground for that part of the city; the reclaiming of Dolan swamp for playground purposes at West Newton and the purchase of land for similar purposes at Oak Hill and Thompsonville. Edmands park also came in for attention in the Mayor's remarks. "Few realize," he said, "the value of this gift of the Edmands brothers. It will be more appreciated 25 or 30 years from now." Other needs

Mr. Winthrop Packard of the Audubon Society was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association, which was held in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, West Newton, on Wednesday evening of this week.

About fifty officers from the different troops in the city attended the meeting and greatly enjoyed Mr. Packard's talk as well as the beautiful colored pictures which were shown on the screen.

This talk being given in West Newton for Troop XV by Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Board of Health, and Mr. Hermann, superintendent of the Playgrounds. This course offers an exceptional opportunity to the scouts to learn much that is done here in Newton in regard to "safeguards of health" and building up health and recreational programs.

The course has been opened to scouts in all of the Senior Troops and girls from five different Troops are attending it.

The Scout movie will be given Saturday, March 20, at 10 A. M. The Connecticut Yankee has not been shown in Newton. Here is a splendid opportunity of seeing this fine picture and helping a good cause at the same time. Mr. Sumner has turned the theatre over to the Scouts for that morning and with the exception of the "operator," they will manage the whole entertainment from the box office to clearing up afterwards. This will mean fewer expenses and more money for the cause. We are very grateful to Mr. Sumner and to the other friends who are so generously than the other.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The annual spring concert of the Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc., next Tuesday evening, will be an affair of particular local interest, because the club will be assisted by three well-known Newton musicians.

Miss Dai Buell, a pianist of international reputation, will be the soloist of the evening. Inasmuch as this will be Miss Buell's first public appearance in the Newtons for several months, the occasion is anticipated with interest by her large local following. Her program will include a variety of numbers.

The program will be further augmented by Miss Mary A. Clark, harpist. Miss Clark, who is a student of Holy of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, has received a great deal of favorable notice during the past season and is recognized as an artist of great potentialities.

The fact that this concert is to be held in the Newton Centre Baptist Church makes it possible to utilize the fine organ as an accompaniment to the vocal numbers, and in this capacity the club will be assisted by Mr. Edgar J. Smith, organist. Mr. Smith is a charter member of the Highland Glee Club and was its first conductor. His participation in the program gives assurance of an unusually fine concert.

The chorus numbers by the Glee Club have been selected with care and cover a wide range of presentations, from such delicately beautiful numbers as "Dreamworld" by Duparc-Harling and "Love" by Schubert, to Kipling's stirring "Route Marching" and "Drake's Drum" by Coleridge-Taylor. The Club will undoubtedly be heard at its best in this concert.

More Fortunate Individual. One man may come into a fortune, while other men work for a lifetime to create a competence for old age. Yet the man who makes himself financially independent is more fortunate than the other.

ELLISON ELECTED CAPTAIN

William P. Ellison, Harvard '27, was elected captain of the Harvard varsity hockey team for the 1927 season Tuesday afternoon. Ellison is a junior, 22 years of age, and lives at 48 Sargent street, Newton. He played the defense on this year's Harvard sextet, which won the intercollegiate championship. The election of Ellison as captain means that Harvard will be led next season by a Newton product for the fourth time in six years. George Owen, captain in 1922 and 1923, and Edgar Crosby, the 1924 leader, were Newton boys, and like Ellison, were defense players. His election also means that two of the major sports at Harvard next season will be captained by Newton boys, as Clement Coady is the captain-elect of football.

Ellison is regarded as one of the fastest skaters on the Crimson squad, and although he weighed but 162 pounds, which is light, as Harvard defense players go, he was exceedingly aggressive. He was not eligible for hockey at the start of the season, but joined the squad after mid-years and bolstered up the team for its objective games. Hockey is not the only sport in which the Newton boy participates, as he won his letter last spring in baseball. Last fall he reported for football, but he was forced to give it up because of failure in a language requirement. By diligent effort he regained his good standing at mid-years and immediately won his place on the hockey team. He prepared for college at Andover and is expected to win a place on the football eleven next fall, as he is one of the best punters in college.

Harvard's hockey outlook for next season is exceedingly promising, as only three first string men will be lost by graduation. Larry Pratt, a West Newton boy and one of the star hockey players on the Crimson sextet, will graduate. However, Harvard will have Clement Coady and Courtlandt Gross, both among the foremost of college hockey players, and both local boys, in addition to several other members of this year's squad, in an endeavor to retain the collegiate ice title.

NEWTON BOY WITH BRAVES

William P. Cronin of West Newton, a former Newton High school catcher, is making a strong bid for the third-string catchers' berth on the Boston Braves National league baseball team. Newton fans are watching the reports from St. Petersburg, where the Southern training camp of the team is located, with considerable interest. It would not be surprising to many if he came north as a member of the Tribe instead of being sent to the Eastern Providence club of the Eastern league, which is the Braves' "farm." Bill, or "Crungy" as he is known to his friends, is a son of Timothy Cronin of the Newton police department and is one of the best catchers that Allie Dickinson ever turned out on Clifton field. He graduated from Newton High in 1923 and since leaving school has played with the Falmouth Town Team and the Worcester Club of the Eastern League. While in high school he caught Howard Whitmore, now a freshman at Harvard, and they were chosen as the intercollegiate battery of the mythical newspaper teams.

In 1924 Cronin was scouted by Charles Farrell, one of the greatest catchers in the game, at Falmouth, and after the game told him to go to Braves field. There he showed enough promise to warrant his being sent to Worcester. Last season he caught 77 games in the minor circuit and made a creditable record. He is not very big and is still quite young, but he has the kind of spirit that counts for success in professional baseball. Manager Bancroft, in speaking of the West Newton boy says, "He's a great little catch prospect."

NEWTON Y WINS

In the next to the last game of the season Wednesday night in the Two-State Basketball League, Newton Y. M. C. A. met and defeated Everett Y. M. C. A. at Newton, 24 to 13. Brimblecom scored twelve of Newton's twenty-four points, with Shields, Rae, and Coady scoring the remainder. Lawson, Everett's center, scored ten of the thirteen points scored against Newton. On March 24th Newton plays its final game of the season, meeting Worcester "Y" at Newton. With one more game to be played, Newton has won nine games and lost ten, while the seconds have split even, winning and losing eight games.

Saturday night at Boston, Newton Y. M. C. A. first and second basketball teams lost to Boston Y. M. C. A. in a Two-State League against the first team 52 to 20, and the seconds to the Boston "Y" Dormitory Team, 14 to 9.

ATHLETIC CONTEST

The five potato race, the next to the last event in the all around Athletic Contest being conducted in the boys' gymnasium classes of the Newton Y. M. C. A., has been run off with the following results:

Class A (Under 110 lbs.)—E. Webster, 26 2-5 seconds; W. Fleming, 26 4-5 seconds; L. Cousins, 27 1-5 seconds; E. Clark, 27 3-5 seconds; W. Lockhart, 27 4-5 seconds.

Class B (110 lbs. and over)—W. Pearce, 26 1-5 seconds; T. Milmo, 26 3-5 seconds; J. Spalding, 26 4-5 seconds; G. Dyer, 27 seconds; G. Moonjy, 27 2-5 seconds.

SPORT NOTES

The Suburban League baseball season will open on April 19th. The Newton high team will play Cambridge Latin at Russell Field, Cambridge.

Wednesday afternoon after the game between Melrose and Stoneham high hockey teams at the Arena which the former won, 2 to 0, it was decided by officials of the interscholastic hockey league and of Newton, Cambridge and Melrose teams, that there would be no playoff to dissolve the triple tie between Newton, Melrose and Cambridge. Instead each team will hold a third of the championship.

Curtis M. Hutchins of Waverley avenue, Newton, was awarded his letter this week at Williams college for excellency in athletics.

Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed in hockey circles at the officiating in the round robin series of the interscholastic league hockey games at the Arena.

Howard Whitmore, former Newton high pitching ace, is expected to shine on the Harvard freshman staff this Spring.

The Newton high school relay team picked up one point in the State meet at the East Armory last Saturday. The Newton quartet, consisting of Ramsden, Stuart, Kollymer, and Cummings, placed second in its heat with Brockton, Mechanic Arts, and Commerce with the first named taking first place. The single point placed Newton 10th in the Class A standing.

Bill Phelps placed third in the 40-yard swim in the Williams-Amherst swimming meet Saturday, which the former won 22-30, thereby annexing the "Little Three" championship.

The Boston Y basketball team defeated the local Y quintet 52 to 20 Saturday night on the Boston court. Shields and McGilivray scored eleven points of the Newton team's twenty points.

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS SURPRISE

Cambridge High and Latin school hockey team sprang the biggest surprise of the winter in scholastic hockey Friday night when it sent Newton High down to a 3 to 1 defeat in one of the most brilliant of schoolboy contests ever seen at the Arena. The local sextet forced the Cantabs into two five-minute overtime periods besides three regular twelve-minute sessions before accepting defeat. Newton would have won the interscholastic title if it had won but its defeat and the defeat of Stoneham by Melrose Wednesday of this week brought about a triple tie between Newton, Melrose and Cambridge.

Cambridge won because it outgott the local boys. The orange and black had all the better of the play in the first two periods but the superb playing of Leon Fitzgerald at goal for the Cantabs held them at bay. Time and again Frank Spain, John Proctor, and Capt. Guy Holbrook came down the rink with the puck only to have Fitzgerald turn it aside.

The first goal came in the third period when Gibson, Cambridge left defense, shot the puck from center ice and it flashed past Thompson before he realized that it was there. With about a minute to play Holbrook passed to Andres and the latter drove home the tying point.

The Cantabs took the lead in the first overtime session when Temple, right wing, caged the puck after receiving it on a pass from Harlow. In the second overtime session Gibson scored the final point.

The summary: CAMBRIDGE LATIN—Temple, rw; Harlow, c; Horan, Gibson, lw; Kerr, rd; Gibson, ld; McGowan, g. NEWTON HIGH—Spain, Powers, lw; Holbrook, c; Stubbs, Whitmore, Andres, ld; J. Proctor, rd; Thompson, g.

Score, Cambridge Latin 3, Newton High 1. Goals, made by Gibson 2, Temple, 1, Andres, Referees, Stewart and Collins. Time, three 12 and two 5m periods.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. Joseph W. Bacon, a well known former resident of Newton, died suddenly on Tuesday at his home in Essex, Mass. Mr. Bacon was born in Essex, 74 years ago, and was the son of the Rev. James Munroe Bacon of that town. For many years he was connected with the First National Bank of Newton and later with the Newton Trust Company as cashier. For the past sixteen years he has made his home in Essex. He married Miss Ida Stone, of West Newton, who died some years ago. He was a member of Eliot church and the Rev. R. A. Euden of that church will officiate at the funeral services to be held this afternoon at the home of his brother, Mr. Herbert M. Bacon on Fairview street, Newton.

E. WARREN FOOTE

E. Warren Foote, formerly of Newton Centre and Cambridge, died at the Huntington Memorial Hospital Wednesday after a brief illness. Up to the time of his retirement from active business in 1910, he was officially connected for many years with the State Street Trust Company, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and Emmanuel Church.

In recent years he lived at his former summer home at West Tisbury, on Martha's Vineyard. He is survived by his widow, Julia Cleveland Foote, and four sons, Warren, Cleveland Foote of New Bedford, Richard Whitler Foote of Boston, Charles Lincoln Foote of Concord and Robert Foote of Portland Me. Private services will be held at Mount Auburn Chapel on Saturday.

DEATH OF MRS. REID

Mrs. Mary I. Reid, the widow of the late Henry G. Reid, died Wednesday at the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Reid has been in failing health for some time, but became seriously ill last Friday and was operated upon Saturday. She was 55 years of age and is survived by three sons and two daughters, Donald, Robert, and the Misses Eleanor and Margaret Reid of Newton and Clark Reid of Waltham.

CITY HALL

HIS REMEDY FOR INSOMNIA

Won't Be Found in Any Medical Work, but It Was Satisfactory in This Physician's Case.

The first three doctors to arrive for a meeting of the Medical society's directors were a general practitioner, a surgeon and a specialist in curative psychology.

The talk fell to insomnia as they whiled away the waiting and, as doctors will, they came at last to their own experiences.

"I stick to the old reliable formula when I can't sleep—I count sheep," said the general practitioner. "I've counted millions. It doesn't seem to work very well, but nothing does."

"As for me," said the surgeon, "I try to see myself climbing a mountain that never ends. I've never come to the top because I keep it up till I either go to sleep or have to get up for breakfast. But maybe—" and he turned to the third—"maybe psychiatry has something more certain than that."

The psychiatrist grinned through his distinguished gray beard. "Well," he said, "I can't give any definite formula, but I'll tell you the prescription I follow myself. Wakefulness at night is such a waste I cut it as short as possible, and in extremity I find my method works—with me."

"Yes?" "Now, don't laugh. But what I do is simply this: I sing to myself. I sing 'Go to Sleep my Little Pickaninny.' Just keep it up and it does the work. But for heaven's sake don't say I told you."—New York Sun.

NAVY'S PANCAKE HAT TO GO

Extensive Changes Also May Be Made in Other Details of the Sailor's Uniform.

Although the details have not as yet been worked out or in fact agreed to, in all probability there will be some important changes in the uniform for the enlisted men of the navy. It is understood that Secretary Denby, as well as the higher ranking officers in the Navy department, has taken an interest in the subject. There is a general agreement among the authorities that there should be some changes in the regulations as well as in the cut of the uniform of the navy enlisted personnel. A change in the petty officers first-class uniform has now been practically approved.

As for the bluejackets, there is a diversity of opinions even among those who are urging a change. There is considerable support for a proposition to give the bluejacket a different and dressier uniform to be worn while on duty or on leave ashore. A uniform for the bluejackets with a cap like a commissary steward with long trousers and a double-breasted coat is being well received. This uniform would have gun-metal buttons and would be worn with a white shirt. The cut of the trousers would approach that of the civilian.

Every recommendation or letter that has been received in the Navy department is adverse to the present flat hat for bluejackets. There is no doubt that it will go and the enlisted men will be given a new cap.—Army and Navy Journal.

Less Noise; More Efficiency.

Nerve-racking noises should be eliminated through scientific study and development of new appliances, as a means to keep down the high cost of living, President Charles Russ Richards of Lehigh university said. "Scientists should study means to eliminate noises, especially in big industrial plants, and should design apparatus for the purpose," Doctor Richards said. "Workmen's efficiency cannot but be impaired by the increase in noises to which they are subjected with the increasing complexity of civilization."

"Improved production is the only means whereby costs can be reduced. In these days of high-priced raw materials and high-priced labor, and certainly more efficient workers mean improved production."—Science Service.

Or Go Insane.

"Sam," asked his good wife, "when you come home tonight will you bring a dozen eggs?"

"Yes, my dear. What are eggs selling at—80 cents a dozen?"

"Oh, no, they haven't been that high for a long time. They are now selling around 35 cents. I remember when they sold for 12 cents a dozen. Wouldn't you like to see them at that price again?"

"Well," replied her husband, "not too suddenly."

"What on earth do you mean?"

"It would be dangerous. If any dealer today put eggs on sale at 12 cents a dozen, many worthy people might drop dead."

Forest Protection Week.

The idea of a Forest Protection week originated in the heavily timbered states of the Pacific Northwest in 1920. It proved to be so popular and such a widespread demand for its observance sprung up in all sections of the country that President Harding made it a national affair in 1921 by issuing a proclamation. It has been observed nationally each year since then. It has no official connection with Arbor day though in many states Arbor day happens to fall within Forest Protection week. Also the same people and organizations interested in Arbor day are usually interested in Forest protection.

WE CALL FOR BAGGAGE CHECKS

BOY SCOUT WEEK

The following appeal has been made by the officers and members of the Finance Committee of Norumbega Council.

Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, will address the people of Newton during the week of March 14-21, asking their financial support of the Scouts' budget for this year. They ask for generous response to this appeal, and already they are assured the earnest co-operation of the Rotary Club of Newton in "Service to others" to assist the Council's canvass for funds.

May we ask Newton citizens to heed this request, and to contribute to our solicitors, or send funds directly to Wm. T. Halliday, treasurer of Norumbega Council, care of Newton Trust Co.

Think well of the boys of Newton awaiting the Scouts' training, who have no distrust of the forthcoming of that so much needed generosity of the people of Newton to make their dreams of future Newton manhood and citizenship come true.

Wm. S. Radway, President; John H. Eddy, Edw. R. Kimball, F. Ashley Day, Grosvenor D. W. Marcy, Edw. C. McLean, Chas. E. Valentine, and Stephen H. Whidden, Chairman, members of Finance Committee.

DEATH OF MR. PEARSON

Mr. William Henry Pearson, a resident of West Newton for the past ten years, died last Monday at his home on Otis street at the age of 93 years.

Mr. Pearson was a pioneer in the shoe industry of Massachusetts and prominent thruout a long life in religious, civic, fraternal and patriotic activities, and notwithstanding his advanced age retained a remarkable degree his general health and mental vigor.

While Mr. Pearson was identified with the business life of Boston for over sixty-five years, he was born at Lancaster, N. H., July 31, 1832. He was the son of William and Lucinda Maria (Greenleaf) Pearson and was descended in the seventh generation from John Pearson of Lynn and Reading, Massachusetts, who was settled in Massachusetts in 1637. His ancestors gave distinguished services in the Colonial and Revolutionary Wars. His late wife, née Nancy Delia Benjamin, was also of the seventh generation in America and her forebears, as in the case of Mr. Pearson, served the Colonies and the American Revolution in high civil and military capacities.

Mr. Pearson was employed as a boy in a shoe store on Hanover street, at that time the principal street for retail trade in the city. He soon became partner and proprietor of the same establishment. The firm name was Appleton and Pearson. Later, Mr. Pearson purchased the retail shoe business of H. N. Jenkins and established the firm of W. H. Pearson and Company, the store being located on Washington street, near West street. Later, he formed a partnership with Col. William T. Grammer, of the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment. They maintained a factory at Woburn, Mass., as well as conducting the retail establishment in Boston. Mr. Pearson afterwards became sole owner of the business. On the occasion of Temple place being extended through to Washington street a building suited to the particular needs of the business was built. The firm name was Appleton and Pearson. Later, Mr. Pearson purchased the retail shoe business of H. N. Jenkins and established the firm of W. H. Pearson and Company, the store being located on Washington street, near West street.

Later, Mr. Pearson purchased the retail shoe business of H. N. Jenkins and established the firm of W. H. Pearson and Company, the store being located on Washington street, near West street.

Mr. Pearson introduced to the trade the leather known as Donagold kid. He also conducted a factory at Lynn, Mass. The last twenty-five years of his business life he was Deputy Collector of the city of Boston and for most of that period his district embraced a large portion of the business section of the city, including City Hall and State street. He retired to private life on his eightieth birthday, the occasion being marked by a splendid testimonial on the part of his associates. He purchased a residence on West Newton Hill, where he has since lived.

He was for many years active in charitable, church and fraternal circles and gave largely of his time and means to these worthy ends. He was for many years a Trustee of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association and brought about a large increase in their Charity Fund. He was a member of the old Mercantile Library Association, which was a potent factor in the political and social life of Boston.

Mr. Pearson was one of the oldest Odd Fellows in New England. He had a personal acquaintance with the Founder of the Order and with all of the associates of Mr. Wiley. He was a member of the Order for more than seventy years, was its Grand Representative at national gatherings, was Grand Patriarch, and held many official positions in the Order. He was trustee and custodian of many of the funds of the Order devoted to particular purposes and administered them for many years.

Mr. Pearson was a member of many of the patriotic societies of Massachusetts, including the Sons of the American Revolution, of which society he was a founder and a member of the First Board of Managers. Mr. Pearson was actively associated with the gift of the Society, known as the Massachusetts Bay in the Month of Col-vicinity in recent years.

ones, of the Washington Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, dedicated in June, 1909. The personal gift of Mr. Pearson to this memorial was the President's Pew in the Chapel. It was a gift in memory of his parents. The Screen of the President's Pew was the personal gift of Mrs. Pearson. He belonged to the Society of Colonial Wars.

Mr. Pearson was of the group who organized the Bowdoin Baseball Club, which was afterwards merged with the Lowell Baseball Club, under the captaincy of John A. Lowell, the old-time engraver. This club was the outgrowth of a custom among the boys who were at school or who were at work, prior to 1859, of playing baseball on Boston Common. The games often taking place in the early morning so as not to interfere with the duties of the boys who were at school or who were at work. This interest in baseball, of that day, was a forerunner of the present national sport.

Mr. Pearson was a member of the Unitarian faith and a constant church attendant.

He is survived by his son, Mr. Arthur Emmons Pearson, and his daughter, Miss Nella Jane Pearson. Funeral services were held at nine late home on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Paul S. Phalen, minister of the West Newton Unitarian Church officiating. A double male quartet under the direction of E. Rupert Siroom, organist and choir master of the West Newton parish, rendered the chants and hymns. Burial was in the family lot at Forest Hills Cemetery.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in hospital 117, patients paying as much as cost of care or more, 53, patients paying less than cost of care 35, free patients including babies, 29, babies born 9 (6 girls and 3 boys), patients treated by out-patient department 126, patients treated at eye clinic 8, accident cases 10, social service calls at hospital 9, at homes 9, patients transferred by social service car 3.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer gave an interesting talk to the Newton Nurses' Alumnae. Her subject was "Busy Idleness."

The hospital has received gifts of magazines and flowers from several friends.

Dennison Ward has been given a framed picture of Mrs. Coolidge in the children's ward of the Washington Hospital. It was given to Dr. Cecil Clark for the children's ward by Mr. Frank W. Stearns.

There have been many helpers in the surgical supply room, but none more anxious to help than little Mary Howard, seven years old, who has spent several hours folding gauze.

POLICE NEWS

James Sheehan of 1254 Washington street was awarded $35 by Judge Weston for damage done to his automobile by the car of Mrs. Marie Fenton of 390 Waltham street, in a collision which occurred at the corner of Lowell avenue and Otis street.

George E. Brown of Bowers street was in court Saturday morning charged with making an illegal sale of liquor. He was arrested Friday night by Sergeant Moran and Officer Reagan. The police claim he sold some intoxicating liquor to the latter in the Oak Hill district. Reagan was in civilian clothes and had followed Brown in his auto. The case was continued for a week.

Roy Collins was fined $100 in court Saturday for driving his auto after his license had been revoked. He was arrested by Inspector Doyle of the State Highway Department, who trailed him from Boston. This Roy Collins was not the genial alderman from Ward 2; he resides on Waverley street, Roxbury.

DEATH OF MR. NEWTON

Mr. William H. A. Newton, for nearly four years a resident of the Chestnut Hill section of Newton, died Sunday at his home, 41 Commonwealth avenue. He was sixty-two years of age, and was a native of North Brookfield, the son of William and Lydia (Deming) Newton. Mr. Newton conducted drug stores at Walpole, Everett and Boston and for twenty years was the New England representative for the Perdue Fredrickson and Co. of Malden. He was a member of the Malden Lodge of Elks, a member of the Malden Club, and of the Malden Universalist Church, and of the men's club of that society. He is survived by his widow, and a son, Captain Raymond L. Newton of Brookline.

A RARE OCCURRENCE

A five-year-old mare on Maple Hill farm in West Newton foaled twin colts yesterday. Maple Hill farm is owned by Frank B. Hopewell. Both mare and the "twins" were reported doing finely.

Dr. R. H. Schneider, resident veterinarian at the Angell Memorial Hospital, states that twin colts are very rare. He could recall, off-hand, no similar case, and certainly none in Massachusetts Bay in the Month of Col-vicinity in recent years.

GOOD NEWS

Nine Extra Years of Life

HEALTH is improving—disease is decreasing—life is lengthening. You and your family have a better chance to live long and happily than people ever had before in the history of the world.

Splendid gains have been made in the United States and Canada within the last thirteen years. Stated in an insurance man's language, five years have been added to the average expectation of life.

But more encouraging—in the same period, nearly nine years were added to the life expectation of Metropolitan Industrial Policyholders—a gain, over the general average, of four extra years.

How was this done?—Largely through the inspiring work of our Metropolitan men and women. They sent trained nurses to the homes of millions of sick Policyholders. They fought disease and taught the well how to keep well.

Your Health in 1926

Use the helps offered by medical science to prevent disease. You need never fear typhoid. Inoculation will prevent it. Your children need never have diphtheria. Toxin-antitoxin treatments will safeguard them. Smallpox will not touch your family if all are vaccinated when necessary. One by one, dread diseases are being conquered. In ten years the tuberculosis death rate has been reduced more than one-half. Five years ago the diphtheria death rate alone was higher than that today for diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough combined.

Send for a Life Table

Have you ever seen the figures shown in Life Tables that tell the average life expectations for each age? While these tables may not apply to you individually, they do apply to the composite you—you and all the other tens of thousands at your age.

Send for a Life Table so that you may see how many years it allots to persons of your age. It will be mailed free on request together with a list of many free booklets prepared by the Metropolitan, covering the cause and prevention of almost every disease by which you are threatened.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company cordially invites all of its friends and neighbors to share and use the knowledge that is conquering disease and building longer, happier lives.

ARTICLE No. 20

One of the most difficult points of auction bridge, as well as one of the most interesting, is the proper bidding of a two-suited hand; that is, a hand that contains two suits of at least five cards each. It is the strongest hand that can be held if played at the best suit of the combined hands. Such a hand is considered, on the average, one trick better than the usual suit bid, and at least two tricks better than a no-trump bid. This fact shows the importance of the proper bidding of such hands, in order to arrive at the best bid of the combined hands. As dealer, or before partner has bid, if your hand is a "two suiter," try for the opportunity to bid both suits, provided, of course, they are sufficiently strong to warrant an original or forced bid. As a general rule, bid the higher valued suit first, provided it contains sufficient strength to warrant the bid. If not, bid the lower valued suit, and show the higher valued suit on second or subsequent round. In the same way, always prefer, if possible, the major suit to the minor.

The following hands illustrate the principles just discussed and if you can figure out the proper bid in each instance, you are doing very well. In each case, there is no score. If you, as dealer, held the following hands, what would you bid? Compare your analysis with the one that will be given in the next article.

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A bid one spade. Y passed and B bid two clubs. Z bid two hearts. A three clubs. Y three hearts and B four clubs. Z bid four hearts. A five clubs. Y doubled. B passed and Z bid five hearts. A doubled and all passed. A opened with the ace of clubs and then played the ace of spades which Z trumped. How should he plan the play of the hand? Z should play the deuce of hearts and when A plays the ten, Z should stop to consider. There are now only two hearts unaccounted for, the king and the jack. If A has both, he is bound to make a trick, no matter what Z plays. If he has the king and B the jack, Z will lose a trick by playing the ace. If A has the jack and B the king, Z will win a trick by playing the ace. In other words, the play of the ace of hearts from Y's hand at trick three is an absolute guess. Personally the writer would play the ace although the play of the queen would not be criticized. From the hands given, the play of the ace of hearts at trick three gives YZ five odd. The rest of the play is easy but should be worked out for practice.

Answer to Problem No. 11

The bidding and B's double practically locate the remaining spades in B's hand and Z should plan the play accordingly. For that reason he should trump Y's trick with a low spade in his own hand. He should then lead a spade, winning the trick in Y's hand with the queen. He should then lead the king of hearts and again trump in his own hand. He should then lead another spade and win the trick with the ace in Y's hand. He should then lead a diamond from Y's hand and trump in his own hand. He has now led trumps twice and trumped three times so that he has left the king and ten of spades. He should now lead three rounds of clubs, winning the third round in Y's hand. For the last two tricks, therefore, he has the king ten of spades as a tenace over B's jack and five. It is a fine example of the so-called "grand coup," the trumping of a partner's winning trick to shorten one's trump holding. In this problem, Z was forced to trump his partner's tricks three times in order to make his bid. Play it out for practice.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

A man was stepping off a trolley car in the Park street subway. He had ridden from Scollay Square and was "changing" to a Boylston-street line. In his arms he carried a bag of oranges—a dozen nice ones. As he plunged into the Saturday-afternoon crowd of the platform something happened to make the paper covering on the fruit give way. It may have been the man jostled too severely by his fellow passengers or it may have been that the bag was weak. In any event there was a sudden tumble and the oranges began rolling on the platform. Some of the more alert of the crowd chased the moving fruit. We, ourselves, seeking to be of assistance to the man started to pick up two that rolled our way. But the man did not want help. He majestically stepped over the scattered fruit and pretended they were not his. As rapidly as he could he made his way he hurried to the other end of the platform. He didn't want to be caught in an embarrassing position. No doubt he was afraid of the laughter of the passengers.

A man with a heavy ulster entered the coach of a train. Evidently preparing for a long ride and satisfied that the temperature of the car was sufficiently high he took off his hat, rolled it in a bundle and proceeded to toss it up in the rack overhead. He had no sooner gathered it in his arms preparatory for the fling than a pint bottle filled with a liquid which we are not permitted to mention in this column, fell out on the floor. It had such a good start, this bottle, that it shot down the aisle for several yards. Did his man pretend he was not the owner? Did he ignore the situation? He did not. He chased after that bottle as though it were a necklace of priceless pearls. Nobody had a chance to offer assistance in its recovery. Instead of embarrassment this man displayed an attitude of proud possession. He put it in his side pocket where it would be safe.

Here we have that strange quality of individuals exemplified in two forms. On the one hand a man who had no reason for so doing becomes seized with an inferiority complex. He blushes with shame at the mere thought that a number of people are looking at him. He had done no wrong, the accident might have happened to any one. He was not responsible for the failure of the paper bag to withstand its load of oranges. How could he help it if the bag was so strong enough? And what harm if the bag did burst? Was it because he was ashamed to be seen with a bundle in his arms, or at least with an armful of oranges? Or was it because he did not want to be obliged to receive the assistance of a number of strangers? Maybe he did not know what to do with the oranges when he got them, having no other receptacle. We rather suspect that he was upset at the discovery of the fact that he was one of those who carried home purchases made in Boston. He did not want the wide, wide world to learn that he bought oranges and carried them in a humble paper bag? How foolish! The days of dignity in this particular field of human existence have long since passed. People don't mind carrying bundles, at least there are fewer people who possess the absurd notion that it is a sign of poverty, or something like that.

But what about the man who defied the law and who was not the least disturbed by the fact that his lawlessness was discovered. He was the man we should have expected to be ashamed. We would not have been surprised had he turned and jumped off the train, even when it was moving. But to sit down calmly, look at his fellow-passengers with an air of "well, what of it?"—that is a surprise. It takes nerve, of course, to peer openly at the law and one with sufficient supply of courage might easily be expected to "face it out."

We wonder just why some people are what they are—and we expect to go on wondering.

Just now the big interest at City Hall is the budget. There are two ways of handling it. One way, the most common, is to start with large figures and finish with smaller ones. What would have happened if this process were reversed? We never expect to see a reality, however. Department heads enumerate their monetary needs and then some. That is perfectly natural. They know that there will be some cutting done, so why not provide material for the knife? "If you don't ask for more than you expect to get you will get less than you need," is the philosophy on which many estimates are based. Now Newton departmen-

In these days when it seems that emphasis is laid upon some of the more sordid things of life, it is gratifying to hear that which brings a message of hope and optimism. There was laid to rest in the Newton Cemetery recently a preacher of the word of God whose life as a minister offers a splendid example to others but also demonstrated that it is possible to overcome life's greatest handicaps. The career of the Reverend William H. Spencer shines with courage. He was answered the call of the colors in the days of 1861 and whose valiant efforts to save the Union cost him a leg. Although in the early 20's he had won recognition as a man of military genius and had been rapidly advanced. He was in command of a company when he sustained the wound that ended his efforts as a soldier. His men saw him fall and would have maimed at his side had he not been permitted. Despite his protests they were determined to administer care and treatment. But he bravely commanded that they retreat with the others and leave him to his fate. His command was not to be disobeyed and reluctantly his soldiers left him, believing that his death was imminent. But one of those strange circumstances of war reinforcements appeared and the next day these soldiers returned and were ordered to find their commanding officer still alive. It was the same spirit that made this man resolve to fight the battle of life. Handicapped by the absence of a leg he resolved that he would earn his way through college. And this he did. He became a Baptist minister and his days, up to his death in his 80th year, were filled with usefulness. A strong sturdy character, he became a man of wide influence for good spiritual comfort. The history of our country tells of the lives of many such men and that of the Civil War is filled with numerous inspiring accounts of individual achievement. We speak of this man in order that the rush of modern life may not be permitted to submerge the finer things—qualities of human endeavor.

attention of prospective patrons. Sometimes he is called a "barker." For years "bally-hoo" was known only to users of circus slang and those outside that strange and fascinating business did not hear the word, and if they had they would not have grasped its meaning. But stories of the circus, written by graduates of the sawdust ring and the big-top, brought "bally-hoo" into the limelight and it is on its way to admission to the circle of respectable dictionary phrases.

So that when we say "bally-hoo" we believe that we are understood and furthermore are using a most appropriate phrase. The "bally-hooing" with which we would deal in this connection is known to all our readers. The radio is in its principal means employed. The manufacturers of soap, perfume, shoe polish, chewing gum, underwear, ginger ale, roller skates, ice cream, cough medicine, prepared cereals, ink, confectionery, cigars, automobiles, radio apparatus, men's furnishings and other goods have "gone on the air." They pay the radio broadcasting stations large amounts for a chance to sell their wares, or at least arouse interest in them.

But instead of coming-out in a flat-footed way these concerns have an organization of singers and musicians who contribute a program. While the "artists" pause for breath something is said about the marvelous qualities of the goods manufactured by the firm which is supplying the music, or whatever form of entertainment it may be. We have long endured advertising with our moving-pictures, but this newer stunt is only in its earlier stage.

We have inquired of friends here and there and have failed to find an instance where any person, after hearing of the high qualities of a certain commodity over the air or learning of it from the silver screen, was inspired to rush out and buy a large quantity. We cannot locate anybody who was so carried away with the singing of a quartet that he decided next day to stock-up for the entire year on a particular brand of mixed pickles.

We will even go further and venture to say that the people, that is the purchasing public so-called, look to newspapers and newspapers alone for all advertising. That, we contend, is one legitimate, open and above-board method of presenting an advertiser's stock in trade. It is perfectly natural for a reader of a newspaper or periodical to look in its columns for news of the great mart of trade. But he hasn't yet and never will, in our opinion, become accustomed to having it served to him in the form of so-called free amusement. Business is business and entertainment is entertainment. If a man has had a busy day at his office and hopes to spend the evening in complete enjoyment of some diversion, why should he be forced to listen to a salesman? The daytime is the period for selling. No one wishes to be "sold" at night.

BIG BROTHER CLUB

Daily Transcript Feature

Since March 1, the radio page of the Transcript has had as an additional feature, a special department set aside for the activities of the Boston Edison Big Brother Club, conducted every evening through Station WEEI by Mr. C. R. Emery. In addition to describing the events of each evening's club program, the new feature from time to time will include photographic and other illustrations, as well as items of general interest concerning the club's work.

The club now has a membership of approximately 27,000 boys and girls and numbers among its nightly listeners many "grownups" as well. Its importance has increased to the extent that it may fairly be said to be one of the most popular radio institutions in the country. In giving this service to the club members, the Transcript will work in close cooperation with "Big Brother Bob" Emery, in his creditable ambition to "be somebody's big brother every day."

BISHOP ANDERSON COMING

The Union Lenten Service held by the Church of the New Jerusalem, Central Congregational and Methodist Episcopal Churches of Newtonville will be held next Sunday evening in the Central Church on Walnut street. The announcement came when it was found that it would be impossible to accommodate the crowd at the Methodist Episcopal Church where the first three of the series of Union meetings were held.

Bishop William F. Anderson of the Methodist Episcopal Church will preach at the Union meeting next Sunday evening. The Newtonville churches take great pleasure in announcing speakers of the calibre of Bishop Anderson. This will be Bishop Anderson's second appearance in Newtonville at a church service, the first being when the new Methodist Episcopal Church was dedicated in December, 1924.

The service will begin promptly at 7.45.

JOHN HENLEY

John Henley, for 25 years' organist at St. Bernard's Church, died Friday night, after a few days' illness, of pneumonia. Mr. Henley, who was one of the best known music teachers in this city, was born in Concord 48 years ago. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Joanna Peters of West Newton. His funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's Church; a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. William J. Dwyer with Rev. John J. Allston as deacon and Rev. William T. A. O'Brien as sub-deacon. Officers of the Newton Catholic Club acted as honorary bearers. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

D. R. MEETING

The hostesses were: Miss Mary Fox, Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs, Mrs. Jacob H. Green, Mrs. Edson J. Gould, Mrs. Stephen Holmes, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne.

The Chapter was charmed with Mrs. M. Gertrude Cutter, who portrayed the historic character of Penelope Hope Fayerweather, one of her ancestors. Mrs. Cutter wore the handsome hand-woven brocade worn by the real Penelope about 1759, when she lived on Brattle street, Cambridge. She brought many rare heirlooms of silverware and miniatures, also photographs of old houses. Mrs. Cutter has a delightful method of weaving the history of her wonderful things into the thread of her story of real people who lived in the long ago.

As an introduction to this delightful program which made "long-forgotten scenes come trailing down the aisles of memory," Miss Sarah Farnum Bagley played familiar old airs, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten," "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," and "Long, Long Ago."

The afternoon was particularly pleasant, and all enjoyed the social hour and tea provided by the hostesses.

Y. P. B. CLUB

The next meeting of the Newton Y. P. B. will be held Thursday evening, March 18, at the home of Lillian Hicks, 2 Washington Terrace, Newtonville. The Newton Y. P. B. will hold a food sale Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at 1391-A Washington street, West Newton.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

Do germs invade private schools less frequently than public? Are they so discerning as to pass by an attendant at a small school and prefer to enter and annoy those of a larger institution? Some one, I think, has given germs too much credit for discriminatory powers, for such was actually the argument the writer heard not long ago.

"I feel that my child should go to a private school because there she will run less chance of getting disease." Has not that statement been heard over and over again? Now of course it is a matter for personal opinion whether or not children should attend public or private schools but germs should not be so much involved in the decision.

A late but past case of scarlet fever was reported in the possession of a private school child. Before it was discovered, however, the child went to Sunday school. Children there attended both public and private schools. Did those scarlet fever germs pick out the public school children alone? No, they were most impartial and divided themselves equally among both. This was the disease carried from private to public school. Another instance occurred when a small private school was forced to close its doors because every child caught whooping cough. Not one case had been reported at that time in the public schools and indeed, the winter passed without such an epidemic. Thus must we exonerate germs of so large an amount of guilt for they do not pick and choose. Their first victim met is the first one attacked whether in Sunday school, day school, on the street, at a movie, at a party, or in a train.

The only possible way to avoid this contact, and that is doubtful, is to confine children in glass cases. And there they would certainly perish of suffocation. Public schools, at least, are protected by school nurses and daily visits from the doctors. Not so—PRIVATE.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Hundreds of people have come to see our very interesting poster exhibit, still on display in the assembly hall. This exhibition is the culmination of the study made last year of our school health program. It comprises sixty of the original ninety posters, depicting the correlation of subject matter and health in the various departments. A ninety-page manuscript giving the detailed description may also be seen and read.

The commercial divisions prepared posters to illustrate ideal posture during work and correct clothing to wear at work. The mathematics classes made charts and graphs of ideal health food and healthful ways to spend the day. The art department naturally is represented throughout the entire display, but the two posters done by Constance Rachel and Phyllis Gammons are particularly artistic.

The French classes are represented with a description of a healthy boy, vegetables in French, and French captions. The Latin classes have studied the derivation of health expressions and used them graphically.

ly, with Latin captions. To the Practical Arts classes, however, belong the greater number of posters and charts. They have conjured ideal pictures of housewifery studied before the classes in actual cooking. Improved methods of housekeeping and the ever-needed cleanliness conducive to health are depicted. Pictures of the school lunch room in action show the care taken for a model lunch. Food value, food groups, and the ideal way of serving food are illustrated in the attractive menus planned and served in school. In the laboratory dining-room. The sewing classes have prepared charts for ideal clothing promoting health. The physical culture classes have grasped their health accomplishments in weight and general physical standing. The social studies classes have advocated ideal zoning systems and civic steps to health. The English department offers numerous worthwhile literary contributions correlated with the science work for safety and health. Specific help has resulted to individuals in the various clubs promoting health and personal conferences.

Sponsoring the cause of health is a health circus, given by the Camp Cooking and Boys' Clubs, assisted by Mrs. Sandwall and Mr. Simmons. The girls, under the direction of Miss Larcom and Miss Kitcher are also taking part. This program, given at assembly, will be repeated in the evening on March 19. Jack Richmond is the star performer in very clever and difficult dances. Miss Doran is presenting Mrs. Jarley's Collection of Literary Waxworks also that evening.

All Newton Music School, Inc.

A pupils' recital will be held at the Clafin School, Walnut street, Newtonville on Friday evening, March 19th at 7.30 o'clock. There will be piano, violin, and cello solos and numbers by the orchestra as well as a string quartet by members of the faculty including Miss Fyffe, the director, Miss West of the piano department, and Misses Masters, Forte and Puciarrelli. The pupils and their parents are cordially invited to attend. Miss Mary Gannon from the Music School played a violin solo at the Interschool Concert held Sunday, March 7th, at the North End Union in Boston.

Albert Angier School

The series of movies given in the school assembly hall were concluded February 26th.

Friday, March 12, there will be given a play by the eighth grade entitled "Rescued by Radio." It will be presented at 3.30 and 7.30 P. M.

Every Wednesday morning the eighth grade has a debate. Some of the subjects have been: Resolved: Syria should not belong to France but should be an independent country. The United States should not join the League of Nations. Mussolini is not the fit leader for Italy.

A Junior Safety Council has been formed in the Angier School. This was made possible through the kindness of Mr. C. E. Pettibone. The school has been admitted to membership in the National Safety Council.

The seventh grade had charge of the assembly of March tenth. The salute was led by Marjorie Cady; the salute by John Lawrence; the Bible reading by Sewall Champion; the prayer by Dorothy Whitaker and the announcing by Melvin Johnson. Louise came recited "America For Me." Following this they presented a short play entitled "The Golden Star." The leading characters were as follows: The United States, Eleanor Denham; Honor, Doris Baukman; Spirit of America, Elsie Stephen; Golden Star, Marjorie Cady; Victory, Victoria Carpenter.

Mason School

Several of the most popular books for Juniors have been added to our school library, through the generosity of Mrs. Mason, who gave a great many last year also. The pupils are enjoying these new, clean, attractive editions and both they and their teachers greatly appreciate this exceedingly welcome gift.

The pupils in Room 2 in the Mason have been very enthusiastic over a story-telling contest for which Mrs. Burton H. Cooper offered prizes for the best results. The competition between the little boys and girls was very keen and the stories were most amusing and splendid.

On Monday the sixth grade children of Room eleven went to the Newton Theological Institution where Prof. Berkeley gave them an instructive talk on "Ancient Writings." Great interest was shown by the children in the clay tablets of the Assyrians and the reproduction of the "Rosetta Stone" about which they had been studying in their history class.

Stearns School

On Thursday afternoon a group of upper grade children attended the matinee of Ben-Hur at the Colonial Theatre in Boston. It proved to be a profitable outing, judging from the impressions received. The youngsters declare it "The Picture of the Hour," and have begun the study of Roman rule at the time of Christ with much concern. One boy remarked at the close of the matinee, "The Roman power amounted to nothing compared with God's power."

A new lantern has been added to our equipment, and should be called "Aladdin, or the Wonderful Lamp." It is portable, weighing but a few pounds, and is equipped with a coil and plug that can be fastened to an ordinary desk light. The new slides which include those on geography, history, nature study and miscellaneous, can be focused upon the wall maps, blackboards, or window curtains with excellent results.

Essex

The Seniors were the winners in the basketball game with the Sophomores on Friday, March 12.

SIXTIETH WEDDING DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo H. Leonard observed their 60th wedding anniversary Tuesday at the home of their son, Wallace M. Leonard, on Forest street, Newton Highlands.

They received numerous congratulatory messages and many floral tributes from acquaintances and friends throughout Greater Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, the latter formerly Kate E. French, were born in Weymouth, and were married there in 1866. They lived in East Weymouth until 1884, when they moved to Newton.

Mr. Leonard, who is eighty-two years of age, was for fifty years identified with the boot and shoe business, was one of the youngest members of Reynolds Post 58, G. A. R. of Weymouth, and later of Charles Ward Post 62, Newton. Of four children, three are now living: Wallace M. Leonard of Newton Highlands; Owen L. Leonard of Denver, Col.; and Mrs. Eleanor (Leonard) Stead of Salem, Ore. There are also eight grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard live during the winter at 153 Hemenway street, Boston, spending their summers at Long Island, N. H.

1925 ASSOCIATION

An analysis of the 1926 budget as submitted by the Mayor shows an increase of over $525,000 over the 1925 appropriations. Over $170,000 of this increase is due to the new school houses we have been building, serial bonds jumping from $196,000 to over $357,000 and interest charges increasing from $30,000 to $45,000. The next large increase is in the Street department where the new total is $972,000 as compared with $830,000 last year. The principal increases here are in maintenance $28,000, resurfacing $33,000, traffic signs, $20,000. The school department asks for $1,111,000, of which $90,000 is the increase in salaries and $15,000 on other expenses. The 1925 total being $1,022,000. Police and fire departments call for $42,000 and $29,000 increase respectively, the police asking for a new ambulance, to cost $5,000, for new uniforms, another $5,000 and $9,000 for new policemen. The Fire Chief asks for 5 new men to cost $6,000 and for a new aerial truck. The Playground Dept. wants $25,000 more or over $103,000, in all, including $10,000 for construction and $9,000 for additional maintenance. On account of the biennial state election, $5,000 is added to the City Clerk's department. The executive, accounting, Law, Sealer and Water department ask for less than the appropriations given them last year.

In view of the new budget as submitted by the Mayor, the following extracts from a recent address by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long, will be of interest to our taxpayers.

"We fail to connect the appropriating of money with tax rates and tax bills, forgetting that tax laws, tax rates and tax bills are but manifestations of the machinery of government which strives to spread the burden of the costs of government, in accord with the Constitution, with equality and fairness on the shoulders of all.

We should look more to the expenditure of money and realize that if the power to tax is the power to destroy, the power to appropriate is the power to bring financial embarrassment if not insolvency.

We seem as individuals to find it easier to say "yes" than "no," and because of this, are led as groups of individuals comprising the various governmental units either by ourselves or through our duly elected representatives into extravagances by what appears to be popular and needed governmental demands."

One of our contemporaries recently commented adversely on the suggestion of Mr. William F. Garcelon that public golf courses should be laid out in the metropolitan park areas. The non-golfer may be interested in the fact that public golf courses all over the country are being made and maintained without expense to the taxpayers. A recent questionnaire sent to 32 cities showed that the average cost of a nine hole course was $4580 with average receipts of $4744. The St. Paul public golf course charges 20 cents a game and receives sufficient revenue to make it self-sustaining. When a sport that is ideal for health can be carried on under such financial conditions, we fail to see any serious objections to making it as popular as possible.

In most of the discussion over the failure to adequately protect the public from criminals, we have failed to note any serious consideration of the advisability of changing the present all embracing right to a trial by jury. If a person violates the ordinance against spitting on the sidewalk, under present conditions, he has the right to a trial by jury to fix his guilt or punishment, and we respectfully submit that a constitutional amendment, which would limit this all important feature of our jurisprudence to cases of felony and exempt misdemeanors from its scope would be a long step in simplification of our criminal code.

Attention is invited to the opportunity given next week to aid in a most worthy cause—the Boy Scout movement. This district is particularly fortunate in having some of our most prominent citizens deeply interested in this splendid work and there should be no doubt of success in raising the necessary funds to prepare our boys for good citizenship in the future.

A Newton tax payer was heard to protest the other day against the wholesale increase in the salaries of city officials as recommended by Mayor Childs. He probably is not aware that this is the way Mr. Childs makes himself solid with an influential group of voters and in case the increase is not approved by the board of aldermen, there is no reflection on him.

District Attorney Arthur K. Reading once more shows his level head in entering a not proos on the charge of manslaughter against the O'Connor girls of this city. It is a sad case as it stands and it would not have been improved if the indictment had been pressed against them. Mr. Reading is the right man in the right place.

It is a great shame that the splendid series of lectures on American Statesmen, which Prof. Edward Howard Griggs is giving in the Read Fund Lecture course, are not appreciated by our citizens. Just because they are free to the public is no reason why they should be neglected.

Auburndale

Mrs. Charles D. Ansley of Auburn street, entertained at bridge on Wednesday afternoon.

There will be a meeting of the Women's Guild at the Church of the Messiah on Monday afternoon.

Mr. H. Alfred Hansen of Cheswick road is sailing from New York on Saturday for a trip to Bermuda.

Miss Emma Cavanaugh of Crescent street, is at the Newton Hospital where she went on Wednesday for treatment.

Lenten Services at the Congregational church last Sunday afternoon were conducted by Rev. Edward M. Noyes of Newton Centre.

The Rev. C. R. Bailey of Revere will be the preacher at the mid-week Lenten service at the Church of the Messiah on Wednesday evening.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Auburndale club there will be a minstrel frolic given under the auspices of the choir of Corpus Christi Church.

Monday evening, March 15th, there will be a bridge and whist party at the Auburndale Club. All are invited. There will be prizes and refreshments.

The all day sewing meeting and luncheon of the Woman's Association of the Congregational Church was held on Tuesday of this week. Hostesses, Mrs. J. Parker Fiske.

Mrs. John Heald of Robinhood road has returned from New York, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Victoria Parker, and her small granddaughter, Dorothy Parker.

Master Henry W. Blood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Blood of 31 Woodbine street celebrated his 7th birthday Monday, by serving ice cream and cake to the members of his class, 2nd grade, Burr School.

The Beardsley Concert Company were the entertainers this week at the Grange, at South Sudbury, the Congregational Church at Weston and the Steadfast Lodge of Odd Ladies at North Scituate.

Next Tuesday evening there will be an Auburndale Brotherhood Supper at the Congregational church with entertainment. The Hon. George H. Ellis will be the speaker and will take for his subject, "Reminiscences."

The Acquaintance Club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. H. O. Cook of Fern street. There was an unusually large number of new comers to Auburndale. Plans were made for the annual guest night on Saturday evening, April 10th.

The Rev. D. Brewer Eddy, D. D., Secretary of the American Board, will be the speaker at the Lenten vesper service at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon. His subject will be "Our Partnership with Christ."

There will be special music. Mr. and Mrs. Strabo V. Claggett entertained a party of twelve at dinner and cards at Brae Burn Country Club Friday, March 5th. The color scheme was chiefly green and yellow, an abundance of spring flowers forming the centerpiece for the dinner table.

LODGES

At the annual election last night of Newton Lodge of Elks, these officers were elected, Exalted Ruler, William E. Earle; Leading Knight, Robert A. Vachon; Loyal Knight, Frank L. Wilcox; Lecturing Knight, William N. Noone; Secretary, J. Edward Callanan; Treasurer, Vincent Turley; Tyler, Matthew Hurley; Trustee, William U. Fogwill; Delegate, John H. Gordon; Alternate Delegate, Willard L. Sampson.

DEATH OF MRS. BOYD

Mrs. Agnes Boyd, the wife of Mr. James Boyd, and a life-long resident of this city, died yesterday afternoon at her residence on Nevada street, Newtonville, following an illness of about six weeks. Mrs. Boyd is survived by her husband, one son, Mr. Hugh Boyd, and one daughter, Miss Edith Boyd.

CIVIC PROBLEMS

of the city, according to the Mayor, are a new City Hall, which should be an artistic workshop; a new fire station at Newton Corner, to replace the present dangerous and inadequate house there; an athletic field at the High School; and a new bridge at Wales street, Lower Falls. Mr. Childs said, "A tunnel under Elm Road is not needed so much as more accommodations for school children at Nonantum." He asked for constructive criticism, and took issue with Leon Rogers' statement "that a daily paper is needed to acquaint Newtonians with what happens at City Hall." He contended that he gets knocked enough by the existing weekly papers. He paid a tribute to the late Hon. Henry E. Cobb for his foresight in having Commonwealth avenue constructed 30 years ago, when he was Mayor, despite severe criticism.

The second speaker of the evening was George W. Pratt of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Pratt said, "The Finance Committee of the Aldermen desires intelligent knowledge of the desires of our citizens, and of conditions. It has always played the game with the cards face up on the table. In a city of 53,000 people, are some who are mischievous. Any organization in the city, desiring information on actions taken by the aldermen, should ask one of the members of that Board to come before it and explain its conditions." In contrast to the Mayor, who had advocated horrowing, when necessary, to provide for municipal needs, Mr. Pratt advocated a "pay as you go policy." He cited the financing of the cost of the new High School as an example of the latter method; asserted that Newton's tax rate is low, compared with other cities, and that if the city borrows too much, future developments will be retarded. He called attention to the fact that in Newton, real estate is taxed at but two-thirds of its real value, while in Lynn property is assessed at full market value. The tax rate in Newton is $27.40, in Lynn over $35. He praised the budget system in effect here and asked "How many families who resort to a budget, keep within 1% of their budget estimates?" Mr. Pratt told of the harmony existing between the School Committee and the Aldermen and lauded the work of the joint committee composed of representatives from these two bodies. He informed his listeners that the buildings and public utilities owned by Newton are valued at $12,000,000, the debt of the city is $3,779,000. This leaves a balance in favor of the city of $8,221,000. He said "in the next five years the borrowing capacity of Newton will increase $350,000 each year; the amount raised by taxes will increase at a yearly average of $225,000. These increases should enable the city to undertake any necessary building programs."

At the conclusion of Mr. Pratt's remarks, Mr. Rogers said that the joint committee of Aldermen and School Committee members was one of the best moves ever made in Newton and could be credited to the late Mr. Angier. He then invited those present to question Mayor Childs and President Pratt of the aldermen regarding city affairs, but not to make the questions too long. The first question was one which had been submitted to the Mayor in writing: "Why were the sidewalks allowed to remain in such a deplorable condition after the recent snowstorms? Why were they not cleaned off after the first thaw? Is Newton to be worse than Brighton in this respect?" Mayor Childs answered this question by saying he supposed it was due to the laxity of the police. He asked if all present had shovelled off their sidewalks? He told those present, confidentially, that he had been informed by a former City Solicitor, that Newton's ordinance relating to the cleaning of sidewalks after snowstorms is unconstitutional. He stated that the only persons who had been brought into court in years past, for not shovelling off sidewalks, were poor people. These persons paid the fines of $10 imposed, rather than experience the ridicule and contempt that would follow through newspaper publicity, if they appeared before the courts. The Social Science Club has suggested, according to Mayor, that the city employees shovel off private sidewalks and the costs be charged to the owners of abutting property.

The second question was asked by City Physician Lowe. The doctor asked the Mayor, "Why is it tonight that in this city are over 1000 doorways without numbers on them?" The Mayor answered that he thought the City Engineer's Department attended to this matter and that he would look into it. Dr. Lowe said, "Is it not up to the Police Department to enforce this ordinance? In 18 years it has been as effective as a bottle of pills corked tight and reposing on a mantelpiece." He told of the difficulties experienced by physicians and others in finding people in houses without numbers on doors and cited how he had gone to five houses on Bellevue street, all numbered, looking for a patient. Dr. Murray Horwood inquired, "Have we any assurance that the cleaning of the water mains will permanently cure the water problem?" Is the cleaning of the mains the only thing necessary to purify the water?" Mr. Rogers answered, "The aldermen have engaged experts to advise regarding the water problems."

The next question was propounded by Alderman Baker and it certainly enlivened the meeting. Mr. Baker queried, "How far shall the Aldermen go in carrying out the Mayor's budget recommendations? How high do you want the tax rate?" Mr. Rogers opined that this was a very pertinent, timely question, deserving of much consideration and answer from all present. He said, "Personally, I think a $31.90 tax rate, or at least an increase of $3 over the present rate, would not be a hardship. It will permit the many improvements demanded; if you want things, you must pay for them." Dr. Guy M. Winslow of Lasell Seminary, said, "It seems to me the first point is, 'How much people who pay taxes, know what is to be done with the money.'" Mr. Winslow was of the opinion that a tax rate of $35 would not be too high. He explained that the rate should be increased only after much study, that great care should be exercised in the expenditure of money by the aldermen, and that the wishes of the citizens of Newton should be followed in making any increases. Mr. Rogers was somewhat skeptical as to the probability of ascertaining the opinions of the people. He commented on the fact that although 700 invitations had been sent out to persons to attend the annual meeting of the Central Council, only $5 were present.

Principal Konelm Winslow of the Stearns School said, "A $35 tax rate would look very reasonable to every school man in the city. In school and city matters, it is difficult to acquaint the people with needs. The press should be used more to tell of school needs." Mr. Winslow thought that every prosperous resident of the city would welcome a $35 tax rate in order to provide for needed improvements.

Alderman George Pratt suggested that when the question of the tax rate was being discussed, those participating should state whether an increase would be for the purpose of obtaining permanent improvements, or whether it should also be for the purpose of meeting demands for current running expenses such as overcosts for policemen and increased salaries. Alderman Heathcote wanted to know how much of the increase would be used for more and better playgrounds.

Mr. James Kingman said "If we do not raise the tax rate this year, we may never have such an opportunity again." He thought the opportunity presents itself now, because of the drastic reductions in Federal taxes, occasioned by the economy program of President Coolidge.

Mr. Rogers commented upon hearing this statement of the Mayor, "Mr. Bailey is liable to go to jail." Mr. Murray Horwood objected to a vote being taken on such an important subject as the tax rate. It would establish a very undesirable precedent for a body such as the Central Council to be placed on record on such a question. He stated, "Most of us are largely ignorant on this matter. It ought to be settled by the Mayor and Aldermen who know conditions. It would be heralded as the vote of a representative group of people." Mr. Rogers did not agree with Dr. Horwood and maintained that it would be a good thing to take a vote on the question of the tax rate. At this point, Dr. Michael Chirug, "fidus Achates" of the Mayor, hurled a bomb. Dr. Chirug arose to remark that should the tax rate be raised appreciably, the aldermen would not bear the criticism. It would be the Mayor who would get "in Dutch." In his opinion the willingness displayed by those present who advocated a jump in the tax rate, was a clever scheme to hurt the Mayor politically.

Mr. Rogers disclaimed any such intention. Mr. Chirug said that the gathering was not a political affair but a meeting of persons to better civic conditions. This avowed on the part of Mr. Rogers did not satisfy Dr. Chirug that some sinister plot against the Mayor was not in the making. He reminded Mr. Rogers that several years ago he had heard that latter gentleman accuse the Mayor, at a meeting in West Newton, of being responsible for an unnecessarily high tax rate.

Mr. Rogers very frankly admitted that when he made the criticism referred to, he was looking for a job. To relieve the situation, the Mayor created an effective tableau, which might be called "Foes Once, but Brothers Now." Arising, he placed his arm around Mr. Rogers' neck, to give evidence that they are the best of friends. Thereupon, Dr. Chirug sat down, but he did not look convinced that there was not something putrid in the south Scandinavian peninsula.

Mr. Charles W. Bond said, "We will back up the City Government in giving us what we demand. We will go through 100 per cent with them." Alderman Baker, somewhat concerned at the developments as a result of his suggestion, stated that it was not his intention to have a vote taken, but merely to hear expressions of opinion. He asked Alderman Pratt what percentage of the city revenue was used for schools last year as compared with the percentage used in 1925. Mr. Pratt had the information at his tongue's end, as regarded last year, and answered "32.8-10 per cent." He could not give the 1898 figure, but Alderman Baker did. It was 15 per cent. Incidentally the vote was not taken on the increase in the rate. The last question was put by Alderman Bail. He asked for all those present who were periodically bothered by being supplied with discolored water from the city supply to signify by a showing of hands. The meeting adjourned after a vote of thanks was given to the retiring President, Mr. Rogers, upon motion by Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell.

DEATH OF MRS. SHATTUCK

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Shattuck, the widow of the late Benjamin F. Shattuck, and a resident of Newton for over forty years, died last Monday at her home on Hillside avenue, West Newton. Mrs. Shattuck is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mrs. Harry H. Ham and Mrs. Sier A. Diefendorf.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, Rev. Paul S. Phalen, minister of the West Newton Unitarian church, officiating, and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The week has been rather dull and in sharp contrast to the excitement of the previous week over the hearings on the so-called anti-crime measures. Bills to allow collections to be taken at Sunday sports were debated in the House on Wednesday and decisively beaten, 124 to 63.

Another time worn measure received favorable action this week by a bare majority, when Public Health voted to report a bill to require compulsory vaccination for private schools. This bill has usually been traded off against bills to abolish compulsory vaccination in the public schools and its favorable report this year is somewhat of a surprise.

Legal Affairs has favorably reported a bill which will be a great relief to many persons. It was recommended by Governor Fuller and will allow statements required by law to be made without the usual oath before a notary public or justice of the peace.

Governor Fuller has signed the bill presented by the undersigned providing for additional information on the ballot for city elections in Newton.

Representative Saltonstall has been given leave to withdraw on his most sensible bill to require a payment of $2 on every bill presented to the General Court. This bill would have saved the money of the Commonwealth, now spent for useless printing, and saved the time of the Legislature in the consideration of useless bills.

J. C. BRIMBLECOM.

Salon of Overseas Fashions for Spring

Assembled from the ateliers of the world's most eminent coutouriers the Spring collection of modes sponsored by Hickson Inc. will be shown on Mannequins, Opening March 17th and following days.

If you were to visit the salons of each of the leading artists of Paris and were shown the cream of their exhibits you would have no more comprehensive and satisfying a view of the fashions than you may now have in the Hickson drawing rooms.

In addition the new renditions of Hickson tailleur, for which the House is unrivaled, will be offered. Many of the model garments, both imported and our own will be placed on sale at the close of the presentation.

In the arrangement for the Spring salon the Hickson staff in New York and in Paris have given us enthusiastic support and we invite you to witness these results with the utmost assurance.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GENERAL FEDERATION BIENNIAL

So many local club women are already asking questions about the Biennial to be held at Atlantic City, your Editor will take space to give a few facts that she has been able to glean. Of course, news on such arrangements is not as yet forthcoming. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, General Federation Director in charge of the program, of whom Massachusetts is so proud, says that she has reached the place where she is eating and sleeping Biennial, which is only natural, she supposes. She prophesies that seven thousand women will be gathered on the Steel Pier on the night of May 25th, seated by "States," and in their best "bib and tucker," "a sight that one will never forget." New Jersey and Pennsylvania are hostesses for that evening—program untold—with a reception following, hence the "best bibs."

The next day comes a day of business all day and all evening, with State Leaders telling the greatest issues of club leadership in their own States. Feature days follow—Legislation, Press, American Citizenship, Fine Arts, International Relations, American Home, and all the others of wide interest and appeal. Dame Rachael Crowdy of the Secretariat of the League of Nations will tell of her work among women and children. Governor Pinchot will speak on American Citizenship, Joseph Lee on Recreation, Dr. John Tigert, Commissioner of Education, Mrs. Mabel Wilbrandt, U. S. Assistant District Attorney of Prohibition fame, and Herbert Hoover will bring inspiring messages from their work. So much for some of the plans, with teas, receptions and outings galore, as well, for friendship's sake.

Previous to this formal opening at eight o'clock on May 25th, there will be on the 24th a meeting of the Executive Committee of the General Federation at 2 P. M., a meeting of the Board of Directors with State Presidents at 8 P. M.; on May 25th, the Board will again meet with State Presidents from 10 to 12 A. M., and there will be a Conference of State Presidents from 2:30 to 4 o'clock that afternoon. The Conference takes in all the Department and Division Chairmen, of Federation and State.

The Credential Committee first goes on duty, Monday, the 24th, at 1 P. M., and has certain hours of duty through Thursday, June 1st, which is "Election Day." Badges, by vote of the Board, will bear date of convention, and all "held-over badges" of whatever kind, will be discarded. Club women who have attended conventions of the past, MUST take note of this ruling. While Monday and Tuesday will be preliminary days with much of social and pleasurable and that makes for forming of acquaintance, the first real business of the session begins on Wednesday morning, the 26th. The Convention ends on the evening of Friday, June 4th. Wednesday evening, the 26th, is State Presidents' evening. Saturday afternoon is free, and Tuesday afternoon, June 1, is stated as Play Afternoon— which holds delightful possibilities in

A "Fare and a half," for the round trip expense, certificate plan, has been secured from the various railroads by the transportation chairman. This applies also to Club Husbands who may wish to join the gay throng on board walk. One certificate only is necessary in a family—children may go for half the adult fare, between the ages of five and twelve—and for once the certificate in the club member's name makes her the head of the family!

Massachusetts club women may make reservations through Walter H. Woods, 80 Boylston St., Boston, by sending a ten dollar deposit with request for reservations. Hotel reservations and transportation reservations are being made now. Hotel prices include three meals a day, a fact to be remembered in a perusal of price list that may be obtained from Publicity Bureau, Central Pier, Atlantic City. State Hotel headquarters will be arranged direct with hotels or in conference with the General Federation Chairman in charge, and local club women should get in touch with State Headquarters to learn of these plans. Club Presidents should have this information sent to them, and should follow this up, if they have not received full information.

Law Observance

Of course all club women know that there has been a new division created under the Legislative Department of the General Federation—Edward Franklin White, the First Vice President, who was the guest at the Mid-Winter meeting in the Colonial Theatre, is in charge of this Division. Mrs. Robert J. Culbert has been appointed the Massachusetts head of the local Division. Mrs. White, in professional life, holds the responsible post of reporter of the Supreme and Appellate Courts of Indiana. Mrs. White, in accepting her new chairmanship, said:

"Our Department of Legislation is created for the enactment of laws to accomplish certain definite purposes, and these are not accomplished unless the law when enacted is observed and enforced. The Federation has gone on record many times as favoring full prohibition and the enforcement of the prohibition laws. Enforcement of the prohibition law must begin with the observance in the home. The Federation has no machinery for enforcing law that belongs to the courts. But it can help measurably in the enforcement by the courts, by finding out what the courts are doing."

It is a paragraph that should be studied by all club women, especially since we pride ourselves upon being law-abiding citizens. Mrs. White has consciously or unconsciously, heavily arranged the American home that tolerates disobedience to law. Quite unconsciously, she is paying tribute to such men as Registrar Goodwin, who is courageously, and undismayed, demanding that the courts punish law breakers, be they thieves, bandits, or drunkards. In the safe-guarding of law-abiding citizens. Those who trifle with the prohibition laws, the personal liberty of those who desire to overindulge depraved appetites, should also admit that laws which protect them from thieves and murderers are curbing the liberty of these individuals to enjoy these pastimes.

State Federation

Those who are interested in the Course of Federal Administration, which is going on at 3 Joy Street, Boston, this winter, should mark March 22nd, as a date in this Course. The speaker is to be Harold Williams, U. S. Attorney. If your editor is not mistaken, this is the man who was at one time Prohibition Director in Boston. His remarks should prove interesting, enlightening, and—in view of the above discussion of prohibition—worth hearing by club women, whose Federation has repeatedly endorsed prohibition, and now is going to find some way to enforce it, among other enforcement.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs meets Monday morning, the 15th, at 10:15 o'clock, at the Newton Club, Newtonville. There will be reports of department activities since January 15th, the last Board meeting, by officers and chairmen. The status of legislative matters, the endorsement by the State Federation, report of the financial result of the Federation Issue of the Newton Graphic, Christmas Health Seals, and Education matters will be presented. The Education Chairman, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, has charge of the last half hour of the meeting. She will have speakers from the High School who will tell plans for the new organ, and plans of students to stop the deplorable practice of "bumming rides" that is being indulged in by students.

Gardens

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Newton Federation Conservation Chairman, announces April 6th as the next Garden Conference, which will be held at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. John P. Riese will speak on "Ferns," a topic in which she is wonderfully versed, and a later meeting, in conjunction with this lecture, will be a Fern Walk, under her instructive guidance.

Mrs. Goodridge also calls attention to the Garden Course which begins this week—the 12th—at Hunnewell Club Parlors, for the members of the Newton Community Club. These lectures are held weekly for five or six in the course. On the 19th a member of the State Agricultural Department will tell how to prevent insect infestations of gardens, or how, having fallen victim to this unpleasant scourge, the situation may be effectively handled. Newton Centre is holding a Course on the first three Mondays of March for the members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and the Newtonville Woman's Club is also providing this inspiring method of making summer at home more enjoyable.

RECENT EVENTS

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club's last trip into South Africa on Tuesday, March 9th was one of the most enjoyable of all the visits to that section of the world. Mrs. Ernest Drew's "History Since the Boer War" was interesting and enlightening, and showed that progress there had kept up with that in other countries in its abolition of insect pests, advance in agricultural lines, the building of railroads, acquisition of automobiles and radios, the use of airships for mail and other kinds of service, and the carrying on of good schools, although there is some doubt as to the political future since the recent election of Herzog, the "Stormy Petrel" to the Premiership.

Miss Florence Bridgman's excellent resume of Olive Schreiner's "Story of an African Farm," written when the author was only nineteen years old, showed the book to be not so much an account of conditions on an African farm (except in the description of some customs there) as a study in soul psychology depicting the doubts and fears, beliefs or unbeliefs of Olive Schreiner's own high-strung nature. The book, though of literary value cannot be very pleasant reading from any other standpoint.

Mrs. F. F. Davison in her talk on "Missions in South Africa" told of the missionary work there of many organizations and countries—The London Missionary Society, Moravian, Portuguese, French, Scotch, German, Swedish, and last but not least, our own American Board missionaries whose work has been largely among the Zulus.

At the close of Mrs. Davison's talk she introduced Mrs. Thompson who, with her husband (a medical missionary) has done excellent work in Rhodesia. Mrs. Thompson gave first hand many interesting experiences of her own in that land of ignorance, superstition, and immorality, where much is being done to improve conditions and save the souls of the people.

The music of the morning was most fitting, and consisted of two African melodies entitled "I am Troubled in Mind" and "My Lord Delivereth David" transcribed for the piano and played with much feeling by Mrs. Franklin Leland.

Social Science Club

Last Wednesday morning the Social Science Club and its guests listened with much interest to an address by Mr. Frank W. Wright, State Deputy Commissioner of Education, his subject being "Education and Democracy."

In brief, he described the business of the Government functioning through Boards and Commissions, and the Budget System, which is at least five years ahead of the nation in budgeting the State's business. He re-

ABOUT TOWN

According to those who have travelled in Tibet, the natives of that country, for the most part, do not take a bath during the course of their natural or unnatural lives. From the condition of the windows in the cars of the "Boston Elevated," one might conclude that these windows have been put on a par with Tibetans, so far as soap and water are concerned. It may be that, inasmuch as the "Elevated" does not now bother to equip any of its cars with window shades, dirt is allowed to accumulate on the windows in lieu of shades.

Complaints have been received that some unauthorized person made a house to house canvas in West Newton, purporting to be a representative of the Ipswich Mills. This party received deposits on hosiery; that was the last seen of him. The hosiery was not seen at all. It is peculiar how so many men and women of average intelligence, will give money to total strangers who call at residences or offices peddling merchandise of one kind or another. Many of these peddlers operate without license or responsibility. Frequently they are thieves who take deposits without giving anything in return. Much of the merchandise sold by these peddlers is low in quality and high in price.

Why should residents buy from strangers who call at houses when there are in this city merchants who have been established for years, who stand behind the quality of the goods they sell, who pay taxes and who contribute to the prosperity of the city? It is a question if any sympathy is deserved by those who refuse to accord a "fair show" to reputable merchants, but who allow themselves to be duped by itinerant peddlers.

This city has an ordinance compelling residents to affix or inscribe on their houses numbers in regular series to be designated by the City Engineer. Most of the older houses have such numbers, but many of the newer houses have no numbers attached. The postoffice department also requires that houses be properly numbered. Letter carriers are not obliged to deliver mail to houses improperly numbered or lacking numbers. Physicians in this city have been put to considerable inconvenience occasioned by the negligence of householders to obey the ordinance requiring all residences to be numbered.

We frequently patronize a well-known luncheon in this city to obtain a cup of coffee. Good coffee is served there. Usually we ask for a piece of apple pie when we order the coffee. A few months ago the pleasant young man behind the counter started to ask us if we desired a piece of cheese with the apple pie. We don't care for cheese, so we declined his suggestion. But, as he continued to ask us to try a piece of cheese with the apple pie, every time we ordered the latter, we asked him if he was trying to jolly us? He said "No." This caused us to wonder if his insistence on trying to make us eat cheese was because we have a ratlike appearance.

But, the mystery has been solved. The other day we entered another luncheon room conducted by the same company in Boston, and ordered a cup of coffee and a couple of crullers. "Will you have a piece of cheese with the crullers?" asked the counter man. Then it dawned upon us that this luncheon room concern is carrying on a "cheesy" campaign to further increase its large profits. We will refrain from ordering ice cream in any luncheon room owned by this company. Possibly we might be asked to have cheese with it.

Some interesting figures were given in the Boston Globe last week in regard to the number of automobiles registered in 1925 in the different cities, towns and counties of the state. Newton with 13,941 passenger cars stands second in Middlesex county, Somerville being first with 14,633. In the entire state Newton stands sixth being surpassed by Boston, Springfield, Worcester, Lynn and Somerville. Middlesex county stands second, only exceeded by Suffolk and there are 663,358 passenger cars and 100,480 commercial cars in the state.

The Newton figures by villages are as follows:—New Corner, 3,026; Newtonville, 2,168; Newton Centre, 2,058; West Newton, 1,978; Newton Highlands, 1,520; Auburndale, 1,235; Upper Falls, 559; Waban, 492; Chestnut Hill, 479 and Lower Falls, 426.

EQUIPMENT FOR A MODERN SCHOOL

Why do our schools cost so much today? This is a question very frequently asked. Conditions have changed greatly since those persons now middle-aged or old, went to school. When these old-timers were acquiring knowledge, they were taught "readin' ritin' and rithmetic," a little geography and history, and not much else. Nowadays, the youngsters in the public schools are "wised up" on about 57 subjects. Instead of being taught in a small frame building heated by stoves or a furnace, pupils of today go to magnificent buildings of brick or stone, heated by modern steam plants, equipped with ventilating outfits, shower baths, gymnasiums, vacuum cleaners, cafeterias, et cetera.

The equipment of the old schools included blackboards, chalk, slates, slate pencils, plain desks and chairs for the teacher and pupils, and a few tick rattans. The rattans were used for corrective purposes. Sometimes the pupil was taken down cellar, or into the coat room to be corrected, occasionally the correction was administered in the classroom for moral effect on the other pupils. In the new high school building will be two corrective rooms, one for girls and one for boys. In the equipment specified for these two rooms are no rattans. So, one must conclude, the corrective method practiced now, is of a different type than that enjoyed by pupils of the past generation.

The equipment of the new high school will cost over $40,000. It includes 535 pupils' desks and chairs for 17 class rooms; also 17 teachers' desks and chairs, tables, visitors' chairs, umbrella racks, bulletin boards, pencil sharpeners. Two offices for principals and an office for the director, will require desks, swivel chairs, sectional bookcases and rugs. There will be in addition a general office which besides desks and chairs will contain typewriters, filing cases, comptometer and mimeograph.

The new school will have what formerly might be termed a hospital room, but which according to correct modern terminology is called a health unit. This health unit will have 40 chairs and a study room will have 70 pupils' desks and chairs together with a teacher's desk and chair.

One of the most modern parts of the new school is the auditorium. In its equipment will be an asbestos curtain, drop curtain, scenic sets, rigging material, grand piano, projection machine, special chairs, portable chairs, mirrors, costumes, and so on. Another modern school adjunct that takes money to equip and maintain is the gymnasium. The equipment for this will cost over $10,000, not including the furnishings for the directors' rooms, coach's room, massage room, examining rooms and corrective rooms. The gym apparatus includes vertical ladders, horizontal ladders, rope ladders and ordinary ladders; booms, bucks, horses, beat boards, balance boards, spring boards, and vaulting boxes. The cafeteria will have 800 chairs, 125 tables, cash registers and small wares. The food will be cooked in the Technical High building.

There is as much difference between the schools of twenty-five or more years ago and the schools of today, as there is between the old horse and buggy and the latest model 8 cylinder sedan. And, it costs considerably more to obtain and maintain an 8 cylinder automobile than it did to buy and feed a horse.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis Club of Newton held its first regular meeting at the Auburndale Club, Tuesday at 12:15 P. M. and was practically one hundred per cent represented. A very delightful luncheon was served its members and afterwards several special committees were appointed to serve the best interests of the Club.

Lieutenant Governor Robert E. Green of New England district was the guest of the Club and gave a brief but interesting talk to the members.

The genial President, Frank L. Wilcox, was master of ceremonies.

POLICEMAN INJURED

Monday evening an Oldsmobile sedan, driven by Louis Risman of 85 Erie street, Dorchester, came around the corner of Hall street, Newton, and collided with a Ford sedan which was parked on Hall street. In the Ford was William H. Gallagher of 241 Church street. Officer Walter Jenkins, who was standing alongside the Ford when the collision occurred, was thrown to the ground and received injuries to his back, head and right arm. He was treated by Dr. McCarthy and removed to his home. Both cars were badly damaged.

REAL ESTATE

The office of Sullivan & McCarthy, Newton Centre, reports the sale of a single house and garage at No. 199 Harvard Circle, Newtonville, Jeanette A. Hennessey conveying to Clifford S. J. White. The property was valued around $12,500.

For Helen C. Farrell, the same office reports the sale of two lots of land on Prospect street, West Newton, to Edythe Carver of Watertown.

The same office reports the sale of a lot of land on Westview terrace, West Newton, to William F. Philion.

Sullivan & McCarthy also report the sale of a lot of land on Westview terrace to W. H. Harry of Brighton. Helen C. Farrell giving title. The new owner plans to improve the property.

"CAPTAIN APPLEJACK"

Great interest is being taken in the coming performance of "Captain Applejack" by the Women Teachers' Club of the Newton High School. Assisted by the members of the Schoolmasters' Club, to be given at Players' Hall next Friday and Saturday evenings. The cast includes Paul Elicher as Captain Applejack, Miss Helen Savage, Miss Eva Grenier, and Mrs. Edith Newcomb playing the leading women parts and Raymond Green and Robert Keane are among the other characters. Miss Louise Wetherbee is the efficient coach.

SEASCOUT NEWS

An announcement made at the regular meeting of the Seascout Troop 13 of Norumbega Council last Friday should be of interest to boys of Newton who are at least fifteen years of age; it was to the effect that additional facilities and instructors, make it possible to offer the advantages of this type of training to a greater number of scouts than had at first seemed feasible.

Many phases of the broad subject of Seascouting have been taken up in talks and instruction periods during the meetings and the interest of the Seascouts has kept pace. A group of the boys has just appeared before the first Court of Honor last evening for an examination on the requirements necessary to become an Ordinary Seascout.

Instruction for the Apprentice Class is about to start over again, and now would be a very good time for new boys to enter the ship. Although experience in Scouting is helpful, boys do not need to have had such training in order to join the Seascouts.

Any boys interested in joining, or any parents who would like to know more about Seascouting, are invited to attend any of the regular meetings which are held Friday evenings at 7:45 in the Veteran Firemen's Building on Watertown street, near West Newton Square, or communicate with the Skipper by calling West Newton 0253-Mr. Robert E. Lemont of Newton has recently been added to the staff and will serve under Portmaster Richard H. Brown as his assistant.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that the final papers have been passed where Benjamin Shapiro sells two new two-family houses at 62-64, 68-70 California street, Watertown, to Parkis Melolan who buys for investment. This completes the sale of eight two-family houses by the above concern for Mr. Shapiro since December 15, 1925. These new houses together with 5000 feet of land piece are valued at $13,000 each.

Burns & Sons also report that they have sold for Margaret Hanson the two-family frame house with 5000 square feet of land and two-car garage situated at No. 5-7 Adena road, West Newton, to John J. Timmins who purchases for investment. Total valuation being $12,500.

Burns Agency have also sold for John J. Timmins the new single frame house together with 6000 feet of land situated at 15 Gilbert street, Watertown, valued at $8,000. William Hanson purchases for occupancy.

PUBLIC OPINION

"Should we clean up Mexico?" "Should we exclude the Japanese?" "Should we allow the radicals to agitate freely?" These are some of the issues William Allen White raises in a reading course, "Conflicts in American Public Opinion," of which he is joint author with Walter E. Myer, in the series "Reading with a Purpose" being published by the American Library Association and circulated by the Newton Free Library.

Instead of taking sides upon the questions advanced, the authors have recommended six books from which an understanding of these and similar questions may be gained, and from which an intelligent opinion about them may be formed by the reader.

Like "Conflicts in American Public Opinion" each of the other courses in the "Reading with a Purpose" series introduces a subject and recommends a few books to direct the reader's interest. Thus far the following titles have appeared: "Biology," "English Literature," "Ten Pivotal Figures of History," "Some Great American Books" and "Sociology and Social Problems."

The Newton Free Library cannot guarantee, but will try to supply the courses and the recommended books in sufficient numbers to meet all demands. Paper-bound copies of the books for each course may also be purchased or ordered at the Newton Library or at any of the Branch Libraries at a very reasonable price. There are copies of the booklets on file at the several libraries, which may be consulted there.

ST. AGNES WHIST PARTY

One of the largest affairs ever held at St. Agnes School took place last Thursday night, March 4th, at a whist and bridge whist party. Over 800 people were seated at the tables. J. N. McDonald of Auburndale was head of the committee. The prize of a barrel of flour was won by Stephen Madden of 535 Auburn street, Auburndale, and a bag of potatoes was won by Mrs. R. J. Buckley of 102 Bynner street, Jamaica Plain. A bag of flour was won by Mary Wolfe, 122 Webster street, West Newton. Both the big ballroom and the auditorium were filled with people who came from Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury, Brighton, Allston, Auburndale and the Newtons.

A letter was received from Mayor Childs expressing his regret at not being able to be present on that evening. The receipts of this party will be donated toward the Building Fund. St. Agnes School was formerly the Planagan estate in Newton, and is now accommodating girls as boarders together with day pupils.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

Newton Lodge of Elks has started preparations for a May Festival to raise money for its charity fund. In addition to the regular charitable activities of the Lodge, it is proposed to assist in the work of the New England Peabody Home for the Crippled Children located at Oak Hill. A Buick sedan will be given as a prize in connection with this festival.

MR. WORK HERE

Mr. Milton C. Work, the well known bridge expert and Mrs. Work are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Warren of Hyde avenue, Newton. Mr. Work is giving a series of lecture tournaments in this vicinity including a large affair for charity to take place tomorrow evening at the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

NEWTON POST NO. 48, AMERICAN LEGION

The following men have been elected to serve as officers for Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, for the year 1926:

Commander, F. W. Stopford, Newtonville; First Vice-Commander, Harold G. Marion, Newton Centre; Second Vice-Commander, Donald M. Hill, Newtonville; Adjutant, Francis J. Barry, Auburndale; Finance Officer, Julius B. Ramm, West Newton; Chaplain, Rev. Ralph E. Davis, Newton Centre; Historian, R. John Henderson, Newton Highlands; Judge Advocate, Richard S. McCabe, Boston; Sergeant-at-Arms, William H. Donald, Watertown.

Executive Committee—At large, Albert Cunningham, Edward Dungan, Thomas J. Hoar, Newton, Russell Viles, Lower Falls, Harold Trefrey, Upper Falls, Thomas Barry, Newton Centre, Patrick J. Chane, Newtonville, Leonard Jackson, Auburndale, Amos Oldfield, Waban, Dr. George F. Bowlers, Nonantum, Horace Bellisle, West Newton, Philip W. Carter, Thompsonville, Dana J. Foley, Chestnut Hill, Harold G. Stewart, Newton Highlands, J. Geraci.

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion has received permission from the city authorities to proceed with their project in establishing a Flagway in the City of Newton. Many cities and towns of Massachusetts have already established their Flagway, which adds to the beauty and patriotic conditions of the community. These Flags will be sold through the Legion, and it is hoped that every section of the city will have Old Glory flying by May 30th, 1926. These Flags will be attached to a pole, which will be placed in a socket on the curbstone, said pole and socket being removed when not in use.

Newton Post has the honor and distinction of having as its Commander, a veteran of three wars, Colonel F. W. Stopford, of Newtonville, served in the Cuban Campaign during the Spanish-American war, the Philippine Insurrection, and in France during the World War. It is quite unusual that Commander Stopford had the honor of serving in the Cuban campaign under the command of his father, General Stopford. General Stopford is active in social and civic affairs, for he is a member of the United Spanish War Veterans' Association, and is now Mayor of Beverly, Mass.

A committee is now working on the matter of a Legion uniform, and at the next meeting of the Post, on March 18, 1926, they will render a report relative to the organization adopting this uniform. Many veterans have worn our Service uniforms, and it is now believed that Newton Post should have a standard uniform to replace the worn out Service uniform. While the National Headquarters of the American Legion has not, as yet, adopted any uniform, Newton Post believes that it should take the initiative in this matter and appear in an outfit that will cause other Massachusetts Posts to fall in line. If Newton Post does vote to have a new uniform, it is hoped that they will be able to have many of the members to wear in the annual parade on Memorial Day.

Philip W. Carter, of West Newton, has been elected Americanization officer of the Post, and it is his intention to co-operate with the school authorities and various organizations in the city, relative to patriotic exercises, the observance of holidays, proper respect to our Flag, and other matters of equal importance.

At a meeting of the Newton Central Council, held on March 2, 1926, at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, Newton Post No. 48, was represented by its Adjutant, Francis J. Barry.

Committees are now formulating plans to co-operate with the Grand Army of the Republic, United Spanish War Veterans' Association, and the City Government relative to the annual observance of Memorial Day. It is planned to make this year's observance more impressive than the previous ones, and that this parade of May 30, 1926 will be the largest and best ever held in the City of Newton.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The subject of the lecture by Mrs. J. W. F. Kennedy (Barbara Bradford) on the Commonwealth Country Club on Monday morning, March 15th, will be Eugene O'Neill's play, "Desire Under the Elms." This lecture is the last of a series given at this club in behalf of the disabled veterans.

The hostesses for this lecture and the luncheon which follows are Mrs. Elbridge W. Newton of Somerville and Mrs. Arthur L. Race, of the Copple Plaza, Boston.

On Wednesday evening, March 17, Mrs. Charles A. Durant of Newton, Mrs. Henry John Horn of Brookline and Mrs. Alex R. Keltie of Hyde Park will be the hostesses for an auction bridge party which is given for the same purpose. Misses Durant, Horn and Keltie will be assisted in receiving by Misses William C. Benedict, Payson T. Lowell, Fred L. Tompkins, of Newton; Lawrence B. Cussion, E. O. Danielson, Ray T. Lungenbach, Lester R. Smith, of Brookline; David R. Goodin, Frank W. Lyman, of Brighton; James F. Malone of Chestnut Hill and Eugene E. O'Donnell, of Allston.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by JOHN J. MCGINNEY and M. GENEVIEVE MCGINNEY, of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to SAMUEL E. WASSERMAN, of Boston, dated January 4, 1926, recorded with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 4854, Page 257, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage deed, on THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY OF MARCH, 1926, at 10:30 A. M. IN THE FORENOON, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in that part of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, called Newtonville and being numbered 38 and 40 Eddy Street and also being numbered 5 on a plan of House Lots owned by F. R. and G. W. Vail, Newtonville, dated June 13, 1908, C. H. Gannett, Civil Engineer, recorded with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, at the end of book 3373, bounded and described as follows:

WESTERLY by Eddy Street, fifty (50) feet;
NORTHERLY by lots numbered 2, 3 and 4 as shown on said plan, one hundred fifty-nine and 30/100 (159.30) feet;
EASTERLY by lot number 1 as shown on said plan, twenty (20) feet;
SOUTHERLY again by lot numbered 1 as shown on said plan, fifteen (15) feet;
EASTERLY again by lot numbered 41 on said plan, twenty and 97/100 (20.97) feet;

SOUTHERLY by lot numbered 6 as shown on said plan, one hundred sixty-eight and 96/100 (168.96) feet; containing according to said plan about 7342 square feet of land more or less.
Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Francis L. Buswell and Helen G. Buswell, dated November 20, 1925 and duly recorded with the said Registry of Deeds.

This conveyance is made subject to a mortgage of $2500.00 in Newton Savings Bank and to a second mortgage of $2500.00 to the Mortgage Investment Trust, dated November 20, 1925 respectively, and both duly recorded with the said Registry of Deeds.

The above described premises will be sold and conveyed subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles, and other municipal liens or assessments, if any there be, and also to the above mentioned mortgages and accrued interest if any.

Three Hundred ($300.00) dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale, at which time and place the other terms will be made known.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

From Last Week

The big event of the week on Beacon Hill are the hearings by the Judiciary Committee on the various bills relative to crime. Several Newton residents are deeply interested in this question and among the speakers were Hon. Sanford Bates of Waban, Commissioner of Correction, Hon. Herbert C. Parson, Deputy Commissioner of Probation, and Mr. William G. Thompson of Chestnut Hill. The bills favored by Mr. Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles, were petitioned for and sponsored by Representative Luitwieler of this city and Mr. Luitwieler was the first speaker in favor of most of these bills. The Boston daily papers have given considerable space to these hearings and it is not necessary to repeat the arguments for or against in this article. It might be advisable to say that the more reliable lawyers who spoke before the committee admitted the need of some of the features contained in the Goodwin bills and most of them also favored a commission to give the subject more thorough study. We believe that there is so much public sentiment aroused on this matter that even the Judiciary Committee constituted wholly of lawyers will be compelled to report favorably on some of these bills or if reported adversely the Legislature will substitute the bill.

The House this week by a narrow margin added one more holiday to the long list of legal holidays now in vogue in this state. Armistice Day, November 11, has been made a legal holiday by one branch of the General Court, but it will have hard sledding in the Senate and possibly will not receive a veto if it gets up to Governor Fuller. All three Newton representatives voted against the bill. There were two interesting suggestions made in connection with this new holiday. One, that Thanksgiving Day be changed to Sunday and the other to abolish New Year's as a legal holiday. Both suggestions have considerable merit.

The committee on Public Service has favorably reported the bill to allow Dennis J. O'Donnell to be appointed a police officer of Newton.

The Middlesex county commissioners have asked for $2106,500 for the expenses for 1926, or $120,000 more than the expenses of 1925. Outside of Suffolk, this is the highest in the commonwealth. Essex being second with $1,518,000 and Worcester third with $1,125,000.

CITY REPORTS

March 4, 1926.

Newton, Massachusetts.
Dear Sir:
I have read with interest a story printed in one of our Newton papers relative to the printing and distribution of the annual reports of the various departments of the City, some of which are not printed and distributed until long after the time has passed to which they relate. In some respects it is a deplorable fact that annual reports of this kind cannot be prepared during the year and issued immediately after the close of the year because the value of such reports diminishes in the eyes of the public as swiftly as the time passes to which they relate.

On the other hand, the reports in the form in which they are issued cannot be prepared hastily at the end of each year without entailing unwarranted expense and without omitting many of the public records and statistics that are usually printed in the reports. These records and statistics which are of little value to the general public constitute a valuable record in a standard form and are preserved for all time for the use of the departments to which they relate as well as for the use of those City departments, the corresponding departments of other cities, and of officials of the State and other organizations. It seems to me this value more than offsets any loss of public interest entailed from a purely readable standpoint in not having a hastily prepared report.

In justice to myself I feel that I should explain the reason for the long delay in printing my own report last year which was ready for printing and distribution at this time last year. It is a well-known fact that each department has a limited appropriation for its work, and this department which is required to have printed the reports of all the departments is limited to the number of reports that can be printed, by the amount of the appropriation made for the printing.

In 1925, the appropriation was not sufficient for printing all of the reports, and in order to avoid any suspicion of selfishness in printing my own report first, leaving the report of some other department unprinted, I printed the reports of other departments first, omitting entirely the printing of my own report. I felt that I was entitled to have my own report printed first this year and this has been done. My own report is being printed first this year and is now being bound for distribution.

Incidentally, I have prepared and will issue at the same time a book containing the names and offices of the City Government for the year 1926 with complete copy of the Charter of the City, and the rules and orders of the Board of Aldermen together with many statistics relating to the City; also a supplement to the revised ordinances of 1922 containing in chronological order all sections of the ordinances which have been amended since the publication of the ordinances in 1922.

My annual report for this year is prepared in a standard form in order to preserve a uniform record which has been used since the City was incorporated. Mortgages, bills of sale, and other legal matters have been recorded in the usual manner. 2,174 dogs have been licensed, 300 sporting licenses issued, and about 1400 garage permits authorized, for all of which the proper fees have been collected and turned over to the proper authorities.

Births, marriages and deaths have been promptly recorded for instantaneous reference to any and all of the records at any time.

On April first, under an amendment to the General Laws, all cities and towns in the Commonwealth were required to take a census of their inhabitants. The Chief Executive of the City asked this department to undertake the work. The result of the census showing the population at 53,003, shows the rapid growth of our City. A great deal of credit is due to those in charge of the school children, both in the public and parochial schools, for their co-operation and assistance in furnishing me with a list of all the children attending the schools which was of great value in completing and supplementing the work done by the census enumerators. Without these lists there would have been many discrepancies and errors.

The work of this department in connection with furnishing relief to soldiers, keeping a record of City employees under the Workmen's Compensation Law, making the payments required by law to injured employees, and preparing for and conducting the City election has been done in the usual manner.

One of our perplexing problems of the year has been the licensing of garages, of which there were over 1000. The work of complying with the law requiring public hearings, notices thereof to owners of land abutting proposed garage locations, advertising in the newspapers has required painstaking supervision. Applicants for garages are impatient of delays which occur in their petitions, and owners of land abutting garage locations are equally insistent that they are accorded all their rights to hearings, notices thereof, and opportunities to inspect the plans and petitions for garages.

On May 4, 1925, the Board of Aldermen amended the zoning ordinances of the city to provide for a single residence zone. This action was taken after many hearings and many single residence sections were added to the original single residence district after supplemental hearings by the Board of Aldermen. As no special provision is made in the zoning ordinances establishing a separate department for the execution of the ordinances these burdens fall upon existing departments not properly equipped or constituted to handle such matters either with office force space or other accommodations and the burden of meeting the requirements is not an easy one, particularly in this department.

In closing, I think it is fitting to comment on the work of the Board of Aldermen during the past year. While the usual number of meetings were held, those familiar with the affairs of the City must realize the increasing amount of work placed upon the Board during the past year. The rapid growth of the City has added tremendously to the duties of the Board in meeting present requirements and planning for the future development of the City. The unusual development in all parts of the City and the demand for all the usual necessary privileges, such as water, street, and sewer services, has required the constant study of the Public Works Committee. The rapidly increasing enrollment in the schools has given the Committee on Public Buildings serious problems to solve. The constant demands from owners of land for changes in zoning boundaries, some asking for restrictions and others asking for removal of restrictions have engrossed the attentions of the Committee on Claims and Rules. The work of the Finance Committee has been to collaborate the recommendations of all committees and decide before those which could be approved in the best interests of the City.

The members of the License Committee have given unstintingly of their time in protecting the interests of all concerned in the matter of permits for private garages, public garages, gasoline stations, and all the other various collection of petitions for special privileges which come before this committee. The license for the operation of busses by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company was granted upon recommendation of this Committee and a special committee, both of which gave a great deal of time and study to the matter of regulations governing the operation of the busses before final action was taken.

The reports of select committees upon fire alarms and signal system, upon insurance matters relating to city property; on the use of automobiles; on regulations of street traffic; on the single residence zoning ordinance, have all been carefully considered and provision made by ordinances or by-laws regulate these different matters in such a way that the best interests of all are conserved. These matters which are mentioned are only a few of the more important ones which have engrossed the attention of the Board, and many have been omitted through lack of space in this short article and not because they are of less importance.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale and for breach of the conditions contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John Christopher and Michael B. Zaharenos, co-partners, doing business under the firm name and style of Liberty General Contracting Company of Watertown, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to Gertrude L. Kotzen, of Boston, Suffolk County, dated July 15, 1925, and recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 4858, page 230, will be sold at public auction on the forenoon all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and thereinafter described as follows:

"The land in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, being shown as lot 8 on a plan showing subdivision of lots 8 and 17 on plan of Converse Estate Development, Newton, Mass., for Harry J. O'Meara, W. C. Woolner, Landscape Architect, A. C. Peters, C. E. recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Plan Book 323, Plan 28, said subdivision plan being made by A. C. Peters, dated February 1924, duly recorded bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Concolor Ave. 75.46 feet; northerly by lot 8-A on said subdivision plan 115.85 feet; easterly by lot 7 on said plans 54.96 feet; southerly by two lines measured 106.40 feet and 16.98 feet, respectively, said two lines being by Cabot St. and Southwesterly by a curved line forming the sundial of Cabot St. and Concolor Ave. 37.31 feet; containing 9055 square feet of land according to said subdivision plan.

This conveyance is made subject to the taxes assessed as of Apr. 1, 1924; also subject to the following restrictions which are to remain in force for 20 years from Aug. 18, 1925, and no longer viz:

1. Only a private dwelling house constructed for and to be used or occupied by one family shall be erected or placed on said lot.

2. Said dwelling house shall cost not less than $12,000.00 exclusive of the land, and based on present day building prices.

3. All buildings to be set back at least 30 feet from the line of Cabot St. and Concolor Ave.

4. A private garage may be placed on said lot to be used in connection with or as a part of the dwelling house.

For reference to title see Deeds recorded with Middlesex S. Dist. Deeds in Book 4708, pages 461, 462 and 464.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, municipal liens and municipal assessments, if any there be, $2,000.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, or other terms as follows:

Falls Woman's Club, on Monday evening, March 15th, at the Club Rooms, Miss Elinor Eastman Stearns, a graduate of Leland Powers School of the Spoken Word, will give the reading, "Miss Hobbs," by Jerome K. Jerome.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

With the coming of the Spring months, one's thoughts are apt to turn to interests of out of doors—either the garden and flowers, or the returning birds and wild life—and with that idea in mind, the Conservation Committee has planned for the meeting on Tuesday, March 16th, a lecture on "New England Birds and Wild Flowers," by Mrs. Harriet Upham Goode of Sharon. "Birds," Mrs. Goode's home in Sharon, is known to many bird lovers as a wonderful spot in which to study bird life, and her own personal experiences provide a fund of material for a most interesting lecture.

The Philanthropic Committee is arranging for a food sale at the conclusion of the meeting, and as this will be the last activity of the Committee for this season, the members are all requested to come with full pocket-books, prepared to buy.

Notices have been sent to prospective graduates of the local high schools, resident in the village, regarding the scholarship award which is soon to be made by the Club through the Education and Philanthropic Committees.

Swimming classes are being held each Monday morning this month in the Brookline Swimming Tank with Mrs. Murt S. Wallace in charge of the arrangements.

The Art Committee is keeping "open house" each Thursday in the Barn Studio on Hartford street, where any one is welcome to go with their work for an hour, or the entire day, as the case may be, and enjoy the companionship of their friends, while they sew or mend, or make rag rugs—the latter occupation seeming to be the most popular one with those present last week. The needle-point class, postponed from last week, will meet this week, as usual, with Miss Gertrude Aldrich at her studio in Boston.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club will hear Maud Huntington Benjamin give "Leah Kleschna," at their next meeting on March 16th. C. M. S. McLellan is the author of this five-act drama. There will also be singing by the Club Chorus.

Newtonville Woman's Club

On the same date, the 16th, the Newtonville Woman's Club is to enjoy a Musical. Those who provide the entertainment are: Maude Erickson, soprano; Jacobus Langendoen, cello; Daniel J. McHugh, tenor; and Reginald Boardman, piano.

Social Science Club

Mrs. Winthrop Packard, authority on "birds," will give one of her delightful lectures on "Birds in the Garden," before the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, March 17th, at 10 o'clock. They will generously share this good fortune with the members of the Newton Community Club, whom they invite to be their guests, only stipulating that these members show their own club tickets at the door.

Not only has Mrs. Packard many interesting experiences to relate, but she can tell of the splendid work her husband, Winthrop Packard, is doing in the State Audubon Society. He is the inventor of many wonderful bird houses and methods of attracting and feeding them that to learn about makes one long for a few country acres in which to experiment with this satisfactory hobby.

Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A.

Newton women will be delighted to know that the women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A., are to give another of their popular Food Sales. Mrs. Frank Schofield is in charge of this particular effort to add to their funds for many splendid causes. The Sale will be held at Channing Church on Saturday afternoon, March 20th from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Makers of History

Forgetful of Past

It was at Balaie that a shadowy guest called on the procurator of Judea, stayed to supper, even stayed (unlike Pilate, his host) for an answer to a casual question. Did he, the guest inquired, recall a Galilean of the name of Jesus . . . Jesus of Nazareth . . . crucified for some offense?

The old man frowned, groped in his memory, put a vague hand to his head and answered faintly, "Jesus, Jesus of Nazareth? I do not remember."

That exquisite effacement of the past is the perfect comment of an ironist upon the intelligence of historical characters, is the opinion of Philip Guedalia, recorded in Harper's Magazine. Pilate, one feels, was not alone in this unawareness of his own significance.

How many figures, faced in Elysium with eager questions upon their supreme achievement, must murmur a vague, unsatisfying "I do not remember!" It is so easy to miss the point of others that one may sometimes be forgiven for missing one's own—the more readily, perhaps, when it was a failure. For we may leave the memory of our failures to other people with perfect confidence. Posterity is never a tactful listener; and that side of our immortality will always be secure.

But these omissions often have a simpler cause. Sometimes deliberate, they are due quite frequently (Pilate's was such a case) to sheer inadvertence. The poor dears make history and never notice it; or they make it and then, like a posted letter, quite forget it.

Pledge of Allegiance

Phonetically Rendered

Day after day the pupils in a certain school stood and solemnly recited the well-known pledge of allegiance. Then came a day when they were called on by the teacher to write the pledge. Here are two of the answers, said by the teacher to be typical:

"I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands. One nation in the visible, and for liberty and just for all."

"I pledge a legion to my flag and to the republic for riches stand one nation invisible with liberty and just for all."

A similar perversion of phonetics is reported by a Miss Murphy, who teaches school in a Massachusetts town. Each day the children recited the Twenty-third psalm. One day a pupil was selected to recite the gem alone. Came the passage, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life . . ." His version was:

"Surely good Miss Murphy shall follow me all the days of my life . . ."

"Grenadier"

A grenadier was originally a soldier whose special duty it was to throw hand grenades. Grenade is from the French word for the eastern fruit, pomegranate, the small spherical explosive called grenade resembling the fruit in shape. Hand-grenades were used in the war in the Sixteenth century, but the word grenade was also from the first used to imply an explosive shell fired from a gun. These weapons were employed after 1600 by special troops called grenadiers. They became obsolete in the Nineteenth century, but the Japanese returned to their use in the siege of Port Arthur in 1904. They contained high explosives and were found to be effective. They were also used in the trench warfare in northern France in the World war, but were generally called trench bombs.

Sincerity

The power of genius is essentially the same as the disconcerting quality of sincerity when brought face to face with false pretensions. The rest of us are constantly peeling off new wrappings which conceal us from ourselves, and finding that yesterday we acted a part; but the genius is he who has arrived at the basis of his nature and whose morrow believes not his yesterday. Genius is that fire which kindles only the altars of sincerity. . . . In literature it is style, the power of leaning one's whole weight on the pen.—John Eglinton, in "Anglo-Irish Essays."

Both Meant Brains

Doctor Busby, whose figure was much beneath the common size, was one day accosted in a public coffee-room by a baronet of colossal stature with, "May I pass to my seat, O giant?" when the doctor, politely making way, replied, "Pass, O pigmy."

"Oh, sir," said the baronet, "my expression alluded to the size of your intellect."

"And mine to yours," said the doctor.—London Answers.

Not That Familiar

"Are you and your wife well acquainted with the Splurges next door?"

"Well, not exactly well acquainted. We say 'How do you do?' to them, but we are not yet on such familiar terms as to say 'How do you do it?'"

Carry On!

"Harry kissed me at the pictures last night."

"What did you say?"
"I told him if he did things like that in the dark I never wanted to see his face again."—Sydney Bullett.

MAY MAKE USE OF AIRPLANE

Test to Be Made to Determine Its Value in Campaign to Control Insect Pests.

As a result of experiments carried on during the past two years in spraying trees with poison distributed by an airplane, in the campaign to control insect pests, it has been considered advisable by the United States Department of Agriculture to make a number of tests this summer to determine whether the lighter-than-air machine can be used satisfactorily. Arrangements have been made between the Department of Agriculture and the air service of the War department to use a motorized balloon for this purpose.

The work will be conducted in the gipsy-moth infested area in New England, where an attempt will be made to devise equipment that can be attached to the balloon so that a poison spray can be applied in forest areas. Numerous tests have been planned to determine whether this method of spraying is effective and economical. Department officials hope that the results may be of practical importance in the treatment of forest areas infested with leaf-eating insects.

This method of spraying is relatively new, and as a poisonous dust can be applied more rapidly from the air than a liquid spray from the ground, it is necessary to determine the effectiveness of the former method and whether or not the application can be made at an expense that will warrant its use on a large scale.

TWO WATCHES SOLVE MUDDLE

Sniffens Has No More Trouble Keeping Track of Daylight Saving and Standard Time.

Sniffens is a traveling salesman who is on the road most of the time and whose wanderings take him across the continent a couple of times a year. It will be a week or so before he makes his next trip, but already he has begun to make preparations, and one of the first things he did was to get out what he calls his "second" watch. For with the advent of daylight saving each year Sniffens, who travels to suburban points just to keep his hand in between times, has great difficulty in keeping track of the schedules, due to the difference between railroad timetables and daylight time.

Sniffens has found that his "second" watch, which is of silver, while his regular timepiece is of gold, has solved the problem. He simply sets the silver watch to correspond to daylight saving time while his regular watch is kept at the standard time of the particular section of the country he happens to be in.

The silver watch is used to keep city appointments and to keep tabs on suburban trains, while the gold watch serves the purpose of being always right for trains which run on standard time.—New York Sun.

Giant of the Deep.

The American Museum of Natural History some time ago came into possession of what is believed to be the largest whale ever exhibited on land. It is a female finback, 63½ feet in length. Its body, in life, was 30 feet in circumference. It is estimated that at least 50 men could be inclosed within the interior of this gigantic animal. The full-grown right whale, which is the species usually hunted for its blubber and whalebone, averages from 45 to 50 feet in length. The whale whose skeleton adorns the museum was washed ashore dead, near Forked river, N. J. Scientific theory avers that the ancestors of the whales were terrestrial or land mammals, which gradually became aquatic in their way of living.—Washington Star.

Acetylene Gas.

Acetylene gas, which was discovered in 1836, is obtained from a substance named calcium carbide. Formerly this substance could be produced only in small quantities, but about thirty years ago a method of manufacturing it on a comparatively large scale was discovered in England. In consequence of this discovery use has ever since been made of acetylene for illuminating purposes.

When acetylene is mixed with air it is dangerously explosive, but it is asserted that it can be burned without danger whatever when produced in the pure state. It is asserted that, burned at the rate of five cubic feet per hour, an acetylene gas flame can be made to produce a light of 240 candle power.—New York Herald.

Needed Space.

At a certain county court the applicant for a marriage license is handed a blank to fill out. This blank requires the applicant to state name, age and number of previous marriages, with the name of the former husband or wife, as the case may be.

A movie actress came in and procured a blank, which she proceeded to study carefully. The last item caused her to register perplexity. Then she went up to the clerk and asked prettily: "Have you a longer blank, or shall I paste three of these together?"

Whaling Business Falls Off.

Whaling was conducted on a very small scale during the last year, the whaling fleet only operating for a period of three months, during which 187 great mammals were captured. This is far below the catch during the years when whale oil was fetching a reasonable price, the maximum reached in the best season being 900.

POLICE NEWS

Salvatore Campisi, of 26 Auburndale avenue, West Newton, was arrested Tuesday noon, by Sergt. Leehan, assisted by Officers Dowling, King and Marden. According to the police, Campisi, who repairs boots for a living, has been increasing his income by assisting in bootlegging. For some time the police have been watching the house occupied by Domenico Mancuso, at 100 Lexington St. Mancuso has been in court before and convicted for violating the liquor law, so when the police observed that his home was being visited by a number of persons who are addicted to "hard liquor," they watched the place. Their vigilance was rewarded late Tuesday morning, when they saw Campisi drive up to the house in an expensive sedan and carry a burlup bag into the house. Sergt. Leehan and his sleuths rushed from their hiding place and followed him into Man-cusso's abode. They seized the burlup bag and found it contained a 5-gallon can filled with liquor redolent of alcohol. A further search of Mancuso's home revealed a large pitcher containing intoxicating fluid and a quantity of empty bottles.

Campisi was in court Wednesday charged with illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor. His case was continued until March 17. Mancuso, who was arrested Tuesday evening, was also in court on Wednesday. He was found guilty of keeping and exposing intoxicating liquor for sale and fined $200. He was also given a suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction.

CHARLES WILKINS

Charles Wilkins of 14 Avon Place,
Newton, died at the Newton Hospital March 9 after a long illness. He was struck by an auto some months ago and has since been confined to the hospital. Mr. Wilkins was born in New Brunswick 67 years ago and had resided in Newton for over 40 years.
He was in the employ of the late George W. Bush for 30 years and was well known to all commuters who used the Newton Corner depot. He is survived by a widow and three children. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at the Church of Our Lady. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

W. C. T. U.

On Monday, March 15th, the Annual Roll Call meeting of the West Newton
W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Braman, 66 Court street, Newtonville. All members are urged to come and answer to the call.
Hostesses, Mrs. Ella Mercier, Mrs.
Hannah Blair and Mrs. Gertrude Braman.

FROM ATTIC TO SELLER

For generations, the first week in February has seen the beginning of that domestic assault,—Spring Housecleaning. Bureau drawers, closets, bags, "big box, little box, bandbox, and bundle" were "looked over" and such contents as were not usable at the time were stowed away "thinkin' they'd be in handy someday" in the big old-fashioned attic, where the first-battle of the Spring campaign had already waged, or else ("if they won't rust or mildew" in the dark cellar where the final victory over the hopes of disorder was won.

But—where are the attics of those generations, and how many of the next generations will ever see a cellar?
If you have three stories in your home, the top floor consists of two or three "finished" chambers and a billiard-room; if, as is even more likely, you live, either vertically or horizontally, in part of a building, where is your attic space?

However, history as well as biology shows that nothing is removed from us without the formation of its useful substitute. As housekeepers, we may find in the Rummage Sales of today a place where anything "too good to throw away" may find its expected usefulness.

That someone else will be the one to whom it "comes in handy" will not trouble us. Under such circumstances we are all altruists.

In April, just at a convenient time for you, the Woman's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A. will act as the Seller for anything of which you wish to dispose, at one of these give-and-get sales, and will be very glad to have you make use of it. By so helping the Auxiliary and the expected purchaser, you will help yourself. In lieu of the attic we offer you a seller.

MUSIC AT WEST NEWTON

A musical program with a reader will be given in the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, in West Newton, on Friday evening, March 19. The artists are Miss Marion L. Morehouse, "cellist, Miss Anna Elchhorn, violinist, Miss Juliette E. Martin, soprano, Mr.
A. Thorndike Luard, organist, and Miss Florence Levy, reader.

Miss Morehouse is well known as a soloist, who after years of study under the ablest instructors of this country and abroad, ranks deservedly among the best "cellists" of Boston, where her work is well known and appreciated.

Mr. Carl Barth in speaking of Miss Morehouse, says, "Her highly developed technical equipment, her fine phrasing and beautiful tone should win for her the lasting favor of an audience that appreciates true musicianship."

Miss Elchhorn firmly holds a place as a violin soloist of the first rank.
She has toured this country in concert, made a foreign tour during the war, and is especially well known to concert audiences in Boston and the East. For several seasons she served as concert mistress of the MacDowell Club Orchestra under Georges Longy of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She is also a member of the faculty of Lasell Seminary.

Miss Martin is a dramatic soprano of great promise. She is a pupil of Miss Lucy M. Van De Mark of Boston and New York.

Miss Levy is from the Leland Powers School, and has been very successful in her work.

Mr. Luard is one of the younger organists of Boston. During the past year he has been devoting much of his time to recital work. Music critics say that he is a brilliant player with a fine sense of rhythm and a clean technique. He is an organ pupil of Benjamin L. Whelpley and John Hermann Loud.

CHARGE NOT PROSSED

District Attorney Arthur K.
Reading entered a nol pros late Wednesday evening on a charge of manslaughter preferred against two young girls, Aileen and Honora O'Connor, for the death of their mother, Nora O'Connor. The girls were in court
Wednesday and were held under $1000 bail each for trial, and being unable to raise that sum were placed in jail.
Mr. Reading's action allowed the girls to return to Newton under the charge of Mrs. Wellman, the Probation officer. It will be recalled that Mrs.
O'Connor was found dead some two months ago at her home on Walnut park.

Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN

The splendid group of women under the direction in Newton of Mrs.
Louis Stoughton Drake, President of the local Young Women's Christian Association, have pledged themselves to assist in the $1,500,000 campaign for the Boston and Newton Associations. Mrs. Herbert E. Fales is organizing the workers in West Newton, Mrs. E. Ray Speare in Newton Centre, and Mrs. Sanford Thompson in Newton Highlands, while Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland has secured to work with her in Newton Corner: Mrs.
Samuel N. Braman, Miss Emma Walker, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, Mrs. E. W. Hodgson, Mrs. H. H. Powers, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, Miss Margaret H. Aubin, Mrs. Loring D.
Towle, Mrs. Clyde G. Hess, Mrs. William A. Somerby, Miss Florence Heard, Miss Claire Amazeen, Miss Martha O. Boothby and Mrs. Effie E.
Nagle.

All the girls of Greater Boston will be so much benefited by the proposed new building in that city that the Board of Directors of the Newton Association have voted to join in this campaign. The $1,500,000 required is to cover not only the new Boston building, but maintenance for both the Boston and Newton organizations.
In the four years of its existence the Newton Association has received great encouragement and financial assistance from the Boston Board of Directors, and so it is most essential that the Newton friends of these organizations give not only the amount required for local work, but a share in the larger service for women and girls in the metropolitan district.

ROYAL CAR IN NEWTON

The old Daimler-Knight automobile, used by King George of Great Britain from 1910 until the fall of 1924, will be in this city next Monday afternoon.
It will appear in West Newton at 3, at Newtonville at 3.15 and at Newton Corner at 3.30. King George was driven over 200,000 miles in this car before he traded it in for a new coach. Nothing extraordinary about George, when it comes to automobiles. Persons who have received thrills by gazing at Napoleon's state coach and its companions, the gorgeous equipages used by the Bourbons, which are on display at Versailles, may have the privilege of planting themselves on the same seat where the monarch of Britain sat many times, if they happen around next Monday.

NEWTON LEAGUE BOWLING

Hunnell won three out of four in its matches with Middlesex Wednesday night in the Newton Bowling league. Hunnell also had the highest team total of any club in the league for the evening with a pinfall of 1651.

Waban Neighborhood scored the only clear sweep of the evening when it shut out the Newton Club team.
Wood of Waban rolled a high single of 143.

BRANCH LIBRARY

It would not be "news" to any resident of greater Boston to state that Newton had a splendid school system, or that it was the centre of the most beautiful homes, or that it had the finest Women's Clubs in the country. But when the subject of local library and reading room facilities is touched upon Newtonians have had to turn the subject to other lines.

The group of men and women in Newton Centre, that are now putting on the drive for $60,000 for a new library, have been drawn from the churches and all the active organizations of the village. In working out plans some interesting facts have been discovered.

With a circulation of nearly 46,000 books for 1925 just from our poor, inadequate, pitiful little reading room, it appears that this is a village of readers. Of this 46,000 over 13,000 were juveniles and the reading room facilities are not adequate or proper to take intelligent care of our little readers. Besides the nearly 46,000 books taken from our reading room over 20,000 have been delivered directly from the Main Library to Oak Hill, Waban and Chestnut Hill and 4500 books to the Mason school alone; this being the largest number to any grade school in Newton.

This is a vital element in the educational and social work of any village; the possibilities of good through an adequate and well equipped library and reading room are unlimited and Newton Centre means to do herself well, in this, as in every other line. A perfect location is available and even before the drive started the School Association and the Woman's Club made donations, thus expressing their official approval and cooperation. Such a project as this involves the beauty of the village, the education of the village and more than all, the welfare of the children and young people of the village.

MIDWINTER PARTY

The Every Saturday Club held its annual Mid-Winter Party on Saturday evening, March thirteenth, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin S. Giles on Waltham street, West Newton. Mrs. Giles was a former member and kindly invited the Club to her home for the occasion. The committee in charge consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, Miss Alice Nelson, Mrs. R. B. Farnum, Miss Clara Burgess, Mr. J. C. Hagar, Rev. Mr. Spiers and Mr. J. H. Willey.

The Club has devoted this winter to the study of Biography, and at the party some of the Shades whose lives have been reviewed and some of those whose lives have not been taken up met to discuss the formation of a Franklin club in Elysium. Benjamin Franklin (Mr. W. H. Sylvester), Lucretia Borgia (Mrs. C. R. Kemper), George Eliot (Miss Margaret McGill), P. T. Barnum (Mr. A. D. Auryansen), Queen Victoria (Mrs. A. L. Wakefield), Mother Goose (Mrs. G. W. Harris), James Boswell (Mr. G. W. Harris), and Mark Twain (Mr. Ernest Caverly), made some very clever hits upon various Club members.

At last Paul Revere (Miss Marion Bassett) and his friend, John Newman (Mrs. Samuel Thurber) arrived and inquired what all the discussion was about. Upon learning that the biographies had not been on the Club program, they proceeded to rectify the omission, and with Mrs. W. C. Boyden as reader, they gave an amusing presentation of "Paul Revere's Ride."

Then followed three-minute biographical sketches by members of the Club. Mr. J. C. Hagar told some "Hits and Misses of a Miss-Spent Life." Mrs. R. B. Farnum related a striking incident in the life of her husband. Rev. John W. Spiers contributed a bit of original verse entitled "What Two Words Tell." Miss Alice Nelson related a personal experience "The First and Last Time I Rode Horseback." Mr. Percy Ziegler reviewed "The Bio-

GARAGE AND MOVING PERMITS

Cause Long and Animated Discussion at Meeting of the Aldermen. $100,000 Voted for School House Purposes

The meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening, not going under way until 8.20. Members of the Finance and Public Works committees had spent several hours during the afternoon and early evening deliberating on the budget. After their conference they partook of a frugal meal at the Brae Burn Club and were somewhat late in reaching City Hall. There was but a small "gallery" present at the meeting, but those who attended enjoyed a spicy session. Some pointed remarks were made in connection with a couple of matters, and on at least one of these matters it is more than probable there will be further sharp debate. The first business on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Edison Company for pole locations on Elmwood Park, Newtonville. No person appeared to object. The next matter was the hearing on the petition of Albert T. Stuart for a public garage and gasoline station at 2066 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale. Mr. Stuart explained that he desires to relocate two gasoline pumps now on this property, one of which is at present situated on a public sidewalk. In place of these pumps he will establish an up to date filling station and abolish the sidewalk pump. He also intends to raze the two old buildings now on the property and erect a modern 40-car garage. There was no opposition.

President Pratt asked Chairman Madden of the Claims and Rules committee if the aldermen must take further action on the closing of Elm Rd. Mr. Madden replied that the State Registrar of Motor Vehicles had approved of the aldermen's action in ordering the road closed, but a resident of the street had taken an appeal from his decision. An offer of $100 was received from Froangelo Gasbarri for some land owned by the city on Florence street, Thompsonville. The appointments of Harold Young as a member of the Board of Registrars of Voters and Dr. C. A. Boutelle as Inspector of Animals were confirmed. Petitions were read from H. Stanley Bloomfield for a sewer in Metacomet Road; Edward C. Dolan for $55.50 damages caused by a collision with a Street Department truck; Laura O. Anderson for injuries caused by falling on a sidewalk; Richard H. Norton for changing Oxford Road from private to single residence zone.

Private Garage Permits

Permits for private garages were granted to: S. Bruce Black, 180 Kent Road, 2 car; Henry C. Bourne, 38 Whitney Road, 1 car; William F. Foran, 18 Myrtle street, 1 car; Charlotte Foster, 86 Freeman street, 2 car; W. H. Newcomb, 72 Homer street, 2 car; Nathan Stiles, 148 Elgin street, 1 car. Permits were also granted to Lawrence Howland of 7 Lucas Court for an express license and to the Edison and Telephone Companies for joint pole locations on Brookdale Road, Evergreen Avenue and Exeter street.

A hearing was assigned for April 5 on the petition of George Haynes for a permit to build a gasoline filling station at the Thornton street end of the wooden block on Washington St. The application of Thomas M. Dillon for a gasoline station at the corner of Woodward and Boylston streets was withdrawn. Another petition for a filling station at this location will be entered under another name.

According to the printed docket the License Committee had recommended leave to withdraw on the following petitions: George Bourne, Common Victualler's License, 1276 Washington street; Fuller Realty Trust, gasoline station, 966 Watertown street; Richard Powers, 43 Cross street, taxi license; Cashman & Ginsberg, gasoline station, 2289 Washington street. Chairman Bliss of the License Committee asked that the Fuller Realty and Cashman & Ginsberg petitions be referred back to the committee for further consideration.

Alderman Leahy asked why Alderman Bliss desired these two matters referred back? The Ward 6 member answered that there seems to be a lot of objections to refusing the two petitions in question and rather than take the time of the regular meeting, he thought the matters should be argued in the committee. Referring to the recommendation of the License Committee giving leave to withdraw to the two petitions, he said, "Evidently we thought wrong, but we can make another attempt." Alderman Hodgdon said, "Let's thrash it out here. If members of the Board are dissatisfied with the recommendation of the committee, let them voice their objections in the open meeting."

President Pratt remarked at this point, "The Chair fails to recall any instance where the Chairman of the License Committee has failed to have a request for referring back granted." Alderman Leahy replied, "It is also customary for members of the License Committee to be enlightened when such a request is to be made." Alderman Hodgdon said, "I am not opposed to having the matters referred back if it is customary." Alderman Bliss said, "I would just as soon argue it out here, but I thought it better to save time and have more important matters considered in the regular meeting." President Pratt replied, "As the Finance Committee is to hold a short meeting, I would suggest that the License Committee also hold a conference." His suggestion was accepted and the Board took a recess at 9.53.

The matter of granting a permit to the Fuller Realty Trust for a gasoline filling station at 966 Watertown St., which caused the foregoing argument, dates back to May 18, 1925, when a

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE

With Mrs. Louis Stoughton Drake as division leader and Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland as captain, the following workers from Newton Corner attended the banquet at the Boston Chamber of Commerce, given in connection with the combined Boston-Newton Y. W. C. A. drive, which started last Tuesday at noon, for the $1,500,000 building which Boston is planning to erect: Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, Miss Emma Walker, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, Mrs. E. W. Hodgson, Mrs. H. H. Powers, Mrs. Arthur L. Mansfield, Miss Margaret H. Aubin, Mrs. Loren D. Towle, Mrs. Clyde G. Hess, Mrs. William A. Somerby, Miss Florence Heard, Miss Claire L. Amazeen, Miss Martha O. Boothby and Mrs. Effie E. Nagel.

Newton, although an entirely independent Association, is helping in this campaign because they believe the proposed new building will be of such value to the whole greater Boston District, in return for which the amount of the Newton budget difference is guaranteed from the proceeds of this campaign.

Mrs. Louis Stoughton Drake, President of the Newton Association, who was one of the speakers, disclosed the following interesting figures—that there were:

19,599 girls and women employed in business and professional life living in Newton.

1,199 girls in the Newton High School.

8,600 who used the Newton Y. W. C. A. rooms from January, 1925—March, 1926.

Just think it over—what does a "Y" mean to these folks? What would it mean to you, were you a stranger coming to town, without any place in view to live? Also, think of the evenings made pleasant for many a lonely

LUNCHEON CONFERENCE

The Luncheon-Conference of the Welfare Division of the Newton Central Council convened at the Newton Centre Woman's Club as guests of the Social Service Committee of that club, on Monday, March 15. Luncheon was served to thirty-four members and guests. After luncheon the Conference took up the subject of the care of girls; and recreation and club work for girls in Newton.

Mrs. Palmer, Chairman of the Conference, presented Mrs. Mitchell, former President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and now Vice-President of the Newton Central Council; and Mrs. Dalrymple, President of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, who was a guest of the Conference.

The first speaker was Miss Mary C. Hyde, head of the Florence Crittenton Home for this district. Miss Hyde told of the work done by the Florence Crittenton organization, referring to the Newton Circle as being the banner Circle for this section. Besides the work of the whole organization Miss Hyde spoke particularly of the girls at the Home in Faneuil which accommodates thirty-five as it is at present. Two more houses are to be added. It is worked out on the cottage plan, and the home life of the girls is very carefully considered. The girls are taught home-making and vocational arts, so that they can be more independent and useful. She said that 85 per cent of their girls went back into the community and were established in normal STEADY SAVERS ARE SOUND SLEEPERS. No greater sense of security nor surer source of contentment than the knowledge that you have a little barricade of money built up between you and a possible time of trouble. Wealth is not acquired, as many people suppose, by fortunate speculations and splendid enterprises, but by the daily practice of industry, and frugality and economy. He who relies on these means will rarely be found destitute, and he who relies upon any other will generally become bankrupt.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The success of the Sunday afternoon concerts throughout the winter has been due in a large measure to the exceptionally high quality of the talent. Last Sunday's program, the closing one of the season, seemed not only to equal but in many ways surpass all others of the series. Dorothy George, mezzo-soprano, and Frederick Tiltson, pianist, provided an afternoon of rare enjoyment. Miss George's beautiful voice completely captivated the audience, while Mr. Tiltson's playing evoked thunderous applause. Mr. Reginald Boardman was a most efficient and able accompanist. Few artists have aroused such enthusiasm among Newton audiences as did Miss George and Mr. Tiltson. Their selections not only covered a wide range but offered abundant opportunity for a display of their remarkable powers. Each is a most accomplished artist and will always be welcomed by Newton audiences. The club members are deeply indebted to Mr. Carl Peirce, the club's president, through whom it has been possible to provide such remarkably fine programs, at these recitals. Mr. Peirce's efforts have surely been crowned with the success they so thoroughly deserve.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

SWIMMERS WIN OVER TECH

The Newton High School swimming team easily defeated the M. I. T. freshmen mermen, 54 to 14, Saturday at the Newton Y tank. Newton took first place in every event Captain Osborne being a double winner with first in the 100 and 200-yard free-style swims. The engineer yearlings won only two second places, the 100-yard back stroke and the plunge, and picked up the remainder of their points by taking third place in every event.

Besides the excellent swimming of Osborne, Sirkin, Soule, Hammond, Green and Wakefield each scored a first in their event. Johnny Essen scored a total of six points by virtue of a second in the dive and a second in the breast stroke.

The relay team, consisting of Sirkin, Soule, Lodge and Osborne won handsily over the Tech four.

The summary:

40-yard free-style—Won by Soule (N); second, Lodge (N); third, Louey (T). Time—22.4-58.

100-yard breast stroke—Won by Sirkin (N); second, Essen (N); third, Tufts (T). Time—1m. 26.2-58.

100-yard free-style—Won by Osborne (N); second, Merrill (N); third, Lamb (T). Time—1m. 3.3-58.

100-yard back stroke—Won by Wakefield (N); second, Louey (T); third, Baker (T). Time—1m. 24s.

200-yard free-style—Won by Osborne (N); second, Merrill (N); third, Lamb (T). Time—2m. 37s.

Dive—Won by Green (N); second, Essen (N); third, Ewald (T).

TENNIS SCHEDULE

The schedule of the Newton High School Tennis team has been announced as follows: May 4, Somerville; May 8, Worcester; May 12, Boston Latin; May 15, 17, Yale Interscholastics; May 20, Loomis Institute; May 24, Andover; May 26, Huntington; May 29-31, Harvard Interscholastics; June 14, Brookline. The matches at Worcester, Yale, Loomis, Andover, and Harvard will be played away from home while the remainder will be played on local courts. Because of the lack of good courts at the High School the matches will be played either at the Burr Playground or the Waban Neighborhood Club.

ATHLETICS AT B. F.

Several Newton boys have recently been awarded letters in various sports at Boston University. John J. Lawless of West Newton and Chester Scott of Waban were awarded letters in hockey. J. Frederick Onthank of Chestnut Hill won his insignia on the indoor track team and Winthrop A. Clarke of Newtonville scored sufficient points for the swimming team to win his letter.

Dr. George (Chippie) Gaw, a former West Newton athlete, was also recently appointed coach of the university baseball team. He was also the coach of the hockey team, which ranked well in collegiate circles.

SPORT NOTES

Harvard's varsity baseball squad was strengthened Monday by the addition of Bill Ellison, the captain-elect of the hockey team. The Newton boy is an experienced outfielder having won his letter last spring on the Harvard varsity. There is no doubt but what he will be one of the regular outer gardeners regardless of the ability of those who are fighting for the regular berths.

Barr, a former letter man at Newton high, is one of the candidates for a position on the Wentworth Institute nine this spring.

George Owen led his B. A. A. team-mates to a victory over the N. Y. A. C. Sunday night in an Eastern Amateur league hockey game at New York. The victory put the Unicorn team in a top tie with the Pere Marquette team. While the Newton boy did not score any of the three points for his team, he figured prominently throughout the contest. In the first period he passed to Marshall who caged the disc for the first point. Hodder rang up the second score in the second session on a pass from Owen who was the keynote of nearly every assault upon the home team's goal. Hodder also caged the third and final goal in the third period unassisted after a dash down the entire length of the rink.

Johnny Proctor is expected to make a valuable addition to the high school baseball squad. Now that the curtain has rung down on the hockey season the blonde haired youth is turning to the diamond sport. Right now he seems to be one of the most natural players in school and will probably cover the shortstop position. He had a fair year on the gridiron, a good winter on the ice and it looks as though he would be even better at the national pastime.

Sam McCleary is the veteran pitcher upon whom the orange and black will probably rely to win its major games on the diamond this spring. Among the other candidates for the box are Hanson and Young who appear to have the edge over the remaining aspirants. Monahan and Spain are slated to bear the brunt of the catching.

Howard Whitmore, star pitcher for Newton high the past two years and now a freshman at Harvard is on the sick list and may not play ball this season. In fall practice he was one of the outstanding candidates and Davidson, the Harvard yearling coach, was counting upon the Newton boy to bear the brunt of the hurling.

Clem Coady will probably join the Harvard outdoor track team this spring. While he was a varsity baseball player last year he will not have the time to devote to the diamond sport this year owing to spring football practice which begins April 26th after the spring vacation. As track does not require so much time as the national pastime the big Newton boy may follow the lead of his predecessor, Dolph Cheek, in switching from baseball to the track.

In the Newton Bowling League matches Wednesday night B. A. A. won three out of four points from Hunnewell and Maugus made a clean sweep of Waban Neighborhood Club.

Medford, although not a member of the Suburban League, will play through the scheduled season planned before its withdrawal from the league. Medford and Newton will cross bats on May Day at Claffin Field.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team closes its season Wednesday night with Worcester Y on the local court. The local five needs a victory to gain an even break for the season, and the players are primed for the game. Hardy has recovered from illness and will be back at center. To date the Y has won nine and lost ten of its contests.

NEWTON MAN HONORED

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, of Channing road, Newton Centre, and associate professor of physiography at Harvard, has received an allotment from the Milton Fund, to pay the salaries of a draftsman, stenographer and statistician, whose assistance is necessary for the completion of a treatise concerning the "Physiography of South America." Prof. Mather has already made several trips to South America, and has collected a large amount of material, which forms the subject matter of his course, Geography 7—Physiography of South America.

Prof. Mather will leave at the end of this month for Elk Hills oilfields, Wyoming, where he will remain for four weeks as a consulting geologist in an effort to get information for the use of the Government in the lawsuit in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal, which it has been carrying on for some time. The Elk Hills fields were leased to Doheny at the same time Sinclair secured Teapot Dome.

Prof. Mather is quoted as saying: "I don't know what I'll find and maybe when I'm through the Government won't like my evidence." When college is over Prof. Mather intends to do some private work in Nova Scotia.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. of Newton, gave a reception on Saturday, March 13, in the Congregational Parish House of West Newton to the "Old Ironsides" Society, C. A. R., which has just been formed by the Lucy Jackson Chapter. It is the largest of its kind in Massachusetts.

The Chapter Regent Mrs. Eaton presided and after a few words of welcome, told the children they were the future carriers on of the D. A. R. work and they must try to be worthy of so great a responsibility. She then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Lieut. Commander E. G. E. Brandt, U. S. N., who presented the Society with a picture of "Old Ironsides." Lieut. Commander Brandt is stationed at the Navy Yard in charge of the reconstruction of the Frigate Constitution. He gave a most interesting history of her many adventures and asked the children to help save her by contributing all they could. $200,000 has already been sent in, $300,000 is still needed. He also invited them to come to the Navy Yard and see their name sake "Old Ironsides." The Regent then turned the meeting over to Master Robert Chapin, President of the Society C. A. R., after which we listened to Master Albert Walker recite Old Ironsides by Holmes.

Barbara Rodman played the Star Spangled Banner and America on the violin, with Miss Jordan at the piano. All joined in the singing of these two songs.

Refreshments were then served by the hostesses, Mrs. E. O. Woodward, Mrs. C. A. Wyman, Mrs. A. D. Adams, Miss L. E. Allen, Mrs. John Avery, Mrs. L. F. Bachrach, Mrs. F. W. Baker, Mrs. D. E. Baker, Mrs. Louis Bell, Mrs. N. B. K. Brooks, Mrs. George P. Buell, Mrs. George P. Bullard, Mrs. W. B. Arnold, Mrs. F. B. Bancroft and a social hour enjoyed by all.

D. A. R.

A joint meeting of the "Lucy Jackson" Chapter of the D. A. R. and the "Old Ironsides" Society of the C. A. R. of Newton, was held in the parish house of the West Newton Congregational Church, on Saturday afternoon, March 13, 1926.

The "Old Ironsides" Society, C. A. R., had its business meeting previous to the meeting of the "Lucy Jackson" Chapter, D. A. R. It was voted to send Robert B. Chapin, Jr., as a junior delegate to the conference at Washington, also to make Lieut. Commander Brandt, the speaker of the afternoon, and Mrs. Brandt associate members. The state conference of the Republican Club for the C. A. R. was announced and the officers were especially requested to go. The meeting on Mar. 17 at Mechanics Building was also discussed.

"A CONNECTICUT YANKEE"

The motion picture, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" is to be presented Saturday, March 20th at 10 o'clock in the Community Theatre, Newton, under the auspices of the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association for the purpose of raising money to name the Newton Girl Scout bed in the Children's Hospital and for other Girl Scout activities. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield has charge of the tickets, Miss Isabel Skipwith has charge of publicity, Miss Margaret Ball of Newton and Mrs. Franklin Jordan of Newton Highlands are in charge of the candy sale which will be held in connection with the movie, Miss Ruth Ufford will play the piano and the girls in the Bugle and Drum Corps will have charge of ushering. This is the first time this picture has been shown in Newton.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JAMES BOYD

Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes Blue Boyd were held at the family residence, 266 Nevada street, Newtonville, on Sunday, March 14, at 2.30 P. M. A large attendance of old-time friends and relatives testified to the esteem in which Mrs. Boyd was held. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

The services were conducted by Rev. Robert L. Rae, pastor of the North Congregational Church, who paid tribute to the womanly virtues of the Wife and Mother whose passing away had left so much sorrow in the hearts of her bereaved family. Hymns were rendered by the male quartette of the church. Interment was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery. Six nephews acted as pall bearers.

Mrs. Boyd was the oldest of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson Blue, and early learned the lesson of unselfish devotion to the comfort and happiness of others—a lesson that became her lifelong habit and endeared her to so large a circle of friends. She was born in Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 15, 1859, and came with her parents to this country in her childhood. Her death is the first break, in the band of brothers and sisters, seven of the former and a sister, all being present at her funeral.

In addition to her helpful and kindly attitude toward all with whom she came in contact, Mrs. Boyd possessed an unusual mentality and during long months of failing health retained her interest in the world's affairs, reading the papers with comprehensive appreciation of all that was going on. She was a lover of the best in literature, owing her taste to her mother's custom of reading aloud to her children selections from the Bible, Shakespeare and other standard volumes. Unswerving allegiance to the Truth, as she saw it, was a marked characteristic, and her clear insight into human motives saved her from any false estimate of people and events.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club, was devoted entirely to a consideration of the work of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts. The Council was represented by President W. S. Radway, Chairman of its Finance Committee, Mr. Stephen H. Whidden, Treasurer John H. Eddy, Past President J. C. Irwin and Mr. James A. Stafford.

Mr. Whidden asked the assistance and co-operation of the Club in raising the money necessary for the work of the central office, badges, part time for a scout commissioner, etc., the expenses of the local troops being met by local subscriptions. Mr. Whidden stressed the work being done by the scouts, the 32-acre reservation in Do-cus, the Ohio, the new branch of sea scouts and the Big Brother idea. Mr. Irwin said that scouting was his biggest hobby and it had paid the biggest dividends. It keeps the boys of the adolescent age interested in wholesome work and play and prepares them for intelligent citizenship. He urged the need of men for scout masters.

Mr. Eddy said that Norumbega Council was never in better shape than it is today. The Newtonville troop has 48 boys enrolled with 18 on a waiting list. He mentioned the fact that scouting was recognized by the best colleges as an educational work, and that a boy winning an Eagle scout badge had the equivalent of a college education. Mr. James A. Stafford said that scouting was organized by villages and was maintained by villages in a city like Newton. He believed the scouts were altogether too modest about their work.

There was a general discussion of plans after the addresses and the Club assured the Boy Scout leaders that it would assist in every possible manner in raising the desired funds.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The lecture on Christian Science by Hon. William E. Brown, C. S. B., of Los Angeles, California, announced in another column, should be of interest from its subject and from the field from which the lecturer comes. Los Angeles, his home city, has many beautiful churches and among them are nineteen Christian Science churches.

The lecture entitled: "Christian Science: The Truth about God, Man and the Universe," aims to be a fair statement of the teachings of Christian Science on these points.

It is to be given in Players' Hall, West Newton, Friday, March 26, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

"PRESENT OR ACCOUNTED FOR"

Surely George M. Angier, patriotic citizen, Red Cross worker, hospital trustee, organizer and promoter of welfare and educational work, adviser and helper of the soldier and his family, husband, father, and friend—having responded to the roll-call commanding him to appear in Heaven—places, had he been asked "Where are the opportunities you have been given?" might well have replied:

"All present or accounted for"

"The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross," recognizing Mr. Angier's achievements in these and in many allied services, accords due recognition to them all but especially emphasizes his service to the national organization and local chapter of the Red Cross.

In time of war, he brought to its service a trained business ability, keen executive and constructive service, a wise discrimination and an untiring personal service in which he was ably aided and encouraged by his life partner.

Peace gave him no release from service. The wounded, the sick, the unfortunate, commanded his care and his thoughtful attention.

Called to the Presidency of the Newton Chapter, he kept the allegiance and retained the service of loyal helpers and so directed their activities that no emergency found them unprepared.

The Chapter will surely miss his cheer, his presence, and his guidance. No words fitly describe his life, but we believe it merits the Master's commendation:

"Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

The writer has followed with increasing interest the many reports of the thrift and saving of the children during the year. It is certainly worthy of notice, that they have made so much headway in this direction, for so many opportunities arise for spending their extra pennies rather than giving them over to an unbreakable bank.

It must have been comparatively easy for our great great grandparents to acquire their reputations as thrifty
New Englanders, for after all where could they spend their pennies without considerable economy? The "country store" must often have failed them in variety, and the hardy-gurdy men and the circus only came when weather permitted. It was more or less perhaps, for lack of a better place to put them that they so often dropped them into their banks.

Now, however, let someone of US start for the savings bank and on the way a countless number of enticing suggestions will come to us that lead our steps in another direction. Think of the fascinating outlets for children, few dollars and then let us pause and give them due credit that, undiverted, they march to the school banks and deposit their only means of purchasing some long wished for treasure. We cannot praise them too highly nor encourage them too much, and indeed we must say—"all honor to them,—they have done what many adults haven't!"

There is so much competition in the world to-day, around the possession of "things"—paltry, worthless things, ornaments to our more frivolous visions, that it is indeed stimulating to think that competition is keen in the schools, at least, for a lessening of possessions of this kind and an increasing of protection against the "rainy" days. Once more I say—all honor to the children and to the stamps in their bank books.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Friday, March 19, at seven-thirty in the school assembly hall is being given a very worth while entertainment for the benefit of the school. At that time will be given three playlets: "A Health Circus," "Milk for the Whole World," and "Mrs. Jarley's Literary Wax-works." The circus sponsored by Mrs.
Sandwall's Cheerful Chef's Club and later helped by Coach Simmons and boys of his gymnasium classes, has been coached by Mrs. Sewell of the Fruit and Dairy Council. "Milk for the Whole World" is a very dainty playlet, also coached by Mrs. Sewell and aided by Miss Kittner. The seventh grade girls in foreign costume are: Betty Locke, Eleanor Carey, Helen Brown, Barbara Webster, Dorothy Mullen, Nathalie Harson, Genevieve Paquette,
Margaret Donlon, Florence Grethly, Betty Dobyns, Marguerite Ellis, Helen Carr, Marian Hicks, Jean Robb, Kathryn Brown, Thelma Levers, Lucy Salvucci, Helen Landry, Helen Johnson, Faith Durrell, Jean Mary, Ruth House and Elizabeth Reynolds. Virginia
Brown is a solo dancer. The principals of the circus are Edward Burnell, Howard Pierce, Frank Bram, John Hurney, Fred Schipper and Jack Richmond, the clown. The baseball and "Follow the leader" drills are especially well executed by the boys. The waxworks include: Evangeline, Constance Recheil; Long John Silver, Jack Richmond; Maud Marian, Suzanne Slocum; Pled Piper, William Richardson; Maud Miller, Margaret Morse; French Shepherdess, Mary Wakefield; Barefoot Boy, Francis Hessian; Cleopatra, Naida Panin; Boy Blue, Charles Powler; School Days, Esther Perlmutter; Huckleberry Finn, Joseph Doucette;
Puck Pan, Virginia Brown; Hiawatha,
Reggie Bankhart; Gypsy, Natalie
Welch; Skeleton in Armour, Chester
Cummings; Clown, Emma Lochiatio.

Through the generosity of Miss Manning the teachers' social room now has four imported pictures that have been framed by Mr. Puhm.

The girls held their annual athletic meet Tuesday with Zig Zag, combination pass, stunt relay and running relay. The eighth grade proved the winners.

Mason School

Through our foreign correspondence we have recently received two portfolios from France and one from the Philippines. They are a compilation of work done by the pupils in two of the girls' schools in Paris and a high school on one of the Philippine Islands. The Paris ones have an explanatory letter of each piece of work and picture. These French explanations are accompanied by English translations made by Miss Myles' class of the Newton High School.

Our pupils look forward to the arrival of these booklets—we have received four this year—and eagerly devour their contents.

To see the drawings, to examine the needle work, to compare the pictures of their pupils, their schools, and the places of interest in their towns and cities with ours, and lastly to read the letters makes a bond of good feeling and comradeship between our young people and their cousins in these distant lands.

At the Eighth Grade Assembly on March 15, a splendid talk was given by Mr. G. H. Crosbie on his recent southern trip. Mr. Crosbie is assistant Scoutmaster in Troop 5, Newton Centre Boy Scouts and is especially interested in nature.

He told the pupils of the origin of all and how it is found, about the Everglades and about the development of Florida. Afterwards, he answered questions asked by the class. The pupils appreciate this instructive talk by Mr. Crosbie.

On March 12, a group of boys and girls from the Mason visited the Arts and Crafts Exhibit at Horticultural Hall.

Among the outstanding features enjoyed by them were candle making, the carding of wool, rug making, block printing, the making of Paul Revere pottery, and leather work.

This instructive trip was enjoyed by all.

All Newton Music School, Inc.

Listen In!

The All Newton Music School will broadcast on Sunday evening, March 21st between 8 and 9 o'clock from the Hotel Brunswick, W. B. Z. The young men's quartet, Donald Dewire, Harold McNeil, Sigmund Roman and Frederick Bradshaw, trained by Miss Fyffe will play "Allegro" from Emperor Quartet by Haydn and "Dance" by Schubert. Miss Edith Magrath, Miss Marion Homer and Miss Anna Mac-Kinnon, private pupils of Miss Blake of the Vocal Department, will sing a duet and solos with violin obligato.
Miss Forte, Miss Pucclarelli and Miss Caruso will play a Bach Concerto for piano and strings.

About twenty pupils from the school attended the last of the Young People's Concerts at Symphony Hall on March 17th.

Lasell

On Monday evening, March 15, the Seniors gave a progressive dinner for the benefit of their Endowment Fund, one course being served at each of the senior houses.

The Lasell Basket Ball team played the Waltham High team at Waltham on Tuesday, March 16, the score resulting in a victory for Lasell 41-7.

For some weeks an inter-class swimming tournament has been in progress. On Friday, March 19, the winners will meet to decide which class is entitled to the championship honors.

The seniors are entertaining the Juniors on Saturday evening, March 20, at Woodland Park Hall.

Rev. Douglas Horton of the Leyden Congregational Church, Brookline, will be the speaker at Vespers on Sunday evening, March 21, at 6.15 o'clock.

Mr. Herman W. Spooner, father of one of our students, Miss Dorothy Spooner, will give a stereopticon lecture on the "Cape Ann Trail," Friday evening, March 19, in Chapel.

MEN'S CLUB NOTES

The 11th meeting of the West Newton Men's Club was held at the Unitarian Church at 6.30 P. M. March eleventh. Ninety-six members and guests were present.

After a short business meeting in which there was a preliminary report by the Scholarship Committee the President introduced the speaker of the evening, George Grafton Wilson, Professor of International Law, Harvard University. Prof. Wilson explained that it was more difficult to make peace than war and that the Pacific Conference had as its object the anticipation and elimination of the causes of friction which are responsible for the present European situation. In the Pacific the frontiers of the eastern and the western civilization meet so that the problem is even more difficult than in Europe where the civilization of the various countries are of similar types. The thought of the Pacific Conference was first conceived by the Y. M. C. A. of the Pacific who found that they had tackled too big a job and called for assistance with the result that representatives of all Pacific countries met in Honolulu last June and July, each country's representatives including men eminent in the fields of government, economics, religion, education and sanitation; in fact all phases of our modern life, all races, religions and color being on a parity. No delegate had official instructions, all deliberation was carried on behind closed doors so that personal opinion could be given without embarrassment to either individual or nation represented. Every broad field of the subject was discussed, immigration being among the most important. At the start of the Conference the problem seemed very acute but at the close there was a feeling of better understanding on the other fellow's point of view.
The Conference adjourned for two years. The language of the Conference was English. The finances were taken care of by private subscription from wealthy men vitally interested in world affairs.

This proved to be one of the most interesting meetings of the year and a vote was passed expressing the thanks of the Club to Prof. Wilson for his instructive talk.

COSTUME PARTY

Sixty-five young people and many friends and guests attended the costume party at the Newton Club on Friday evening of last week. This was another of the assemblies under the direction of Mr. Joseph Champagne and was one of the social events of the winter.

There were many beautiful costumes and the judges, Mrs. Wallace Boyden, Mrs. Kenneth Hastings and Mrs. Hartley Thayer found it difficult to decide the prize winners. The Chinese costumes of Helen Benford and Leo Lyon were awarded the first prize for costumes. The second prize for the girls' costume was won by Charlotte Andres as Raggedy Ann and the boys' second costume prize went to John Wakefield, who represented an Argentine.

The Elimination dance was won by Mary Louise Foss and Gordon Crowell, and the Charleston Contest by Virginia Brown and Anson Abbe.

The prize for the game, "Going to Jerusalem," was given to Louise Trowbridge and Leo Lyon. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Horton S. Allen, and Mrs. Augustus Wakefield.

AUBURNDALE CLUB

Mr. Herbert Farrier as Dr. Madman was kept busy answering questions. Mr. Thomas Brown won the $100 prize for the clock contest and immediately turned it back to the club to be used in the repairs which are soon to be made.

—There were thirty tables of bridge at the Auburndale Club on Monday evening and the game was greatly enjoyed by all present. There were fourteen prizes and refreshments were served. After the play there was a most unique entertainment, "Radio Broadcasting." Mr. J. W. Spaulding was the announcer. Mr. Arthur Hancock and Mr. George Brophy were Musty and Moly of the Pluto Market and sang many clever songs. Mrs. Herbert Farrier impersonated a Prima Donna. Miss Emma J. Patten gave bed time stories and made many local hits.

graphy of Percy Rolfe Ziegler." Mrs. J. C. Hagar related some amusing personal stories, and Mr. J. H. Willey spoke of some of his early experiences in the Club.

The last number on the program consisted of a short selection from the play of "Dr. Johnson," presented by a selected cast. Prof. James B. Taylor in conventional white wig looked and acted the part of "Dr. Johnson" to perfection. He was ably assisted by Mr. A. L. Wakefield as "Boswell," Mr. Thurber, Mr. Caverly, Mr. Willey, Mr. Boyden, Mrs. A. L. Wakefield and Mrs. Boyden.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Farnum, Miss Wetherbee, Miss Nelson, and Mrs. Thurber.

ARTHUR H. BAILEY

Arthur H. Bailey, for many years a resident of Boyd street, died on March 14 in his 82nd year. He was born in Little Compton, Rhode Island and was well known in the wholesale fish trade in Boston. Mr. Bailey placed a clam juice preparation on the market which had a large sale for a considerable period. Poor health forced his retirement from business a number of years ago. His funeral services were held at the Newton Cemetery Chapel on March 17. Rev. Ray A. Eusden of Eliot Church officiating. Mr. Bailey is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Raymond Campbell of Worcester, and four sons—George of Arlington, Clarence who lives in New York city, Kenneth of Little Rock, Arkansas, and Emerson of Memphis, Tennessee.

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Athletic Association will be held at the Newton Club on Monday evening, March 22, 1926 at 8 P. M.

Mr. Geo. Owen, Sr., chairman of the entertainment committee, will have an interesting speaker to present. Do not forget the date and a new member.

CENTRE

—The Task of the Modern Home is the topic to be discussed at the next meeting of the Newton Centre School Association on "Fathers' Night," Wednesday, March 24, at 8 o'clock, in Mason School Hall. The speaker is Prof. Ernest R. Groves, of the Department of Social Science, at Boston University. Miss Mary Clark, harpist, will play.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

The officers and about seventy-five members of Newton Lodge of Elks No. 1327 under the leadership of John H. Gordon, Exalted Ruler, visited Winchester Lodge on Tuesday evening for the purpose of conferring the degree on a number of candidates for the Winchester Lodge. The ritual was exemplified in the usual impressive manner by the officers of Newton, 1327 and was followed by an entertainment and refreshments.

—The Installation of officers of Newton Lodge of Elks No. 1327, for the year 1926-1927 will be held on the evening of April 8th. The ceremony will be conducted by Angus P. MacDonald, P. E. R. of Winthrop Lodge, acting D. E. G. R. and suite.

THREE RECEIVE YEAR'S SENTENCE

Tuesday morning at 12:55 Officers W. Riley and Lyon observed three young men attempting to break into the cellars of the stores in the block near the corner of Windsor road and Beacon street, Waban. They arrested the trio who gave their names and addresses as Delio Gilbert, 17, 42 Caldwell avenue, Brighton; Charles Andrews, 17, 62 Foster street, Brighton; Philip Ryan, 19 Converse street, Brighton.

In court Thursday morning Judge Bacon sentenced each of the three to one year's sentence in the House of Correction. They took the sentences.

JOSHUA ROBERTS

Joshua Roberts, for over 50 years engaged in the express business in this city, died at his late home, 141 Webster street, West Newton, on March 13. He was born in Porter, Maine, 86 years ago. His funeral services were held at his late home on Tuesday, Rev. J. Edgar Park officiating. He is survived by one son, Mr. J. Pearl Roberts.

hearing was held on the petition of Lillian I. Cate for a 65-car public garage on her property. The attorney for the petitioner at that time told of the improvement that would result from the replacement of the old stables by modern buildings, very frankly stated that Mrs. Cate intended to sell the property if the permit should be granted, and told the Board that outside gasoline pumps were not being sought. The only objection raised against the permit at that time came from M. John Enegess of Watertown street, who protested against a garage abutting the corner of Davis Court and Watertown street. Following this hearing, one afternoon, Chairman Lloyd of the License Committee, Chief of Police Burke, Mr. Enegess and the attorney for the petitioner met at the proposed site of the garage and discussed the situation as they looked the ground over. In deference to Mr. Enegess's objection, Mr. Lloyd stipulated that before the permit would be granted, the petitioner must agree to a 30 foot setback at Davis Court.

This restriction was agreed to by the parties desiring the permit. Mr. Lloyd further recommended that a low wall be built around the corner to preclude the possibility of autos crossing the open space. Some weeks ago a petition was received from the Fuller Realty Trust asking for a permit to erect a gasoline selling station on the corner which was not being used in order to safeguard children and other pedestrians passing by the junction of Watertown street and Davis avenue. As such a permit would nullify the efforts of Mr. Enegess, he naturally protested and the License Committee voted to give the Fuller Realty Trust leave to withdraw on its application for the gas station on this small area.

The aldermen appropriated $5000 to clean the 20 inch water main leading from the pumping station at Upper Falls to the Waban Hill reservoir. Alderman Ball explained that a conference had been held between the Mayor, Water Commissioner, City Engineer, the advisory expert and the special committee on water, at which it was decided to engage the services of the company which specializes on cleaning water mains. This company uses a machine which removes the incrustations from the water mains as the pressure forces it along. It will cost about $3600 to have this concern clean the 20 inch pipe; the balance of the appropriation, $1400, is for supplies incidental to the work, which the city must furnish. It is estimated that the cleaning machine will travel 2000 or 3000 feet each night, working several hours, starting about 10:30. At various points the main will be cut into, to permit the removal of the sediment loosened by the machine. There is a possibility that the machine may become stalled in the main, which will necessitate another cut or cuts. It is hoped that this process will assist materially in providing aqua pura for Newton.

Chairman Weeks of the Finance Committee told of the method being followed in financing the new schools. From this year's tax levy, $100,000 will be derived; $100,000 more was obtained by the authorization by the aldermen Monday night of a $100,000 issue of ten year school bonds. The borrowing capacity of the city will have increased by the end of the year to $720,000, less this $100,000. A month ago $40,551 was appropriated for furnishings for the new High School. Monday night another $50,000 was appropriated for the new schools. In connection with this school, of this amount $4500 is for equipment for the auditorium stage, $9900 for chairs, $15,000 for grading walk and drives, $15,000 for grading the girls' athletic field, $3000 for additional fees for the architects. The school will cost completed about $995,000 according to some estimates. It will cost considerably more in the opinion of others.

Alderman Pitts explained that the $1500 additional requested for work on the locker building at Cot Park playground, which was granted by the aldermen, was necessitated because of the fact that last year when this building was authorized, only $1812 were available. The structure will cost $9631 completed, so certain items such as plumbing and heating were omitted until more money was available. Referring to the high school, Mr. Pitts related that it was first roughly estimated that this school would cost $867,500, but that certain lines were held in abeyance. The only new item, not discussed when the original plans were considered, is the athletic field for the girls. Alderman Baker was curious to know why a bond issue of $100,000 was necessary when the various items for expenses in connection with the High School totalled only $44,500. Mr. Weeks informed him that it is more practicable for the City Treasurer to dispose of a $100,000 bond issue than a $50,000 issue, and that the balance will be needed to pay for the land which the city is to buy for a new school near Ward street and for various other school expenses. Alderman Pitts stated that no radical changes have been made in the plans of the West Newton Junior High, that the building will be so constructed as to provide for community needs in compliance with the requests of different Women's Clubs.

President Pratt announced that he had been requested by the Mayor to invite all the Aldermen to attend a conference at the Newton Club next Monday evening. Among those who will be present are the department heads, school committee, trustees, the various city institutions. There will be a discussion of city problems. Mr. Pratt also told his colleagues that the next meeting of the aldermen will start at 4:30 P. M., Monday, April 5th. The budget will be acted upon at that time and the regular routine matters will be considered at the night session.

Want To Move House

Chairman Bliss of the License Committee then informed the Board that this committee recommended that a permit be granted to Alexander Marvin to move the large house, formerly occupied by John Flood, from the corner of Washington and Hovey streets to Jackson road. He stated that the application for this permit had the approval of the Street Commissioner, Building Commissioner and the head of the Wire Department. The committee had voted six to one to grant this permit. The one member in opposition then took the floor. Alderman Gallagher of Ward 1, where the building is located, stated his objections in no uncertain terms. He told that this house had been offered to him for $800, the price the wreckers will pay for it. He has a lot of land on Peabody street, much nearer to the present location of this house than is Jackson road and would like to move the building to his land. He realized that some persons might attempt to start a scandal if any alderman bought a building and moved it, but this was not what deterred him from purchasing the structure. To move this house to Jackson road would necessitate the cutting of trees, despite the report of Mr. Bliss that the aldermen would possibly a week. Alderman Weeks Gallagher stated he has measured the route over which the building would be moved and was sure of his assertions. He invited the other aldermen to do likewise. He concluded by saying "A serious blocking of traffic will occur on Washington street for several days if this house is moved. We have gone beyond the date where the general public shall be inconvenienced to permit an individual to reap profits."

Alderman Earle, also of Ward 1, asked Street Commissioner Stuart if trees would be damaged and traffic on the M. & B. blocked if the house were moved? Mr. Stuart answered in the affirmative and stated that he did not approve of tying up traffic on Washington street for at least three days and possibly a week. Alderman Weeks inquired regarding the moving of a house along Commonwealth avenue a few years ago and Mr. Stuart replied that it entirely blocked traffic on the avenue. Alderman O'Connell moved that the matter be referred back to the committee, but Alderman Gallagher urged immediate action. Alderman Heathcote asked that the petitioner be given a chance to be heard, which the Board granted. The petitioner, Marvin, stated that 3 years ago he had moved a larger house, along a narrower street than Washington street, in Revere, and although 20,000 autos a day passed along this street, no accidents occurred. He declared his willingness to meet any conditions the city might impose in connection with the moving of the house, that he would furnish police protection, and that it would be too bad to raze the building. Alderman Heathcote asked Marvin more questions which afforded the petitioner opportunity to manifest his willingness to conform with any requirements the city might ask. Alderman Gordon asked if the M. & B. cars could go by the house while it was being moved. Alderman Madden said, "No, passengers would have to be transferred. No building has been moved along a Newton street in the past 15 years. The Street Commissioner is opposed to the petition and it should not be granted." Alderman Madden's objection made a unanimous protest by all three aldermen from Ward 1 against the project. Apparently the License Committee had not attempted to comply with local desires for the removal of the building, the moving of the house was permitted. The vote was then taken and no alderman voted in favor of the petition. So thousands of M. & B. passengers will not be inconvenienced, possible automobile accidents may be prevented, and last but not least some of our all too few shade trees will not be damaged.

The following appropriations were made:—Water Department, compressor outfit, $2500; locker building, Cabot Park, $1500; stage equipment, and architects' fees, new High School, $15,500; cleaning water main, $5000.

The appointments of Antonio Tedesco and Henry E. Warren as assistant assessors were confirmed. The petition of Lester Brett for a division of the sewer assessment on Hibbard road was granted. April 5th was designated as the date for a hearing on laying out and accepting North street. Newton Centre, under the betterment act. The meeting adjourned at 10:20.

KIWANIS CLUB

The second weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Newton was held at the Auburndale Club on Wednesday noon at 12:15. The regular Tuesday meeting having been changed temporarily on account of previous reservations for use of Club. There were 45 members present and an unusually fine luncheon was served. The weekly prize was won by Wilfred Chagnon, Walter Hodgson being the donor. Visiting Kiwanian Louis Fredericks of Pennsylvania, father of Lawrence Fredericks of Newton, told of interesting experiences in his travels and Mr. Hill of Babson Institute, Wellesley, gave an excellent review of the facts concerning "Installment Buying" in this country.

R. EUGENE RAMSDELL

Funeral Services for Mr. R. Eugene Ramsdell, son of Adella and the late Edwin E. Ramsdell, were held at his late residence, 279 Tremont street, Newton, on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Edward Keach, Christian Science reader, officiated.

Mr. Ramsdell died Friday, March 12th after a short illness. He was in his 40th year. He had recently returned from Miami, Florida where he has been doing special work for the George T. Carr Co. of Boston for more than a year.

He is survived by his mother, a sister, Mrs. Robert Keene, and a brother, Edwin T. Ramsdell, all of Newton.

Interment was in Needham Cemetery.

HOVENDEN-BACHE

A pretty home wedding occurred on Friday, Feb. 26th, when Miss Juanita Bach, daughter of Mr. Julius Bach of Belleville, Ill., became the bride of Herbert C. Hovenden, of Los Angeles, son of Mrs. Thomas W. Hovenden, of Newtonville, Mass.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride in Alhambra, California, the Rev. Harry White, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating, in the presence of about forty relatives and friends.

The house was tastefully decorated with lilies, ferns and roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Berry, of Venice, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Cornelius J. Bach of Alhambra, brother of the bride, served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, at which Mrs. Roy Seib and Miss Marcella Bach, of Illinois, sisters of the bride, assisted in receiving.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hovenden will make their home in Venice, Calif., where Mr. Hovenden is now in business.

LUNCHEON CONFERENCE

homes. Miss Hyde's whole address was full of understanding, sympathy and appreciation of the needs of youth. Mrs. Wellman, of the Newton Circle, was the next speaker. She gave specific cases where young girls had come out of the Home and had made good; speaking of one young girl especially who is now among the leading club women of her town.

Mrs. Fisher, of the West Newton Community Service Club, spoke of the difficulty of holding the interest of young women between the ages of eighteen and twenty; and asked for suggestions from those present as to how this could be done.

There was considerable discussion and various points were brought out; such as the need of active recreation, of understanding of the spirit of youth, and the real need of such a city as Newton for protection for its girls.

MINSTREL SHOW

The choir of the Corpus Christi Church at Auburndale gave its first minstrel show on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at the Auburndale Auditorium. Albert Shea directed, assisted by Frank Cunningham, A. E. Herrington, Mary Healey and Mary Sullivan. Albert Shea was interlocutor and the end girls and end men were Loretta Whelan, Catherine Quilty, Agnes Martin, Joe Sullivan, Del Ryan and J. N. McDonald. The soloists were Frank Cunningham, Mrs. James Ferrick, A. E. Herrington, Cecilia Sullivan, Edgar Alexander, Katherine Thornton and Daniel Healy, Jr.

MRS. CATHERINE J. KELLY

Mrs. Catherine J. Kelly, a resident of Auburndale for over 60 years, died at her late home, 68 Staniford street on March 11. Her funeral services were held Monday morning at the Corpus Christi Church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery. She is survived by five daughters and one son. One of her daughters is Sister Marie Josephine of the Little Sisters of the Poor in West Philadelphia.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

NEWTON FEDERATION

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held a meeting Monday morning at Newton Club, Newtonville, with many delegates and club women present. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., President, presided. In the continued absence of Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, the Recording Secretary, in a far pleasanter time, namely, California, Miss Florence Bridgman, the Corresponding Secretary, once more was appointed to act in her place. Her excellent report of the last meeting was read and approved, and Mrs. Alfred E. Vose, the Treasurer, gave the status of funds, showing over $500 on hand, but, as the President pointed out, this sum is only equal to coming expenses, before more can be depended upon to be turned in.

Inspiring reports on Junior membership in the Clubs were brought by Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. S. L. Eaton. There is a thrill in realizing that the young women and girls are looking toward club activities, and are preparing themselves, in serving with their mothers and older friends. Mrs. Hopkins told of the Juniors in Newton Centre coaching for a play which they are to present this Spring, the proceeds of which they generously intend to bestow to help other girls like unto themselves, with musical hopes and talent in the West Newton Music School (called now, is it not, the All Newton Music School?). Mrs. Eaton spoke in high praise of the excellent management and of the ability shown by the Junior Membership of the West Newton Women's Educational Club in taking charge of their last meeting, last Friday the 12th. It made the women very proud of the showing of capability on the part of the young people who are displaying interest in this field of life.

The Auburndale Woman's Club has just cause to be proud of their very active Junior Membership, and it has come to attention since this Board Meeting that on March 12th, the Juniors of the above Club visited historic places in Boston, among them the Old North Church and Copp's Hill Burying Ground. After this inspiring tribute to early days, the young people enjoyed afternoon tea at the Blue Ship Tea Room on T Wharf. It is such interests as these that make the older club women glad to have the young girls taking part in club life.

In the absence of Mrs. George L. Hayden, American Home Chairman, the President reminded the members of the opportunity offered during Home Week in April to visit the Priscilla Proving Plant.

Mrs. Daniel Goodridge, Conservation Chairman, spoke briefly on her excellent Courses in Nature Study that she has so efficiently engineered, for the advantage of Newton women who are eager to see their gardens burst into bloom. She called attention to the work of the Girl Scouts, who have earned over $16, by making and selling chickadee food bags. She appealed for co-operation from club women and all lovers of birds in encouraging this kindly effort by girls who also need the addition to their funds.

The President reported that the Public Health Chairman was ill, in fact too ill to tell anyone what she would have liked reported at this meeting.

Delegates voted to have a complete report of the Mid-winter Legislative Meeting of the State Federation, by the Legislative Chairman, Miss Emma D. Coolidge. After this report was given, the Chairman also gave the present status of the several bills endorsed by the State Federation, and of others of especial interest to women of Newton. House Bill No. 47, on prevention of forest fires, has been reported by the Conservation Committee, reference to next session and this report was accepted by both branches. House Bill No. 103, and Senate Bill No. 135, in regard to part-time attendance at school of minors, and in regard to certificates of health being issued exclusively by school physicians, reported by the Education Committee reference to next session, also ended for this year by acceptance of this report by both branches. House Bill No. 726, in regard to attendance of illiterate minors at evening schools, a bill that was overlooked as worthy consideration and endorsement by the State Federation, the Chairman humorously regretted they had not so endorsed, since it has passed! The so-called crime bills, framed by Registrar Goodwin, and sponsored by Representative Luitwieler, have not as yet come from committee, after a thrilling week of hearings. Various Newton Clubs had Mr. Goodwin speak on these measures, and endorsed them, and others tried to arrange a date for such presentation, but owing to many circumstances—notably weather conditions in February—they did not succeed. The Newton Federation Board, through its Legislative Chairman, was unable to consider this subject, or the matter of endorsement, since the Board held no meeting between January 18th and March 15th, when the bills could be presented for discussion or approval.

The Legislative Chairman ended by calling attention to the formation of the new Division of Law Observance in the Legislative Department of the General Federation, with the local State Division being formed in consequence, over which Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, outgoing Legislative Chairman for the State, has been chosen to preside.

The report of the Press Chairman, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, took the pleasurable turn, she said, of handing in the money for the Federation issue of the Graphic of December 11th. She read Mr. John C. Brimblecom's letter stating the outcome of the financial gain, and his cordial words of appreciation for the services of the Press Chairmen in this edition, and turned in his enclosed cheque for $174.25. This, with gifts of fifteen dollars from friends and expenditures by the Chairman for expenses, showed a net gain to the Federation Treasury of $182.62. She recommended that this sum be set aside as a Reserve Fund from which to draw when unusual appeals for aid, or special "drives", might make the Board wish they had some money to aid such a splendid cause rather than to give it to the regular charities or civic organizations that the Federation or its Federated Clubs usually look after. She mentioned the High School Organ, or the Hospital drive as examples of the sort of appeal meant.

It was voted to send from the Executive Board a letter of thanks and appreciation to Mr. Brimblecom for the opportunity of having had a Federation issue of the Graphic. Applause and kindly comments showed the appreciation of the delegates in the work done for this issue.

Appropriately, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, the Education Chairman, moved that fifty dollars be given from this fund to the fund for the new organ for the High School. Discussion showed approval of this object for consideration, and mention was made of one hundred dollars, and even one hundred and fifty dollars, during the discussion that followed. One delegate asked that the Press Chairman, whose hard work had brought this sum into the Treasury, be asked to express her opinion as to the expenditure. This courteous suggestion caused the Press Chairman to say that she approved the motion of the Education Chairman, and that in her opinion gifts should be limited to fifty dollars, looking ahead to what the next year may bring in equally appealing projects for aid, which we would like to give to, and to which we might be prevented from contributing, if we spent all our fund now, however worthy the object. Other delegates expressed the same sentiment. A vote was taken on the motion that one hundred dollars be given to the organ fund, and this was voted by the Board.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Van Patten Steiger, who introduced Mr. George L. Hayden, the department of the High School. He told very convincingly and entertainingly of the efforts for publicity in regard to stopping the dangerous practise of "bumming" rides. He begged drivers to glide by and ignore the "thumb-ers." He told of the all given by Mr. Sumner, Manager of the Community Theatre, in putting slogans on the Moving Picture Screen, and of a scenario now being written by Pathé News on the topic. He called attention to the law, which motorists overlook or forget, that the driver is responsible for the safety of passengers, and may be sued or imprisoned for injury or death to a passenger if he thinks he is being kind in giving a lift. A driver is responsible for injury to anyone who throws himself in the way of a car, and this danger is apparent where boys and girls try to "bum" rides.

A young girl, from the Citizenship Class, gave a splendid account of the efforts of the thinking students to stop this undignified, disgraceful habit on the part of fellow-students. She declared that those who thumbed for rides made a spectacle of themselves, and the motorist who heeded them was not doing a kindly act but was encouraging business, and weakening character, besides running the risk of coming from a court room with a flatter pocket-book, if sued for damages. Her appreciation of the utility of the statement of girls who indulge in this practise that they did so in a refined way, made all hearers proud that we have in our midst such fearless speakers in young people who still have modesty and ability to discern culture, refinement, and intelligence. There can be no finer way to show our appreciation of such girls and boys who have started out to stop for all good citizens of Newton, to get solidly behind them and help by refusing rides to bums.

Every Club in Newton ought to give time for such a young speaker to come before them, and awaken them to pride in our young people who are modest, refined, and courageous; and, asking for, should have our backing!

The Education Chairman then gave a very comprehensive resumé of the education meetings that have been arranged by her during the club year at the Technical High School, and various interesting announcements were given.

Wednesday evening is Annual Fathers' Night at Newton Centre, when Prof. Groves will speak at the Mason School.

On Saturday morning, the Girl Scouts have arranged with Mr. Sumner of Newton Community Theatre for moving pictures, the attraction being "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," Mark Twain's humorous story, with the aim in view of securing funds for a bed in the Children's Hospital.

Mrs. Kepner, Vice-President of the Newtonville Woman's Club, announced the opportunity to enjoy the dramatic talent of her Club members on Friday evening, April 16th, at Players' Hall. She said in her own inimitably witty way that in saying these tickets were on sale, they were asking no favor, as purchasers would get their money's worth, and their dramatic talent had received high praise. The play is "Barnum was Right."

Mrs. Corabelle Francis invited Club women to attend a woman's meeting to be held Monday evening, under the auspices of the Americanization Committee, at Stearns School, Centre, and notice of the details of this meeting will be found under coming events of the Newton Community Club, whose Committee is arranging it.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The Auditorium of the Underwood School was well filled, a marked contrast to the afternoons of the Current Events Lectures, for the meeting of March 11th, which took the form of a Fashion Show, arranged by Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson. A representative of Filene's was present to explain the models as they were shown by members of the Club and by daughters of Club members.

Mrs. A. G. Caldwell, teacher of the class in Furniture Painting and the Refinishing of Antiques, showed samples of the work done by members of her other classes, and spoke briefly of the work.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The musicale on Tuesday afternoon offered unusual talent in the artists, for the pleasure of members of the Newtonville Woman's Club. Miss Maude Erickson, Swedish Dramatic Soprano, formerly of the Boston and Chicago Opera companies, has a rich and beautiful voice. Mr. Jacobus Langendoen, of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and noted Dutch cellist, was especially well received. Mr. Reginald Boardman, pianist, was also an able and sympathetic accompanist. Mr. Daniel J. McHugh, Tenor Soloist of the Lynn Universalist Church, gave pleasing selections and was also heard with Miss Erickson in two duets. All generously gave encores.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

At the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on March 12th, after a few business items were disposed of, the afternoon was given in charge of the Junior Members, Elizabeth Blackler, presiding. Leora Bacon sang very prettily a group of three songs: "Until," "One Fine Day" and "Indian Dawn." Miss Margery Stickney, a young member of the Boston Y. W. C. A., gave a talk on her subject: "Whither Comes?" She said in part: "There comes to my mind a full rigged ship with sails all set. 'Did the captain know where he was going?' " "Then, I thought, are our sails set? What is the standard by which we

ABOUT TOWN

At the annual meeting of the Newton Central Council, Mayor Childs told of some of the grouchy citizens who come to his office at City Hall in very ugly moods. He said he sometimes asks such persons, "How are you getting on with your wife?" This is better than saying, "So's your old man." It is a safe bet that the Mayor does not inquire of any indignant ladies, who visit his office on trouble bent, "How are you getting on with your husband?" Mr. Childs is too courteous to put such a query, and too cautious.

President George Pratt of the Board of Aldermen says, "The Finance Committee of the Aldermen always puts its cards 'face up' on the table." Does Mr. Pratt play poker, or merely bridge?

Lieut. Burke of Engine 1 has returned to his home after spending several months in St. Elizabeth Hospital. It will be a considerable time before he will be able to resume his duties.

Work on the new high school building at Newtonville has been considerably delayed because of strikes resulting from a controversy between the metal lathers and the carpenters. The trouble started six weeks ago as a result of a dispute as to whether metal strips in the windows would be installed by the carpenters or the metal lathers. The decision was made that the work belonged to the carpenters. The metal lathers balked at the verdict and went out on strike for five weeks. Then, as a compromise, the contractors decided to have the carpenters do about 85% of the work in placing the window strips and the metal lathers the balance. Whereupon, the carpenters struck. This trouble shows to what extremes the trade unions have gone in demanding alleged rights. To the ordinary observer, it would seem that the carpenters have the best claim. A window strip can hardly be considered as a lath. Possibly, if the metal workers become more insistent, it may be necessary for the carpenters to revert to the use of wooden nails.

A prize winning mare foaled twin colts at West Newton last week. This would have attracted much attention a generation ago. It occasions but little comment today; 8000 Fords are turned out each 24 hours at Detroit.

Intelligent criticism is welcomed by our city officials. President Pratt of the Aldermen asked for it at a public meeting the other night. Much of the criticism hurled at men in public positions is anything but intelligent. In a local paper, recently, a person signing himself, or herself, "Reformer," complained of the loafers who drew pay from the city for shovelling snow this winter. Explaining how these loafers obtained their pay so easily, "Reformer" said, "They are expected to vote for the politicians who have fat jobs too, so they don't have to work when the city hires them." "Scrap the politicians, get City Manager, buy machines to do the work, and let the invalid snow shovellers and office holders stay in bed in the hospitals all the time."

"Politician" is a much abused word. To many it means a person primarily in politics for profit. To others, it means one experienced or engaged in government. Here, in Newton, we are fortunate in having had very few members of our city governments who ever entered political life for mercenary reasons. For several years we have attended every meeting of the aldermen, and if any graft was being sought, it would soon become public knowledge. Perhaps, if "Reformer" would occasionally honor aldermanic meetings with his presence, he might be enlightened to the fact that our aldermen are not cheap grafters. And, perhaps, if he and others of his ilk were less prone to hurl unjust accusations at the men who give freely of their time in the service of the city, without compensation, it might not be so difficult to persuade men of high calibre to serve in public office.

A number of criticisms have been made of the idling done by men hired by the city to remove snow, and of the cost of removing the snow. For several days after the blizzards of last month, Commissioner Stuart and his department received considerable praise for the manner in which the principle streets of Newton were cleared for auto traffic, as contrasted with streets in neighboring cities. Even the Boston papers commended. But, when the city of removing the snow became known, then the criticisms began. It was all right to have the music, but it cost too much to pay the fiddler.

If our streets must be made passable for autos after heavy snowstorms, this almost impossible task can only be accomplished with any degree of efficiency by the city acquiring sufficient modern equipment to cope with the job. Without such equipment, Commissioner Stuart was obliged to hire scores of temporary men and dozens of auto trucks of all shapes and sizes. It was inevitable that among the many extra men hired, were some who could not be classed as willing workers; they are among those who have chronic inertia. More among the temporary laborers were men not accustomed to heavy work, but who had become impoverished through enforced idleness and who grasped the chance to make a few dollars. These men were hired in good faith by the Street Department. It may be that some of those who complain that the snow shovellers loafed, are too exacting in their requirements. Perhaps, if the critical ones had to shovel snow over the sides of trucks, seven or more feet high, for eight or more hours a day, they would not work with machine-like precision and noticeable celerity. We observed that, for the most part, citizens of this fair city refrained from shovelling snow off the short lengths of sidewalks in front of their residences. And, to have done so, would have necessitated but from 30 minutes' to a few hours' labor.

Cards received during the past week show that Miss Gertrude Bourne, formerly Assistant City Clerk, is still enjoying the balmy Florida climate.

Much opposition is developing against the proposal to tear down the two end tenements of the wooden block on Washington street, near Thornton street, and establish a gasoline selling station at the corner of the two streets. The families occupying the other houses in the block very naturally protest against a gasoline tank and selling station being placed at one end of the building in which they dwell. Some of the persons dwelling in this block have resided there for 30 years and contend that they have some rights which should receive consideration.

There are many street corners in this city where gasoline stations would be desirable, as aids to safeguarding automobile traffic. But this particular corner cannot be included among them. There are few corners in Newton, by which and around which, more pedestrians pass. There is the very heavy foot traffic along Washington street. In addition, Thornton street is the way used by large numbers of persons residing in Nonantum and in the intervening territory. Unless the aldermen are willing to subject pedestrians to the hazard of running a veritable automobile gauntlet along Washington street, this station will not be permitted.

NEWTON POST, A. L.

During the last big snow storm which swept through the city of Newton, Commander Stopford, offered the use of the Legion's services to the police department in case of an emergency. Recently the Post was in receipt of a letter from Chief of Police Burke, thanking Newton Legion for their generous offer.

Newton Post No. 48, is working on plans relative to the National Convention which is to be held in Paris in 1927. Many Newton men are forming plans to again visit the scenes of 1917 and 1918, and a committee is now working with representatives of local banks regarding the matter. It is planned for members, who wish to take the trip, to deposit each week in the bank a fixed amount, and to be drawn out similar to the methods used by the Christmas Clubs.

The 1926 convention will be held in Philadelphia and Newton Post will be well represented, if present indications are followed out.

Harold G. Marion of Newton Centre, is in charge of the Memorial Day Services and Parade. He is working in conjunction with the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans Association and the city authorities.

Newton Post No. 48, has a regular magazine which is published once a month. It contains many items regarding Legion Affairs, and also includes articles relative to local activities. The name of this periodical is the SERVICEMAN, and is edited by Albert Cunningham, assisted by Leo Tade, and Francis J. Barry.

On March 11, 1926, Commander Stopford addressed the members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and was cordially received by this body. During the course of his talk Commander Stopford outlined the proposed plan of Newton Post to establish a flagway in the city. Newton Chamber of Commerce then endorsed this project.

Russell Viles of Newton is in charge of the membership committee and is now working to enroll every Ex-Serviceman in the City. Newton Post is endeavoring to increase its membership over the past year's figures.

Ellsworth Poole and Edward Dungan are in charge of the Welfare Work of the Post, and Mr. Dungan is constantly in touch with all the members who are sick and in need of aid. Ellsworth Poole is in charge of the Child Welfare Department.

Newton Post No. 48, is very much interested in the question of making Armistice Day, November 11th, a holiday. Representatives of the Post have been in communication with the Newton Representatives and Senators regarding this issue.

or not, to have a garden, which, she said, was a human need.

She spoke of the wholesomeness of the contact with mother earth, and the joy that comes from watching growing things.

Even though others gather the blossoms from our planting, happiness comes from making brighter the place in which we stay, however briefly.

She read freely from several books on the subject, one of which described with much delicate charm, a neglected southern garden.

She referred to the pests which frequent the soil, and spoke of the care one should exercise in eliminating them, since indiscriminate destruction often results in disturbing Nature's balance, and something else suffers in consequence.

Regarding the feeding of birds, she said they always follow the type of food they need.

Suet, nuts, scraps from the table, and grains of all kinds, are relished, and robins will eat raisins, when refusing other sorts of food.

Many interesting points were brought out in the discussion that followed.

A rising vote of thanks to the speaker closed the meeting.

Coming Events

Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

It may not be necessary to remind club women of the Food Sale being held on Saturday afternoon, the 20th, from 2 to 5 o'clock, at Channing Church, as they are doubtless congratulating themselves upon this opportunity. The Y. M. C. A., for securing appealing and dainty home cooking for the Sunday supply. Busy housewives, in these days when affairs of the community and of the world are permitted to enter their lives, and they dare to have thought for something beyond the four walls of the material home, show their efficiency by noting such dates and taking advantage of them, saving work, weariness, and tranquility, while aiding the good causes such Sales represent.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Literature Class of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held Tuesday, March 23rd, in the home of Mrs. Joseph C. Atkinson, 251 Crafts street. "The Life and Letters of John Muir" is the subject and Mrs. Robert E. Bruce the leader.

Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden was the leader of this class Tuesday afternoon of last week, at a well-attended meeting. As Mrs. Boyden has been a member of a class in modern poetry in Boston this winter she gave a most enjoyable, but brief, summary of the course and also read several selections.

The Glee Club will broadcast Wednesday, March 24th, at 11 A. M. from WNAC.

The Hospital Committee will meet Thursday, March 25th, at 1.30 P. M., at the home of Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson, 74 Brookside avenue.

Rehearsals are going on for the Spring play.

Members will please note that the luncheon and annual meeting has been postponed from April 20th to April 27th.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Edward T. Edmonds opens her home at 153 Hancock street, to the members of the Christian Era Study Club for their meeting on Monday, March 22nd.

There are to be two papers read, on allied history, and of a period that spelled possibly the greatest in the two nations involved. In the light of what recent years have brought to these nations, and of their fall due to pride and overwhelming ambition, it becomes almost pathetic to dwell upon ancient glories that led to so tragic a downfall.

Mrs. N. L. Grant will tell of "Frederick the Great," his life, his time, and the Germany which he represents, and Mrs. Alfred L. Billings has for her paper, a similar portrayal for Austria, in "Maria Theresa."

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Art is the fascinating topic for the March meetings of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands, and the artist to whom tribute is to be paid, in study of his genius and life is John Singer Sargent. We who are close to Boston where are exhibited so many of his wonderful ideas and achievements are indeed fortunate that in such a choice for study it is not difficult to pay a visit to some shrine of his productions. Members of the C. L. S. C. have already made a pilgrimage to the Boston Art Museum, in preparation of heart and mind for the discussions that are to come. Mrs. Nancy F. Hardy of Newton has the program in charge for the afternoon of March 22nd, and will read her paper on this artist. Miss Adelaide Webster is hostess for the meeting at her home, 10 Chester Street.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

On Monday, the 22nd, also the Monday Club is to have a most pleasurable afternoon in the enjoyment of a play—"Charles Lamb," written by Alice Brown, and discussed by Mrs. Charlton D. Miller, the Vice-President of the Club. Mrs. J. E. Peckham is hostess for this meeting, when she opens her home at 4 Rockledge Road.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will learn of Western and Central Africa in its program of Tuesday, March 23rd, at the home of Mrs. Madison M. Cannon, 33 Hancock Street. A "History of the Belgian Congo" will be given by Mrs. Henry Turner. Miss Jessie Macmillan will tell of "The Roosevelt Hunting Trip through Central Africa," and Mrs. Nelson Freeman will read a paper on "Liberia." The members are also to enjoy solos by Mrs. Ralph Alvord, a soprano singer, whose talent they claim as a resident of Auburndale.

Thursday, March 25th, Mrs. Cannon will open her house again from 3 to 6 o'clock for a Silver Tea for the benefit of the philanthropic fund of the Club, and a cordial invitation is extended to all, whether members of the Club or not.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

Mrs. E. H. James is the speaker before the Boston Woman's Civics Club at their March 24th meeting, which will be held as usual at the Hotel Brunswick, at 2.30 P. M. Drama and Civics with readings to illustrate the lecture on drama will be her contribution for the pleasure of members. Mrs. W. B. Blakemore is to lead the Current Events discussion, which is always of much interest, keenness and logic.

Newton Community Club

Professor Kirsopp Lake will speak on "Human Nature in the Bible" at the meeting of the Newton Community Club on March twenty-fifth. Professor Lake is a graduate of Lincoln College, Oxford, and has been professor of Early Christian Literature at Harvard since 1914.

The Course in Gardens is going merrily forward, the next lecture being on March 26th, Friday, at 10.30 A. M., in Hunnewell Parlors. Those taking the Course are asked to note that there will be no meeting on Friday, April 2nd, but this lecture will be held on the preceding day, April 1st. At the March 26th meeting, Miss Annie Blanchard, who is known as an "authority" on bulbs, will give advice on "Summer Flowering Fibrous Bulbs."

Of special moment is the WOMAN'S MEETING, to be held at Stearns School on Monday evening, March 22nd, at 7 o'clock, arranged by the Americanization Committee of the Newton Community Club, of which Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis is the untiring and helpful Chairman of many pleasant ideas. She is assisted by a willing Committee in Mrs. James E. Adams, Mrs. David Black, Mrs. P. W. Danforth, Mrs. Emma E. Ferris, Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, and Mrs. Carlo Montanari. The Newton Girl Scouts will give demonstrations of games, first aid, and other of their splendid interests and activities. The Girl Scouts of Nonantum and a large number of other women have been invited to attend, as well as all members of the Newton Community Club.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

At the regular monthly business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at two o'clock on Thursday, March 25th, Dean Lucy D. Franklin, of Boston University, will speak on "The Rising Older Generation."

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"Correct Walking and Posture" is the subject of a talk to be given by Louis P. Haight, on Friday, March 26th, in Players' Small Hall, under the direction of the Education Committee, Mrs. A. L. Jordan, Chairman. There will be music and tea will be served. The Travel Class will meet on Monday in the home of Mrs. F. E. Waring. Mrs. Ella F. Mason will give a paper on "The Story of the Christ," and Mrs. W. D. Keefe a paper on "The Christ in Art." Music from "The Messiah" will add to the program.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Continuance of the enjoyable study of "Cymbeline," in Acts IV and V, is the program for the next meeting of the Shakespeare Club, on Saturday, March 27th. Mrs. W. E. Moore, Secretary for the Club, is hostess for that day, at her home, 55 Hillside Road. A new experiment has been devised by the members for presenting the Quiz, and should be most delightful in fulfillment. Variety is the spice of life, and while clever quizzing leaves no time for wits to slumber, or minds to wander, it is always interesting to see what ideas can be concocted and carried forward for new methods of entertainment. Members of the Club have been reading the various character parts, and now, playing the living character, forgetful of themselves as of the year 1926, with its radios and autos, air planes, and subways, these members will speak from character in demanding swift and intelligent answer to the queries they propound about themselves, their motives, acts, and idiosyncrasies. It behooves each member who attends to be keen of thought, prepared with knowledge of the play, and shrewd of retort, if they would prove that the work they have read means much to them, and they have imbibed its meaning. Naturally the questioners have well prepared their answers to their own questions, for they wisely know that it would be folly to ask what they themselves could not explain. The Quiz promises great entertainment, so to meet the immortal Imogen, Cymbeline, Cloten, Leontas, Belarius, and others, and to be privileged to tell them to their faces just what you think of them!

WINS FIRST PRIZE

The Christian Endeavor Society of the North Congregational Church at Chapel street, Newton, had the honor for the past year of being awarded the Norumbega Union C. E. banner the greatest number of times. With a new award this year of a C. E. Shield, they again come forward and carry home the prize.

This Society has been actively connected with Christian Endeavor work for forty years. A dollar for each year of C. E. service is being raised among its members as a donation to the Clark Retirement Fund.

With Miss Martha Vuilleumier, Dr. Cameron Rae, and Mayor Edwin O. Childs as leaders for the next month, they expect to maintain their high standard of attendance.

The officers of C. E. Society are: President, Miss Ruth M. Centear; Vice-President, Albert Coulter, Revere; Secretary, Jane MacDermott; Corresponding Secretary, Dr. Cameron A. Rae; Treasurer, Doris F. Centear; Organist, Mr. Charles Bacon.

Committees:—Lookout, Hugh S. Boyd, Jane MacDermott, Hilda Greaves; Prayer Meeting, Edgar J. Livingston, Pierre Vuilleumier, Ruth Centear; Social, Henry Vuilleumier, Melville Westgate, Doris Centear; Dr. C. A. Rae, Marion McCammon; Decoration, Helen Roy, Edgar J. Livingston, Albert Coulter, Edwin Chapellaine, Junior Superintendent, Miss Charlotte Vuilleumier.

BOY SCOUTS

Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts' campaign for funds from contributions of Newton citizens to meet the expense of operations for this year has been successfully launched to public attention. A most encouraging and significant expression of the awakening of public interest to appreciation of the enduring value of Boy Scout work in Newton is the co-operation which is volunteered to Norumbega Council by the Rotary Club of Newton.

Representatives of the Council were present as invited guests at the regular meeting of Rotary Club on Monday, the fifteenth instant.

The subject of raising funds was very thoroughly discussed and a most enthusiastic purpose on the part of the Rotarians to assist the work of the drive was manifested. Particular interest was shown in a handsome folder pamphlet of Boy Scout Work illustrated by many half-tone prints of Scout-masters, and of scenes of outdoor life and cabins at the Council's camping grounds of 32 acres, known as "The Ohio" located in Dover, Mass.

It is respectfully requested that contributions be made at an early date, checks to order of Wm. T. Halliday, Treasurer, care of Newton Trust Company, or they may be handed to any of the numerous Village Chairmen in charge of the drive.

Norumbega Council, Inc., Wm. S. Radway, President, Stephen H. Whidden, Chairman Finance Committee.

RUMMAGE SALE

The American Legion Auxiliary of Newton Post No. 48 will greatly appreciate contributions of hats, shoes, clothing, furniture, books, pictures, etc., which may be sent to 260 Washington street, Newton, on Monday, March 29th, from 2 to 5 o'clock, to be marked for the sale to be held on Wednesday, March 31st, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Mrs. C. G. Francis, the President of the Newton Auxiliary and a large committee are working for the success of this sale.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The last auction bridge party of the season in behalf of the Fatherless Children of France will be given at the Commonwealth Country Club, Monday afternoon, March 22. The hostesses at this club function are Mrs. E. F. Hathaway of Wellesley and Mrs. Frank C. Shepherd of Chestnut Hill. Assisting them in receiving are Meses. Frank H. Chamberlain, Carl M. Hibbard, William J. Tyler and Joseph F. Vaas of Newton; William S. Heath of Brighton, and W. Horace Workman of Brookline.

There will be a concert at the Commonwealth Country Club Sunday afternoon, March 21, at 4 o'clock for members and their guests. The Vannini Symphony Ensemble, consisting of twelve symphony players under the leader, Augusto Vannini, himself a symphony player, are the artists. The Ensemble will be assisted by A. Ralph Talbly, baritone.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Sarah H. Hovenden of Austin street, Newtonville, on Friday, March 26th, for work on Puzzle Books for the soldiers and sailors.

STEADY SAVERS ARE SOUND SLEEPERS. No greater sense of security nor surer source of contentment than the knowledge that you have a little barricade of money built up between you and a possible time of trouble. Wealth is not acquired, as many people suppose, by fortunate speculations and splendid enterprises, but by the daily practice of industry, and frugality and economy. He who relies on these means will rarely be found destitute, and he who relies upon any other will generally become bankrupt.

MUNICIPAL CONFERENCE

The Mayor revived something on Monday evening. He invited the members of the Board of Aldermen, School Committee, members of the Legislature from Newton, the head of all departments of the city, government, trustees and commissioners of the various city institutions and board and the personnel of the local court, to a dinner and conference at the Newton Club. Such affairs were organized by Mayors in past years and members of the press were also invited. But at this "get together" party of Mayor Childs, newspaper representatives were as welcome as a heavy snow in May. The Mayor made it perfectly plain that reporters were taboo, that the gathering was strictly private. Some may be inclined to criticize the Mayor for being so all fired exclusive. They may believe that since affairs of import to the public of Newton were to be discussed at this meeting, and since the public of Newton paid for the feed, the aforesaid public ought to get the "low down" on whatever gems of municipal wisdom were revealed at the conference, round table discussion, get-together, "know one another party," or whatever the affair might be termed. At such gatherings in the past, members of the press were invited. They were supposed to possess sufficient tact and courtesy to discern between what they should put in print and what they should "soft pedal."

Perhaps the Mayor used wisdom when he closed the portals to reporters at the Monday night party at the Newton Club. He may be absolutely correct in his apparent opinion that the members of the "fourth estate," at least local members of that distinguished or notorious body, are utterly lacking in finesse, unreliable and inaccurate. They are so prone, according to many, to misquote and garble statements made by speakers at meetings, that if a man is called upon to voice his views, he will be afraid to be frank, he will even hesitate to say anything, through fear that some reporter of limited mentality may ascribe some remark to him that will cause much adverse criticism. Orators and near orators at public, semi-public or private meetings frequently say something on the spur of the moment that may seem "good dope" when uttered. This same "bit of wisdom" printed in cold type, to be read and digested by thousands, oftentimes subjects he who uttered it to considerable criticism and derision. Quite often men who make statements that may for the moment "listen well," but which, in print read foolish, accuse reporters of quoting them incorrectly. This, perhaps, may have been Mayor Childs' reason for excluding the press from his "love feast" last Monday night.

It would be unfair to suggest that the Mayor took the stand that it was none of the public's business what was discussed or suggested at the gathering. The Mayor is noted for taking the citizens into his confidence. He believes implicitly in letting tax payers have full knowledge of all that transpires in the conduct of city affairs. So, his only object in throwing a sort of veil of secrecy over the "get together" was, perhaps, to impress upon those he called on for remarks, that the meeting was entirely informal, and they were at liberty to say what they thought, or pleased, or wished their auditors to think they thought, without their every remark being broadcasted. As the meeting was a private gathering of public men, it may not be ethical to even tell what it is rumored was said there by anyone who spoke. Even though members of the press may, in the opinion of the Mayor, be somewhat crude, they are not so essentially vulgar, as to interrogate attendants at a private affair, as to what transpired there. Certain limited, and of course, indefinite reports have come from persons who were told some of the happenings at the conclave by those who attended the "round table." At the risk of being accused of violating privacy, so numerous have been the inquiries as to the purport and import of the Monday night convention of local dignitaries, that we yield to those who want some glimmer of knowledge regarding it, and give what little "hearsay" is current about the event.

The first speaker, or the first gentleman called upon to make a few remarks, was Judge William F. Bacon of the district court. Mr. Bacon praised the local police force and told of the minor improvements made in the building at West Newton which houses the court and police headquarters. The judge admitted that a new court house was needed. Ulysses C. Wheeler, superintendent of schools, pointed out briefly the requirements of modern schools, the provisions that must be made for the rapidly growing

NARROW ESCAPE

An automobile driven by Angelo Al-bardessa of 247 Elliot street, Upper Falls, ran down Mrs. Fred J. Barrett, 45, of 286 Friendship street, Providence, and Mrs. Grace Green, 43, of 125 Bellevue street, Providence, Sunday night, at the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, Boston. Both women were taken to the Haymarket Relief Hospital and the name of Mrs. Barrett was placed on the danger list. She received a fractured skull. Mrs. Green's jaw was fractured and she received contusions of the body and right arm. The accident was caused by a misunderstanding in traffic signals.

The next meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the Stone Institute, Newton Upper Falls, on Thursday, April 1, at 2:30 P. M. Music and Reading. Hostess, Mrs. Florence S. Maynard.

LOGGERS

Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent 2, D. of V., will hold a whist party in G. A. R. hall, Masonic Building, Newtonville, Tuesday evening, March 30, at 8:15 P. M. This party is held for the benefit of the John A. Andrew Home, Newtonville. The committee in charge are hoping to make this a success, and hope to have a good attendance.

N. A. A.

The March meeting of the Newton Athletic Association was held Monday evening at the Newton Club. The annual election was held and there were many members out to cast the vote. Mr. Rupert C. Thompson was re-elected president of the association which is now in its third year. Mr. Howard Whitmore, vice-president; Chris. Vachon, secretary, and Frank Dorney, treasurer, were also re-elected. The following committee chairmen were chosen: Baseball, John Seavey; football, Clark Macomber; basketball, Warren K. Brimblecom; hockey, George Owen Jr.; track, C. V. Moore; tennis, Reginald Bankhart; swimming, William Osborne; golf, Orville Forte; membership, S. A. Wood; social, George Owen, Sr.

Peg Wood, the first president and one of the original formers of the association, talked upon membership and the need for the enlargement of the number of members in order to carry out the aims of the association. Plans are being formulated for a drive to secure more citizens of Newton who are interested in athletics as members. President Thompson was requested to appoint a member to confer with the school committee in regard to introducing a regular program of physical education in the schools. Clark Macomber and President Thompson reported that they had interviewed the Mayor, regarding the

Troop 3—Newton Centre: On Saturday, March 14th Troop 3 visited the Boston Natural History Museum, the headquarters of the Massachusetts Audubon Society and the Girl Scout Headquarters. The girls in this troop are particularly interested in the study and care of wild birds. In the winter they have fed the birds and several of the scouts have made bird houses ready for use this spring. They have planned, since this visit to Boston to form a Junior Audubon Society made up of Second Class scouts who will work during the spring and summer for the Bird-Finder Merit Badge.

Troop 15—Many troops in Newton have given banquets, sometimes Mothers and Daughters Banquets, sometimes Fathers and Daughters Banquets, but Troop 15 had the happy idea of combining the two and gave on Friday evening, March 19, in the Unitarian Church, West Newton, a banquet for their mothers and fathers. The whole affair, from sending out the invitations, planning the menu, buying the food, cooking and serving the supper, carrying out a lively and interesting program to the sounding of taps was done by the scouts, under the direction of Eleanor Hartel, Captain. Freeman enjoyed the luxury of being

The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held at the Auburndale Club Wednesday noon. President Frank Wilcox presided and 47 members attended. The singing, as usual, was led by Kiwanian Earl E. Harper. If the Kiwanis Club will be fortunate enough to retain the services of this reverend gentleman, the Highland Glee Club will have to look to its laurels as the premier male singing society of the city. Elmer Foster of Brookline, a visiting member, gave some suggestions on the Charter Night which will be held next month to mark the formal institution of the Kiwanis movement in Newton. International Organizer Walter Huntton advised the members regarding the perfecting of plans for Charter Night, which will in all probability occur on April 20 or 21. Mr. Huntton explained that the motto of Kiwanis is "We Build," that the movement stands for betterment of communities, clean government, the Human and Spiritual rather than the quest of material things, in short, to render altruistic service. He urged all present to attend the national Kiwanis Convention at Montreal next June. Ernest Gibson won the attendance prize, a shaving cabinet donated by Wilfred Chagnon.

DEATH OF MR. BECK

Mr. James M. Beck for over thirty-five years a resident of Duncklee street, Newton Highlands, died suddenly Wednesday forenoon at his place of business on A street, South Boston. Mr. Beck was born in Eastham, Penn., and was 65 years of age. He had been associated with the Kistler Leather Company in the manufacture of sole leather for the last 45 years, and had been located principally in Boston for the last 35 years. Most of this time he was with Kistler, Lesh Co., and since Jan. 1, 1918, was with the Kistler Leather Company, as a director and treasurer. He was a member of many Masonic bodies, the Chamber of Commerce, Boston City Club, and a director of the Newton South Co-operative Bank and other organizations. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mabel, and a son, Edwin Floyd Beck of Needham, assistant treasurer of the Kistler Leather Company. Funeral services are being held this afternoon from his late home on Duncklee street.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

FOUR NINES AT NEWTON HIGH

Newton High will have four baseball teams on the diamond this Spring. As in football, there will be a varsity, intermediate varsity, junior varsity and a freshman nine. The system was installed three years ago by Coach Allie Dickinson and has proved to be very successful. He originally started out with but three teams, but last fall the freshman outfit was added. Each team has its own coach and its own schedule under the direction of Mr. Dickinson. The system is believed to be the best scholastic athletic system yet developed, as it brings athletics to the greatest number of boys and also is a great aid in developing first string athletes. It enables Dickinson to devote the major part of his time to the varsity and yet, with capable assistants, he knows that the younger and smaller boys are getting the proper training to develop themselves and their abilities so that before graduation they can be placed upon the varsity. In baseball this spring it is expected there will be over one hundred candidates working out for the four teams. They are classified according to size, age and ability and thus compete with boys of their own size. If an athlete shows sufficient ability, he is elevated to the next class and, while growing, he is being developed as possible varsity material.

Dickinson and Carson Stanwood will coach the varsity this spring. Ralph Sanborn, assistant physical director, will handle the intermediates, Henry Tinker, a teacher, the junior varsity and Mr. Daley, another teacher, the freshmen.

Until the outdoor field is in condition for practice, the battery candidates for the varsity are working out in the gym. Only one regular pitcher, Sam McCleary, is left. He is one of the four first string hurlers of last year's squad. Pickard, a member of the junior varsity last year, may prove to have sufficient ability to hold down a varsity position this year. Guy Holbrook, the star hockey captain and halfback, who was the regular first baseman last year, may be turned into a pitcher. He has a natural delivery, knows a lot about the pitching game and could take a turn in the box if necessary.

Monahan, an intermediate catcher last year, and Gilligan, shortstop and captain of last year's football team, are fighting it out for catcher. The rest of the squad will not report until the weather permits outdoor playing.

FULLERTON ELECTED CAPTAIN

Wallace Fullerton, '27, was recently elected captain the Newton High school indoor track team next winter. He was unanimously selected at a meeting of the track squad. Fullerton was the outstanding performer of this year's outfit and also the most versatile. He competed in the dash, the hurdles, the standing broad jump, the 300-yd. run, and several times ran on the relay. His total points for the season was far ahead of any other member of the squad.

His best performance was in the Lawrence meet when he turned in a total of 20 points. He won the 25-yd. dash, the 25-yd. hurdles, the 300-yd. run and the standing broad jump. His mark in the latter event was 9 feet 10 inches, the best jump he made during the season. Next year Captain Fullerton should lead the Newton team to a successful season as a number of veteran performers on this year's outfit will return to uphold the orange and black on the boards.

NEWTON DEFEATS WORCESTER

Newton Y. M. C. A. has completed its schedule of basketball games by defeating Worcester "Y" at Newton, 43 to 36. With four of the first team regulars out, Livingston and Carter of the seconds filled in and played a fast game. "Phil" Hardy filled his regular berth at center, with Brimblecom and Livingston forwards, and Coulter and Shields guards. The first half ended twenty-four to twenty, in Worcester's favor, but the scoring of Livingston in the second half, with six baskets from the floor, put Newton in the lead. Livingston scored seven of Newton's points, with Brimblecom scoring twelve, Hardy ten, and Shields four. For Worcester McNelly was high man, with thirteen points.

CIRCUS AND EXHIBITION AT Y. M. C. A.

The Physical Department of the Newton Y. M. C. A. is planning a Circus and Gymnastic Exhibition to be held Friday night, April 9th. The Committee in charge is composed of O. J. Jordan, Howard Stoney, E. M. Westgate, and R. B. Simmons.

A varied program is being planned, with advanced gymnasium work by members of the boys' classes, clown acts, and specialty numbers from outside of the membership. Alan Shaw, President of the Hi-Y Club is in charge of printing of the program. Miss Florence Walsh, pianist for the gymnasium classes, will direct all music, and Hugh Boyd will be the Ringmaster.

Numbers prepared so far are: Marching by the Prep and Junior A classes; Indian Club Drill by the Junior B class; Wand Drill and Tiger Leaping by the High School class; Flashlight drill by Junior A and Prep Leaders; Pyramids by the Junior B and High School Leaders; Illuminated Indian Club Swinging by E. M. Westgate; and an act by Earl Davis, magician.

SPORT NOTES

Chester Scott of Waban, star centre on the Boston University hockey team for the past two seasons, was in the running for the captaincy to which Viano, the former Arlington star, was recently elected. Scott, however, is only a sophomore and is generally expected to succeed Viano as the captain in 1928.

In the Newton Bowling League Wednesday night, Waban was shut out by Cohasset, and Maugus made a clean sweep of its matches with the Newton Club. The scheduled match between Hunnewell and Commercial was postponed and will be rolled off Monday night at the Hunnewell Club.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball team finished its schedule, Wednesday night and broke even for the season by taking Worcester Y five into camp, 43 to 34, in a hard-fought game. At half time the visitors were leading 24 to 20, but the Newton quintet came fast in the third and fourth period to clinch the victory. Livingston was the high scorer for the local outfit with a total of 19 points.

With the coming of Spring the curtain rings down on basketball and hockey while on another stage the settings are being prepared for baseball. In another month the sound of the bat and the cry of the umpire will be heard once again. There will be a number of nines in the city. Besides the high school teams there will be several association and independent outfits. The Y. M. C. A. will put another first class lineup on the field. Upper Falls, West Newton, Saxony, Earnshaw, Newton Pals and others are all making plans for the coming season.

The Newton High school baseball team will open its schedule on April 10th when Captain McCullough and his mates will cross bats with the Swampscott High nine. The orange and black's Suburban league schedule will begin on Patriots' Day with a trip to Russell Field, Cambridge, where Newton will face Coach Macdonald's Cambridge Latin school outfit.

The Cambridge High and Latin school nine is rated among the likely contenders for the championship bunting this Spring. Last year the team finished well up in the race and with nearly an entire veteran team this year it is already classed as one of the best in schoolboy circles.

With the recent announcement of the outdoor track schedule preparations are being made for the opening meet with Milton on May 7. Several of the distance men are going over the road several times a week, among them Seeley, McCrudden, Crawford, Brewer, and Gallagher. Prospects are good for a fair team this spring as the outfit is well balanced. Moore and Fullerton will take care of the century, Buswell and Kollmeyer the 220, MacManus, Ramsden, and Stewart the quarter. Cummings and Brewer the half and Seeley and McCrudden the mile. In the hurdles Newton will be well represented by Fullerton and Kollmeyer. In the field events there is a strong collection of performers expected to add many points to Newton's scores. Fullerton and Moore and Hammond will carry the burden in the broad jump, Hammond, Elbehare and Rockwood the high jump, while Captain Conniff, Pratt, Macy and Clark form a formidable quartet in the weight events.

Bowdoin College has recently awarded numerals to several Newton boys who are members of the freshman class at the Pine Tree State college. Frederick H. Oakes of Newton Highlands, Winslow R. Howland of Auburndale, and Abbott Spear of Newton Centre all won their class numerals in football last fall.

Tonight and tomorrow night George Owen and his B. A. teammates will face the Pere Marquette team in a two-game playoff series for the championship of the Eastern Amateur Hockey league. These two games will ring down the curtain for the 1926 ice sport season.

John Lawless of West Newton is expected to be of great value in the Boston University baseball team outfield this season. He patrolled left field for the Terriers last year and played wing on the hockey team the past season. The West Newton youth is rated as one of the most versatile athletes now attending the university.

For the sporting news, read the Boston Globe. Make the Globe your Boston newspaper.

Dick Stumpf and Joe Connors of West Newton and Joe Kerrivan of Upper Falls are rumored to have signed contracts to play with the Portland Club of the New England League the coming season. The two West Newton boys are former members of the West Newton Town team, while Kerrivan has done creditable work the past few years with the South Boston A. A. of the Twilight League.

Y. M. C. A.

In an address before the Fellowship Club of the Newton Y. M. C. A., Mrs. Helen Talbot, Staff Speaker of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, made clear the value of the League of Nations, even though many, at this time, say its usefulness is past. Mrs. Talbot called attention to the fact that the League is growing in influence and power because even the more powerful nations now are willing to explain their action on international questions to the other nations represented in the League. Results depend upon the willingness of the Nations to co-operate.

The League is merely the machinery which brings them together.

The speaker at the Club meeting on March 29th will be H. C. Mosman, Special Investigator of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, who will illustrate his remarks with motion pictures.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in hospital, 133; patients paying as much as cost of care or more, 59; patients paying less than cost of care, 46; free patients, including babies, 28; babies born, 10, boys 4, girls 6; patients treated by the outpatient department, 137; patients treated at eye clinic, 9; accident cases, 6; social service calls at hospital, 8; at homes, 0; patients transferred by social service car, 6.

Mr. Howard gave a most interesting talk about birds to the nurses on Sunday evening with lantern slides showing the birds most commonly seen around the hospital. Quite an interest was started to watch the return of the birds this spring. It may be remembered that early in the season two feeding trays for birds were given the hospital and they have been greatly enjoyed by the winter both by the birds and the people who watched the birds.

The hospital staff held their regular meeting on Monday evening. Beautiful twin babies who were born at the hospital last summer came to this meeting to demonstrate a talk by Dr. Clark to the doctors.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

On Monday evening, the 26th, the Blue Triangle Club is having as its guests the delegates from Boston, who attended the Young Women's Christian Association Conference at Silver Bay, Lake George, New York, last summer. Mrs. Leathers will address the club, after which there will be an hour or so of fun. Last Monday evening the club enjoyed a theatre party.

On Wednesday evening, March 17th, occurred the third Board Meeting of the year, with Mrs. Louis Stoughton Drake in charge. Matters were presented for discussion in regard to the Annual Young Women's Christian Association Convention, which is being held at Milwaukee from April 21st to 27th. Plans were also put under way for the Annual Membership Banquet of the Newton Association.

The children's gymnasium class will meet on Thursday at four o'clock, commencing March 25th, instead of Wednesday, as they have done in the past. This class is under the direction of a trained leader, who will lead the girls in their games and work, striving to make happier and healthier "kiddies."

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The 13th concert of the Newton Choral Society, to be given at Central Church, Newtonville, Tuesday evening, April 13, will be one of the principal musical events of the year in this city. Gounod's wonderful oratorio, "The Redemption," is to be presented, and the chorus will be assisted by the Boston Festival orchestra, with James Crowley as concert master.

The society is fortunate in securing four very fine singers to present the solo parts, as follows: Mrs. Marjorie Warren Leadbetter, soprano; Mrs. Bertha Putney Dudley, contralto; Mr. Norman Arnold, tenor; Mr. Franklin Field, baritone. Mrs. Leadbetter's very brilliant singing has been heard several times with great pleasure by the people of Newton. Mrs. Dudley is the accomplished and gifted contralto soloist of Second church, West Newton. Mr. Arnold is well known as the tenor of the Old South church quartet, Boston, also the first tenor of the famous Knickerbocker quartet. He has taken solo parts at concerts of the Cecilia and Handel and Haydn societies of Boston. Mr. Field is the baritone of the Central church, Newtonville, and all who attend that church and many who have heard him in concert work, will be glad of the chance to hear his fine voice in this great masterpiece. The next week's rehearsal for the chorus will be held at the Universalist church, Newtonville.

FLORIST WINS PRIZES

William A. Riggs of Freeman street, Auburndale, one of the best known florists in Greater Boston, scored heavily in the Spring show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, held last week at Horticultural Hall, Boston. In the classes for daffodils, hyacinths, tulips, and similar bulbous plants, the exhibits of Mr. Riggs captured 22 first prizes and 13 second prizes. Experts who attended the show acclaimed the narcissus collection shown by Mr. Riggs as the finest ever shown in Horticultural Hall.

ABOUT TOWN

Those residents of this city who link the Newton of today with the Newton of the past are rapidly diminishing in number. One of them passed recently, when Charles Wilkins died. "Charlie" as he was familiarly known to hundreds in the Newton Corner section, drove hacks, carriages and taxis at the Newton railway station for about forty years. For thirty years he was in the employ of the late George W. Bush, and many were the prominent Newtonians of the last generation who insisted upon having "Charlie" handle the reins when they were transported to and from the depot. Speaking of Mr. Wilkins, recalls some of the other old timers who "handled the ribbons" over the steeds that antedated as motive power, the "hackney carriages, 1st class" that now carry commuters who do not ride in their own from the Newton depot.

Among "Charlie's" colleagues were Henry Harris, John Atwood, Andy Whelan, John McSherry and Pat Maloney. In the last years of the past century and the first years of the present century, there were no public garages in Newton. There were three livery stables, conducted by George W. Bush, Henry C. Daniels, and Samuel Whitman. Charlie Wilkins was the star driver of the Bush stable; Henry Harris piloted the equipage from the Daniels livery; Pat Maloney drove the equines from the Whitman establishment. There was more style to these reinmen than there is to the taxi chauffeurs of the present. The regulation garb included blue or green coats with doubled rows of large brass buttons, and semi-tall hats of various colors and shapes. There was considerable rivalry between the Bush and Daniels stables and these two places vied with one another in providing attractive hacks and horses for the passengers at the depot.

Pat Maloney ceased to drive for the Whitman stable and started an independent depot hack. He had his own limited clientele even though his steeds were not to be classed with those of Judge Moore or Tom Lawson or his carriage as ornate as those of Harry Hooper. John Atwood was perhaps the most particular of the independents in the appearance of his equipment. He started in with a coupe, drawn by a single horse, but later changed to a regular hackney carriage, pulled by a pair. The old type hacks were later superseded by depot carriages of a more modern type which remained in use until the automobiles displaced them. Perhaps the outstanding figure among the old depot jehus was Henry Harris. Henry was a big, good-natured individual, with a forceful vocabulary. He sure could drive. Henry moved out of his abode in Everett. The other veterans of the hackney carriages at the Newton station, with the exception of Mr. Wilkins, died years ago. Now, Charlie has gone into the beyond. And so, the last survivor of one former phase of Newton activity has passed out of the picture.

During the days following the heavy snow storms of last month, because of the blocked condition of the streets, many autoists felt justified in violating the law forbidding motor vehicles to pass on the left side of street cars stopped to take on or discharge passengers. As might be expected, a large percentage of these autoists, having started this practice without being punished for so doing, are keeping it up. This law was enacted after many persons had been killed because of autos being driven by on the left side of stopped street cars. A police campaign should be started to arrest those who are continuing to disregard this law.

It is very easy for those who pay little or no taxes, to advocate a large increase in the tax rate, but if such generously inclined persons belonged to the working or middle class (if a middle class still exists) and were making strenuous endeavors to pay off the mortgage on a modest home, they would not be so ready to suggest that our present tax rate receive a substantial boost. There are many persons in this city whose salaries, wages, or incomes have not been increased in late years. These do not wax enthusiastic over proposals to jump the tax rate.

BAKER-ESTY

Palms and baskets of spring flowers decorating both church and the home, formed a charming setting for the wedding of Miss Muriel Gladys Esty and Dr. Clyde Nelson Baker on Saturday evening, March 13, at eight o'clock, at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Samuel H. Woodrow, D. D., assisted by Rev. George G. Phipps, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents at 929 Dedham street, Oak Hill.

The bride was beautifully gowned in ivory white satin with lace flounce, studded with rhinestones, and carried a bridal bouquet of roses, sweet peas, and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Herman Clement Esty.

Miss Elizabeth Esty, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; her dress was of shaded georgette with silver trimming, and she carried red roses. The bridesmaids, who were Miss Ruth Baker of New Jersey, sister of the groom, Miss Madeline Starr of Beverly, Miss Marian Allen of Newton Highlands and Mrs. George Larcom Avery of Oak Hill, wore peach and apricot taffeta dresses with tulle trimmings. They carried bouquets of tea roses.

George Larcom Avery of Oak Hill was best man. Clement Esty, brother of the bride, was head usher, and he was assisted by Wilfred and Robert Esty of Oak Hill, cousins of the bride, and Bruce Courn of Rockland. Little Paul Newcomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Newcomb was ring bearer, while his brother, James Newcomb, and Frederick Esty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Esty were ribbon boys.

Dr. Baker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellery A. Baker of Passaic, N. J. He served in the world war and is a graduate of the Rush Medical School of the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Baker is a graduate of the Newton High School and Simmons College. —Dr. and Mrs. Baker have left for a trip across the continent and will reside in Los Angeles for one year. They expect to make their home in New York upon their return.

DEATH OF MRS. HAMMETT

Mrs. Emma F. Hammett, the widow of the late William F. Hammett, died Wednesday at her apartment in the Crocydon at Newton after a long period of failing health. Mrs. Hammett was 73 years of age and has been a resident of this city for over 40 years. She was for many years, an active member of the Channing Church. Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Newton Cemetery chapel. Rev. Chester A. Drummond, pastor of Channing Church officiating.

NEWTON BOYS' DAY AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Saturday, March 27th will be observed as Boys' Day by the Boys' Division of the local Association. The old saying that the rulers of tomorrow are the boys of today is coming to be a closer realization in the work with the Y. M. C. A. The boys of Newton today are fortunate in living the Y. M. C. A. as headquarters for their several sports, and they spend one day a year raising funds to add to the equipment of the Boys department and the general good for boys. Teams are organized with boy captains, and the goal this year is $500.00 in one day.

A supper will be served Friday, March 26th, by the Ladies' Auxiliary, and Saturday morning they will start out and collect the envelopes and letters, and by six o'clock Saturday night the goal will undoubtedly be reached. It is interesting to note the wide field served by the Newton Y. M. C. A. Of the three hundred thirty-six members, the following towns are represented: Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Waban, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, Chestnut Hill, Brookline, Brighton, Faneuil, Belmont, Watertown, Waltham, Jamaica Plain, Wellesley, Wellesley Hills, Needham, Mattick, Framingham, Lincoln, Weston, Hyde Park, Arlington, Auburndale and Ipswich.

The boys should have every encouragement from the citizens of these communities in this State Boys' Day Campaign. The money will be divided as follows: 75 per cent for our local work, 15 per cent for state wide work, 7 per cent for national wide work, and 3 per cent for boys' work in foreign lands.

Club News

The Pioneer Clubs of the Boys' Division of the "Y" held a Conclave on Tuesday evening, March 16th. An Oyster Stew supper was served at 6.15, followed by a musical program, provided by boys of the various clubs and by the Boys' Division Orchestra. A Pioneer Induction ceremony was carried out where a Club representative was inducted as for his Club, making his Club official members of the Newton "Y" Pioneers. To close the program a short talk was given by Mr. W. A. MacConnell, Boys' work director of the Boston "Y." His subject was "Team work and its value to Boys," which was much appreciated.

The Friendly Indians Clubs will have a Pow-Wow on Saturday noon of March 20th, after which they will be conducted on an Educational Trip to the Peabody Museum of Harvard University. Here are relics, collections, and many things referring to Indian Customs, life, and living.

BEMIS-HOUGHTON

The marriage of Mr. Farwell Gregg Bemis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Farwell Bemis of Old Orchard road, Chestnut Hill, and Miss Margaret Houghton of Brookline, took place last week, at Vevey, Switzerland.

Mrs. Houghton and her daughter have been in Italy for some time, and Mrs. Bemis, the bridegroom's mother, recently went abroad, where she was joined in Switzerland by her husband, who has been in India on business.

Mr. Bemis was graduated from Harvard in 1922 and after his graduation spent a year in travel abroad and then a year of study at Cambridge University, England. On his return he entered the Harvard School of Business Administration and was graduated with the class of 1925. He is now in business in Buffalo. While at Harvard he belonged to the Institute of 1770, D. K. E. Hasty Pudding and Speaker's clubs.

Mr. Bemis will bring his bride to this country about first of April, and a wedding reception will be held at Chestnut Hill soon after their arrival.

LARGE LAND SALE

Charles R. Noyes of New York has sold to the Newton Mortgage Corporation over three acres of land with a frontage of about 400 feet on Lowell avenue, Newtonville, for development.

Title has recently been transferred on one of Newton's finest homes, located in the Farlow Hill section; the Milliken estate, No. 151 Franklin St., Newton, to S. A. Willens of Nashua, New Hampshire, who purchases for a home. The estate is assessed for $20,000, and it is understood that the purchase price was in excess of that figure.

A parcel of land containing 22,000 square feet and located on the corner of Langley road and Beecher place, Newton Centre, has been sold for John Ward Heirs to James Taglienti. Title was placed on record March 4, and the valuation is about $3000.

A handsome, new, single home of six rooms, two baths, and two-car garage situated at No. 32 Duncklee street, Newton Highlands, has been purchased by James R. Doherty through Herbert L. Ray. The property will be occupied by Mr. Doherty and is valued at $16,000.

James R. Doherty has sold to Herbert L. Ray a two-family house of six rooms and tiled bath each suite, and two-car garage, located at No. 79 Allerton road, Newton Highlands.

Alford Bros. were the brokers in all these transactions.

NARROW ESCAPE

Margaret Goodwin, employed at the home of Adelbert Fernald, 63 Elmhurst road, in the Hunnewell Hill section, narrowly escaped death by illuminating gas. Miss Goodwin was resuscitated by Sgt. Moran and patrolman Moan of the Police Department, assisted by employees of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and later by a physician.

Miss Goodwin retired to her room on the third floor Friday night about 10 o'clock. Robert Fernald, 12, was awakened in his room on the second floor by groans. He called his parents, who traced the sounds to Miss Goodwin's room, where a strong odor of gas was detected, and the girl was found unconscious. Police, gas company employees, and physicians were summoned, and the girl was brought out of her unconscious condition.

NEWTON POST NO. 48, A. L.

The regular monthly meeting of Newton Post, American Legion was held in Dennison Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, March 18, and the attendance at this meeting was one of the largest since the formation of the Post. Eleven new members were initiated into the Post, the largest class of candidates since the American Legion Ritual has been in vogue. Representative Leverett Saltonstall, who is a member of the Post, made a few remarks regarding Veterans' Legislation at the State House, and former Representative Carey, of Framingham, who is also a member of the Legion gave an interesting talk on the 40 and 8 organizations, the fun makers of the Legion. Col. H. Z. Landon, of Newtonville, gave an interesting account of the German Prison Camps, where he was a captive for over two months.

Amos Oldfield, of Auburndale, is chairman of the Boy Scout Committee, and as the Boy Scouts of Newton are conducting a drive for funds, Philip Carter talked on the Boy Scout movement and at the conclusion of his remarks the sum of $34.00 was collected from the members of the Post to help the boys in their work.

There are nearly 400 paid up members in Newton Post at the present date, and before the year is over it is believed that this number will be doubled. The drive is on for new members as Newton Post is in a contest with Pittsfield Post and Waltham Post regarding the increase of members.

Raymond A. Green, M. J. Murray, and Francis L. Bacon, have been chosen as members of the Legion School Contact Committee. All three of these members are Legionnaires and are also members of the faculty at Newton High School.

Newton Post is in receipt of a letter from the Veterans' Bureau, asking the Legion to call the attention of every ex-serviceman to the fact that they have until July 2, 1926 to convert the insurance policy which they carried during the war. The officers of the Legions and the Veterans Bureau of Boston are ready to assist anyone who desires to convert their war time insurance policy.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE MUSICAL CLUBS

On Tuesday evening, March 30th, the Bowdoin College Musical Clubs will present a concert at the Newton Centre Women's Club as a part of their annual spring trip.

Charles Cutter of Newton Highlands is a member of the clubs this season while Alden H. Sawyer, the manager, and Richard S. Thayer are former residents of Newton Centre. This will be the clubs' third appearance in the Newtons during the past four seasons. In 1924, one was held in the same hall under the auspices of the Newton Centre Women's Club where it was attended by a large audience. Last season's concert in Newtonville held under the auspices of the Masons was a huge success and enjoyed thoroughly by the many enthusiastic listeners present. The concert this year is being staged by a group of local alumni.

Following the concert, there will be dancing with music furnished by the Bowdoin "Polar Bears."

DEATH OF MR. FRIEND

The following Resolution was passed by the Men's Club of West Newton at its last meeting, March 11th, on the death of Mr. Arthur P. Friend:—

Resolved: That we, the members of the Men's Club of West Newton, assembled in regular meeting on March 11, 1926, make solemn record of the loss we have suffered in the death of our fellow-member Arthur P. Friend—a faithful attendant of the meetings of the Club, and staunch supporter of its interests; and we lovingly testify to the esteem in which he was held in our community, and to the regard and affection for him cherished by all who were privileged to know him in neighborly intimacy.

POLICE ASK MORE PAY

Members of the Newton police force submitted a petition to Mayor Childs asking that their salaries be increased. The police now receive an entrance salary of $1600 which increases to a maximum salary of $2000 in four years. They ask that the entrance salary be made $1900 and the maximum $2300. The Mayor submitted this petition to the aldermen without any comment. In his budget recommendations, which are now being considered by the aldermen, Mayor Childs asked for no increases in police salaries other than raises for the Chief and sergeants. He did ask for $5805 to purchase new overcoats for members of the Police Department.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Frequently public agitation of some important reform necessary to the welfare of the commonwealth and its inhabitants fails to accomplish much if anything. This fact has led to a pessimistic utterance, frequently repeated, "O, there'll be a lot of talk, but nothing will come of it." Unfortunately, the pessimists are sometimes right. But, happily, there are times when "something does come of it." It is on such occasions that we of the United States, and Massachusetts in particular, have reason to be heartened and to feel that representative Government, after all, is the best.

Legislatures fail to do many things they should. Really imperative questions are left unsettled, sometimes for political reasons or possibly because of public indifference. We have always made bold to contend, in fact we have more than once pointed out in this column that if the people really demand action they will find a fitting response. Therefore, we wish now to take a sort of I-told-you-so attitude. We would emphasize the value of "getting folks stirred up" as they say in those districts where there is still a large abundance of snow.

The particular cause for our gratification at this time is the action of the Committee on Joint Judiciary of the General Court. Other important news, coming at the same time, prevented the committee's report on criminal laws from obtaining the space to which it was entitled in the daily press. That fact, however, has not lessened the achievement in any way, we are happy to say.

The committee has reported a large number of bills to amend the operation of criminal procedure in our courts. So successful has been the committee's efforts that the Attorney General himself has publicly stated, "Massachusetts is about to take a very decided step forward in the administration of criminal procedure in our courts. So successful has been the committee's efforts that the Attorney General himself has publicly stated, "Massachusetts is about to take a very decided step forward in the administration of criminal procedure in our courts."

Another public official, the very active Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Frank A. Goodwin, says, "The report of the Committee on Judiciary is a wonderful response to an intelligent demand by the public for immediate action to repress crime."

So much for the opinion of these two highly efficient and responsible State officials. Now to prove our own case. How did this "very decided step forward," this "wonderful response to an intelligent demand by the public," come about? It was the result of talk, the kind of "talk" that has made the town-meeting form of government indomitable as well as perfect in the handling of human affairs.

Stirred by occurrences that could not be ignored, roused by statements that were not always conservative and prompted by incidents happening almost at one's very door, people throughout Massachusetts insisted that the authorities should act. Under a government of laws it was necessary there should be an orderly method of putting this action by the Legislature. Consequently, those best qualified to lead drafted bills of various kinds. Some forty or fifty altogether found their way to Beacon Hill. These went to the appropriate committee—that on Joint Judiciary—and the machinery was started.

Grasping the situation with a display of keen discernment this committee decided that there should be a series of hearings. A week, if necessary, should be given up to listening to the views of the people. Evening as well as day sessions were arranged in order that those who were too busy with their regular duties in the daytime could offer their ideas at night. The committee's wisdom was proved from the start. There were judges, lawyers, officials charged with the prosecution of criminals, so-called experts on criminology, clergymen and plain everyday citizens who gladly came forward. They had their suggestions, their opinions and their recommendations, and to these the committee listened with closest attention.

What was the outcome? That query we have already answered, or at least the Attorney General and the Registrar of Motor Vehicles have answered for us. All we desire to add is this, that Massachusetts has a Legislature that is functioning and properly so; that we as citizens are well-governed and when, like the man in the song we show "what we want when we want it," it will be forthcoming. "Have faith in Massachusetts" and keep that Faith.

There are many very lovable people on the North American hemisphere and some very exasperating ones. It is only natural that we seek out the one and do our best to avoid the other group. Because the latter are fewer in number we are more successful in keeping out of their way. What concerns us more than this problem is the fact that there is a third class—likeable, companionable folk who have their little peculiarities. This third and latter body we do not attempt to avoid, we do not want to do that. We like to be with them but we would not let ourselves be in their society if it weren't that they fall just a bit short of perfection.

The particular weakness of character that concerns us most is found in the individual who says, "I won't be a moment," but who really takes his or her time. In other words the explanation, "I won't be a moment" means nothing, that is, it is intended to deceive, but when you know the individual, doesn't decide at all. We refer specifically to those who "take their own sweet time" about things and let the rest of the world go hang.

Another type of friend whose little failing drives us almost to tears is he who makes an appointment and who thinks that he is doing well if he is will come of it. Unfortunately, the standard why one should find fault or sputter when he drives up with, "Sorry to keep you waiting." It seems to occur to him that other people have their plans and their interests which can be quite as easily upset as his own.

All this we offer along with the approach of the "Spring cleaning" days. We believe that the general idea of Spring cleaning could be well extended to include habits of character. We do not expect to see many characters scoured, wet-down and polished. We would not be surprised if some were whitewashed. We rather look to see some characters repainted and these will appear resplendent in new outfits. But, as we previously said, any little touching-up that is done will be most acceptable.

It will be a source of much surprise to us if the people of Newton Centre do not succeed in accomplishing their aim for a new library. The sum of $60,000 may appear at first glance to be somewhat high, but of course it is not one penny more than is actually needed. Furthermore, we are confident that those in charge have thoughtfully considered every possible economy and mean to make every dollar contributed bring a full dollar's worth in return.

Again we say it is a hopeful sign when citizens are sufficiently interested in a worthy enterprise to give their money, time, patience and energy to putting across something for the public good. It seems to us that the best argument for contributions, that is, the most convincing form of appeal for funds, must be based on the general benefit that is to be derived. We can more easily point out that the people in want, in sickness or distress need help. It isn't so easy to prove that people who are enjoying good health are entitled to assistance. Somehow or other there is a feeling that people who are well and strong should help themselves.

It is a fact that many of those who take advantage of a library, who delight in the companionship of whole-some books, are not overburdened with money. The canny Harry Lauder once remarked, "The best book to read is a bank-book." In spite of the fact that many people cherish such a belief, there are those who prefer books of the shelves of a library to those that are marked "savings." And it should not be forgotten that a large number of people who possess bank-books founded their determination, or were aided in so doing, by the biographies of great men. These latter volumes would never have been available had it not been that public libraries had been established.

All sorts of ideas are offered for the advancement of welfare work—an earnest endeavor to improve conditions. We know of no better form of welfare work than the establishment of a free library. The patronage is drawn from all classes, just as are the patients at a hospital. In our judgment it is right that a community should take an interest in its inhabitants and that these inhabitants need intellectual care quite as much as they need spiritual and bodily ministrations. In short, it is the combining of the three that makes for the highest type of citizenship.

With problems of garage and filling-station applications constantly engaging their attention it might be well to amend the city charter in the interest of accuracy and call them the Newton Board of Automen.

A Truly Beautiful Roof

The sage-green and steel-blue of Ruberoid Giant-shingles afford a truly beautiful and distinctive roof, as contrasted with roofs of glaring color combinations that give the appearance of patchwork quilts.

The proportions of sage-green and steel-blue can be varied two to one or three to one, with that color predominating which blends best with the type of house and its surroundings. For permanency of roof beauty—a beauty in keeping with the rare quality of Ruberoid Products—you can choose no better shingle.

Ruberoid Giants (10 in. x 14 in.) give you extra size, extra weight, extra rigidity, extra large headlap and a closed channel which afford absolute protection against leakage in a driving storm.

Due to their size, self-spacing and self-aligning features, Ruberoid Giant-shingles can be laid at less than half the cost of ordinary individual shingles. You save shingles, nails, labor and are free from all risk. You can lay them over wooden sheathing or right over old shingles.

Come in or phone us today for samples and descriptive folders.

SCHOOL NOTES

There is so much talk about the faults of education and the troubles with the world today, that had we not the hardness of crustaceans and the deafness of stones, we might actually grow alarmed. Those who enjoy hearing their own opinions wafted on the air have offered us all manner of solutions for these faults and troubles, so many in fact, that none are practical for adoption because of their contradictory qualities. There are those, however, who rarely give expression to their views and who rather with amusement watch the poor old world founder around in its difficulties. Strangely enough, these more silent persons are apt to have some very interesting bit to offer, if urgently enough requested. One such was approached not long ago and asked what they thought the most important thing to teach the coming generation.

Without any hesitancy the answer came. It was simply enough expressed in one word, Discrimination. And turning to Webster or to one's own interpretation of the word, we are able at once to put our fingers on a decidedly sore spot of both education and our modern civilization. The greatest lack and greatest need seems actually to be, the power to keenly discriminate between, important—unimportant, harmless—harmful, good—bad. Things which should be at the lowest point of importance are allowed to hold sway at the top. Things which are harmful are merged deceitfully with the harmless, and we are at our wits' end to know how to pick and choose. Swarms of fads—ideas, books, pleasures, opportunities, even religions, present themselves to us with such puzzling rapidity and fascination that we would almost rather have none at all than to choose. Madly do we plunge into the midst of them and drag all who will follow, with us. Certainly—the greatest thing to teach, if possible, is the power of Discrimination. How really terrible is our lack of it!

Grade Teachers' Association

The annual meeting of the Newton Grade Teachers' Association was held at Waban on March 16. Reports from the several Club and Federation committees were given, followed by a delightful musical program.

Miss Annis Sturgis gave a very splendid report of the N. E. A. Convention at Indianapolis last summer, which she attended as a delegate. So well did she picture her experiences that her audience saw the thousands of teachers from all over the Union, even from Hawaii, and felt the inspiration of the addresses.

Massachusetts has the honor of having as the president of this National Education Association one of its teachers, Miss McKimmon, of Brookline.

Angier School News

The last debate of the eighth grade was: Resolved, "Winter offers more for the health and enjoyment of the people than summer." The class did not come to a decision, so it was continued the next week with the result of the negative side winning.

Officers for the Safety Council in the school have been elected. They are as follows: Mary Stephens, President; Crawford Ferguson, Vice-President; Barbara Hall, Secretary, and Eleanor Denham, Treasurer.

Mrs. Forbes' fifth grade had charge of the assembly March 17th. They gave a dramatization entitled, "A Trial in Bookland." Nearly every one in the class took part. It was very interesting and instructive.

Miss Beaudreault's fifth grade had charge of the assembly, March 26th.

One of the groups of the cooking class in the eighth grade gave a breakfast, March 19th. They had as their guests Mr. Penny and Miss O'Connor. The hostess was Willetta Moser and Gertrude F. Loud was host. Alice Johnson and Frances Willing were the daughters.

The play, "Rescued by Radio," will be repeated Thursday, March 25th, at 7:30 P. M.

Stearns School

The drive for Thrift at the Stearns School is resulting in real achievement. The honors, however, are carried off by Mr. Lewis's class. A remarkable record has been made during the last five weeks. One hundred per cent of the children, saved during four weeks and ninety-two per cent saved during the fifth week, totaling an amount of twenty-five dollars.

Greater than the money value to these boys is the sympathetic friendship of their teacher.

The Health Work is still "going strong" in the Stearns School. There are eleven classes which have been given lectures on the slides which are a part of the equipment of the new lantern. These lectures are given for the children in the other grades of the school. The following subjects have been presented: India, China, Japan and Holland. A lecture on silk culture is now being prepared by Miss Winter's class.

A Japanese song and dance has been prepared and exhibited by the third grade children in Mrs. Goddard's room.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Several members of the school have been absent on account of the prevailing gripe. Mr. Carr has been at his home for the past week. Mr. Barber, Miss Hincley and Miss Johnstone have also been on the sick list. We are very happy to welcome back Miss Hackett.

Some of the teachers are planning to attend a lecture by Dr. Glass, authority on the Junior High School, at Melrose, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Sandwall and Miss Kittner acted as hostesses in the teachers' room this week. They served Swedish delicacies to the faculty on Tuesday.

A lively game of basketball between faculty and students was enjoyed Tuesday afternoon. Coaches Simmons and Miss Larcom, Mr. Rush, Miss Kittner, Miss Blake and Miss Fuller represented the teachers. Ruth Taft acted as referee.

Mason School

A series of seventh grade assemblies, dealing with the study of European countries, are being held in the Mason School hall. On Friday, March 19, "An Hour with Great Britain" was the theme.

Mrs. Lewis on the violin accompanied by her daughter, Carolyn, at the piano, rendered many beautiful English, Scotch and Irish airs. The pupils became so enthusiastic that during the applause following an especially lively tune, one little girl exclaimed, "How they must have loved to dance to that tune."

An eighth grade pupil, Fred Purdy, who has lived four years in England, explained different scenes that were reflected on the curtain. Of particular interest were those of the interior of The Tower of London.

Singing of the Folk-songs of those countries by the pupils concluded the program.

The pupils of Grade Six were very fortunate in having Mrs. Warren Purdy meet with them in the Assembly hall and tell them of the schools of England and of the English children—their sports and customs. This talk was illustrated with many interesting and instructive colored lantern slides.

All the boys and girls are enthusiastically earning money, so that they, too, may have a share in the building of the new library. Every person who contributes to the fund will have his name put on a paper which will be placed in the corner-stone. The children are looking forward to many happy hours among the books and magazines of their reading room.

Going to the Children's Museum has become a regular part of the life of Room Three. This past week they heard a lecture on "The Making of a Pebble," illustrated by slides which gave them a greater insight into the formation of the earth's surface. These lectures have been appreciated not only by the children, but also by the mothers who have accompanied them.

Lasell Seminary

The Inter-class finals of the Basketball Tournament were played off on Tuesday afternoon, March 23, resulting in a victory for Freshmen in the Freshman-Sophomore game, 44-18, and for the Seniors in the Senior-Junior game, 19-11.

On Wednesday evening, March 24, a cast made up of members of the faculty gave the play "District School No. 23" in Bragdon Hall for the benefit of the Senior Class Endowment Fund.

The Easter vacation extends from Friday, March 26 to April 6. During this time Miss Lillie R. Potter, Dean, will accompany a group of students on a trip to Washington. Some members of the class of '26 are included in this party, to whom the trip this year is of special interest, on account of the fact that Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is the honorary member of their class.

MR. BRODRICK DEAD

Charles N. Brodrick of Hunnewell terrace, Newton, who died suddenly of acute indigestion while on a business trip in Presque Isle, Maine, was born in Nova Scotia. He had lived in Waltham for many years, moving to Newton some five years ago. He was a merchant tailor, with a place of business in the Chamber of Commerce building. He never aspired to public office, but always took a keen interest in civic, church and lodge matters. While living in Waltham he attended the First Methodist Church, was a director of the Sunday school choir and was prominent in organizations connected with the church.

He was past master of Monitor lodge of Masons, and recently was appointed vice-president of the Past Masters' Club. He is survived by his widow, Anna G. Brodrick, and four children, Charles H. of Waltham; Fannie T. Ruth E. and Newton T. Brodrick, of Newton. Four brothers and a sister also survive him. They are Alfred H. Brodrick of Newton Highlands, Royal H. Brodrick of Belmont, George Warren Brodrick of Weston, William A. Brodrick of Waltham and Mrs. Fannie Robbins, also of Waltham.

proposed development of Claffin Field and that they were gratified to present not only a favorable reply but a very encouraging attitude upon the Mayor's part.

Secretary Vachon was instructed to write to Public Buildings Commissioner S. C. Chadwick in regard to the installation of lockers in the new high school building. The specifications called for 150 six-foot lockers, but it was reported that 300 three-foot lockers have been installed. As the shorter lockers are of practically no use whatsoever for football or baseball uniforms, the association took this action.

Secretary Vachon was also asked to write a letter of congratulations and encouragement to Bill (Crungy) Cronin of West Newton, who is at the spring training camp of the Boston Braves. The West Newton boy, who was a former battery mate of Howard Whitmore, Jr., when at high school, is making a very favorable impression upon the Braves management, and it would not be surprising to many of his Newton friends if he was retained as the third string catcher by the Boston National League Club.

Mr. Day spoke of an organization similar to the Newton Athletic Association in the middle west in which he was interested at the time of its formation. He told of troubles the organization had in getting started and how eventually it had worked out wonderfully well. There is a lot in Newton for the association to do and there must be considerable work done by the members before these matters can be accomplished.

The next meeting of the association will be held Monday evening, April 26th, at eight o'clock.

—At the Sunday morning service and Sunday School of the Methodist Episcopal Church all young people will receive a souvenir copy of the painting by Hoffman "Christ in the Garden."

—Passion Week services at the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of next week. On Thursday night the Holy Communion will be administered.

—A very enjoyable birthday party was held last Tuesday evening in honor of little Evelyn De Grasse's birthday. Many of her friends were present to enjoy the games and "goodies" provided for them.

—The Woman's Educational Club of West Newton gave a very enjoyable entertainment to the ladies of the Stone Institute last Wednesday afternoon. The program consisted of singing, readings, and refreshments.

—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held a delicious roast beef supper at the Parish Hall last Wednesday evening. Over one hundred people were there to enjoy both it and the splendid entertainment which followed.

—"How the Ladies Earned the Dollars" was the name of the clever little play which the ladies so ably presented. Each of the ladies of the "Benevolent Society" were asked to earn a dollar for the treasury, also to give an account of the method used in earning it. Needless to say the methods were both amusing and astonishing, and the sketch was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Members who took part were: Mrs. Lees, Mrs. Oldfield, Mrs. Kestle, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Eldridge, Mrs. Menara, Mrs. Stata, Mrs. Tully, Mrs. Redmond, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Ward.

number of school pupils in Newton, and the measures being taken to relieve the overcrowding which has existed in our schools in recent years. He lauded the aldermen for the cooperation they have given to the school authorities. Street Commissioner Stuart told of the tremendous amount of damage done to our highways by motor trucks and showed how it costs a small fortune to make even temporary repairs, not to mention resurfacing streets which badly need such treatment.

Others who spoke briefly were State Senator Abbot Rice, Playground Commissioner Albert P. Carter, Dr. F. G. Curtis of the Board of Health, Building Commissioner Chadwick, Water Commissioner J. C. Whitney, Alfred E. Alvord of the Planning Board, Maxwell C. Hutchins of the School Committee. George W. Pratt, President of the aldermen talked to the problems which confront that body. He referred especially to the finances of the city and made it evident that the aldermen must possess sufficient moral courage to say "No" to many demands, if the taxpayers of Newton are to be saved from burdensome tax rates. Sinclair Weeks, chairman of the Finance Committee was asked to talk on "What can we afford?" Just what Newton can afford, according to Mr. Weeks, can be ascertained by asking him or some of those who listened to him. This paper did not learn what he said. Alderman John Madden of the Claims and Rules Committee spoke for a couple of minutes on the zoning ordinance, the advantages which have accrued from it, and the petitions for modifying it.

Alderman William B. Baker made a few remarks on the City Hall situation. Mr. Baker is keen for a new City Hall and he wants it at West Newton. It is understood, however, that he did not plead with his usual fervor either for the immediate building of a new City Hall, or for the locating of it at West Newton when he addressed the meeting Monday night.

According to reports, the hit of the evening was made by Henry Bailly, Chairman of the Board of Assessors. Mr. Bailly is one of the most convincing speakers in the city, when he is in the mood. He outlined the work being done in his department and urged the construction of a modern building to replace the rambling, archaic municipal capitol which for many years has given West Newton a certain prestige. Mr. Bailly estimated that the city can pay a new City Hall by adding about 90 cents to the tax rate. Mr. Bailly did not suggest where the new building should be located, but according to rumor, he and Alderman Baker differ on this matter.

The affair was considered a success by most of those who attended, and some suggest that similar meetings be held yearly. Whether Mayor Childs received his inspiration for holding this gathering at the annual meeting of the Newton Central Council, or not, is a question. It may have been suggested to those privileged to attend. It may have given them more knowledge of the problems confronting other departments than those with which they are connected. It may lessen unfair criticism among city officials and members of the city government.

And so far as the public is concerned, even though little knowledge may be had as to the facts revealed and ideas expounded at the "official family" dinner, according to theory the tax payers will reap great benefits from this event.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE

Edward J. Linn of Henry street, Medford, cut his throat with a razor in the garage of Raymond Wells at 120 Collins road, Waban, early last Saturday morning. Linn had called on a young woman employed in the Wells home on Friday night and had been told by her that his attentions were unwelcome. He left the house about 10 that night. Shortly before midnight, Mr. and Mrs. Wells returned to their home and Linn was not noticed around the place when the car was put in the garage at that time.

When Mr. Wells went into the garage about 9 Saturday morning, he noticed a rope made of a twisted blanket hanging from a beam. He climbed in the rear seat of the car was Linn with his throat badly gashed. The police were notified and he was hurried to the Newton Hospital. At first it was not thought he would live because of the quantity of blood he had lost, but he is now expected to recover.

a guest. Sixty-five people sat down to a delicious supper cooked by Eleanor Hartel, Ruth Houghton, Barbara Jack and Agnes Eaton. Elizabeth Kilburn had charge of the Girl Scout Cookies which were part of the menu. The waitresses were: Frances Hayes, headwaitress, Kathleen Andrews, Jean Wolley, Nancy Mandell, Elsa Brandt, Eleanor Bingham and Priscilla Bacon.

After supper, Barbara Jack said a few words of welcome to the guests and introduced Edith Wilcox, who gave a short history of the troop. The regular troop-opening was held, to show the parents how meetings are conducted. One of the fathers wrote a message, which Edith Wilcox signalled, using the Morse code and Barbara Jack received. Emergency first-aid was demonstrated by Betty Brooks, Elizabeth Kilburn, Priscilla Bacon, Barbara Lippincott and Jean Wolley. The parents were then invited to take part in an observation game, while the girls prepared for a charade, which was the last number on the program. All joined in the Good-night song and the singing of Taps. Mrs. Redfield and Miss Sprague, former lieutenants of the troop, were guests; also Miss Lovell, captain of Troop 5, the West Newton junior troop. Elsa Brandt and Eleanor Jack were the buglers of the evening, playing assembly, mess, colors, retreat and taps.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

STATE FEDERATION

An interesting announcement from the Art Committees of the various Newton Clubs comes from the State Art Chairman, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart. Monday, April 5th, is the date for the Spring Art Conference, which will be held at the Museum of Fine Arts, Huntington Avenue, Boston. The meeting opens at 10.15 A.M. with greetings to special guests, followed at 10.45 by a talk on "How Women's Clubs May Use the Museum of Fine Arts," by Miss Margaret L. Wheeler, Instructor at the Museum. Her suggestions should be worth-while, as they will be the growth of actual experience. From 11.30 to 12.15 there will be inspiring and instructive Reports from Clubs and a Conference with the Art Chairman. Luncheon at the museum, at 40 cents (other than coffee, tea or dessert, which is extra, and if one is counting calories, these may be dispensed with, to the advantage of purse and figure), and visits through the galleries (substituting food for the soul!) will take the time from 12.15 to 2 P.M.

The afternoon session opens with a stereopticon lecture by Miss Amy L. Sacker, whom all Newton Club women will remember, on that topic of ever fascinating, perennial youth, "Antique Furniture," and at 3 P.M. Mrs. Cyrus W. Merrell, Head of the famous Garden School, Lowthorpe School of Landscape Architecture, will speak on "Gardens, Here and There," with delightful illustrations.

It hardly seems necessary, with such an attractive program arranged, to repeat the urge of Mrs. Stewart that all members of Art Committees attend, although it may be to persuade them to make the Reports on their Outstanding Art Features of the Year, as she requests. It should be remembered, however, that these reports are helpful to others, and modesty should not prevent the sharing of happy ideas, for there have been many splendid opportunities along these lines offered in the Newton Clubs, which they should be glad to pass along.

Newton Federation

Officers and Chairmen of Standing Committees of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and Presidents of the Affiliated Clubs, enjoyed a friendly and worth-while Luncheon Conference on Wednesday at the Brae Burn Country Club. Quite the most delightful and inspiring of gatherings are these intimate social "get-togethers" on the part of earnest club leaders who have the high aim of endeavor and success for their organizations, and these ideals are always strengthened by the personal understandings that develop in social contact.

RECENT EVENTS

Auburndale Review Club

With Mrs. Madison Cannon as hostess the Auburndale Review Club had a most enjoyable morning Tuesday, March 23rd.

Miss Jessie MacMillan gave an interesting talk on Roosevelt, his love of nature (possibly inherited from his nature-loving ancestors) from childhood and his plan to be a professor of natural history, that was not carried out, after which she read from Herman Hagedorn's account of the Roosevelt game hunt through east and central Africa, under the auspices of the Smithsonian Institute. She spoke of the many valuable specimens brought back from that trip.

Mrs. Nelson Freeman read an illuminating paper on Liberia, a colony formed by American philanthropists for the purpose of giving to freedmen a home in their native country, where they could enjoy social and political privileges they could not have here. In 1847 it became a free negro republic and is now recognized as such. Monrovia, the capital, is the only town of importance, and it has fine public buildings, churches, schools, a university giving many advantages to the people at a nominal cost.

Liberia is a religious country, and missionaries have done a wonderful work there.

Mrs. Henry Turner's history of the Belgian Congo was most interesting, and she filled her hearers with admiration for Henry M. Stanley, through whose continued efforts, under repeated adversities, the vast productive region of the Congo was opened up, and the Congo Free State was formed.

When King Leopold got control he used its power to his own advantage, and through his cruelty many millions of natives perished. At last the world waked up and began to investigate. It is thought by some writers that Leopold was none too severe, but it is generally believed that those poor people were the unfortunate victims of adversity and misrule.

In the course of the program several negro spirituals were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Ralph Alvord, accompanied by Mrs. Freeman.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The last meeting of the Home Economics Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Patterson, 338 Central Street, Auburndale. After the luncheon, Miss Elizabeth Hendry, of the Middlesex County Extension Service, gave an outline of her work. She said in part: There are forty-three towns and eleven cities in this organization, which is under the supervision of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

There are three divisions, the home, agricultural, and boys' and girls' department. In these departments is demonstrated the making of clothing, hats, the sewing of fur, renovation of furniture, reupholstering of chairs, upholstery, and the making of articles from the simple things at hand, besides instruction in the raising and conservation of vegetables and fruits.

The need of better attention to health was stressed, and the need of co-operation in the duties of home and with community play. The club accepted the invitation of Mrs. Ethel Leach to hold the picnic to be held on June 11th, at her summer home, Crow Point, Hingham.

Two years speed quickly by in Club life, although many things may happen to the Club officers who have given us loyalty and splendidly of their services and time so that to them the span may seem far longer than to the Club member who, realizing that a change is about to come, sees the moment arriving, with regret. It is gratifying, therefore, to observe tribute and friendship and appreciation paid by those who best know what such service has meant. In the token of esteem expressed by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club Board of Directors to their outgoing President, all who have been privileged to come in contact with Mrs. Keeler rejoice that such thoughtfulness has been shown her by her associates, and they wish her all happiness, satisfaction, and peace in her days to come, for her work will do!

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The lowering skies without, were in marked contrast to the warmth and cheer and merriment within the Brae Burn Country Club, Tuesday afternoon, when members of the Board of Directors of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club gathered for a farewell luncheon arranged for the retiring President, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler. A mass of var-hued Spring flowers filled the center of the large round table, placed in a recessed nook of the dining room, and at each of the twenty-five places, with a formal little nosegay, conveying in miniature, the colors of the large, formal bouquet, later presented Mrs. Keeler with the State Federation pin, the gift of the Board.

Seated at Mrs. Keeler's right, was the incoming President, Mrs. E. F. Gibbs, and at her left hand, Mrs. George G. Wolkins, who served as toastmistress. At the conclusion of luncheon, Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson, a Vice-President of the club, paid a tribute to the efficient and harmonious handling of Club affairs during the last two years by the retiring President, to whom a toast was then offered, and most humorously responded to, by Mrs. Keeler. Following a short speech from Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Wolkins, the toastmistress, started the fun of the afternoon, by her paraphrasing of the well-known classic of "Alice in Wonderland," which she used as the basis of all her remarks.

The attempt of the Club last year to raise the annual dues, was burlesqued in speeches by Mrs. W. G. Wolkins, Mrs. George W. Barker, and Anthony Warfield and Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, the suggestions ranging all the way from Committees being responsible for raising the amount of the yearly budget, to taxing members of the Board for the honor of being upon it. The conservative side swung to the other extreme and advocated no fun at all, suggesting, instead, radio loud speakers for free entertainment.

A discussion, "open to all" followed the presentation of suggestions by the four speakers, and many personal "hits" added to the fun. Adjournment was then made to the sunroom to enjoy two groups of songs sung by Mrs. T. D. Ginn, Chairman of the Music Committee, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harry R. Lamphere.

Social Science Club

Continuing the topic of the year, "The Development of our Country from 1825 to 1910," Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds presented a comprehensive and interesting paper, last Wednesday morning, before the Social Science Club, on "The Growth of the West."

In introducing her topic, Mrs. Leeds mentioned some of the men whose names are forever associated with the development of that great section of our country known as "the West." Daniel Boone, George Roger Clark, James Harrod, David Crockett, John C. Fremont and others, making an illustrious list.

She likened the known portion of our country, Maine to Louisiana, to the roof of a house, with the Alleghenies as the ridge, sloping to Washington, D. C. on the east, and to the west, the vast unknown with its trackless prairies, great rivers, and huge mountain ranges.

The old west extended from the Alleghenies to the Mississippi river; the new west reached beyond the "Father of Waters."

The present State of Kentucky was the first region to tempt explorers, and Daniel Boone made his first journey in 1769. He was a typical frontiersman, always moving to the farthest fringe of settlements. Skilled in woodcraft, and successful in his dealings with the Indians, few men in our history more justly deserve the name of "First Pioneer."

She sketched the situation at that time, telling of the great hardships endured. The only roads were the trails of buffalo and bison.

The first permanent settlement in Kentucky was made in 1774. Four years later, George Roger Clark went to Northern Ohio, which led to the opening up of Michigan, and the discovery of the Great Lakes, and the establishment of a fort at Detroit.

Anthony Wayne, the great Indian fighter, David Crockett, who served with success in the war with the Creek Indians, passed in rapid review. Mrs. Leeds spoke of the Lewis and Clark expedition, and of its value in opening the far west. These two were the first white men to cross the continent from ocean to ocean.

Little by little the country became settled, and immigration westward was building cities, and creating states. The invention of the steamboat by Robert Fulton changed the whole aspect of American history.

The Gold Rush of '49, and the building of the railroad saw the west well on toward future development. With so many outstanding figures of history made real, and with so many milestones of progress pointed out, it was natural that the keen interest aroused awakened much discussion and many thoughtful questions. This period brought the meeting to a close.

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. W. E. Moore, Secretary of the Shakespeare Club, entertains her fellow members on Saturday, March 27th, at her home, 55 Hillside road. Discussion of Acts IV and V of the play "Cymbeline" is the program, but with a new feature in experiment as to the Quiz that promises rare entertainment, and variety. Members of the Club, who have been reading the various parts of the play, and have lived for these weeks through the mental processes of these interesting characters, will appear as these personages and demand, in living the part, answers upon questions they propound to test the wits and understanding of their fellows. So to meet Imogene, or Cymbeline, Cloten, Leonatus, Belarius, and others, and to be privileged to say to them just what one thinks of their character, motives and deeds, should make for much laughter, merriment, and interest. It will be interesting, too, to see just how far these dwellers in the years of radio, motors, and air planes, can forget these modern appendages to life, and place themselves back in the early days of Shakespeare's keen understanding of mankind. The members who have charge of the Quiz will come well prepared to test the appreciation of their fellow members, and, more, in great wisdom, will have their own answers to their questions prepared, for it would be rash, indeed, to ask that which one can not answer—especially of Club women whose meetings have been spent in the keen exercise of Quizzes.

Waban Woman's Club

In these days of plans for gardens, where color and fragrance will delight the heart, there is also the added interest in the return of the birds. Gardens and birds are synonymous, or at least belong together in enjoyment, not to mention the more selfish reason of the great good that birds do in preserving the gardens. Timely, therefore, as well as a treat, is the program for the next meeting of the Waban Woman's Club. On Monday, March 29th, at their Club House, Mr. Charles Crawford Gorst, will speak on "The Musical Genius of Birds." To record this lecture as such, or as a speech, gives far too little of an idea of the real joy in what he is to bring to all who are so fortunate as to attend this meeting. His imitations of the bird calls are a delight, so marvelous are they, and so realistic. Almost one sees the songsters, and the thrill of their notes, and the dreams they engender of gardens where they will trill through happy summer days, is the real joy that Mr. Gorst brings to his hearers. His description of the habits of the wits, the appreciation of kindness, of these, too, is illuminating, and instructive.

Newton's First and Only Modern Laundry
GARDEN CITY LAUNDRY

75 ADAMS STREET NEWTON, MASS.
 PHONES NEWTON NORTH 0317-0318

ABOUT TOWN

Newton has for years enjoyed the title, "Garden City." It derived this appellation partly because of the flowering gardens and shrubs which adorned its many large estates, but principally because of the thousands of trees which lined its streets. With the passing of the years, the large estates have been for the most part divided and the trees which were contained within these estates cut down. Our streets are bordered with much fewer trees than of yore. It is difficult for trees to survive when their chances for obtaining moisture have been greatly minimized because of our roads having surfaces today which prevent water seeping into the ground after rainfalls. Newton bids fair to lose its claim to be called the Garden City if the number of its trees continues to decline.

To some, trees are of little import. Persons of materialistic tendencies, who are completely wrapped up in worldly affairs, are not much concerned with trees. But there are other persons who see in trees the beauty of God's handiwork. To this class belonged Joyce Kilmer, who was both poet and patriot. Kilmer rallied to his country's colors in the World War and made the supreme sacrifice over there in France. It was he who wrote:

"Poems are made by fools like me,
 But only GOD can make a tree."
 It is well therefore that Newton has at least one alderman who is willing to incur the criticism of some very practical people because he has enough idealism to object to a certain project, which if permitted, would among other things, cause damage to some of our trees.

Some weeks ago, reference was made in this column to Miss Jennie Ireson for many years Supervisor of Callisthenics in the Newton schools. Recently, we received a delightful letter from Miss Ireson in which she told of the pleasure she had received from reading our reminiscence of old school days. She wrote of the enjoyment she obtained from her service in this city and to happiness she had derived from her life work. Miss Ireson constantly meets her old pupils in Boston and chats with them of by-gone years. A Newtonville lady who met Miss Ireson lately, informed us that she is as young in appearance and spirit as when she taught in this city. Would that all could possess the energy and cheerfulness characteristic of the lady who introduced physical training into the Newton schools.

NEWTON CENTRE LIBRARY
 To The Editor
 Representing all the Newtons as you do, you will I feel sure, allow me a little space to speak of the plan, and the "drive" now on, to build a new library in Newton Centre.

It is quite true that Newton Centre could get along without a new library. It is quite true that luxurious surroundings do not make scholars nor create readers. It is quite true that Abraham Lincoln found his village library on the top of a cracker barrel in the grocery store; quite true that any earnest boy or girl may read and learn in any sort of surroundings.

But a good library building does not set out to provide for the exceptional reader or the genius. Its purpose is to attract the ordinary boy or girl; to invite by its beauty and homelikeness even the young person who might not read at all. It is expected to be a help toward informing the general mind and to raising the general level of thoughtfulness and intelligence. Its purpose is to call attention to something that, meanly housed, might escape notice; it is meant as an invitation. It is also meant to indicate that the present generation wishes to tell the coming generation that we are not so engrossed in fine movie palaces and garages that we have no time for the deeper currents of life, the true books, good books, contain, as Milton said ("I think it was Milton") the "life blood of master spirits," the master spirits of our race. We want to witness that the best traditions of our human family are worth preserving, and worth meeting in congenial surroundings.

Let us not berate the old library building in Newton Centre. It has served a good purpose, and it is worthy of all remembrance. Let us praise it for all it has done, just as we praise the simple homes of the past generations, and love them too. We make no plea for luxury.

But today has its standards, and those standards must be met not only in domestic architecture but also in the architecture that symbolizes the spiritual and mental life of mankind. If today we no longer are content with the horse and "buggy" it is not simply because we are more luxurious but because the demands upon us no longer admit of that sort of locomotion. In just the same way our mental life will be best preserved by meeting changed standards.

A proper library in Newton Centre is the best way by which to tell the coming men and women that all the things that we read and know about. To have cozy corners where the youth may sit down and commune with the past, to have a certain amount of comfort so that their visits with the "master spirits" may be prolonged pleasantly, surely this is not extravagant but economy.

When we think of the luxury that we indulge in and make no complaint, luxuries that deal mostly with our bodies, surely it is unthinkable that we should balk at $60,000, the price of a few high-powered automobiles, in order that the high and holy streams of our life may be fed! I cannot think it possible that we should hesitate for a moment. I can scarcely think it possible that the appeal for funds should interfere with any other noble and needed work. I have tried to see the matter from all angles, and I feel sure that gives large and small will come forth to meet the challenge. A real opportunity lies before us. It will be met. Our youth are looking at us; we shall not disappoint them.
 George Lawrence Parker.

SEASCOUT NEWS

The first Seascout Court of Honor was held last Thursday evening at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, whose laboratory of Nautical Engineering was obtained through the courtesy of Prof. George Owen. A higher standard was set at this Court of Honor and it was agreed that those passing the examinations given by the Court surely earned their ratings.

The examiners plan to attend the next meetings of the Ship and go over all the requirements with the Scouts, in order that those who failed in some subject can see wherein they were at fault. This will also give those who are planning to appear at the next Court of Honor to be held in six weeks, a chance to see what type of examination they are coming up to.

Last week-end was spent at the Skipper's camp in Marshfield where several of the Seascouts loaded a sixteen foot dory on a Ford truck returning with it Sunday to the headquarters in West Newton. The truck was obtained through the kindness of Thornton Brothers, plumbers of Newtonville. It is planned to repair the dory for use until the Ship is able to obtain its own boats.

Plans are under way for dividing the present Ship into two parts, one meeting on the North side of Newton and the other on the South side. This will make it easier for the Seascouts to get to their meetings, which can be held earlier in the evening than heretofore. Boys from any part of Newton are eligible and are urged to join now so that they can receive the necessary amount of preliminary training before Spring.

Easy Lessons in - AUCTION BRIDGE

Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 21

One of the best known bridge players was asked the other night what he considered the greatest quality for a player to have and he replied without any hesitation: "The ability to play losing cards well." Think that over carefully for it is a regular lesson on the game. Learn to play your losing cards well and the good ones will take care of themselves.

One of the most unusual successions of hands ever known was held by a well-known player the other night and as they are very good illustrations of the preemptive or shut-out bid, it is well worth while to discuss them. The three hands were held in succession and are as follows:

Hand No. 1

Hearts—A, 10, 9, 8, 7, 5, 3, 2
Clubs—J, 9, 2
Diamonds—A
Spades—K

The dealer and second player passed and third player, holding the above hand, bid four hearts. All passed and he failed to make his contract by three tricks. His opponents, however, had an easy game in spades so the shut-out bid saved the game.

Hand No. 2

Hearts—7
Clubs—K, Q, 9, 7, 6
Diamonds—none
Spades—A, K, Q, J, 9, 7, 6

The dealer passed and the second player, with the above hand, bid four spades. All passed and he made five odd. In this case the shut-out bid probably made little difference.

Hand No. 3

Hearts—A
Clubs—A, K, Q, J, 9, 7, 5, 4
Diamonds—A, K, Q, J, 9, 7, 5, 4
Spades—none

The dealer with the above hand bid five diamonds. All passed and he made a little slam. The opponents could have made five odd in either spades or hearts. In this hand, also, the shut-out bid made little difference. The hands, however, are remarkable for being held in succession by the same player, something that probably will not happen again in a decade.

The hands given in the preceding article were illustrative of the proper bidding of two-suit hands and are well worthy of careful study. The question in each case is, what would you, as dealer, bid?

Hand No. 1

Hearts—A, 10, 9, 8, 7
Clubs—A, 10, 8, 7, 6
Diamonds—7, 6

Spades—6
The proper bid with this hand is one club. If overbid by either opponent or by partner, bid the heart. The reason for preferring the club to the heart as the first bid is that partner is more apt to overbid the club than the heart and so gives you a better chance to bid both suits.

Hand No. 2

Hearts—8
Clubs—6
Diamonds—K, Q, 9, 4, 2
Spades—K, J, 10, 7, 6, 5
With this hand the better bid is one spade. The spades are much stronger than the diamonds and should be rebid before showing the diamonds. For that reason the one spade is preferred to one diamond.

Hand No. 3

Hearts—none
Clubs—A, K, Q, 10, 4
Diamonds—10, 7, 6
Spades—A, K, J, 10, 7
In this hand both suits are of fairly equal value so one spade should be the first bid. If overbid, show the clubs.

Hand No. 4

Hearts—A, K, Q, 7
Clubs—K, Q, 10, 8, 7, 6, 5
Diamonds—none
Spades—Q, 6
With this hand, one club is the proper bid. Clubs should be rebid at least once before showing the heart suit. The clubs are so much longer and stronger than the hand will undoubtedly give the best results with that suit as trumps.

Hand No. 5

Hearts—A, 8, 6
Clubs—K, J, 9, 5, 3
Diamonds—K, J, 9, 5, 3
Spades—none
This is a very doubtful hand. It is really a sound pass but the two-suit character of the hand makes it a tempting proposition to bid. If you do decide to bid, one diamond is correct. Whenever the two suits are of fairly equal value, always bid the higher value first.

Hand No. 6

Hearts—K, Q, 8, 4, 3
Clubs—Q, 10, 9, 8, 7
Diamonds—7, 2
Spades—J
This hand should undoubtedly be passed. Hand No. 5 is on the border line but this hand is just under. Pass with the firm intention of bidding the hearts on the next round if the bidding makes such a course expedient. These example hands comprise most of the usual types of two-suiters, and the bidding as given should be carefully studied.

SPRING CONCERT

The Spring concert of the Highland Glee Club was given this year in the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, with splendid success. The soloist was Dai Buell, pianist.

This organization of men, banded together in the interest of male choral work, continues to receive the hearty support of the community, as indicated by a capacity audience. With the national activity of men's singing organizations, the Highland Glee Club should find no difficulty in attracting ample material for both its active and associate membership.

It is interesting to know that this Newton organization has participated from the beginning in the Federation of Men's Glee Clubs of New England, and from the general excellence of our program last Tuesday night, the Club may be relied upon to acquire itself creditably in the Contest of some twelve or fifteen similar organizations who sing in competition in Quincy on the afternoon of April 24.

It is very evident that much attention and care was devoted to the program, and that the effective use of the organ and harp added very greatly.

Edgar J. Smith, assisting at the organ, was first Director of the Club, while Miss Mary A. Clark, who has been heard in Newton on several occasions during the last year, was given a most cordial and deserved reception.

Dai Buell, Pianist, has been said that Miss Buell is more than a pianist she is a humanist—and that her thoughts center on human interest was indicated by her varied program. Surely she showed discrimination Tuesday night, and amply justified the press comments of the past two years of London, Paris, Weisbaden, and other European cities in acclaiming her international popularity.

To Dr. Ralph Maclean, however, should go the laurels. With a group of business men who get together for the love of singing, it is a rare genius who can so ably depict moods, intonation, attacks and color, as exemplified by the Club's singing Tuesday night. The old-fashioned "A good time was had by all" was noticeable in the attitude of both Director and Club. And there is every evidence that Dr. Maclean and his band of troubadours get quite as much pleasure as they give.

Night came, and like a tired child
He closed his eyes in sleep
And while our hearts were breaking
He crossed the river deep.

But a golden light was shining
Upon the other shore
And the angels bright were singing
Inside of Heaven's door.

To welcome a soul returning
This wonderful soul we love
And though we cannot see him
He is safe with God above.

On earth the spring is coming
The birds and blossoms too
But for him the spring is fairer
Beyond the heavenly blue.

His work here is finished.
His work there just begun.
And we know he'll greet each one of us
At the setting of our sun.
—Hattie Pierce Cole.

LODGES

Wednesday night was Past Masters' Night at the meeting of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons.
Garden City Encampment, I. O. O. F. conferred the Golden Rule Degree, Monday evening, March 15, upon candidates of their own and from Paul Revere, Charles River and Liberty Encampments.

Waltham Encampment visited Garden City Encampment on Friday, March 12, for a pitch contest. Waltham carried off the honors.
Waban Lodge visited Home Lodge, I. O. O. F., on Thursday evening to witness the 1st Degree exemplified by Elliott Lodge of Needham.

Black Joe and his Gang, colored, race of Garden City Encampment, furnished the entertainment for Liberty Encampment in Old Fellows Hall, Watertown, Tuesday evening, March 16th, at a visitation to Lafayette Lodge, I. O. O. F.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE

Mrs. Oressa L. George, for many years in charge of Hasseltine House, Newton Centre, a training school for missionaries of the Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, passed away on Wednesday last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William W. Chace, Providence, R. I. Mrs. George was prominently identified during her lifetime with Baptist missionary interests, and was widely known among those of the denomination in this State. For seventeen years she and her husband, the late Rev. William W. George, were missionaries in Burma, British India, where they remained until 1889, when they were obliged to return on account of Mr. George's health. Mrs. George is survived by four children, Frank E. George of San Francisco, Calif., Mrs. William W. Chace of Providence, Harry A. George of Melrose, and Mrs. Elinor T. Waterman of Framingham. Mrs. George was a native of Amherst, N. S., and was in her eighty-fourth year.

READ FUND LECTURE

The last lecture in the series of American Statesmen which Prof. Edward Howard Griggs is giving in the Underwood school auditorium will take place tomorrow night, the subject being "Lincoln, the Prophetic American." All seats are free. Lecture at 8 p. m.

CITY HALL

The board of health reports that nearly 1600 cases of measles have been noted since the first of the year. Most of the cases are in Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill, with the Upper Falls a close third.

NEWTON WELFARE BUREAU

A meeting of the Health Committee was held on Tuesday, March 16. Mr. Arthur Kendrick, Chairman of the Committee, presided. Practical problems in administration connected with the special Health Classes were informally discussed. The Health Committee administers the money raised by the Christmas Seal Sale, and Miss Barbara Y. Wilson, Nutrition Worker, financed from the special fund to make a closer contact between the homes and the special Health Classes, gave a report on four months' service. The eleven special Health Classes held at Newton, Nonantum, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, and Newton Upper Falls are for underweight children.

Miss Wilson attempts, through interpreting the principles of nutrition in a convincing and practical manner in the home and to the child, to bring about better co-operation in the home and the child and thus cause a lessening of the number of children who have persistently remained ten per cent or more underweight. Miss Wilson now is visiting in the homes of 140 school children.

The two chief problems which she has to solve are first: lack of home control over the diet of the children, and second: poor judgment in spending a limited income.

"THE MOST IMPORTANT FACT"

A new reading course, "Life of Christ," has recently been added to the shelves of the Newton Free Library, another in the "Reading with a Purpose" series. Rufus M. Jones, the author of the course, is described as a "professor of philosophy and a practitioner of religion," a suggestive guarantee of the value of the course to the average earnest reader.

Mr. Jones, in a brief introduction, discusses Christ as "the most important fact, by common agreement, of human history." He then recommends six biographies of Jesus selected on the principle that what readers want (in contrast with the extensive, monumental type of biography) is "a briefer, more compact book, with a lighter touch and a more revealing style." "The facts," says Dr. Jones, "must be thoroughly sound and reliable, the vision clear and penetrating, the judgment wise and discriminating, and, withal, there must be the skill and power to tell a story, to arouse interest, to hold attention, to quicken imagination and to stir the deeper levels of the soul."

This course on the life of Christ, one of the "Reading with a Purpose" series, is published by the American Library Association. Some of the others which have already been published are: "Biology," "Sociology and Social Problems," "Some Great American Books," "Ears to Hear," "A Guide to Music," "The Ten Pivotal Figures of History," and "Conflicts in American Public Opinion." Each is prepared by a man who knows his subject and who knows how to make it interesting to the average reader. The courses named and others in the series, with the books recommended, are available at the Newton Free Library, NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in hospital 129. Patients paying as much as cost of care or more 63, patients paying less than cost of care 40, free patients (including babies) 26, babies born 10, 6 boys and 4 girls, patients treated by the out-patient department 143, patients treated at eye clinic 6, Accident cases 11, social service calls at hospital 12, at homes 7—patients transferred by social service car 6.

Monday evening the Know More Kooki Club met at the hospital.

Warm weather is anxiously hoped for at the hospital, when more patients can be outside on the piazzas. One young man who has been in the hospital several months goes out in his bed each morning at 6 A. M. till breakfast time. There is more and more demand for outdoor facilities for the patients.

At the present time there is a very happy group of children in Dennison Ward, several of whom have been at the hospital for some time with fractures. There is one little fellow who, in response to the supervisor who asks him how he is, "Good or otherwise?" will answer, "Udderwith."

POLICE NEWS

As a result of a number of complaints, Policemen Coady, Keating, McDonough and Taffe descended on the grounds of the Newton depot last Friday morning at 11 and arrested seven men for loitering there. Six of them are Newton residents and the seventh hails from Watertown. In court Saturday morning five of those arrested pleaded guilty to the charge of trespass and the other two pleaded not guilty. Those pleading guilty were fined $10 each. The others were found not guilty. Officers Keating and Taffe testified that the arrested men make a practice of panhandling.

Giovanni Discolo, who gave his address as Park street, Stoughton, but, who, according to Inspector Goode, has many addresses, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Saturday. He appealed. Discolo, according to the evidence presented, stole $75 worth of carpenter's tools, the property of Thomas H. Fallon, from a house under construction on Chestnut street. He was apprehended through persistent work on the part of Inspector Goode. He has been arrested several times on similar charges.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Charles R. Boggs of Waban, factory manager of the Simplex Wire and Cable Co. of Cambridge, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club of the Newton Rotary Club.

While the business was not one of popular interest, Mr. Boggs held the attention of every member, while he told of the various methods of insulating and protecting wires and cables. There are three methods of insulation, one of rubber, one of varnished cambric and one of paper. In addition to insulation, wires and cables must also be protected—this is done by braid and armor. His company has 400 kinds of wires in stock and some 60 different kinds of materials. They do a business of seven millions a year and employ 700 persons. Their product measured in feet would extend 80,000 miles and measured in pounds would fill 800 freight cars. Mr. Boggs claimed that his company was one of the earliest to adopt profit-sharing with its employees, beginning in 1901 with 41% of the help in the scheme and gradually increasing until last year 63% shared in the dividends, and notwithstanding the fact that wages had more than doubled, the dividends had also increased. The company gives a bonus for efficiency, conducts a plant newspaper, gives its employees $1000 life insurance when the employee takes out health insurance, and arranges for physical examinations once a year. Mr. Boggs showed samples of the various kinds of wires and cables made by his company.

26TH ANNUAL STATEMENT

The year of 1925 was the outstanding year in the history of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, according to its 26th annual report just made public. Consistent gains in all departments were recorded during the past year.

The company's insurance in force now aggregates nearly $50,000,000. Its surplus for the extra protection of its policyholders, in addition to the amount required by law, is over a half a million. During 1925 new insurance written totaled over four and one-half million.

The investment income of the company has practically doubled in the past five years. This is largely due to the careful supervision of Herbert O. Edgerton, its president, Edward C. Mansfield, its secretary, and a board of directors which includes the names of many well-known business men of this Commonwealth.

The "Boston Mutual Life" as it is familiarly known is an organization conducted for the benefit of its policyholders. It is operated on strictly mutual lines, the policyholders sharing in the profits derived by the company from the investment of their premiums. It offers the insuring public both "Ordinary" and "Industrial," or weekly premiums, life insurance.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet next Wednesday morning, March 31st, at 10 o'clock at the Hunnewell Club. Mr. Francis Bacon will address the club on "The Tariff as a Vital Factor in United States History."

Newton Community Club

The last of the series of Current Events Lectures will be given on Thursday, April 1st, in the Underwood School Hall. These lectures have been given by Mrs. Ida Porter-Boyer on the first Thursday of each of the last six months.

In a few sentences of notices of Club doings there can be so much that spells progress, pleasure, happiness, encouragement of talent or ambition, or help, and sometimes it seems right that attention should be called to this fact. So, in the account of activities of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club there is the undercurrent of much that should be studied and appreciated. A Club year of satisfying activities and interests is portrayed in the gathering of many of talent and purpose in their Barn Studio. Encouragement that these members have given to students, and to gifted fellow-members or non-members, is a loving service which must be soul-satisfying to them, and is certainly to be complimented by the onlooker.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Barn Studio on Hartford street is open this week for the fourth annual exhibition of local artists and craftsmen, the interesting event being sponsored as usual, by the Art Committee, of which Mrs. Elizabeth S. Newton is Chairman.

A departure this year from previous custom is the "Students' Corner" set aside for the artistically-inclined among the local High School students. Hand-wrought ships, painted furniture and boxes, oil and water-color sketches, and hooked rugs, are among the wide range of worth-while exhibits which display an amazing amount of talent not yet turned toward professional fields.

The exhibition, which opened Wednesday, will continue through Sunday, and tea is being served each afternoon. Members of the Needle-point Class, which has been meeting in Boston each Friday, have concluded the course of lessons, and report much enthusiasm over the work, which has been done under a trained teacher in her studio. All members of the Club have been invited to attend the meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., next Tuesday afternoon in the recently enlarged Parish House of the Congregational Church. This is a delightful invitation that should be noted by Club members, and marked upon their calendars.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Like the forces of nature, during the present month, quietly, and effectively, and in the dark, making ready to blossom forth later for the pleasure and service of mankind, so our Club Committees are faithfully working, and next month will show results. We will have a season of interesting activities which will provide entertainment, and enable our Club to co-operate in some of our most useful community enterprises.

Frequent rehearsals are being held for the entertaining play, "Barnum was Right" which will be given on the evenings of April 16th and 17th by the Dramatic Committee, Mrs. S. L. Sholley, Chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Derby Brown of Brookline, are coaching the performance, and the artistic quality of their work needs no introduction to our Newtonville audiences. "Barnum was Right" is a mystery comedy farce. It has never been given unprofessionally before, and has been produced only on Broadway. The unprecedented sale of tickets has warranted giving the play the two nights.

There will be a card party on April 5th at 2.30 P. M., at the Newton Club. This will be sponsored by the following Committees: Flower, Mrs. Ray, and Chairman; Music, Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick, Chairman; Volunteer Service, Mrs. H. R. Bankart, Chairman; Conservation, Mrs. Herbert de, Chairman; Civics, Mrs. W. H. Timble, Chairman; and American Home, Mrs. George E. Eames, Chairman.

The Hospital Committee is planning for a food sale on April 6th after the regular Club meeting. This is to aid the Nurses' Training School of the Newton Hospital, and the worthy object can not fail to bring a generous response both in contributing and buying.

The Flower Committee is finding the Class in Gardening very helpful and the teacher, Miss Pattee, is kept busy answering the questions of the eager pupils. This promises much for the beauty of our village next summer. It promises, too, joy for the maker of the garden, and for the beholder of its beauty. "A garden is a loveable spot. Fringed pool, fern grove. And yet the fool Contends that God is not. Not God? In gardens? When the night is cool? I have a sign! I know God walks in mine!"

BOY SCOUTS

Evidence of the broadening interest amongst Newton citizens in the work of Norumbega Council, Inc., for the Newton Boy Scouts accumulates as the canvass for funds to sustain the work proceeds to an ultimate successful conclusion.

Attention has been called to the fine co-operation of the Rotary Club of Newton, and now, the officers of the Boy Scouts Council desire publicly to acknowledge their appreciation of the generous help tendered the cause by letter and check from Newton Post No. 48, American Legion.

That the members of the legion, with all the vivid memories of their war experiences still fresh in mind, should voluntarily express their endorsement of this splendid work for boys carries a significance of the responsibility of the citizens of Newton for the support of Boy Scouts which it would be difficult to match.

Last Saturday afternoon the Scoutmaster and forty-four Scouts of Troop 1, Newtonville, visited the Argentine battleship, "Moreno," now being refitted at the Bethlehem Ship Building Corporation's yard in Quincy. They were received and escorted through all parts of the ship by Lieutenant Guillermo Montenegro, A. R. A., and his aides. Everything was explained to the Scouts, from the operation of the big guns in the turret to the firing of the torpedoes and the instruments on the "bridge." Lying next to the "Moreno" was the old "Kearsarge" now fitted out with an enormous crane and just beyond her was the new Lexington being finished to go into service as the largest naval air plane carrier in the world.

The Scouts next visited the naval reserve aviation station at Squantum, where Lieutenant Julian D. Ivey explained the operation and construction of the motors and sea planes in the hangars.

Lt. Ivey and Mr. Sloane, Scoutmaster of Troop 1, were officers together during the war, being stationed at the Naval aviation field at Miami, Florida.

The rest of the party who gave the use and drove their automobiles were Mrs. Charles Lynde, Mr. DuPuy, Dr. Howard, Mr. Casperson, Mr. Tylee and Patrol Leader Ziegler.

POLICE NEWS

The theft of tires from automobiles in this city continues. They are taken from machines parked on our streets at night. Some are taken from outdoor garages in yards. Locks are of little avail as the thieves have powerful clippers and cut the staples holding the tires onto the carriers. It is alleged that in this country of ours there are some persons dishonest enough to claim that tires have been stolen. But, of course, there is none of this type in Newton. All the thefts reported in this city are actual.

The automobile of City Clerk Frank Grant was stolen while it was parked on Charles street, Boston, last Monday. It was recovered on Tuesday.

Salvatore Campisi of Auburndale avenue, recently arrested on the charge of illegally transporting intoxicating liquor, was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of 3 months in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Wednesday.

Attorney General Benton has ruled that autos used to illegally transport intoxicating liquor may be confiscated, if seized by state or local police.
